Murphy Foils Robber But Gets Shiner

Ed Murphy had a black eye but was still able to grin following an encounter with a would-be hold-up man who attempted to rob the Murphy Grocery, 219 N. Guilford-av., last Wednesday.

"I guess I should have given him the money," Ed explained after the incident happened. But, after a Murphy, he probably forgot that sage advice in the excitement of the holdup.

Murphy, 21, was tending his father's store when the bandit came in and ordered a bar of soap. When his back was turned the holdup man wanted to know how much money was in the register. Young Murphy started to climb over the counter to get at the assailant in spite of what looked like a gun in the man's pocket. The man swung with his free hand as the clerk started after him. The blow caught Murphy

16 - Month - old Baby Survives 2nd Floor Fall

Doris Ann Conley, 16 months old, fell 16 feet from a second story window at the rear of her home, 648 W. Town-st., Friday afternoon without receiving serious injuries. She fell into a trash box containing glass and bottles. Mrs. Ruth Conley, the child's mother, summoned the emergency squad, which took the baby to the Children's Hospital. She was treated for multiple cuts on the head and shoulders and a shoulder bruise. She had improved enough by Saturday to be taken home, according to her father. Mrs. Conley told police and firemen that Doris was sitting on the bed watching her comb her hair, when she leaned against the screen and it gave way.

MOMENTS
Moments are such perfect things. The pause in an old tune. A melody that stops—and yet is still about the room. Moments are such strong, quick things. That time's sharp knife can't sever. Pressed in a heart, or dairy's They keep . . . forever. Betty Jane Balch, in her book TO YOU, DARLING.

Calvin Coolidge, during the trying days of the 1920's, issued this warning:

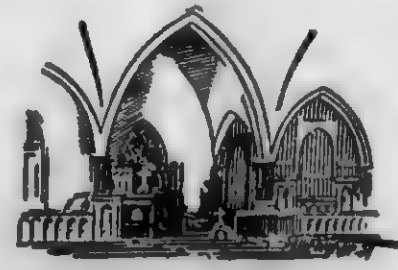

"We do not need more national development; we need more spiritual development. We do not need more intellectual power; we need more moral power. We do not need more knowledge; we need more character. We do not need more government; we need more religion. All of our learning and science, our culture and our arts will be of little avail unless they are supported by high character. Unless there be honor and truth and justice, unless our material resources are supported by moral and spiritual resources, there is no foundation for progress. A trained intelligence can do much but there is no substitute for morality, character and religious convictions. Unless these abide, American citizenship will be found unequal to its task."

These words are as true today as when they were first uttered. Every generation must be instructed in moral and spiritual values, and to be most effective such instruction should begin in childhood. To "teach a child the way he should go" is still the essence of wisdom.

The churches and Sunday Schools of America offer the youth and adults of this generation the moral and spiritual instruction which is so sorely needed. Won't you invite others to come with you this Sunday to Sunday School and church services?

Our Supreme Need

ALL FOR THE CHURCH THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . .

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend and support the church of his choice. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church on Sunday.

Avoiding Disaster

From an exchange we gleaned the following tidbit:
"A small Pennsylvania town had a disastrous fire which could not be controlled because the fireplugs were frozen. The city council met to take measures to prevent a recurrence of the catastrophe.
"After hours of hot debate one man jumped to his feet and shouted, 'I move that the fireplugs be tested three days before every fire!'
"In a flash another member seconded the motion, and the resolution was passed."

80 Jobs Are Open Here

State Institutions Go To 48 Hr. Week

Approximately 80 persons are still needed at the three Hilltop state institutions before the new 48-hour work week goes into effect, it was learned this week.
At the Columbus State School Dr. F. L. Kelsier, superintendent, reported that the new work schedule would go into effect on Sept. 1 and that 50 persons would be employed between now and that date. Persons hired up to the present time have been needed to fill vacancies caused by recent resignations. Both men and women employees are needed.
Dr. J. F. Bateman, superintendent of the Columbus State Hospital, said that response to an earlier announcement concerning job openings had been "very good" and that 45 persons had been hired thus far. However, 10 or 12 more persons are needed before the new schedule of hours can be put into effect. More women than men are needed, he said.
Dr. Bateman said that a gradual change-over to the new work schedule is being effected and would be in complete operation by Sept. 1.

10 Persons Needed

At the Bureau of Juvenile Research Dr. H. Calhoun reported that no official notification had been received as to when the new work week would go into effect but that he expected it to be about Sept. 1. He said that a number of persons had been interviewed and would be employed when word is received of the change in working hours. About 10 more persons will be needed before the change-over can be made, he said.
Approximately 330 persons at the three institutions will profit by the shorter hours. It will be the first time that many of these people have worked a normal week in many years. The shorter hours applies mostly to attendants and certain supervisory positions. Skilled workers and many other persons will continue to work at a different time schedule.

Bridge Project To Start

$2,000,000 Project To Start This Fall

Work on the Sandusky-av. bridge project may get under way this fall.
One of the largest county-state highway programs in Ohio, it is estimated to cost in the neighborhood of $2,000,000 at today's material and labor costs in contrast to $1,500,000 estimated before the war. The project includes relocation of the New York Central tracks and the widening of Sandusky-av. bridge. The city, county, state and the railroad companies will each contribute to the cost.
At present it seems that relief of the Spring-st. bottleneck must remain a project for the future.
Track relocation involves moving the NYC tracks, now at the foot of Sandusky-av. bridge, south about 300 feet; a new railroad bridge over McKinley-av., east of the B. & O. tracks; a new railroad bridge at Souder-av.; a new crossing over the B. & O. south of McKinley; a new grade crossing of the C. & O. and Pennsylvania tracks north of the present C. & O. overhead on Broad-st.; the remodeling of a NYC bridge at Broad-st., near the old station building.
Removal of the tracks will be the first step in the project. It is estimated that it will take 18 months to complete this phase of the work.

St. John in Win Over Clinton Hts.

St. John scored a 6 to 4 victory over Grace Lutheran to take over third place in the second round of the Lutheran Church League last Friday night.

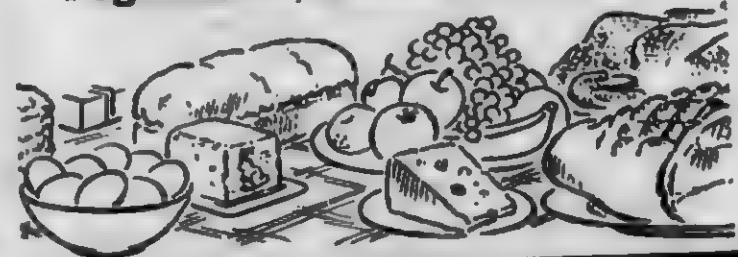

Hilltop Lutheran lost a thriller to Clinton Heights 11 to 10 as Clinton came from behind to score four runs in the last of the seventh inning as Clawson singled in Menke with the winning run as the bases were loaded. Bob Blesh went the full distance for the losers.

The St. John game was played without the services of Dick and Bob Anthony and Howard Davis, all out because of sickness.

Springfield Man
Killed At New Rome

Demo Kotomda, 31, a war veteran of Springfield, was killed outright when struck by an automobile in Rt. 40, near New Rome last Wednesday evening. Pearl M.
Carr, 48, also of Springfield, was the driver of the car. He told police the man jumped in front of his car.

Americans own, altogether, 164 billion dollars worth of life insurance.

and Ralph Webster, grid mentors of West and East, respectively, will attend the clinic and be roommates. A few weeks ago both men were candidates for the Cowboy coaching assignment but this is no way affected their personal friendship.

Slager won letters in all three years of his high school play for his work at the quarterback position. Last year he played in every game. He will enroll at Ohio State University and be trying for a position on the Buckeye eleven this fall.

Storm Sweeps Hilltop Area

A sharp electrical storm accompanied by high winds and a heavy downpour of rain did considerable damage in the community last Wednesday night.

The farm home of Alfred Hall, at Big Run and Gantz-rd., was completely destroyed by fire after utility wires were struck during the storm. The Columbus fire department answered the alarm but could not prevent loss of the building, estimated at $7150.

A frame barn filled with hay and straw was struck by lightning and destroyed by fire east of the city.

Police and firemen all over the city were kept on the run for a couple of hours during and after the severe storm in which close to an inch of rain fell in some sections.

Wires were blown down at 92 Stevens-av., where a tree caught on fire.

Bible Stories Are Presented In Parks

Mrs. Virgil Sullivan, 2352 1/2 W. Broad-st., and Mrs. Lee Washburn, 244 Eldon-av., have been visiting Holton Park every Tuesday at 1:30 to tell Bible stories.

The illustrations they use in telling the stories make them very interesting for the children. They lead group singing and sometimes have musical accompaniments.

These classes are planned through the "Children for Christ Movement." The field director is Miss Stella Beckley, 184 Buttrick-st.

At Westgate Park the teachers are Mrs. Frances Moxley and Miss Betty Gill, 114 N. Ogden-av.

At Glenwood Park the teachers are Mrs. Ray Price and Mrs. Louise Smith.

These classes will continue through the summer until the playgrounds close.

Born in 1875

Born in 1875 in the town of Peebles, Adams County, he was teaching school for $35.25 per month at the age of 18. Later he graduated from the National Normal University at Lebanon, at that time headed by Alfred Holbrook, a nationally known educator. He earned his master's degree in pedagogy at the Normal School at Silver City, N. Mex., after having given up earlier plans to study engineering. He served as principal of the Calhoun Collegiate Institute in Louisiana for two years before entering the ministry in 1900.

All of his ministry was served in the Ohio Conference and he spent five years full time as secretary of the Conference Claimants Board. During that time he was engaged in raising endowments for operation of the claimants fund.

Pastorates were served at Waterloo, Alexandria, Ashville, Mt. Sterling, West Jefferson and Hansberger Memorial Church in Columbus before coming to Gift Street. He was held over one additional year past the regular retirement time because of his duties as treasurer of the Board of Claimants. The largest of his church memberships totaled in the neighborhood of 600 persons as compared with his present large field of work.

Concerning the work of Rev. Hill, Dr. Bateman said:

"He has made many worthwhile contributions to our work and he fills a much needed gap. He contributes much to the social and spiritual life of our patients."

2 Local Teams Are Playing In Tourney

Two Hilltop teams were still in the Central District Softball Tournament being played off at the State Hospital grounds.

C. and S. Dime Store got by the first round playoffs by a narrow margin of 1 to 0 last week. Jack Stelzer did a fine piece of mound work in shutting out the Briggsdale nine in an eight-inning contest.

Burgess U. B. one of three West Church League teams entered, was rained out last Wednesday night in a game with Gahanna Pete's Grill. The Brethren were trailing 6 to 8 when old Jope Fluvius interfered. That game was to have been resumed at the point of interruption at 7 o'clock last night.

Thrush Pitches 3rd No-hitter

Jack Thrush, who will represent central Ohio in the third annual All-American Boy's baseball game in Chicago on Aug. 10, pitched his third no-hit game of the season last week.

Pitching for Green Cabs in the Intermediate Knott's League, Thrush shut out the Glenwood Merchants, 12 to 0, at McKinley Field. He fanned 13 Merchants and allowed only two of them to reach first, one on an error and the other on a base on balls.

Green Cabs Keep Up Win Streak In Legion Loop

Paul Theisen pitched Arlington Motors to a 3 to 2 victory over Medick Fords Sunday afternoon in the American Legion North-West League.

In other games played the same day Jack Thrush got credit for a 16 to 4 win over Westerville. Hutt Skipper and Watkins each garnered three hits to help put Green Cabs out in front. Dublin defeated Worthington in eight innings by a close 3 to 2 count and Hilliard downed Camp Chase 8 to 4.

Last Wednesday Theisen allowed but a single hit as Arlington won over Hilliard 5 to 3 with Chinn and Jones each hitting triples. Cabs beat Dublin 10 to 4 with Thrush on the mound. He came up with four hits in four trips to the plate. Potts got three for three while Hutt got a home with two on in the sixth.

In other Wednesday contests Worthington trounced Camp Chase 11 to 5 and Franklin Post beat Westerville 10 to 3. Green Cabs won an independent game from Columbus State School Friday night by a 3 to 0 score. Billy Taylor and Mark Stephens, Jr., allowed two hits between them on the mound for the Cabbies.

Hilltop Swimmers Still Undefeated

Hilltop and Crystal remained undefeated and chalked up their fourth straight victories in the Columbus Invitational Swimming League Monday night. The Hilltop team, paced by Gram, Dale, Sullivan and Moore dunked Morning-side, 53 to 22, and Crystal had an even easier time with Grandview, 59-16.

Glenwood Takes Over First Place

After winning the first round in the West Church League, Glenwood took over undisputed first place in the second round loop by defeating Westgate Evangelical 2 to 1 Monday night.

Other games saw Hope Memorial downing West Park White, 7 to 6, while Burgess U. B. took the long end of a 13 to 3 count from Hilltonia U. B. The St. Aloisius West Park Black game was postponed and will likely be played following the regular contest next Monday night.

At the present writing there is good indication that Glenwood will take both rounds of the local league. The league is scheduled to wind up play for the season Monday night when Glenwood meets Hope.

The pairings for the final night of play are as follows:
St. Aloisius vs. Burgess U. B. No. 1.
Hilltonia U. B. vs. West Park Black, No. 2.
Westgate Evangelical vs. West Park White, No. 3.

Hilltop Memorial vs. Glenwood, No. 4.

Bill Dawson received credit for the Methodist win Monday night when he limited Westgate to a single in the third inning. Glenwood scored one in the first on a walk, a stolen base, a groundout and an overthrow, trying to catch Miller coming down from second on the ground out.

Rodgers Gets Only Hit
Glenwood scored again in the second inning on a single by Galoway, a passed ball, and a single by LeRoy Wise. Westgate scored in the third on an error by first baseman Maxwell, a walk, and a single by Rodgers, the only hit by Westgate.

HCC Knotters Win Six In Row

The Hilltop Community Council Junior Knotters team, coached by Dick Slager, recently racked up its sixth consecutive win of the season. In competition thus far for the season, the HCC nine has chalked up 43 runs while allowing the opposition a skimpy pair of tallies.

The local team will play the Arlington Junior Knotters at Red Bird Stadium at 4:30 o'clock on Aug. 16, in the first of three games scheduled as a feature of Arlington Day at the ball park. This game will be followed by a senior Knotters game and then an association game between the Red Birds and St. Paul.

Our Readers Say

To the Editor of Hilltop Record:

About three weeks ago we read an article in The Hilltop Record where a Hilltop family had made a trip to Canada expecting to spend the week-end of the Fourth of July, and had to return after spending one day because of the shortage of food there.

At that time we were planning a trip to Canada also. Upon reading the above article, we decided to take a supply of food with us. Upon arriving in Canada we found that this was just excess baggage. We found plenty of food, both in restaurants and grocery stores. Some of their food is still rationed and to receive ration coupons one applies at the nearest post office after proper identification has been established (Social Security or draft registration is sufficient). Each person is allowed one pound of sugar, three-quarter pound butter and four meat coupons, for a two-week period. Meat was plentiful, both beef and veal, but very little pork. On one occasion we purchased a five and one-half pound veal roast at a cost of $1.75. Butter is 44c a pound. Bread, which is also plentiful, is made from whole flour. It is possible to purchase white pastry flour, seven and one-half pound sack for 33c. The highest priced dinner in the restaurant was 80c. A dinner consisted of soup or juice, meat, potatoes, vegetable, salad, coffee and dessert.

We hope this information will help someone else who is planning a vacation in Canada.

Yours truly,

Mr. and Mrs. G. L. Bauman,

Food Preserving To Be Explained By Red Cross

Pointing out that this year it is more important than ever to preserve more food at home, Mrs. D. W. Ashcraft, director of nutrition service for the local Red Cross, cites home canning as one of the best ways to insure against short supplies as well as against starvation in other lands.

Step-by-step demonstration of canning and preparation of foods for freezing will be directed by Mrs. Ashcraft, assisted by Miss Joanne Montgomery, director of the home service department of the Ohio Fuel Gas Co., and Mrs. R. J. Reynolds, 2645 Powell-av, volunteer nutrition instructor for the Red Cross.

They will show Franklin County housewives how to can fruits and tomatoes by the water bath method, how to can non-acid vegetables in a pressure cooker, and how to prepare fruits and vegetables before they are placed in frozen food lockers. A question-and-answer period will follow the 90-minute demonstration and booklets giving further information, prepared by the U. S. Department of Agriculture, will be distributed.

Enlistments Open In Airborne Units

Opportunity for men to enlist in the two regular army airborne units, the 82nd Airborne Division, at this time assigned to the Zone of Interior, and the 11th Airborne Division, now in the Pacific, through three-year enlistments, or in the airborne unassigned on 18-month and two year service periods, has been announced by the War Department.

Except for a brief period last winter, 18-month and two year enlistees have had no choice of branch of service.

Active paratroopers and glider forces, the War Department reminded, not only receive benefits of the recent pay boost, but draw additional pay for their specialized duties. The paratrooper draws $50 a month extra, while the gliderman earns 50 per cent of his base pay extra, as long as the sum does not exceed $50 a month.

Paratroopers can earn from $125 a month as a private, to over $215 a month as a master of first sergeant. Glidermen may draw from $112.50 a month as a private to over $215 a month as a master or first sergeant. This they receive in addition to their living quarters, food, clothing, medical care, all of which are provided by the army.

The combat records of both the 82nd and 11th Airborne Divisions during the war established traditions equal to those of any branch of service even though airborne is one of the youngest branches of the United States Army.

Concordia To Open School In The Fall

Concordia Lutheran Church, 45 S. Brinker-av., is planning to open a full-time parish school in the fall. A qualified teacher with several years experience has been called to teach grades one to six.

Classes will be taught in the auditorium of the present church building, which will be altered to fill all necessary requirements.

"In accordance with the Word of God, which states that 'the fear of the Lord is the beginning of wisdom,' it is our firm belief that the Word of God alone gives the proper foundation for a well balanced education. While following the usual course of study and approved methods and text books, the aim of our school will be not only to train the reason and provide for the mental and physical needs, but also to fill the spiritual needs of the child. All secular subjects are taught from a Christian point of view. Those methods in character training will be used which agree with the sure Word of God." Thus the aims and objectives of the work are described by Rev. W. Werling, the pastor.

Whatever makes a man a good Christian makes him a good citizen," said Webster. It will be the school's constant aim not only to train children to be faithful citizens of the Kingdom of God, but also useful citizens of our country and community.

Any inquiry may be directed to the pastor, W. Werling, 288 S. Richardson-av.; telephone, RA. 8724.

News Viewers Comes a note from the Moore Williams' down in the Smokies enjoying southern hospitality, but they are home now. While out in Chicago recently they met Adm. and Mrs. Ewan, skipper of the carrier Independence while their son Gayle was aboard. And a card from the Henry Jones' out in Texas. D. E. Jacobs, back from the West, reports they drove 6748 miles and didn't see a jack rabbit or a cowboy. Note that Ray McVay is a new member of the Chamber of Commerce. Our new neighbors, Hilltop Sporting Goods Co., will open for business this week-end and come a few more days the Record will soon be out on Broad-st too. Lt. Robert Ferguson, army, will soon take up new duties at Columbia Mo., where he will also get his master's degree in public relations. Stan Dietche and Mark Stevens, Jr. are two thrilled boys this week. They will leave for Chicago Friday by bus to see the All-American Boy game Saturday and witness Jack Thrush in action. The boys are all teammates on the Green Cabs Legion team. Lou Klips has promised us a basket of diamonds when we have our opening and, incidentally, he will be ready to open his Hilltop Jewellers for business this next week. The big Charity Newsie picnic at Beulah Park on Sunday, Aug. 25 promises to be one of the best yet, and that's saying a lot. Fred Adair still makes the weekly rounds of the junk shops and comes up with some mighty interesting items. Jean Youngs is back in city first with the Navy. Bob Maxwell will become a member of the Record staff in another week. There's a ton of ham awaiting the customers at Fox's Market this week-end.

Thank! Our heartfelt thanks go to the Hilltop Lutheran Church for allowing us enough space on the corner of their lot for our electric sign. The post was taken down this week and the lights will soon come on our new building.

Look For Us On Broad Street
If a couple carpenters don't break a leg and the tile floor men do what they have promised, we of The Record expect to be operating on our new offices about Monday or Tuesday of this next week. While the job is not complete in its entirety we fully expect that the finishing touches will be added within another couple weeks. Then, on about the week-end of Aug. 23, we plan an open house for public inspection.

The presence of workmen and our rush in getting things squared away will not permit us to make any showing of nuptial for another two weeks. So watch for our big special edition announcing our formal wedding, but in the meantime, if you have business with the Record this next week, try our Broad street entrance first.

John Raymond Will Retire From Postal Service July 1

John Raymond, superintendent of the Hilltop Station, will retire in a little less than a year from now. In charge of the local office since 1930, he will have completed 36 years of postal service when he slopes up his affairs at the local office on July 1, 1947.

Taking over the Hilltop office when it was only a finance office, he has seen mail service grow to the present staff of 22 carriers, a rural route and three clerks in the office in addition to the superintendent.

In 1935 the office was assigned 13 carriers who worked on the Hilltop but who had worked from the West Side office. This carrier force has been increased from time to time up to June 16 of this year when the last two men were assigned and additional territory was taken in for foot delivery.

Raymond, a native of Lithopolis, started in the mail service as a clerk at the old Third and Chestnut offices on Oct. 8, 1911. He will be 60 years of age in May, 1947, and will file his request for retirement about June 1. A 30-day notice is necessary before retirement starts. To retire at full annuity a person must be 60 and have had 30 years of service.

He has served in a supervisory capacity during the past 30 years. He was in charge of the Mt. Vernon office before coming to the Hilltop.

The Hilltop office has been enlarged twice since 1930, the last time being in 1940, when more than double the previous amount of floor space was added.

Raymond has been a member of the Columbus Masonic Lodge No. 30. He also belongs to the Temple Chapter and Achbar Grotto. He has been a member of the Hilltop Male Chorus since the second year of its organization. He and Mrs. Raymond live at 136 Southampton-av.

Camp Chase Incorporation Election Still Unsettled

A question of jurisdiction has entered the proposed incorporation of the Village of Camp Chase, immediately to the west of the city limits, following Thursday night's meeting of the Franklin County Trustees.

Approximately 75 persons attended the public hearing on the matter, with a strong representation of legal talent both for and against the proposed issue.

Trustees have taken the position that since the area to be incorporated involves both platted and unplatted land, the matter of calling for a special election to determine the decision of residents of that area must be done by the County Commissioners. Meanwhile Robert M. Draper, attorney for the sponsors of the petition calling for a special election, said he would probably seek a mandamus action to force the trustees to set a time for the election.

At the present time the trustees still have the petition, submitted to them at the July meeting, and are awaiting a letter from the County Prosecutor's office. The petition has 42 signatures of persons living in the area to be incorporated.

Boundaries for the proposed village run 1500 feet south of Sullivan-av, west to the Franklin-av line, thence north to the Pennsylvania Railroad tracks, east to Wilson-rd., and south to Wilson and Derr-av. to Sullivan-av. The area includes all of the property owned by the General Motors Corporation as well as the Judge Edward Turner farm and other farm lands.

Edward C. Jester Returns to Job On James A. Farrell

In 1929 Edward C. Jester began his sailing career with the Pittsburgh Steamship Co., Cleveland, as a deckhand aboard the Steamship James A. Farrell. And for 11 navigation seasons he sailed with the fleet. Then in 1942 he volunteered for service in the army.

Courtesy of The Citizen
The marriage of Miss Glenna Lee Taylor, 80 Winner-av. to Mr. Louis F. Miller, Jr., 199 S. Wheatland-av., took place June 30.

Former Hilltopper Married In Tucson

White gladioli, ferns and palms adorned the altar of Trinity Presbyterian Church, Tucson, Ariz., on July 12, when Miss Elizabeth Ann Dean, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. K. Dean, was married to Mr. Leroy E. Krauss, son of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Krauss, Milwaukee, Wis. The formal double-ring ceremony was read at 8 p. m. by Rev. C. Donald Close. Mrs. Martina Powell played the wedding music.

Attired in a gown of white satin, the bride was given in marriage by her father. Her dress was designed with a sheer yoke, creating an off-shoulder effect, long pointed sleeves, a fitted bodice, and a full skirt ending in a long train. A tiara of orange blossoms held her fingertip veil edged with lace. She wore a gold pin, an heirloom of her maternal grandmother, and carried a bouquet of white roses.

The maid of honor, Miss Joan Childress, wore a blue net dress with pink trim and a cap of flowers. Her bouquet was of pink roses. Mr. Thomas H. Dean, the bride's brother, was best man. Ushers were another brother, Mr. William F. Dean, and Mr. David Howell.

A reception followed at the Dean home on N. Campbell-av. Mrs. Dean received the guests in a gray mesh dress with white accessories and a corsage of yellow roses.

Following a wedding trip to the Grand Canyon, Mr. and Mrs. Krauss will be at home at 722 E. Drachman-st. Mr. Krauss, a student in electrical engineering at the University of Arizona, is also a part-time employee at the county assessor's office.

The bride was educated in Columbus schools and came to Tucson with her family about a year and a half ago. Mr. Krauss, who attended Milwaukee schools, was a first lieutenant in the Army Air Forces. He served three years as an instructor and fighter pilot.

The Dean family are former residents of Columbus, having lived at 69 N. Roys-av. until a year and a half ago, when they moved to Arizona.

Mrs. C. A. Skipper Still Weaves Rugs At 83; Resident Here For 72 Years

Mrs. C. A. Skipper, 147 Richardson-av., a resident of the Hilltop for 72 years and who is now 83 years old, weaves rag rugs on a loom, which is set up in the living room of her home.

Mrs. Skipper said, "I don't have to advertise my work because my customers tell other people about my rugs and that way I'm kept busy."

At the time of the interview the loom was threaded with red, yellow and green thread. Mrs. Skipper furnishes the rugs for the rugs and her prices are very reasonable as the finished products are very beautiful.

"A long time ago when Broad-st was only a stream, we'd be marooned over here when it rained hard, because all the water from the Camp Chase area would turn it into a roaring, gushing body of water, said Mrs. Skipper. Our house and my brother's house were the only ones in this vicinity for quite a while. We finally built a little foot bridge across Broad-st so that we could get out during the rainy periods." Her family moved to Columbus in 1874 from Marietta. Her father was employed helping build the State Hospital.

Mrs. Skipper has three sons, George, Archie and E. L. Skipper, who are Hilltop residents, also a brother, Harry Michaels, and two sisters, Mrs. L. E. Baird and Mrs. Neil, who live on the West Side. Another son, Ivor, lives in Illinois and her daughter, Lillie, lives on a farm.

Young Hypocrite
Trying to discourage her four-year-old daughter from carrying out a mischievous plan, a young mother we know said, "Let's not do it, we did it." Her daughter had a different idea: "Oh, no. Let's do it and say we didn't."

More than 100,000 Legionnaires are expected to attend the four-day encampment.

Tourney Play Continues At Local Field

Play continues in the District Softball Tournament at State Hospital grounds this week with a possibility that the finals will be reached by the end of next week.

The lone Hilltop entry, C and S Dime Store, was scheduled to take on Paul's Lunch last night at 7 o'clock. Three West Church League teams, Westgate Evangelical, Burgess U. B. and St. Aloysius, were eliminated in the first round playoffs last week.

The Girls' Central District Tournament game between J and K Shoes and Six Oaks Night Club, originally scheduled for Tuesday

has been postponed until Friday. Games scheduled for tonight and tomorrow night are as follows:

Thursday—American Blowers vs. Ace's Service Station, 7 p. m.; Sanese Grill or Hanford AV vs. Cook and Son, 8 p. m.; Gansco or Orth Candy vs. Mary's Restaurant, 9 p. m.
Friday—AA Merchants vs. 740 AC, J. and J. Grill or Legion 563, 7 p. m.; J and K Shoes vs. Six Oaks Night Club (girls), 8 p. m.; Pumphrey Clothiers vs. Lane-Askins, 9 p. m.

Mrs. Pfeiffer Fond Of Youth Work

Mrs. Wanda Pfeiffer (formerly Wanda West), who has been a Hilltop resident for 20 years, is the supervisor of Holton Park this summer. Mrs. Pfeiffer has lived on the West Side all of her life until recently when she was married and moved to 70 B. Hudson-st.

"I like to work with children," she said. "In fact right now I am working with them the year round."

She teaches the third grade at Briggdale School during the fall and winter, and had worked at Glenwood Park as assistant supervisor last summer before going to Holton.

The park is open from noon until 8 p. m. There are swings, cross-bars, horseshoes to pitch, a wading pool, and handicraft for the younger children. For the older ones there are places to play baseball and volleyball.

Mrs. Hortense West, Mrs. Pfeiffer's mother, resides at 498 S. Ogden-av.

Mrs. Pfeiffer, a graduate of West High School, attended Capital University. She has also attended Ohio State University in the summers. She was the Girl Scout advisor at Briggdale until the war made it impossible to carry on her work with the troop. She is anticipating taking up this work again this fall.

Local Girls Return, From N. Y. Trip

Several Hilltop girls recently returned from a tour of New York with the Charlotte Rowe Gabel Accordion Band. The girls are Nancy Waters, 571 Townsend-av.; Marie Dixon, 34 S. Richardson-av.; Patty Cozad, 540 S. Richardson-av.; Beverly Hull, 219 S. Harrison-av.; Beverly Cramer, 570 Willshire-av.; and Shirley Rezes, 131 Lechner-av.

While on their trip they visited the Excelsior Accordion Factory, Billy Rose's Diamond Horseshoe, and had a 10-course dinner in Chinatown.

Demand For College Grads Still Shows Big Growth

Employer demand for college graduates, an upward trend for several decades, today is increasing by greater strides than ever before, according to Allen L. Meyer, veterans' counselor and chief of the placement bureau of Ohio State University's College of Commerce and Administration.

Meyer, looking toward the day when the bumper crop of students now enrolling in colleges and universities is ready to graduate, says that many firms are instituting on-the-job training programs designed especially for college graduates.

Certain fields of business, such as insurance and banking, which had very few such programs before the war, are now demanding college-trained men and are prepared to train them further in their own way.

The fields of retail merchandising and related commercial enterprises also are leaders in requiring college-trained personnel, Meyer says.

Salaries Higher
Although the future is a big question mark, to be determined largely by what happens to the country's economic course, employers today are paying salaries $50 to $75 higher per month than normal pre-war salaries, the commerce placement chief says.

Another trend, probably one which will extend to the time when the thousands of veterans now in school are graduated, is that both employers and job-seekers are more selective about each other.

"There are many men who feel they've lost too much time from their careers to allow for much shifting around or accepting of 'stop-gap' jobs," says Meyer. He feels that from now on, a prospective employee will consider carefully all the angles and then tend to "stay set" once he accepts a position.

He says the tremendous demand for accountants, merchandisers, trained salespeople, and others will continue for awhile, but for how long or at what salaries, it is difficult to predict.

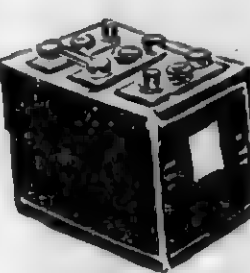

Meyer states it is too early to tell yet what the reception will be for veterans who will be college graduates in two or three years, but that veterans who went straight back to their jobs without going to college have received fair treatment from most employers.

The commerce college placement chief has two big jobs—placing the student when he is graduated, which involves considerable counseling, aid and other types of help before he is far along in his college career, and also the assisting of students who have been out of school for some time who seek to change jobs.

In addition to these tasks which Meyer and one secretary cover, he is the college's veterans' counselor and also teaches two or three courses each quarter. Meyer has been in this post since 1938, with three and a half years out for military service.

"That last one was a honey," Flagpole Sitter Marshall Jacobs, Coshocton, O., shocked five times by lightning while aloft.

Buy Your Meats Here At Lower Prices

The photograph at right will give our patrons an idea as to our ability to furnish them meat at lower prices. Here the middleman's profit is entirely eliminated.

We have had over 20 years experience in furnishing meat at the lowest possible cost to our customers. We have erected our modern plant to better serve the people of the Hilltop with fresh and cured meats. We invite inspection of our plant at any time. We want to please those discriminating people and will try to have what they want at all times.

We also intend to make a business of selling meat by the quarter or half to those of you who have home or commercial lockers. We can sell you a quarter of beef, cut it up for you at prices you can afford to pay.

We pledge our customers we will never take more than a fair profit regardless as to what happens to price controls on meat.

To those of you who have tried our sausage we need not tell you of its quality. We can only say that we believe we make as good a pork sausage as can be found anywhere.

We want your meat business and will to the best of our ability try and serve you with good fresh meat at all times. Look for the cement block building and the big red and white sign at 1436 Harrisburg-pk.

Plans Completed By St. Aloysius For Homecoming

Plans are now complete for the annual St. Aloysius homecoming to be held Aug. 21. Anticipating one of the largest crowds ever brought to the Hilltop for this popular event, Mrs. Helen Mack, chairman in charge of the dinner, has completed a tasty menu for those attending.

Mrs. Anna Heaton, Mrs. Cecil Blackburn and Mrs. Marie Laughlin will have the meat detail. The salads are in charge of Mrs. Milt Dirker, Mrs. Herman Wihl, Mrs. Anthony DeMastry and Mrs. Jow Lytle.

Jack McAndrews, general chairman, reports that all committee arrangements are completed for an evening of enjoyment for those attending. Activities will get under way at 4:30 p. m. and continue until 11:30 p. m.

Russla to be Topic At AVC Meeting

"How Can We Get Along With Russia?" is the topic to be discussed at an open meeting of the Columbus Chapter of the American Veterans Committee tonight at 8 o'clock in Dorst Hall, at the Y.M.C.A., 40 W. Long-st.

Dr. Alan Griffin, professor of education at O. S. U., and Samuel S. Weyer, lecturer and author, will speak on the subject, according to Bill Gibbon, 48 N. Ogden-st., chairman of the chapter.

The AVC is a national veterans' organization. All men and women who served in the U. S. armed forces and merchant marine, and Allied services, are eligible to join.

Sugar Supply Will Be Bad Til 1947

Treat your sugar as you would a store of gold dust—it's that precious. And it's going to be precious the rest of this year. The Secretary of Agriculture tells us sugar won't be off the scarce list before 1947.

When you do your home canning, you should put up at least four quarts of fruit for every pound of sugar. That's an average, of course—some fruits take less.

It's wise to use all your sugar allowance to preserve fruit, rather than to put up jellies or jams. That way the sugar you have stretches furthest—saves more food for next winter's table.

And every bit of food you save makes a contribution. It releases some other vital food for shipping overseas, where it's needed to save starving people.

Sugar continues tight—and here are a few figures on what we can expect the rest of this year.

Estimates show we would consume eight million tons of sugar this year—with our increased population and spending power—if we could get that much. But the total coming in will be just

Fire Facts

By Captain John E. Jordan, Chief Bureau of Fire Prevention

Today it is becoming common practice in industrial plants of all types and sizes to develop a "first line of defense against fire" by training groups of selected employees in the use of fire extinguishers and other fire fighting equipment.

As soon as a fire occurs, these men run for the nearest fire fighting equipment and begin attacking the fire, while others in the trained group call the fire department and lead other employees to the nearest exit.

In plants where this fire defense system is employed, the employee-firemen usually have the fire extinguished, or at least under control, when the city fire fighters arrive. It is reported, too, that most employees appreciate their responsibility in protecting the company's property and their job against fire and are anxious to cooperate in the fire protection program.

In training factory employees to become emergency firemen, these details should not be overlooked:

The fire department should be called immediately.

They should know the location of all fire fighting equipment in their section of the plant.

They should know how to operate properly each type of extinguisher.

They should know the type of extinguisher to use on the various kinds of fires.

At the yearly recharging, employees should be given an opportunity to operate extinguishers.

Employees should cooperate and see that easy access can be had to all fire fighting equipment. BUT MOST IMPORTANT OF ALL—Call the fire department immediately in case of fire.

Small home centralized radio system to provide radio in every room at low cost and to furnish room to room intercommunication has been developed by a manufacturer.

Mrs. C. A. Skipper Still Weaves Rugs At 83; Resident Here For 72 Years

Mrs. C. A. Skipper, 147 Richardson-av., a resident of the Hilltop for 72 years and who is now 83 years old, weaves rag rugs on a loom, which is set up in the living room of her home.

Mrs. Skipper said, "I don't have to advertise my work because my customers tell other people about my rugs and that way I'm kept busy."

At the time of the interview the loom was threaded with red, yellow and green thread. Mrs. Skipper furnishes the rags for the rugs and her prices are very reasonable as the finished products are very beautiful.

"A long time ago when Broad-st was only a stream, we'd be marooned over here when it was ed hard, because all the water from the Camp Chase area would turn it into a roaring, gushing body of water, said Mrs. Skipper. Our house and my brother's house were the only ones in this vicinity for quite a while. We finally built a little foot bridge across Broad-st so that we could get out during the rainy periods." Her family moved to Columbus in 1874 from Marietta. Her father was employed helping build the State Hospital.

Mrs. Skipper has three sons, George, Archie and E. L. Skipper, who are Hilltop residents; also a brother, Harry Michaelis, and two sisters, Mrs. L. E. Baird and Mrs. Neil, who live on the West Side. Another son, Ivor, lives in Illinois and her daughter, Lillie, lives on a farm.

Young Hypocrite

Her daughter had a different idea: "Oh, no. Let's do it and say we didn't."

Surrounded by gleaming trophies is pretty Nancy Klein of Lakewood, Ohio who as drum major of Clifton Post No. 421, will be competing for one of them in the drum and bugle corps contest to be staged in Cleveland Municipal Stadium on Sunday night, August 18th, as one of the major attractions of the American Legion State convention in Mid-August. More than 100,000 Legionnaires are expected to attend the four-day encampment.

Demand For College Grads Still Shows Big Growth

Employer demand for college graduates, an upward trend for several decades, today is increasing by greater strides than ever before, according to Allen L. Meyer, veterans' counselor and chief of the placement bureau of Ohio State University's College of Commerce and Administration.

Meyer, looking toward the day when the bumper crop of students now enrolling in colleges and universities is ready to graduate, says that many firms are instituting on-the-job training programs designed especially for college graduates.

Certain fields of business, such as insurance and banking, which had very few such programs before the war, are now demanding college-trained men and are prepared to train them further in their own way.

The fields of retail merchandising and related commercial enterprises also are leaders in requiring college-trained personnel, Meyer says.

Salaries Higher
Although the future is a big question mark, to be determined largely by what happens to the country's economic course, employers today are paying salaries $50 to $75 higher per month than normal pre-war salaries, the commerce placement chief says.

Another trend, probably one which will extend to the time when the thousands of veterans now in school are graduated, is that both employers and job-seekers are more selective about each other.

"There are many men who feel they've lost too much time from their careers to allow for much shifting around or accepting of 'stop-gap' jobs," says Meyer. He feels that from now on, a prospective employee will consider carefully all the angles and then tend to "stay set" once he accepts a position.

He says the tremendous demand for accountants, merchandisers, trained salespeople, and others will continue for awhile, but for how long or at what salaries, it is difficult to predict.

Meyer states it is too early to tell yet what the reception will be for veterans who will be college graduates in two or three years, but that veterans who went straight back to their jobs without going to college have received fair treatment from most employers.

The commerce college placement chief has two big jobs—placing the student when he is graduated, which involves considerable counseling, aid and other types of help before he is far along in his college career, and also the assisting of students who have been out of school for some time who seek to change jobs.

In addition to these tasks which Meyer and one secretary cover, he is the college's veterans counselor and also teaches two or three courses each quarter. Meyer has been in this post since 1938, with three and a half years out for military service.

"That last one was a honey," Flapole Sitter Marshall Jacobs, Coshocton, O., shocked five times by lightning while aloft.

Tourney Play Continues At Local Field

Play continues in the District Softball Tournament at State Hospital grounds this week with a possibility that the finals will be reached by the end of next week.

The lone Hilltop entry, C and S Dime Store, was scheduled to take on Paul's Lunch last night at 7 o'clock. Three West Church League teams, Westgate Evangelical, Burgess U. B. and St. Aloysius, were eliminated in the first round playoffs last week.

The Girls' Central District Tournament game between J and K Shoes and Six Oaks Night Club, originally scheduled for Tuesday

has been postponed until Friday. Games scheduled for tonight and tomorrow night are as follows:

Thursday — American Blowers vs. Ace's Service Station, 7 p. m.; Saneese Grill or Hanford AV vs. Cook and Son, 8 p. m.; Gansco or Orth Candy vs. Mary's Restaurant, 9 p. m.; J and K Shoes vs. Six Oaks Night Club (girls), 8 p. m.; Pumphrey Clothiers vs. Lane-Askina, 9 p. m.

Mrs. Pfeiffer Fond Of Youth Work

Mrs. Wanda Pfeiffer (formerly Wanda West), who has been a Hilltop resident for 20 years, is the supervisor of Holton Park this summer. Mrs. Pfeiffer has lived on the West Side all of her life until recently when she was married and moved to 70 E. Hudson-st.

"I like to work with children," she said. "In fact right now I am working with them the year round."

She teaches the third grade at Briggsdale School during the fall and winter, and had worked at Glenwood Park as assistant supervisor last summer before going to Holton.

The park is open from noon until 8 p. m. There are swings, cross-bars, horseshoes to pitch, a wading pool, and handicraft for the younger children. For the older ones there are places to play baseball and volleyball.

Mrs. Hortense West, Mrs. Pfeiffer's mother, resides at 499 S. Ogden-av.

Mrs. Pfeiffer, a graduate of West High School, attended Capital University. She has also attended Ohio State University in the summers. She was the Girl Scout advisor at Briggsdale until the war made it impossible to carry on her work with the troop. She is anticipating taking up this work again this fall.

Tree Planting Program Will Continue In Ohio

The Conservation Commission recently approved a $7500 appropriation to carry on the division's tree planting program next spring. This is an increase of $2500 above last year's appropriation.

The program has become one of the most popular projects of the Division of Conservation among the farmers and land owners of the state.

Dr. Floyd E. Chapman, forest game inspector, reported that although some 3,000 units of pine and food bearing shrubs were distributed this year that a great many requests were unfulfilled when the supply of trees ran out. The new appropriation will provide about 3,500 units of pine trees and about 1,000 units of food bearing shrubs. Each unit consists of 100 trees or shrubs and land owners may request either pine or shrub units or both.

Disabled Veterans and Wives Prove Wedlock Can be Happy

If all married couples would take a tip from disabled veterans and their wives the nation's divorce rate would drop rapidly, according to Mrs. Beatrice Hogan of Cincinnati, national commander of the Disabled American Veterans Women's Auxiliary.

Mrs. Hogan who is on a nationwide tour visiting DAV auxiliary units and veterans hospitals, also said that her organization is urging wives of disabled to understand the problems the veterans face and not to be too eager in pushing them into employment beyond their capacity or strength.

She said divorce between wounded war heroes and their wives is a rarity.

"The return of a war hero who is disabled," she said, "is a test of true affection and devotion for the girl he left behind—and she is measuring up."

"The wives are showing a sense of devotion, not pity. And the handicapped men are resolved to make their marriages successful."

Civilian married to GIs who returned as mental cases, Mrs. Hogan said, are showing the strongest courage. Even in the most hopeless cases they refuse to admit the mental illness is permanent.

Commenting on the fact that the home situation is responsible for 50 per cent of a disabled man's rehabilitation, the DAV Auxiliary Commander said:

"We have undertaken a program to help wives understand just what they and their husbands face in the future. We want to help the wives find suitable employment for the husband. Yet we urge these wives not to push the veteran to a higher grade than he is physically able. Some wives of disabled veterans are too eager for their husbands to try something beyond his strength and thus retard rehabilitation."

Telephone Co. Distributes New Books

Distribution of the largest Columbus and vicinity telephone directory in the history of the city is under way with 135,000 copies scheduled for delivery by Saturday night. The new books reflect an increase of nearly 12,000 subscribers, who have been added to the local telephone system since the last directory was issued eight months ago.

The present distribution of 135,000 directories compares with a delivery of 102,000 books in 1941, a five-year increase of nearly 35 per cent.

"In addition to listing these new subscribers, the directory lists the 3,725 telephones which will go into service Saturday at midnight when the new Douglas exchange at 3101 E. Main-st is cut into service," said Homer E. Smart, district commercial manager for the Ohio Bell Telephone Co.

An innovation in the new directory is the listing of some five-digit Columbus telephone numbers, the first time there has ever been listing of this type in the Columbus books. Mr. Smart explained that these five-digit numbers were necessitated by equipment arrangements in Columbus exchanges to provide additional facilities for families waiting for service.

"It is the rapid increase in telephones during the past few months, combined with the large volume of number changes, that makes it especially essential to refer to the new directories when making calls after Saturday night," said Mr. Smart.

The new directory contains an eight-page section in the middle of the book outlining various civic information, including a map of postal zone areas and a digest of local traffic rules.

208 West Junior Pupils Have Gardens

Four thousand Columbus school children are participating in the Public School Garden Program. Supervisor L. W. Huber announced today. Huber is superintendent of Starling Junior High.

He estimated that 2500 elementary pupils from 55 schools and 1500 students from 12 junior high schools are taking part and are looking forward to eating the vegetables they have grown in their back yards.

Barrett Junior High students lead the list with 325 students having gardens.

West Junior High is next with 208; Crestview, 180; and Linden McKinley has 130. Clinton leads the elementary schools with 125. Heyl has 117, Medary 104 and Mt. Vernon 110.

Ohio Hunting Regulations Are Approved

The hunting and trapping regulations for Ohio as set tentatively at the June meeting of the Ohio Conservation Commission became law last week when the Commission officially voted the adoption of the rules and regulations governing the fall and winter season. The regulations set the open season of Nov. 18 to Nov. 30 on pheasants, ruffed grouse and partridge, with a daily bag limit of two and limit of two in possession. On rabbits the open season will be Nov. 18 to Jan. 1 with daily limit of four and possession limit four. The squirrel season was set at Sept. 14 to Sept. 30 for the entire state with a daily limit of four and possession limit four. Trapping season for the inland district will open Nov. 18 and close Jan. 18. There will be no open season on musk in district 7 (southern Ohio). For the Lake Erie district the open season will be Dec. 1 to March 15.

All hunting and trapping will begin at 12 noon, Eastern Standard Time, on the opening day, with the exception of raccoon hunting which will begin at the usual 6 p. m. time. All dates are inclusive.

Young Deer On Move In Game Preserve

Scattered reports are now reaching the division of conservation headquarters that young deer are beginning to circulate throughout the Roosevelt game preserve indicating that the three years open season on deer in that vicinity left a substantial brood stock. The first observation of a fawn this year was made by the O'Dell family on Turkey Creek in Scioto County and since then several reports have indicated that mother deer and their young are coming forth from their birth-places in the deep forests.

The Customer Is Always Right

Many Hilltop business places could well afford to pay some attention at this time to the selling technique of their clerks. The day is approaching when the customer will not be forced to take the first piece of merchandise shown but will exercise his right to be a bit critical of the items he selects.

When this day arrives it behooves all merchants to see that their sales people know how to give an intelligent sales demonstration. If this is not done many customers are going to find other stores where the sales force knows more about their merchandise.

All business firms have gone through a period of changing personnel. Many of the present sales people got their first jobs in that line since the time shelves have had little in the way of selection to offer the customer. In some instances they have never learned what it means to "sell" a customer but have been content merely to "wait on" the customer and try to keep him as happy as possible in taking something he does not want. These people need to be taught some of the fundamentals of selling or they will eventually drive customers away from their employer's establishment.

The customer has been buffeted around too much now. The "don't you know there's a war on" attitude has not been entirely forgotten by some clerks and surely it has not been forgotten by the customer.

Fortunes have been made by enterprising business men who have operated on the principal that "the customer is always right." While that statement may not be true in the literal sense, yet the customer must be led to feel that he is right.

Constructive sales presentation is in all cases appreciated by the customer. He likes to feel that he is making a wise selection in his purchase. Sales people should feel the responsibility of seeing that he is not disappointed in this respect. The salesman needs first of all to know his merchandise. Secondly, he needs to be able to present this knowledge intelligently.

There is little excuse for sloppy selling today. Certainly in the day of increased retail selling that seems to be just ahead there is no reason to tolerate it. The customer is going to buy at the store where service is rendered cheerfully and where an effort is made to sell the merchandise wanted by the customer.

It seems strange that the letter of the least interest should be marked "Very Important."

How to beat any kind of a gambling or speculative game: let it alone.

AN are not just because they do no wrong; but he who will not wrong me when he may, he is truly just.

Modern Poetry

By Esther Weakley

MATURITY

I polish my heart to make it shine,
Secure in the knowledge it still is mine.

It shimmers and glows like a brand-new dream,
And the next lad passing may catch its gleam!

I tie it up with a pert, red bow—
For love may come, and love may go.

I'm glad I'm not sixteen again—
For what in the world would I do then?

Frances Boal Mehlek, in her book

A SINNER CONTEMPLATES

DEPARTURE

Years do not age the heart,
Wrinkles, hair turned gray
Are but outward symbols;
Hearts can be young and gay
At eighteen or at eighty,
Till somewhere along the way
A clear call comes—a far call—
And then

Today is yesterday.
Mamie C. Knepper, in her book
LIFE IS A MIRROR.

REMEMBERING

A thousand times and more
I've thought of you,
Thought of the happiness
We once knew . . .

As many times and more
I've known regret,
That parting cannot make
A heart forget . . .

Myrtle L. Reeder, in her book HILLS OF CLAY

WALT, TELL ME WHY

Walt, tell me why the common man

By Poe unsung, by you acclaimed Goes seldom to your metric mart,
Knows Edgar's poetry by heart?

Because excessive verbiage, Walt
Blights, some say, your LEAVES OF GRASS?

Why! if alive, Bremond, they're sure,
Not one line of "poesie pure."

In all your prancing verse could find

To pad his slim anthology . . .
While Baudelaire, Poe and Valery
Would probably contribute three!

SEA DUNE

The sun and I and the wildrose hush.

The scrub oak bent from the bitter spray;

Silver spume where the breakers rush,

Sails veering homeward down bay.

If only the sunset-gold would last
If only the world were here with me.

SHARPENED ARROWS

From
"The Wayside Pulpit"
By Rev. John G. Schaubly

A church is known by the men it keeps.

A shallow mind, like a melting icicle, soon drips itself away.

The wage of the father is the raw material out of which the mother builds the home.

The way to enlarge your heart is to crowd in another friend.

Faith makes the unseen world
our own.

Children are the ties that bind the hearts of father and mother into a knot that will not slip.

Someone had wired a government bureau at Washington asking whether hydrochloric acid could be used to clean a given type of boiler tube. The answer was:

"Uncertainties of reactive processes make use of hydrochloric acid undesirable where alkalinity is involved."

The inquirer wrote back, thanking them for their advice, saying he would use hydrochloric acid. The bureau wired him:

"Regrettable decision involves uncertainties. Hydrochloric will produce submergence, invalidating reactions."

Again the man wrote, thanking them for their advice, saying that he was glad to know that hydrochloric acid was all right. This time the bureau wired in plain English:

"Hydrochloric acid will eat
h— out of your boiler tubes."

"Tommy, why do you persist in coming to the table with dirty hands? You know I always send you to wash them."

"Yes, but once you forgot."

The three-year-old boy had taken his mother's powder puff and was fixing his face as he had seen her do, when his five-year-old sister grabbed it from him.

"You mustn't do that," she said,
"Only ladies use powder. Gentlemen wash themselves."

"Your wife seems to have a strange look on her face lately."

"Yeah, she's tryin' to resemble her latest photograph."

The recent change of taxi prices from 25c to 15c brought with it for some of the cab companies a change in zones whereby they are misleading citizens. It was formerly possible to go to Hague-av from downtown for 25c. Some of the cab companies are now charging 15c for the same distance. Others have signs reading
"15c per zone," then change the zones to suit themselves. The taxi situation becomes more muddled every day.—Spectator.

7 Servicemen Begin Training In Conservation

Seven returned servicemen were given their first assignment recently under the on-the-job training program of the Ohio Division of Conservation game production project, according to word from Conservation Commissioner H. A. Rider.
 The project will provide technical game production training under qualified game management agents with many years of experience. Most of the instruction will be verbal on-the-job, and will be supplemented when appropriate with outside reading and some limited class-type instruction. The program, in addition to furnishing substantial employment, will qualify the selected veterans to hold responsible jobs in all phases of game production, including game farm supervision and game production management of privately owned estates.
 A. W. Short, chief of the division's game management section, said that these ex-G. I.'s, whose training and educational schedules in many cases were interrupted by the war, will be given every advantage possible under this training project to "make up for lost time" due to military service. "These men," Short said, "will be schooled on-the-job in tree planting, food patch and wild life habitat construction, game surveys, farm ponds, game distribution and banding, and a general knowledge of practicable conservation farm methods." Salaries will be paid cooperatively by the Division of Conservation and the Veterans' Administration as provided by the G. I. Bill of Rights and will total $150 per month.

Prostate Gland Trouble?

I'm a railroad man and for over 8 years had difficulty working because of backaches due to Prostate Gland trouble. Doctor's formula proved of great benefit and before and since his death have sold them (now called Watt's Suppositories) to railroad men and others the country over. Fine testimonials and repeat business show the good work they do. Backache, getting up nights often indicate an inflamed Prostate Gland. I guarantee your money back if not given relief. Correspondence Course Available On Citizenship

A correspondence course for foreign born persons who wish to study for citizenship examinations is now offered by Ohio State University in cooperation with the Federal Bureau of Immigration and Naturalization.

The course is open to all foreign-born persons in Ohio who live in areas where no citizenship classes are available, according to Dr. Herschel W. Nisonger, director of OSU's Bureau of Special and Adult Education, who will supervise the project.

Boards of education in larger cities such as Cleveland, Cincinnati, Dayton and Columbus regularly conduct such citizenship classes, but thousands of foreign born reside in smaller places where no organized instruction is available, Nisonger explains.

State universities in Michigan, Indiana, Kentucky and Pennsylvania also have been requested by the federal agency to take over this responsibility and similar projects are under way in these states.

There are an estimated 175,000 foreign-born in Ohio who have not yet become citizens, many of them residing where no classes are available.

The Bureau of Immigration and Naturalization supplies all text materials and Ohio State administers the course by enrolling students, giving instructions on the use of material, and grading and returning test papers.

The materials are arranged by progressive steps—elementary, intermediate, and advanced—so that a student may begin with the texts best suited to his language facility, educational, and cultural background.

Volunteer helpers will be secured in the local communities to assist persons who have language or other difficulties in studying the material.

Enrollment fee is $5 and no university credit is given for the course.

It is estimated that 200 or 300 students per year may be taking the course for the next two or three years.
Inquiries should be sent to the Bureau of Special and Adult Education, Arps Hall, Ohio State University.

Naval Recruiting Policies Outlined

The navy recruiting station in Columbus released the following announcement concerning the enlistment and re-enlistment of all ex-naval personnel. Any men who have served one or more years of pay-grade in which discharged active service in World War II may now enlist or re-enlist for either two, three or six years. If this enlistment is effected within 90 days from date of last discharge, previous time will count as continuous service and re-enlistment gratuities at the rate of $30 are paid for each year already served. If enlistment is effected AFTER the 90 day period of grace, the terms of enlistment are the same, except that previous service is then broken service and re-enlistment money is not paid; however a new issue of clothing is granted. Five per cent of base pay for each three years of previous service is paid to all men enlisting or re-enlisting.

Any ex-army man, ex-marine or ex-coast guardman enlisting in the regular navy must now enlist for a term of four or six years and will be enlisted in the same pay-grade in which discharged but not in a pay-grade to exceed the equivalent of 4 corporal or seaman first class.

Any ex-navy reserve or navy inductee enlisting in the regular U. S. Navy will be enlisted in the same rating group in which discharged and retains his old rate if that rate is open. There are 144 open rates at the present time. Any ex-navy man re-enlists within 90 days from date of discharge; otherwise he re-enlists under same conditions as ex-navy reserves or ex-navy inductees.

For further information on the new peacetime navy, drop in and see the local navy recruiter, located in the Old Post Office Building in downtown Columbus or phone MA. 6411 and ask for extension 465. This station is open every day except Sunday. Office hours are 8 a. m. to 4:30 p. m. except Saturday from 8 a. m. to 1 p. m.

OSU Study to Find If Foreign News Is Understood

Is the American Press reporting world affairs in language which the average man can understand?

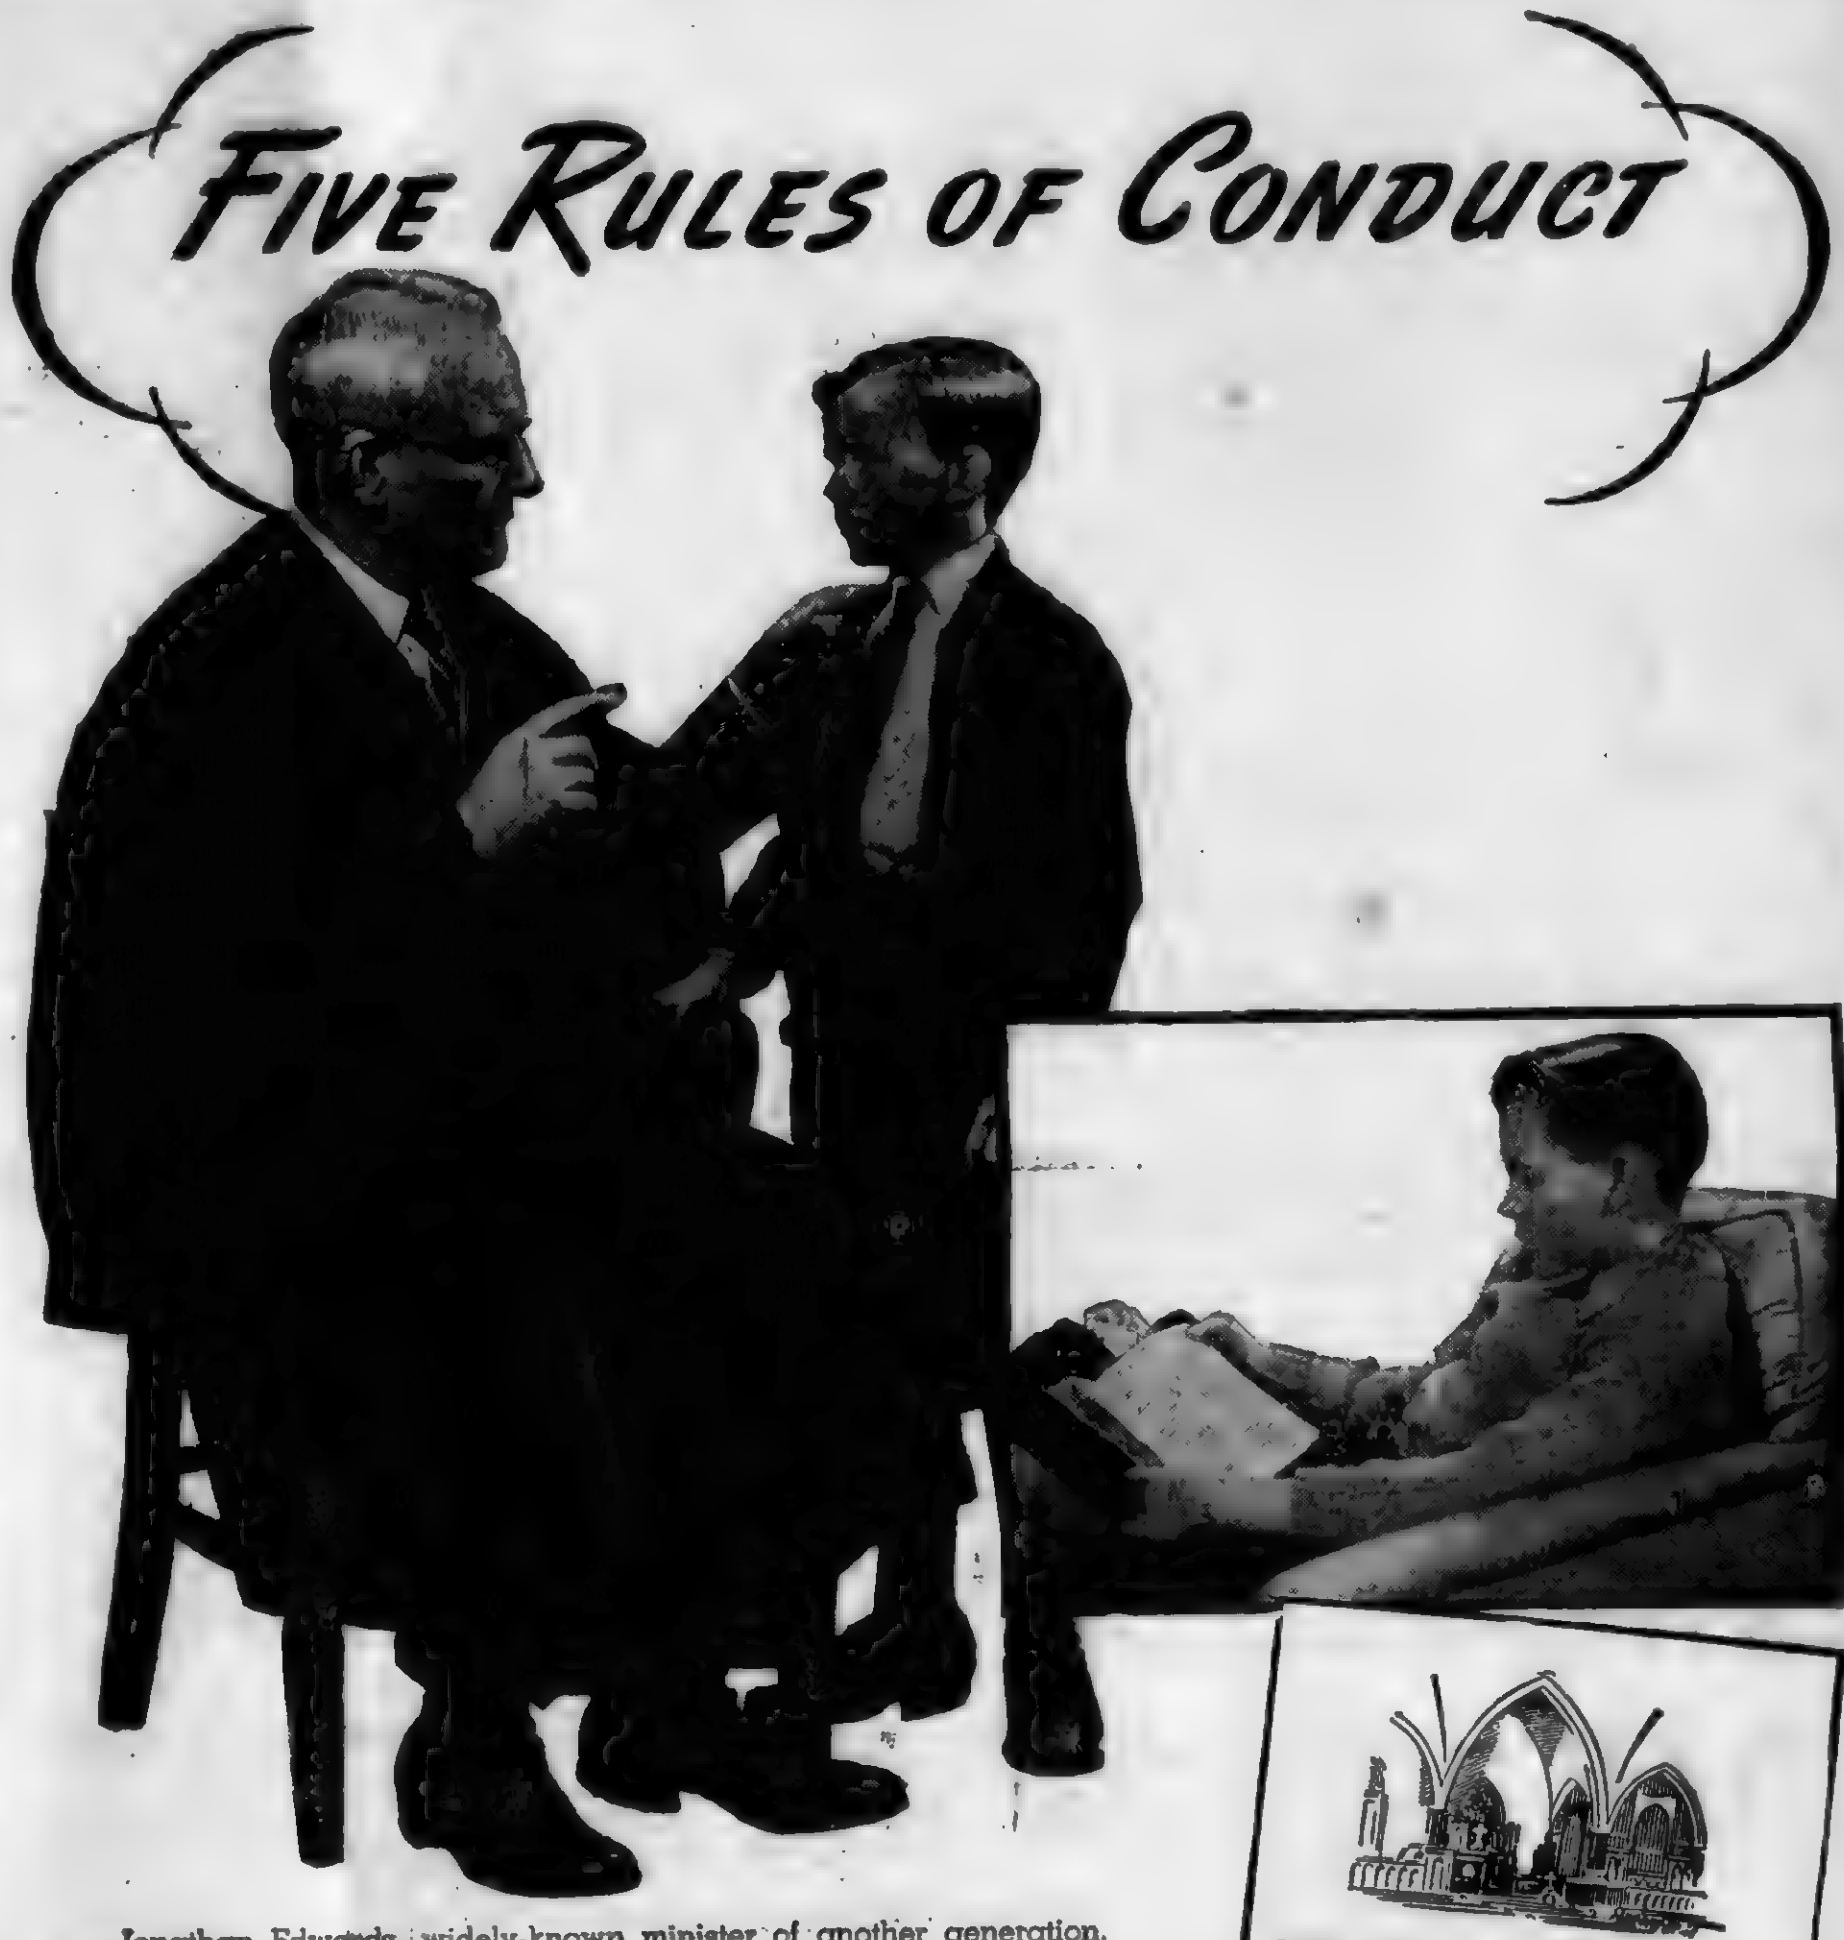

The School of Journalism at Ohio State University is trying to find an answer to this question. It is continuing a research project in newspaper "readability" which it started last summer. At that time a readability test was applied to a thousand news stories originating in Washington. It was discovered that, although the average American has only a ninth grade education, his Washington news was being written on the reading level of a college freshman.

This summer the research is being carried into the field of international news. Stories with foreign date-lines, from correspondents for individual newspapers and for press associations, are being tested to see whether they can be readily understood by large groups of people. The results will be made known in the fall.

The project is under the direction of Lester Giesler, associate professor of journalism.

Hilltop Contributions Reported
The Hilltop has made 84 contributions totaling $196 in the Columbus campaign for the Ohio State University Development fund, according to a report issued as of July 18.
During 1945, 33 gifts totaling $140, were reported.

D. L. Pack Shoe Repair
2394 W. Broad at Wayne

Jonathan Edwards, widely-known minister of another generation, chose for his personal guidance the following five rules of conduct:

1. To live with all my might while I do live.
2. Never to lose a moment of time.
3. Never to do anything which I would despise in another.
4. Never to do anything out of revenge.
5. Never to do anything which I would be afraid to do if it were the last hour of my life.

Whether or not you and I would select these particular rules, were we called upon to choose, is not important here. The fact is, no life can achieve the highest and best that does not set before itself definite ideals and worthy goals.

One doesn't drift into business success. Nor can one drift into right conduct. Character must be achieved. There is no place like the Church for us to relate ourselves to God—no better place to tap those spiritual resources which give us personal victory.

All of us, and especially our children, need the teaching of the Church to help define the goals of life.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL... ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend and support the church of his choice. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church on Sunday.

Methodists Are Champs of Both First and Second Round Play

Glenwood Methodist became the undisputed champion of the West Church League by defeating Hoge Memorial by the narrow margin of 3 to 2 Monday night. Last night's win gave them the second round crown. Two weeks ago they clinched the first round title by defeating West Park White.

The victory gave Glenwood six wins against a single loss for the second round. That defeat came at the hands of West Park White.

Westgate Evangelical was runner up in the second round by virtue of a win over West Park White by a close 4 to 3 score. It gave them a record of five victories against two losses. Third place honors went to West Park White with four wins and three defeats.

St. Aloysius Wins
In other games played Monday night St. Aloysius defeated Burgess Avenue U. B. by a score of 5 to 4 in an eight inning contest and West Park Blacks swamped Hilltonia U. B. 17 to 1. Glenwood scored in the second inning on a triple by Glass and an outfield fly. Hoge also scored in the second on a walk, a passed ball, a ground out and an outfield fly. Hoge scored again in the fourth on a single by Whetstone, a sacrifice and two errors. Glenwood came back to score the winning run in the sixth inning on a single by Davies and a double by Colburn.

Hurley was the winning pitcher and Kline the loser. Whetstone took hitting honors getting two for two.

West Park Black and St. Aloysius had one postponed game to play but due to the eight-inning game with Burgess St. Aloysius was not able to get through in time to get in the game last night and since it would not figure in the final standings now it will probably not be played at all.

Worthington defeated Hilltop 4 to 2. The defeat of Green Cabs came after winning 14 in a row.

Wednesday scores were as follows: Arlington Motors 3, Worthington 2; Green Cabs 18, Camp Chase Beasley-Grove 1; Medick Ford 2, Dublin 0; Hilliard 10, Westerville 7.

Traffic Light Is Promised

Roya and Broad Is Likely Location

Some assurance was given last week that a traffic light will be installed on Broad-st. probably at the Roy-a-v intersection. C. H. Campbell, secretary of the Hilltop Business Men's Association, said that a visit had been made to the safety director's office and that virtual assurance was given that a new

There was some indication this week that the petition for a traffic light at Burgin-st. and Broad-st. was being considered down at City Hall.

Ben McBride, 30 N. Ogden-av., one of the circulators of the petition, was in receipt of a letter from Safety Director C. C. Cole stating that the matter was being studied and that a traffic light was being made. (The check was under way Tuesday of this week.)

He told Mr. McBride that the matter would be submitted to the Traffic Commission at the September meeting.

light would be up before the start of school. Considerable interest had been shown in the project for a traffic light to reduce the speed of cars coming into Columbus from the west. During the rush hours, traffic in that area is heavy and it is at considerable risk that pedestrians are able to get across the street at all. Petitions had been in circulation for several weeks. The project had the backing of the Hilltop Community Council.

Although there is not to be a meeting of the Traffic Commission until September, it is believed that a light will be installed by the time school opens.

At a meeting of the executive committee of the HBMA last week, approval was given for furnishing a game room at the Teen Canteen.

Two Are Hurt In Auto Crash

Two persons were injured Monday night when an automobile crashed into a lamp post at Sullivan-st. and Wheatland-avs while being chased by a motorcycle policeman.

Injured were Milford Bailey, 32, of 241 Cypress-av., who suffered forehead and chin cuts, and Miss Mildred Foster, same address, who suffered a broken nose, severe face lacerations and the loss of several teeth.

Motorcycle Patrolman William Allard said Bailey's auto "side-swiped" his motorcycle on Sullivan-av. a few minutes before it crashed into the pole. Bailey was arrested and charged with driving while intoxicated. Firemen took the couple to Mt. Carmel Hospital.

Raymond Morgan Is All-A Student

Raymond Morgan, 268 N. Eureka-av., has been an all-A student in the College of Commerce and Administration at Ohio State University during both the winter and spring quarters. It was learned this week.

Inadvertently his name was omitted at the time the winter quarter honor roll appeared in The Hilltop Record. The spring quarter honor list has not been released as yet.

Morgan is a veteran of World War II.

Hilltop Jewelers To Open Saturday

The opening of the Hilltop Jewelers, 2421 W. Broad-st., will take place Saturday of this week. The store is located next to the Hilltop Recreation.

Hilltop Record Moves To New Office On Broad Street; Opening Is Planned

The long awaited day for the Hilltop Record staff has arrived. The Record is now in new quarters at 2421 W. Broad-st. in the new two-story building nearing completion. Final finishing touches are still being added to the front of the building and the offices but operations started in the new quarters Monday morning.

The new office provides vastly more working space for the Record staff and is considerably more convenient for customers. Work space for the mechanical force has also been greatly expanded.

They Make Final Plans For Homecoming

Adding the finishing touches to plans for the St. Aloysius Homecoming Festival was the job of the above committee. Pictured from left to right are Jack McAndrews, general chairman of the affair, Miss Mary Beal, Mrs. Anna Heaton and Herman Schmitt. The event will take place on Wednesday, Aug. 21, afternoon and evening.

St. Aloysius Homecoming Is Wednesday

A typical homecoming atmosphere will prevail at the St. Aloysius School grounds next Wednesday as the annual Homecoming Festival will get under way. Activities will get under way at 4:30 p. m. with a dinner served in the annex.

Games and amusements of all sorts will be the order of the evening with the following societies assisting with the booths: Holy Name Society, both junior and senior, Christian Mothers Club, Mothers Club, the Sodality and the Santa Maria Council, Knights of Columbus.

The grand prize, a Buick automobile, will be awarded promptly at 11 o'clock. It is now on display in the school grounds.

Father William Maloney and Father Edwin McNulty will be on hand to greet the many former parishioners who annually come for the homecoming.

West HI Athletes Join Marines

Eight graduates of West High School enlisted in the U. S. Marine Corps Tuesday and are now at Parris Island, S. C., undergoing boot training.

Following the lead of several other West High alumni, the following men were two into the Marine Corps at Cincinnati: Richard E. Carey, 232 N. Burgess-av.; Ralph E. Dennis, 1530 Union-av.; Walter J. (Bud) Dean, 52 S. Wheatland-av.; Herman G. (Dick) Engen, 515 S. Central-av.; Richard M. Gubich, 3088 Parkside-rd.; Darrell K. Hall, 794 S. Richard-av.; Edmund C. Montgomery, 1584 W. Broad-st.; and James E. Price, 2917 Parkside-rd.

The above group represents approximately 53 varsity letters from every sport. Several of the men are on the championship cross country team captained by Carey in 1945. Goldenbagen played with all star Jim Thrush on the West High baseball team.

Carey, Hall and Montgomery were temporarily rejected due to enlarged or defective tonsils but will undoubtedly be taken in to service as soon as this condition is corrected.

Enlistments in the Marine Corps are still open for two, three or four years and men enlisting now will get the full benefits of the G. I. Bill of Rights. This means 36 semester months of free college education in addition to other benefits. The Marine recruiting office is in the old post office building at Third and State-sts.

Richard Albert Killed In Crash Of Army Plane

Pfc. Richard K. Albert, 517 N. Greiner-rd., near New Rome, was killed last week when an Army amphibian plane crashed in the ocean last Thursday. According to 7th Air Force headquarters at Honolulu, he was one of eight men who lost their lives in the crash.

The plane is said to have dived into the ocean off Kaneohe Naval Air Station, killing all aboard.

Improved Business Methods To Be Studied By Local Firms

Plans for a series of meetings to stress improved methods of selling the services of the community store to the public are being worked out by the business advancement committee of the Hilltop Business Men's Association. The first of the meetings will be held Sept. 10, with a special speaker being engaged for the meeting.

Plans for the September meeting and other fall programs along the same line will be announced within a few days. C. H. Campbell, secretary of the association, said following a meeting of the business advancement committee Tuesday noon.

The program is aimed at improving the merchandising techniques of all local business enterprises. It is expected that teaching of sales people in the art of selling will be one of the aspects to be stressed. Recognized speakers in their particular fields will be engaged for each meeting.

Now that merchandise is beginning to be more available in many lines, it is believed by some of the members that now is the time to do a concerted job of selling the public on relying on the neighborhood merchant for a large part of the buying.

Said Campbell: "We will try to get ideas that neighborhood stores can use to hold and develop business. We hope to provide better and more efficient service for our trade."

Robert Maxwell To Join Record Staff Monday

Robert Maxwell, 104 Highland-av., has joined the staff of The Hilltop Record as an advertising salesman, effective next Monday.

He takes over many of the accounts formerly handled by Walcott Davis who recently went to the North Side Herald as business manager.

Maxwell has lived on the Hilltop for the past 32 years. He graduated from West High School in 1932 and was with the Cusins and Pears Co. until 1937. Later he served in the credit department of the Oliver Farm Equipment Co. For the past four years he has been with the Columbus Southern Ohio Electric Co. in the line construction department.

He is married and the father of five sons. His wife is the former Margaret Paschal. The sons are named Robert, David, William, Thomas and Dwight.

Maxwell is active in the affairs of St. Aloysius Church, serving on the church committee. He is financial secretary of the Santa Maria Council No. 2898, Knights of Columbus.

His parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Maxwell, 269 S. Burgess-av., have lived on the Hilltop 32 years.

City's Paymaster For 26 Years Harry 'Pop' Fleming Retires From Office

Harry "Pop" Fleming, 104 N. Warren-av., who during the past 26 years has spent a major part of the city's income in the form of pay envelopes to the city employees, has retired.

Effective tomorrow he will turn his thoughts to fishing, baseball games and other interests that have claimed his attention in only a minor way because of his responsibilities at City Hall. His only financial concern now will be cashing his retirement check every two weeks.

A city treasurer's office paymaster since 1920, "Pop" Fleming has paid out a total of $86,888.785.38 in cash and checks in 26 years, including hundreds of thousands of dollars in work release money to part time employees during the depression years of 1931 through 1933 before the federal government and county.

Fleming has been paid on each pay envelope until he almost had blisters on his fingers. "Pop" said in explaining that the city always paid nearly all workers in cash until recent years.

The money had to be counted, checked carefully with the payroll and placed in individual envelopes with the name of the person to be paid on each. Every person getting an envelope before he could get his money. "If I made a mistake, even of a few pennies, it meant I had to check all those envelopes again before they were ready to be distributed," he said.

Statistically, usually make dry reading for most folks, but some of those accumulated by "Pop" Fleming in his 26 years make an impressive picture.

For example, here are a few: Pay envelopes made up, 2,355,251. This includes some checks.

Largest amount paid in one year: $3,364,903.26 in 1933.

Largest number of pay envelopes in year: 229,739, in 1933.

Services Held Tuesday For Triplet Babies

Burial rites were conducted Tuesday afternoon for the triplet daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel L. Winn, 3185 Sullivan-av., born at Mt. Carmel Hospital, Saturday.

At first believed to be in good condition, the babies died within 36 hours of birth. They were prematurely born and were the first triplets ever born at Mt. Carmel Hospital.

Mrs. Winn was reported in good condition. The Winn's who make their home with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Francis Beehm, have no other children. Mrs. Winn formerly was employed at the Army Air Forces depot at the Sixte Fair Grounds.

Don't Know If Leave Blanks Can Be Had Here

It was not known this week whether the terminal leave pay application blanks would be available at the Hilltop Post Office.

John Raymond, superintendent of the local office, said he had been getting numerous inquiries from Hilltop veterans but was unable to say whether the forms would be available here.

"I have had no word on the matter as yet," he explained. The forms are expected to be available in about 30 days.

New Building Underway For C & S Dime Store

Work is progressing on the new building that will house the C & S Dime Store on Sullivan-av. east of the Sullivan-av. Friends Church.

According to Gus Johnson, operator of stores at 2578 Sullivan-av. and 2772 W. Broad-st., work of laying the cement block walls is well under way and it is expected that the building will be ready for use by about the first of the year.

The new store will occupy space 32 by 80 feet with a warehouse on the rear. Two store rooms will be leased for other businesses. The front of the building is to be cut Indiana stone. Charles Lang is the contractor.

PICNIC PLANNED

The Townsend Club of Columbus and Franklin County will sponsor a basket picnic and rally at Schiller Park Sunday, Aug. 18, starting at 11 o'clock. The general public and all Townsend members are invited to come and bring a picnic basket and service. Ice cream and coffee will be provided free and a national speaker and good program are expected.

Mother Seeks Way To Reach Injured Son

A Hilltop mother was trying to book a reservation to fly to the bedside of her son in a Hawaii hospital this week after receiving news that he had been seriously injured in an airplane crash.

The son is Aviation Radioman Russell Bernard Seely, 18, hurt in a crash at Mokuleia Beach near Honolulu on July 27. His mother is Mrs. R. H. Seely, 1884 Sullivan-av.

She will leave as soon as the navy can arrange accommodations to get her across the Pacific.

Young Seely is a graduate of West High School, class of '44. He joined the navy shortly after graduation and has been stationed in Hawaii with a bombing squadron. He is at the Aiea Hospital at Pearl Harbor.

His grandmother, Mrs. Elsie Rice, and an uncle, Bernard G. Rice, live at 97 Whitethorne-av. During the time he is hospitalized, Seely would appreciate hearing from his friends in Columbus. He can be addressed as follows:

Russell Bernard Seely, ARMC 3/e, U. S. Naval Hospital, No. 10, Ward B3, c/o FPO, San Francisco, Calif.

Canteen Dance To Be Saturday

Tom Becket and his orchestra will play for the dance and party at the Teen Canteen Saturday evening. The membership card plus 15c will be required for admission. Non members will be charged 50c.

Charles P. Maus, president of the Hilltop Community Council, appointed Roger Geist and Dick Palmer to supervise the Canteen while regular officers are away on vacation.

A semi-formal party is being planned for the near future at the Canteen. Further details of the party will be announced in The Hilltop Record at a later date.

Teen Canteen Will Not Be Disturbed

Erection of a sign on the Weber property stating that modern service station is to be built in the near future does not mean activities of the Teen Canteen will be disturbed for some months to come. H. A. Gilchrist, sales manager of the Columbus office of the Socony Vacuum Oil Co., said this week.

A modern service station will be erected on the corner of Broad and Burgess at some future date but not during the present year, he explained. Erection of the sign is for informative and advertising purposes.

A building permit has been taken out for the work and it is expected that the curbing will be cut away and possibly gasoline tanks buried in preparation for the service center but no actual building will be started this year.

A few weeks ago plans were announced for a modern theater to be built on the western portion of this same tract of land. It will be put up by J. R. Nelson, former Hilltopper and owner of several other Columbus theaters.

Westgate Concert To Be August 25th

Next Sunday evening the concert will be in Schiller Park with Albert Germanon as guest leader. A duo of singers from the Independent Players, of which he is the coach, will sing.

Record Want Ad Brings Forty Calls

Mrs. A. C. Markert, 102 N. Haldy-av., knows something about the pulling power of Hilltop Record Want Ads.

A recent classified ad on window screens brought 40 telephone calls from a single insertion.

That is typical of experiences being reported on a wide variety of items advertised weekly in the columns of The Record. Call the Record office, RA. 1125, before 9 a. m. on Wednesday to place your ad for whatever you may want to buy, rent or sell or for services you may have to offer. Local Air Scouts
Plan To Attend
Model Meeting

Air Scouts of Air Squadron No. 3, sponsored by the Hilltop Kiwanis, are planning to attend a model airplane meet to be held at Grimes Airport, Urbana. The meet will be for three days, Aug. 29, 30 and 31. The Scouts will pitch their tents on the airport grounds.

This meet is sponsored by the owners of the airport and is expected to be one of the year's outstanding model meets. A smorgasbord will be established at the field for the attending Air Scouts.

One of the highlights of the meet will be the formal dance held in the large airport hangar. Groups from Urbana are assisting in the arrangements.

A motor caravan will take the Air Scouts to Cleveland Sunday, where they will be guests at the air races held in that city.

This event is only one of many interesting items in the program for Air Scouts. Any boy 15 years old or older is eligible to join the Air Scouts, previous Scout membership being unnecessary. Chas. Reichelderfer heads the Kiwanis committee in charge of Air Squadron No. 3 and Lou Dvorak is squadron leader. The squadron meets on Monday evening at Schmeltzer's Restaurant, 3194 W. Broad-st. The first fall meeting will be held Sept. 9 at 7:30 at the above place. All interested youths are invited and urged to attend this meeting.

America's trees can grow a house every 12 seconds, at least we now have enough forests in production to produce enough wood for 2,000,000 new homes every year. There'll be fun at the big Ohio State Fair, Aug. 24-31 for the kiddies over in the Division of Conservation area according to present plans. The Division will again sponsor the popular fishing contest at the large pool in the southeast corner of the grounds. Several thousand placed in the pool to provide continuous fishing for the young followers of Izaak Walton. There is a new outdoor (or indoor, depending on how you look at it) sport gaining popularity throughout the country, known as Speleology. The sport itself is not new but the name has just been adopted. The term comes from the Greek word "Speleo", meaning cave or cavern. The sport of Speleology is the hobby of studying caves and caverns. Jack Preble, public relations director of the Ohio American Legion, is in charge of publicity for the national association and is a leading proponent of the hobby here in Ohio.

Work Goes On As Usual

During the course of construction of the new Record building it was necessary to tie the new building into the old one and when this time came work in the Record shop went right on as usual as is attested by the above photo of Lee Koons working in his metal room while a workman tears out the wall around him.

Safety To Be Stressed This Fall

Increased emphasis will be placed on safety this fall as thousands of school children trek back to school.

Safety officials this week were outlining plans for increased use of school patrols and added police cooperation during the first few days of school to make every effort to get off to a "safe" start this school term.

A. W. Raymond, manager of the Columbus Auto Club, said that he would encourage the expansion, wherever needed, of the school boy safety patrols which supervise crossing of streets morning, noon and evening.

A new use for the services of a patrol member to every school bus in the county. It will be his duty to dismount and direct traffic until children are safely across the street each time the bus stops to load or unload pupils.

The safety patrol is one of the greatest reasons that fewer children are killed or injured during the school year than in the summer months, Mr. Raymond said.

D. K. Finley, 733 S. Hague-av., head of the Chamber of Commerce Safety Council, pointed out that parents should escort new pupils during the first week of school to insure their safety and to help instruct them in the rules of safety in crossing streets.

Special details of police will be on duty during the first week to look after the safety of children at dangerous intersections near school buildings.

Motorists are cautioned to observe strictly the speed limitations in the vicinity of schools. These regulations were not enforced during the summer but will be rigidly enforced when school starts.

West Side Boy Killed In Fall From Auto

In week-end traffic accident one West Side child was killed, and three persons were injured as the city's traffic toll continued to mount.

David Peake, two-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Peake, 10 N. Glenwood-av., was fatally injured Sunday evening when he fell from the door of a car driven by his mother at W. Broad-st. and Davis-av. The accident occurred a few seconds after the mother had warned the boy about a loose door handle.

According to police reports, the victim was alone in the back seat of the car. His mother and six-year-old sister were riding in the front seat.

Funeral services were held in the Warren-av. Nazarene Church in Green Lawn Cemetery by Jerry Spears.

Clyde L. Eaton, 21, of 259 Martin-av., suffered lacerations when his motorcycle skidded on a wet street and hit a parked car at Riverside-dr and Main-st. He was treated at St. Francis Hospital.

Mrs. Stella Buck, 49, of 2721 Fremont-st., received a serious head injury when the car in which she was riding was struck by a hit-skip car at Town-st and Glenwood-av. She was taken to Grant Hospital. The car was driven by her husband, Fred L. Buck, 49. He was treated at Grant also for back and leg injuries.

Entertainers Appear On Local Radio Station

Sunny Slane

Kenneth Kronk, 742 S. Terrace-av., and Sunny Slane, 128 Avondale-av., local entertainers, were selected from 50 contestants to appear on the Tip Top Rangers radio program over Radio Station WHKC last Saturday morning. Auditions were held at the station last Thursday.

The two will appear over a Cincinnati radio station at an early date but details of that broadcast are not available at this time.

Kenneth, first place winner, a 16-year-old student at West High School, is a singer, while Miss Slane, second place winner, sings and taps.

Both appeared in this year's Hiltop Minstrel Show and are frequently seen at local amateur entertainments.

Only one person in five has even the basic protection for meeting expenses of illness and accident.

Problem Of Outfitting For School Somewhat Easier

By Elizabeth Downing

Outfitting the children for school this fall should not prove too great a task for the careful shopper, as shown by a tour through the local Seiler's store.

There is a shortage of little girls' cotton dresses and there are no rayon dresses, however the cotton dresses come in once in a while in smart styles and it pays to look for them.

The little girls' clothes have lots of frills this fall. Among them are the embroidery trim, the gathered fullness at the bodice, the pocket frills, and the button trim. Plaids are quite prominent also.

In skirts, you may choose from plain colors or plaids, wool or gabardine, and pleated or gored. Blouses coupled with the skirts always make good school outfits. In blouses there are cotton or rayon, and tailored or fancy. The frilly and trimmed ones are the most popular according to the sales people. In sweaters for the smaller girl, there are the coat style or the slip-on.

Eton suits are very popular with the younger set too. They are made of wool and consist of a bolero and skirt. An advantage in this type of suit is that the bolero may be interchanged with another skirt and vice-versa. Thus affording several changes from only one suit.

Also, Sweet socks for winter are smart too. They come in different percentages of wool. In boys' trousers, the most popular for the teen-agers are the brown and black houndstooth checked tweeds. The gabardine and cavalry twill are sporty too.

Boys' poplin jackets, lined mackinaw, fingertip coats and pegged trousers are always on the boys hit parade.

Sweaters make a hit with boys of all ages. There are sweaters in all sizes and colors, with crew or V necks. Argyle sweaters are the height of style also.

There is a good supply of corduroy and tweed on hand, and some very nice Hockmeyer corduroy trousers.

There are nice genuine horsehide leather belted coats with a fur pile collar. Navy pea coats which are all wool and lined and feature the genuine navy buttons, and all leather capeskin jackets. Reversibles are indispensable, the wool side showing for a sunny day, and the gabardine for the rainy day—two coats in one.

Biballs are nice for little boys too. They are fashioned with bibs and suspenders, in twill or corduroy. There is a large selection of long sleeved polo shirts in junior sizes also.

Jobless Benefits Show Decline

An average of 135,518 persons per week received unemployment benefits in Ohio during June, of whom 76,116 were unemployed veterans receiving readjustment allowances under the GI Bill and 59,402 were persons covered under the Ohio unemployment compensation law, Charles H. Jones, administrator of the Ohio Bureau of Unemployment Compensation, said recently.

Both types of claimants reported a decrease from May, when an average of 144,450 unemployed received benefits under the state law and GI Bill. The average weekly number of unemployed veterans receiving readjustment allowances during June declined two per cent and state law claimants 13 per cent.

Jobless payments for June totaled $10,750,834 in the state, with $6,196,279 going to GI Bill claimants and $4,554,555 to unemployed under the state law. Payments in May totaled $11,844,384. The June decrease in payments to veterans was seven per cent and to civilians 14 per cent.

The number of new claims filed under both laws continued to drop during June with Ohio law claims totaling 20,310, the lowest number in the past 10 months. New claims filed under the GI Bill declined to 16,581 or a fifth less than were filed during May.

Over 30,000 Unreported Tuberculosis Cases In StateOne Out of Three School Children Listens To WOSU

Nearly one school child out of every three in Ohio listened to special children's programs broadcast over the Ohio State University station, WOSU, last year in its "School of the Air."

The annual report on School of the Air activities, submitted by Mrs. Margaret Tyler, supervisor, shows that more than 361,320 out of Ohio's 1,200,000 pupils heard at least one of the eight specially prepared series.

The school's broadcasts are divided into primary, intermediate, and high school level programs, each adapted by experts for the child's age level and general vocabulary, skills and abilities.

Two programs were heard by small tots in primary grades. These were "Music Time" and "Story Time," both drawing large mail response from teachers. For "Music Time," prepared by Miss Cleo Thomas of the OSU School of Music, a teacher's manual containing words and music of the songs was prepared and sent to 2,000 teachers who requested it. Last year was the sixth consecutive year for the "Music Time" show.

"Story Time," prepared under the direction of Dr. Leland Jacobs, instructor in children's literature, is believed to have the largest listening audience of school programs.

Offerings at most numerous in the intermediate age level were programs such as "Boys and Girls in Bookland," "Science Club," "Once Upon a Time in Ohio," "Time for Music," "News of the Week," and "Art in Living" were offered.

One program titled "Footnote People" was offered for junior and senior high schools. This was a social science series, biographical in nature and dealing with

Dr. Garry revealed that the United States Public Health Service mass X-ray surveys have shown 1.5 per cent of the population has some tuberculosis infection. The group examined included about 1,500,000 industrial workers, mostly over 20 years of age. Simple multiplication of Ohio's 4,500,000 voters by the 1.5 per cent indicates that there are 33,750 cases of unreported tuberculosis in Ohio, Dr. Garry says.

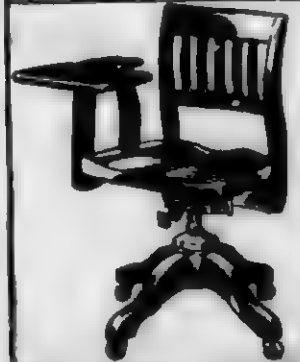

Recent reports issued by the Ohio Tuberculosis and Health Association show that only four other states have reported more tuberculosis cases than Ohio. These include California, Texas, Illinois and New York. Pennsylvania reports a thousand cases more than Ohio and another neighbor, Indiana, reports only 3,039, two thousand fewer cases of tuberculosis than Ohio has reported.

This is a particularly bad situation, according to John A. Louis, executive secretary of the Joint Committee on Tuberculosis Control in Ohio, because "we have but 3,500 beds in which to hospitalize these active cases." "And these," says Mr. Louis, "are concentrated in the 29 largest counties. A small county has very little chance to find treatment, hospitalization and isolation for an active case of tuberculosis."

Provisional figures on the number of cases of tuberculosis existing in the state of Ohio show that there are between 30,000 and 34,000 unreported cases of the disease. According to a report from Dr. Mark W. Garry, chief of the division of tuberculosis of the Ohio Department of Health, only 3,787 of these have been reported to local health departments while the rest constitute a public health menace.

A new series of "School of the Air" programs is now being planned for the 1946-47 season, Mrs. Tyler stated.

"Ability and efficiency are expected of every public servant but the one quality of service that rises above and beyond price is Sincerity."—Johnson.

Duke Simpson To Supervise Hilltop Park

Thomas L. (Duke) Simpson, 48 Powhatan-av., has been transferred from the McKinley Avenue Playground to take over the supervisory duties at Glenwood Park effective Tuesday of this week. He replaces Stanley Trueman, who resigned to take another position.

The McKinley grounds have been closed for the season. Simpson is well known in Columbus as a ball player in both the softball and hard ball circles. The annual tennis tournament was to have gotten under way at Westgate Park yesterday with competition in singles and doubles for both boys and girls in the junior and intermediate age groups. Four sectional winners will be selected in each class and division.

Foul shooting started at the local parks on Monday and will continue through Aug. 22. It is open for both boys and girls in junior, intermediate and senior groups. Each park will hold its own eliminations and winners will be determined on a city-wide basis with a medal for the grand champion.

Drama Festival
The drama festival for this section was to have been held at the Sunshine Park auditorium on Aug. 14. City finals will be held there next Monday.

The week of Aug. 19 has been designated by the City Recreation Department as girls' field day and folk dance festival. The idea is to develop track events of interest to girls and to promote a greater interest in folk dancing. It is felt that many girls have had some instruction in folk dancing and costuming. Each park will set a special day for this event.

Incinerator Plant Use Being Studied

Hilltop Councilmen Henry Koontz, 485 Hilltop-av., and Service Director Elmer Keller inspected the abandoned city incinerator plant on McKinley-av. last week with an eye toward putting it in operation at some future time.

The plant, built with WPA funds back in 1935, was never put in regular use because it was found to require too high a labor cost due to "poor engineering" as city officials explain it. During the 11 years it has been in existence, it has been used only when the other incinerator is out of commission. According to Koontz, it has not been in operation three full months since it was built.

The incinerator stands near another city "monument," the much discussed and little used city barn, erected about the time all of the horses had given way to mechanized equipment in Columbus.

Closer Haul
Koontz maintains that considerable time and money could be saved in disposing of refuse collected in the north and west sections of the city by not having to haul it all the way to the Short-st plant.

Keller points out that it would cost approximately $60,000 to remodel the plant before it could be of any practical use since mechanical unloading equipment would have to be installed and this would necessitate some remodeling operations.

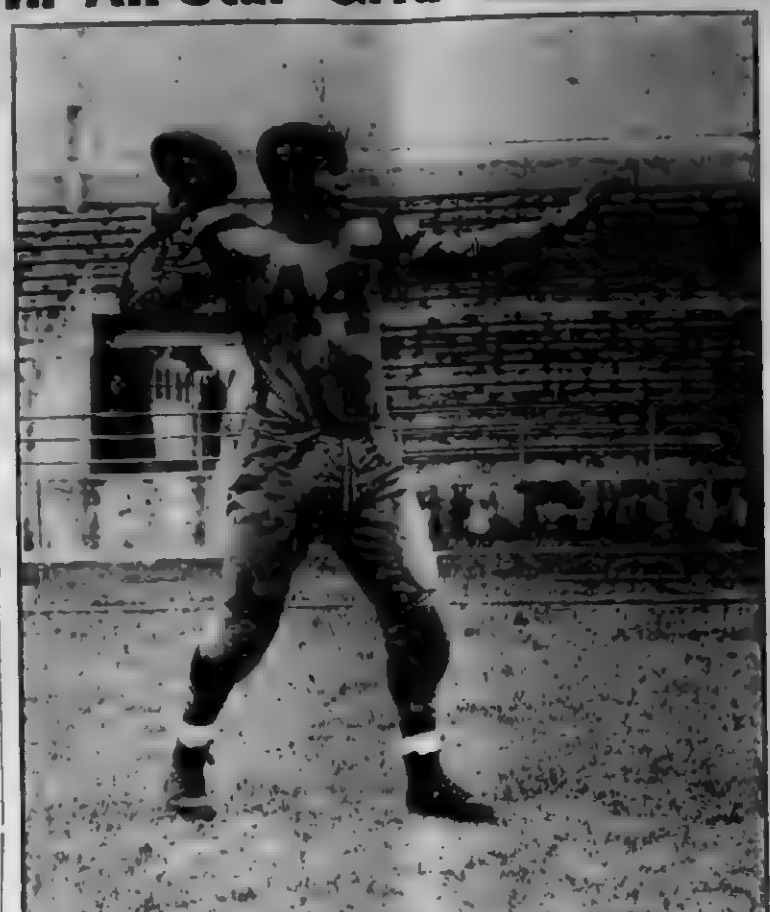

The matter will likely come up for further consideration after City Council reconvenes following the present summer recess.

Mills Buffet Will Be Remodeled

Mills Buffet, popular downtown restaurant closed Sunday night to permit the final stages of construction of a completely new large restaurant. The new quarters will afford more than double the previous serving capacity.

Nationally recognized architects and designers have pronounced the plans of the new restaurant as the finest yet known in recent years and state that its equal in furnishings is not known in Ohio.

This is the first game of its kind to be held in Ohio. Dick was the unanimous selection of the city coaches and sports writers for the 1944 football season and repeated again in 1945. He is one of 48 boys chosen from a state-wide selection to participate in the 10-day clinic at Toledo. The boys have all expenses paid by the Ohio High School Coaches Association in conjunction with Waite High School.

Horse Show To Be Held On Labor Day

Columbus will be the mecca for the horse fanciers of central Ohio on Labor Day when the Firemen's American Legion Post will bring the Ohio Western Horse Show to the fairgrounds.

According to Captain Harry Caldwell, general chairman for the Fire Fighters' Post, the show will bring about 300 highly trained horses to Columbus, many of which are valued at several thousand dollars, and will compete in about 15 separate events.

Captain Caldwell said the show must not be confused with the western rodeo with its bronco busting, steer roping and so forth. The horses are highly trained by their owners in all of the elements and classes expected to be found in a high type western horse show.

The idea of western horse shows is said to have originated several years ago near Denver, Colo., but has worked eastward in recent years and now many western horse clubs may be found in practically every state in the Union.

The horses are usually individually owned and trained and club members meet regularly to exhibit the fine training of their horses. Competition meets are arranged between the various horse clubs where the best horses of each club vie for special cups and ribbons.

The Columbus show at the fairgrounds is open to all owners of trained western horses and is expected to attract owners from the entire middle western section. More than $1000 has been added to the usual prizes and this feature is expected to bring out the finest horses ever to be seen in this part of the country.

A special feature of the show will be a pony race for children under 14 years of age and their ponies. The winner will be awarded a $50 western pony saddle.

The first of the 15 events is scheduled to be called at 1 p. m. Labor Day, rain or shine. General admission is 75 cents, children 25 cents. Proceeds are for the benefit of the Fire Department's American Legion Post, composed of veterans of the first and second World Wars.

Tax Laws To Be Topic Of Table Talk Sunday

"Should the Ohio Tax Laws Be Revised?" will be the Table Talk topic at 12:15 p. m. Sunday over WBNS. This is the fourth in a series of programs dealing with city financial problems.

Speakers will include William Wallace of the Akron Beacon-Journal, State Senator Roscoe R. Walcutt and A. David Bouterse, executive director of the Ohio Welfare Conference. Dr. Robert D. Patton, professor of economics at Ohio State University, will be host moderator.

Popular Carp Bait Easily Prepared

Here is a quick and easily prepared doughball recipe becoming increasingly popular among veteran carp fishermen, and it catches fish, too. Doughballs need not be a fancy cooked and flavored preparation. An inviting lunch for carp can be made from a few pieces of dry bread carried in your tackle or bait box. When you decide to try for a nice stringer of carp, wet a couple of slices just enough to make it work easily until it resembles smooth molding clay or wall paper cleaner. This may take five minutes or so, but you can keep right on fishing while you're at it. This dough may be flavored with onion juice or other favorite carp tempters if you wish. You will find that this type doughball will stay on your hook and catch just as many carp as the cotton filled doughball and is much easier to prepare.

Pet Show Draws 22 Entries; Doll Show To Be On Monday

Ronald Henry, 269 Eldon-av, is not a boy who is easily discouraged when he sets his mind to winning a prize.

Ronald and his sister, Betty, own a beautiful Cocker Spaniel dog that they wanted to enter in the Pet Show at Holton Park on Aug. 8. The dog, however, is not used to crowds and their mother thought it best not to take him to the park for the contest.

So what to do for an entry in the pet show.

Ronnie figured out a way. After considerable work he caught a small catfish out of the creek which runs through Holton Park. The catfish won the second prize ribbon for the smallest pet.

James Porter, 445 N. Highland-av, too, has his problems at the pet show. His pet rooster, Roddy, hopped out of his box and an extended chase up and down and across the park was required before the pet was captured.

But it was worth the effort for Roddy won the first prize as the most unusual pet.

Holton Park will hold the Doll Show Monday afternoon, Aug. 19, at 3 o'clock. Dolls may be entered by children 13 years old or younger. The classifications include:

1. Prettiest doll.
2. Best dressed doll.
3. Largest doll.
4. Smallest doll.
5. Oldest doll.
6. Doll with prettiest hair.
7. Most unusual doll.

Winners will be eligible for the city-wide contest to be held Aug. 21.

The Nation's Manufacturing Center

A recent issue of the Ohio Development News, published by the Ohio Development and Publicity Commission, emphasizes pictorially and editorially Ohio's place among the states of the union as a manufacturing center.

To the thousands of native Ohioans who are in the habit of thinking of the Buckeye State as a part of the nation's great bread basket it may be somewhat surprising to learn that the state ranks first in the production of at least 10 major products and is a leader in many others. Included in this impressive list of firsts are tires and tubes, machine tools, heating equipment, home appliances, motor vehicle bodies and parts, printing and publishing, clay products, blast furnace products, soap and generators.

More than 9,000 Ohio firms contributed their productive "know how" in the battle of production that was such an important factor during the recent war. Most of this "know how" is being carried over into the production of peacetime goods that will be used in every part of the world.

Recent years have seen Ohio come to the fore in such lines as glassware, aluminum products, matches, batteries and other auto accessories, electrical appliances, trucks, castings, airplanes and aircraft parts, office machinery, boats and paper products, to mention only a few.

Every Ohioan should get a copy of the Ohio Development News for April and May, 1946, and get acquainted with the story of production. Address requests to: The Ohio Development and Publicity Commission, 36 N. Third-st., Columbus 15, Ohio. Copies will be mailed free of charge as long as they are available.

Wisdom is the right use of knowledge. To know is not to be wise... But to know how to use knowledge is to have wisdom.—Spurgeon.

If you wish to train up a child in the way he should go, just skirmish ahead on that line yourself. John Billings.

He who is taught to live upon little owes more to his father's wisdom than he who has a great deal left him does to his father's care.—Spurgeon.

Because right is right, to follow right were wisdom in the scorn of consequences.—Tennyson.

Wisdom is the principal thing; therefore get wisdom; and with all thy getting get understanding. —Proverbs 4:7.

Smiles

The bride tottered down the aisle. Her hair was gray and thin, and her sunken cheeks cracked in smiles as she nodded to friends and relatives.

The bridegroom was able to walk with the assistance of two stalwart mahogany crutches. His head was bald and shining and his store teeth chattered and clicked merrily as he walked.

These were the two who waited until they could afford to get married.

The election board in a southern town was counting ballots when they came across a Republican ticket. Not finding anything wrong with it, they put it aside until they had time to decide what to do about it. After a while a second Republican ticket showed up.

Voices from the Hall—Patrolman Smith calling! (Then loud knocking on the apartment door).

Woman's Voice From Within (Demanding. It didn't sound too friendly)—What do you want?

Patrolman (shouting)—It's your husband! A big steam roller just ran over him.

Woman's Voice (commanding)—Well, don't stand there talking. Slide him under the door.

"Dog Days" Has Nothing To Do With Canines

The term "dog days" is that vicious sound description commonly used by most people to describe the condition of creeks and rivers when they seem to take on a blanket of scum and filth in the sultry summer, but actually the name has nothing whatever to do with water or even dogs for that matter.

The use of the term originated with the ancients to describe the period of the year of the rising of the dog star, Sirius, which included about 40 days of the warmest part of the year. The dog star rises at a different season now, however the term "dog days" continues to refer to the hottest days of summer, when the scarcity of rain causes streams to stagnate and become undesirable for swimming or watering livestock.

There also is the incorrect belief that the term refers to that season when dogs commonly are thought to go mad. Truthfully mad dog cases are more common in cold weather, although most dogs do suffer frequently from extremely hot weather.

Home Location Is Important

Those intending to purchase land for a future home, or who are in the market for a completed home should buy only in areas protected by zoning and building restrictions, or should satisfy themselves in reasonable degree as to the type of neighbors they may expect to have and the kind of neighborhood it will likely be 10 years hence, as well as now.

In fact, this first step, securing a proper location for your home, is probably the most important of all. The character, size and type of buildings used to house schools and churches, the nature of the community recreation facilities, are all indicative of the temperament and stability of the individuals making up the population. Availability of public utilities, including electricity and gas, and of public water supplies, sewerage and public transportation systems, also are important considerations.

A residential area which has not been properly protected against industrial and commercial encroachment and against the infiltration of cheap and shoddy buildings may in a generation degenerate into a second or third rate neighborhood. With it comes a corresponding decline in property values and general indifference, on the part of the property owners, toward doing any more than the absolute minimum to keep their buildings habitable.

Therefore, if you are planning to build, it is well to take up matters of the type just described with the realtor or other agent interested in the sale of the property and with your local financing institution: banker, building and loan association, or other organization from whom you are borrowing the money with which to build. Their advice on such matters is invaluable and may mean the difference between success and failure in home ownership.

Well, we can't expect too much of the United Nations. Even some of the members of our own Supreme Court can't get along—Union-Banner, Clanton, Ala.

"Court Feud May Cause House Probe." If you don't object, your honor.—Eagle, Milton, Ore.

Spring Floods Hurt Wildlife

Information reaching the Division of Conservation headquarters this week from all sections of Ohio indicates that the recent heavy rains have seriously damaged the spring crop of wildlife and have critically affected the otherwise favorable prospects for unusually good hunting this fall.

According to Hardin County Game Protector Frank Rampe, the high water has destroyed thousands of young pheasants in the marshes of that county, which has heretofore been a nesting haven responsible for Hardin County's unusual crops of pheasants. He stated that damage has been extreme not only to the thousands of newly hatched birds but to many unhatched eggs chilled or washed away. Rampe said he evidenced blackbirds hanging in lower branches of trees drowned on their roosts.

Chief of the Division's Fish Management Section, E. L. Wickliff, stated this week that the water damage is not alone confined to a critical temporary setback in that many stream dams have been damaged and in some cases washed out entirely by swift waters. Too, the late spawning due to a late spring has suffered difficulty through chilling waters and heavy washing.

Friends of Mrs. William Spangler are sorry to hear of her illness. They all hope she will soon be enjoying the best of health.

This elderly gentleman and his kindly-faced wife have come to the House of God for spiritual strength and comfort. The care or sorrow or need which brought them there is not important. It is important that the experiences of a lifetime have taught them that God is their refuge and their strength.

The beauty of faith and of years of right living shines in their faces, and from this devout worship they will go forth stronger in spirit. For they that wait upon the Lord shall renew their strength.

But faith is not the exclusive possession of age, nor is spiritual wisdom contingent upon the experiences of a long life. From childhood to the grave, man may find hope and comfort and peace in God. For faith banishes fear, overcomes difficulties and imports new life to the faithful.

As human life grows more complex and dangerous, men need religion more than ever before. In the presence of vast powers hitherto unknown, they stand awed and many feel frustrated and helpless. Human problems lie heavy upon their spirits. But God is a Rock of Refuge and Pillar of Strength to those who trust Him.

Local Leagues Hold Meetings

It's only a matter of days now until the Hilltop Recreation Alleys will be resounding with the noise of league play as the date for official opening of the league draws near.

The league would normally open on Tuesday after Labor Day but due to the Christmas and New Year holidays the league is rolling on those nights will start bowling on the Tuesday and Wednesday preceding Labor Day. There will be 10 regular leagues operating at the local alleys. One new league moves to the Hilltop this year. It is the K. of C. League, which replaces Jaegers.

Operating on Monday nights will be Commercial and Recreation. Tuesday night sees the Pastime Ladies League and the Tuesday Nighters. Wednesday it's the Friendship Ladies and Suburban. Thursday is Hilltop Ladies and Business Men. Friday night is for the Friday Nighters and the K. of C.

The Recreation League will again have the top flight bowlers. A team average of 900 is permitted.

The league meetings are now being held in the process of setting the league for the opening of the season.

During the summer the alleys have been resurfaced and all of the interior repainted in buff and brown. Bill Wolfe will again operate the local bowling center, with the assistance of Fred and Tom Wolfe.

Prices have been increased slightly with open bowling now at 30c per line and league rates at three for 95c. Open bowling will be permitted afternoons, Saturday and Sunday.

Schlosser Is New Coach At Mifflin High

Paul Schlosser, former West High athlete in all sports, will be the head coach at Mifflin High School this fall, it was revealed this week.

Schlosser was recently discharged from the Army and has been working for the City Recreation Department. He starred in all sports while a student at West and was selected as all-high in football.

Later at Findlay College he captained the baseball team during his senior year, graduating in '42. The team that year won the Ohio Conference title. He also participated in other collegiate sports. He graduated from West in '38.

First Football Practice Is Called At West On Tuesday

The first practice session of the 1946 football season will be held at West High School Tuesday evening at 6 o'clock. Mack Pemberton, new Cowboy coach, announced this week. A light workout will be held in the first stages of conditioning the squad.

No equipment will be issued during the first few days of practice. Workouts will soon be stepped up to a two-day schedule in preparation for the opening game against Springfield on Sept. 18.

Pemberton is in Toledo this week attending the coaches' clinic being conducted at Waite High School.

He was not sure just how the coaching duties will be divided when he left for Toledo Friday but there is a possibility that Fred Heischman, his assistant, may take over responsibility for working with the backfield while he handles the line men.

The Cowboy coach is counting heavily on the services of seven returning lettermen and eight or 10 reserve lettermen. Close to 200 boys are expected to report next Tuesday but this group will of necessity be cut down drastically within the first few days.

Hoiler Back
The return of Carl Hoiler from the armed services was welcome news to the new coach, who can well use an experienced tackle.

They Are Church Softball Champs

Theisen Is Winner In Legion Game

Paul Theisen chalked up another win in the American Legion North-West League last Wednesday when he set down Dublin to the tune of 6 to 2. Theisen is the hurler for the Arlington Motors nine.

Other games saw Medick Fords trouncing Worthington 12 to 1 and Green Cabs beat Hilliard 8 to 6. Franklin Post defeated Dublin 11 to 8 Sunday afternoon, while Medick Fords blanked Hilliard 4 to 0. These were the only Sunday games played because many of the Green Cabs and Arlington boys were in Chicago watching their teammate, Jack Thrush, play on the All-American East team.

The standings of the teams at this time are as follows:

H. B. Young

H. B. Young, 34 E. Harris-av. is head of all athletic activities at Glenwood Methodist Church. Needless to say he had a keen interest in the championship football team that won the West Church League crown.

Jack Thrush Home From All-American Baseball Game

Jack Thrush was back home again this week following the biggest thrill of his athletic career — the All-American Boys' baseball game in Chicago's Wrigley Field Saturday.

Lacking his usual drive at the plate, Jack, who hitless for the afternoon but did figure in some of the most exciting plays of the game. The West High athlete went to second on a bad throw after laying down a bunt on the third base line but was later tagged out when he attempted to score the tying run. The East team, on which he played, lost by a score of 10 to 4.

Of the 33 players to participate in the game Thrush was one of the seven to play the entire contest. At third base he accepted three of four chances and momentarily muffed a spinning bouncer from the bat of a left hander.

His parents, Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Thrush, 2885 Sullivant-av. his brother and several teammates from the Hilltop watched the big game.

Duck and Crow Callers Compete

On Annie Oakley Day, Sept. 18, held in conjunction with the first international outdoor writers' sport show at the Montgomery County Fairgrounds, Dayton, sportsmen from all parts of Ohio will compete for prizes and honors in the art of imitating the calls of the duck and the crow.

The first Annie Oakley day was held in 1945 and attracted more than 33,000 people. This year the event, which pays tribute to Darkie County's internationally famous rifle-shooting Annie Oakley, will be a one-day feature of the outdoor writers' sport show to be held Sept. 12, 13, 14 and 15. The four-day show will be packed with outdoor events, everything from a Pony Express race to a coon chase—to thrill and delight every lover of the outdoors.

Charles E. Gillham, general manager of Outdoor Writers Projects, Inc., a non-profit corporation created to foster conservation and improvements of soil, water, forests and wild life on a national scale, is in charge of the show.

Only one person in 20 has sufficient savings to pay for two weeks' hospitalization.

A Milestone At The Record

That long awaited day has arrived for the folks at the Hilltop Record. Our new offices are finally completed and we're taking this opportunity to invite you in to see us.

We're indeed proud of our new layout. It should indeed be a pleasure to work under these improved conditions.

Back some years ago when we moved to the old brick building in the alley we thought we had a world of space and we made the most of it. But continued growth of the business crowded us more and more until we had as high as eight people working in an office space about one fifth the size of our new offices.

Likewise our shop was crowded and we often spent much valuable time looking for something that had been lost in the shuffle just because there was not a place for it.

Now, with the enlarged space we pledge again, at this milestone in the Record's thirtieth year, that we will take advantage of these new facilities to give our community one of the finest papers possible.

Anyone who has done any building these days knows whereof I speak when I say that building today is not a pleasant thing by any means. Shortages, substitutes, delays, high prices, etc., make for unpleasant many times.

However, there has been a minimum of any such troubles in the construction of this building. My heartiest thanks go to Contractor Henry Justus and Architect George Stegmiller for their fine cooperation in not only giving us a new building but also in speeding up the project wherever possible.

And a word of thanks to all the Record employees for their indulgence in the change-over and their help in moving and cleaning up. Their loyalty has been one of the big contributing factors in bringing the paper to its present position.

All in all, we are happy to be in our new quarters, so drop in and see us soon.

"Courtesy To Customer Campaign" Is Planned

Prosecutor's Ruling Favors Petitioners

Franklin Trustees Can Call Election Prosecutor Rules

Franklin Township Trustees seemed to have lost the first round in the controversy over who should set the date for a special election to determine whether or not the Village of Camp Chase should be incorporated.

A ruling handed down by County Prosecutor Ralph J. Bartlett last Friday favored the sponsors of the petition seeking the incorporation of the village. The ruling was based on the fact that the trustees had been asked by the petitioners to call an election and that the trustees had refused to do so.

The prosecutor's letter, dated Aug. 16, and addressed to the Franklin Township Trustees stated in part:

"It is accordingly the opinion of this office that the case of Scrivens vs. Paul, Recorder, decided by the Court of Appeals of Cuyahoga County in 1914 should be followed in the absence of a decision by the Supreme Court of Ohio, and that your Board of Trustees has jurisdiction to make the order in question notwithstanding that the territory is both platted and unplatted."

The trustees had taken the stand that since both platted and unplatted land was involved they were not within their rights to set a date for the special election sought by sponsors of the petition first introduced in June.

To the trustees' board said that so far as he knew there would be no meeting of the group until the regular time on Sept. 3.

David E. Morgan, of the law firm of Morgan, Lombardo and Morgan, counsel for the sponsors of the petition, said he had made an effort to contact trustee members to find out how soon the date for an election would be set. He threatened a mandamus action if the group did not set an election date.

Sponsors of the petition that was signed by 48 persons living in the Camp Chase area, including Ed Lantz, 335 S. Derr-rd., and Dennis McDaniel, 418 Derr-rd., said the area proposed for incorporation would include all territory bounded by a line running 1500 feet south of Sullivan-av. north to the Pennsylvania Railroad tracks, east to Wilson-av., and south on Wilson and Derr-rds, to Sullivan.

Textbooks To Be Issued At West

Junior High Textbooks Will Be Issued At The Same Time As The Junior High Book Room

Textbooks for the fall term at West High School will be issued on Saturday, Aug. 31, from 9 to 11 a. m. and from 1 to 3 p. m. On Monday (Labor Day) they will be issued from 9 to 11 a. m.

Junior High textbooks will be issued at the same time as the junior high book room. Harold Washburn points out that it is important that books be gotten during the times stated above to avoid long delay after school starts on Sept. 3. If it is impossible for any student to be present himself, arrangements can be made with a friend to get the books for him.

Teachers Are Named For Fall Semester

Edgar W. House, former principal of West Junior and Starling High Schools, has been named principal of Indianapolis Junior High. It was announced following a meeting of the Columbus Board of Education Tuesday. House is a veteran of several years in the Navy and has been heading the school's veterans' program since his return to civilian life last fall.

Highland Avenue School will have a new principal this year. He is Mylin Ross, likewise a veteran, who filled in as acting principal last year.

Marjorie Elliott was out due to illness. Ross also served as principal of Franklin last year.

Other changes in teaching personnel involving local schools brings W. W. Barlow to Dana Avenue to take up the work of Miss Dorothy King who has resigned as principal there.

Three familiar faces will be missing from the staff of West High School this year as the announcement of the retirement list is made. Mrs. Margaret Flynn, teacher of mathematics, leaves after 10 years of service. Mrs. Margaret Flynn, English and history instructor since 1927, and Norma McCoy, English and German teacher since 1927 but on leave of absence for several years.

Also retiring this fall is A. E. Foster, Starling Junior science teacher since 1923.

Request For Lights Are Being Studied

Completed at the intersection of Burgess and Broad, and Boys and Broad and the results are being studied by City Hall as a result of inquiries for traffic lights at these two points.

Both requests will be taken up at the first September meeting of the Traffic Commission. The action will be taken before that time.

Safety Director C. C. Cole indicated this week that he felt that a light might be used to good advantage at the Boys intersection but questioned the advisability of installing a light at the Burgess corner.

"Lights do not in themselves prevent accidents," he explained. "Some of the worst traffic hazards are at intersections where lights are installed."

"At the present time there is a shortage of light controls," he said, "so it is not known just how soon a light could be put up in the Westgate section if it is approved by the commission."

Heads Committee

Head of the HBMA Business Advancement Committee Planning the "Courtesy to Customer Campaign" Is Ed Witherspoon, Owner of the Better Home Center, 2776 W. Broad-st.

Groundwork for getting the campaign into operation will be laid at the Sept. 10 meeting of the association when Ed Tharpe, president of the Ohio Fuel Gas Co. will speak on some phase of ways and means of getting and holding business in the community store.

A series of three fall meetings, with outstanding speakers, is scheduled to follow in October, November and December. A comprehensive program enlisting the cooperation of every sales person in each member organization will be followed through as the program, designed to develop better customer relations, is worked out to its conclusion.

Witherspoon Heads Committee

Responsible for drawing up the "Courtesy to Customer Campaign" is the business advancement committee of the HBMA headed by Ed Witherspoon, operator of Better Home Center, 2776 W. Broad-st.

Working with him on the committee are Jerry Watson, owner of Watson's Food Market, 3117 W. Broad-st.; F. D. Sparks, Hauntz Food Market, 2810 W. Broad-st.; Lew Rausch, Broad-Hague Hardware, 2768 W. Members of the association are enthusiastic about the possibilities of emphasizing to their sales people and to the public the "courtesy" phase of the program. It is expected that all member firms will get behind the undertaking.

A complete plan of publicity including window stickers, posters, newspapers and radio will be used to "sell" the idea to the public.

Barbara Buell Gets Call From Naples

Early Sunday morning (Columbus time) Barbara J. Buell, 2186 Sullivan-av., received a long distance call from her boy friend, Cpl. Paul E. Burdett, now stationed in Naples, Italy.

Cpl. Burdett, son of Mr. and Mrs. O. E. Burdett, 1056 Brown-rd., has been overseas almost a year and is with an infantry unit in a personnel office in Naples.

Before leaving the states he had been stationed at Camp Pickett, Va.

About three months ago Miss Buell talked with him when he was in Switzerland.

Football Practice Is Begun

120 Boys Report On Opening Day

Football practice opened officially at most of the city high schools Tuesday afternoon in preparation for the first games on Sept. 13.

At West High School Mack Pemberton, new head coach, and his assistant, Fred Heischman, met with 120 prospective grid candidates at Magly Field. This was less than the 190 who had signed up last spring at the close of school but simplified the task of weeding out those not able to keep up the pace.

Several more boys are expected to show up before the end of the week.

The squad was put through some light sprints and some calisthenics and then linemen were given a few shoulder blocks while the backs had an opportunity to do some ball handling. The practice ended up with some track work to try out the wind of some of the new boys.

Two practices a day will be started today with new recruits scheduled to report at 7 a. m. while most of the regulars and reserves will start work at 5:30 p. m.

Some equipment will be issued today and will be continued as boys demonstrate their ability to qualify for a place on one of the squads.

The new coach indicated that he will handle the backfield while Heischman will supervise the work of the linemen. After taking in the football clinic at Toledo last week, it is expected that Pemberton will stress the T-formation for use almost exclusively in the coming season.

The Cowboys will be out to defend their position of co-champions of the city loop last year. In all probability this will be no small assignment since a scarcity of experienced boys exists at the West stronghold.

2 Locations Being Studied For Vet Units

Two Hilltop and West Side locations were being considered this week as possible sites for 120 additional temporary housing units expected to be built in the city soon.

Sullivan Avenue frontage of the Columbus State School and the playground at Central and McKinley-av. were the two sites being considered as possibilities along with another location on Sixth-av.

A special session of City Council was called Tuesday afternoon to consider the allocation of the units but their location was not considered.

A Record Want Ad Will Rent Rooms

If you have a spare room in your home you can very quickly put it to work by running an ad in the Classified Section of The Hilltop Record.

Last month Mrs. H. J. Fredendall, 394 S. Harris-av., ran a three-line ad and her telephone was kept busy with the calls received. At least 25 inquiries were received from a single insertion.

The want ads bring results quickly and at a low cost for the results obtained. Call RA. 1125 before 9 a. m. on Wednesday to place your copy.

Band Concert At Westgate Sunday

One of the best known orchestras and band leaders in Columbus, Abram Ruvinsky, and one of the best established singers, Raymond Buechner, will be the featured men in the concert to be given in Westgate Park at 8 o'clock Sunday night. The music makers will be the Federation of Musicians Band, 50 in number, who give concerts all summer long in city parks.

Ruvinsky, who is musical director of WHKC and is starting his fifth year as leader of the quartet playing regularly at the Hotel Seneca, has conducted many bands and orchestras in Columbus, including one which broadcast for some time from the Ohio Theater on Sunday mornings. He was also leader for some years of the Marion Symphony Orchestra. He has just returned from a long vacation on the Flambeau River in Wisconsin and in most enthusiastic about his Westgate concert.

The soloist, Mr. Buechner, has been one of Columbus best men singers for a decade or more.

SHE IS BRIDE OF AUGUST 2

Mr. Paul Frederick Conrad
Miss Shirley Lou Ries became the bride of Mr. Paul Frederick Conrad on Friday, Aug. 2. (Photo courtesy of the Citizen.)

On Friday, Aug. 2, Miss Shirley Lou Ries, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Ries, 54 N. Ogden-av, approached the altar of Hoge Memorial Presbyterian Church, escorted by her father, to become the bride of Mr. Paul Frederick Conrad, son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Conrad, 1824 Franklin-av, formerly of Lancaster.
The altar was decorated for the seven thirty o'clock ceremony with a background of palms and fern, piccadilly gladioli and seven branch candelabra. The Reverend A. J. Wold officiated at the ceremony.
Miss Marilyn Johnson sang "Because," "I Love You Truly," and "At Dawning" with Mrs. Fern Johnson at the organ.
The bride was attired in a white organza gown with an off the shoulder neckline. The style feature of the dress was touched of lace which appeared in the tiers of the skirt and around the neckline. The sleeves of the gown fell into points over the hands and the full folds of the skirt formed a long train. Orange blossoms held the finger-tip veil of illusion.
The bride carried a small bouquet of swansons centered with an orchid which was removed for her going away attire.
Four attendants and a flower girl preceded the bride to the altar. Miss Norma Jean Benoy, as maid of honor, wore pink net over rose taffeta with matching head band and gloves. Miss Janet Ann Walker of Cuyahoga Falls, a cousin of the bride, Miss Doris Johnson and Miss Marilyn Johnson were bridesmaids, attired in shades of azalea pink net over taffeta, with which they wore matching taffeta mitts. Little Sue Ann Conrad, niece of the bridegroom, was the flower girl.
Mr. Don Friend of Lancaster served as best man and ushers were Mr. Robert Johnson, Mr. Robert Ambuster and Mr. Marvin Saylor.
Mrs. Ries chose for the occasion an aqua suit with white accessories and an orchid corsage while Mrs. Conrad wore a powder blue suit with navy blue accessories and an orchid corsage.
At the reception held in the bride's home, following the ceremony, assisting hostesses were Miss Marjorie Robertson, Miss Marjorie Benoy, Mrs. Elwood Lee and Mrs. Robert Stephenson.
For her wedding trip to Michigan and Canada the bride changed to a black wool jersey suit trimmed with pink, and pinned a pink orchid to her shoulder.
The former Miss Ries graduated from West High School. Mr. Conrad, a graduate of Lancaster High School, attended Ohio State University. He was recently discharged from the Army Engineers and is now associated with the Union Co. The couple will be at home at 54 N. Ogden-av.
Among the out-of-town guests present at the wedding was the bride's grandmother, Mrs. Charles Ries and Mr. Dwight Ries, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Walker and son Edward, all of Cuyahoga Falls, and Mrs. Don Friend of Lancaster.
Miss Benoy and Miss Doris Johnson honored the former Miss Ries with a miscellaneous shower on July 24 at the home of Miss Benoy, 117 N. Ogden-av.
A kitchen shower was given at the home of the bride's cousins, Miss Eda Dellembach and Mrs. Bryan Coviner, on July 17.
A tea was given Sunday, July 28, by the bride's mother in honor of the bride and her attendants.

Social and Dance To Be Saturday

The Rea-Bow Improvement Association, Inc., is sponsoring these dances every Saturday night. An ice cream social and dance will be held Saturday, Aug. 24.

Tuesday night was Whitehorn night at the regular meeting of the Rea-Bow Improvement Association, Inc. Residents of Whitehorn-av. were guests of the association, and prizes were given them.

Next meeting night the residents of Midland-av. whether members or not are invited to be special guests of the association.

Some of the trophies to be awarded at the Fire-Fighters' Western Show to be put on at the Fair Grounds on Labor Day are being viewed by persons interested in the affair.

Arrangements are complete for the Fire-Fighters' Western Horse Show, to be held in cooperation with the Ohio Western Horse Association, at Ohio State Fair Grounds, 1 p. m., Labor Day, Sept. 2.

According to Leo Wilcox, president of the Ohio Western Horse Association, Ohio horse fanciers are showing greater interest in the Columbus show than in any previous western horse show ever held in Ohio.

Special "western horse" trophies have been secured for the winners of the various events. This is in addition to the ribbon awards and cash prizes which will total more than one thousand dollars.

The winner of the pony race for children under 14 years of age and their ponies, will be presented with a $50 pony saddle by the Montgomery Ward Company.

The show will bring to Columbus about 300 highly trained western horses, the largest group ever assembled for any Ohio horse show. Captain Harry Caldwell, the event of rain on Labor Day, the horse show will be held in the Coliseum.

Agulla Aerie Adopts Resolution Seeking Pension Law Changes

Calling on Governor Frank J. Lausche to include in the business of the special session of the Ohio General Assembly starting August 20, the matter of making some changes in the Ohio Old Age Pension law, members of Agulla Aerie, No. 2208 F.O.E., adopted a resolution at their meeting in the Eagles Home last night.

The resolution requests that the Legislature consider suggestions made during the last several years by the Ohio State Aerie, F.O.E., to improve the law, according to President V. Conrad of the local Aerie.

Two suggestions for changes were advanced in the resolution. First, that the Division of Aid for the Aged be removed from the State Welfare Department, and that it be established as a separate department under control of a non-partisan Board or Commission. This change, according to the resolution, would remove any suspicion of politics from the administration of the Aid for the Aged law.

Active Program of Scout Work Is Conducted on Hilltop and West Side Sections

By Mel Griggs
Post Advisor of Explorer Post 212
Hilltop Scouts have contributed much towards the welfare of their community this year. Aside from the individual "Good Turn for the Day" and the yearly service to their church and school, our Scouts, Senior Scouts and Cub Scouts have given their service to many community and city projects, some of which are: March of Dimes collection in all tiesters; paper collection; scrap collection; cancer clinic fund collection at ball games and circus; old clothing collection; ushering service at Ohio State football games; conducting a parade for the Gold Star mothers; and sending tons of Scout uniforms and equipment to needy Scouts in Europe. Hilltop Scouts will serve as ushers, guides and messengers at the first post war Ohio State Fair, Aug. 24-30.

Gil Bolin is Executive Under the able leadership of Scout Executive Gil Bolin and District Commissioner Jack Sennebrenner, 140 Scout and Cub leaders have mobilized 822 Scouts, 217 Cub Scouts and 32 Senior Scouts to serve the community. The eight week camping season at Camp Lazarus was attended by a total of 18 Hilltop Scout troops, consisting of 180 boys and 14 Scoutmasters. Hilltop boys at Camp Lazarus Court of Honor captured one Eagle Scout award, two Life Scout Awards, 14 First Class Scout awards, 17 Second Class Scout awards and 18 Merit Scout awards, making a total of 55.

The next Court of Honor will be held at the State Office Building Oct. 9, at 7:30 p. m. The public is invited to witness this impressive ceremony.

The yearly fall camporee, under the direction of Fred Gaugel, will be held at Camp Clime, Sept. 14 and 15. The program consists of Scoutcraft and First Aid contests operated in patrols of four to eight boys. Approximately 500 Scouts are expected to set up tent camps on the grounds Saturday afternoon, Sept. 14, and their parents are invited for the Sunday activities.

Week-end Camping Offered
Week-end winter camping at Camp Lazarus will be offered to the Scouts again this winter. The first period will be Jan. 11 and 12.

An indoor camporee is being planned for part of the Scout Week activities in February, 1947. Location and date of this new event will be announced later by the Scout Week Committee, Mel Griggs, C. O. Rawlings and Huber Coontz.

The Hocking Valley Senior Scout Camp is reported to be the finest Scout Camp ever offered to any group of boys. It is located in the Hocking Hills, one mile east of South Bloomingville, and is next to the Hocking Valley State Forest. Forty acres of pine timberland surround a furnished three-room chestnut log cabin, complete with gas refrigerator and gas range. This camp is for Senior Scouts only in the Central Ohio Council. Explorer Post 1 visited the camp Aug. 7-14.

Listed below are all Scout troops, Cub Packs and Senior units, the location and name of the leader, in the Hilltop district. Those who wish to organize a troop, pack or post should call Gil Bolin at A.D. 9119, Scout Headquarters.

Slager Shines In All-Ohio Grid Classic

Dick Slager, ex-West High athlete, claimed the attention of a good share of the 14,000 coaches and fans who turned out in Toledo Friday night to see the Frank Leahy coached southern "Rebels" defeat the "Yankees" from the North to the tune of 26 to 21 in the first all-Ohio gridiron classic held in conjunction with the coaches football clinic.

Slager completed one touchdown pass and several others for good gain throughout the game and had two or three well placed tosses dropped on the receiving end. He played the quarterback position and was in the game all but two minutes of the second quarter when his side had run up

19 to 0 lead. In the opinion of Mack Pemberton, new head football coach at West, "Dick was pretty much the ball team. He threw the ball well and did a good job of running the team throughout."

Used T-Formation
The south 11 used the T-formation throughout the game, while the north squad, coached by Paul Bixler, new OSU football mentor, used both the T and the single wing formations.

More than 250 coaches from Ohio and many other states attended the one-week clinic conducted at the Toledo Waite High School. At least 120 of the coaches were from out of the state. The two football squads, made up from outstanding high school stars of last year, were used to demonstrate various phases of the game in the clinic. The football game Friday night climaxed the week of coaching instruction.

Todd, Mawhirt Win Publinks

Harold Todd and Ernie Mawhirt teamed up to win the Columbus Publinks Association-sponsored amateur-amateur at Beacon Light Sunday.

It required a birdie two on the twenty-first hole in the playoff for the Class A-A title for which they tied with Paul Tulga and Floyd DeLong with 70 apiece. The honors in the Class B-B went to Larry Gibbs and Howard Donahue with 72, while Bob Hutchison and John Palmer took the Class C-C with a 79.

Dick Ryan turned in a 71, one under par, at Indian Springs Sunday.

West High Athletes Enlist In Marines

Football Leagues To Form Tonight

An invitation to all persons interested in the formation of the Columbus Bantamweight, Middleweight and Heavyweight Football Leagues has been extended by Walter Gerber at the City Recreation Department. The meeting will be held tonight at 7:30 o'clock at City Hall.

Children's Matinee At Westmont Saturday

Children get special recognition at a matinee performance set for the Westmont Theater on Saturday afternoon. The whole show, two hours in length, will be composed of the shorter type of cartoon comedies.

The box office will be opened at 1:30 p. m. and the performance will start as soon as the theater is filled. This won't be long, the theater management predicts. All seats are priced at 25 cents for this special event.

The comedies to be seen will include such popular characters as Donald Duck, Goofy, and Bugs Bunny, the Terrytoons, the Walter Wantz cartoons and Merry Melodics.

Boat Races Set For Sunday

The National Outboard Boat Races will be held at Griggs Dam on Sunday, Aug. 23, with most of the nationally known drivers participating in this outstanding race. The Scioto Boat Club is responsible for planning the event. Proceeds will be turned over to the Junior Police for uniforms, recreation and educational purposes.

Several Hilltop men are actively connected with making plans for the affair. They include Capt. C. M. Berry, 401 Midland-av., Patrolman Bernard Shoaf, 753 Sullivan-av. and E. E. James, 55 S. Warren-av. for the boat club.

Congrats Extended By Esther Weakley

I would like to offer my sincere congratulations to Mr. C. C. Hartley, Mr. Paul Wichterman, Mr. Joseph Agee and other staff members of The Hilltop Record on their latest achievement, their fine new home. It, like other Record projects, is a distinct asset to the Hilltop.

For the past ten years I have been associated with The Record and now is as good a time as any to try to express my gratitude for the kindness and courtesy shown me. I am humbly proud to be identified even in such a small way, with The Hilltop Record.

Have forgotten who said this, but "May the call of 30 never be sounded" for The Record.

Esther Weakley,
Poetry Editor.

Arlington Motors Clinch Pennant In Legion Loop

Arlington Motors clinched the pennant in the second round of the American Legion North-West League at Westgate Park Sunday by holding Green Cabs to a scoreless tie. The game was played after the Sunday Afternoon League game and was called at the end of the ninth because of darkness.

Jack Thrush gave up only one hit, a single by Laemle in the first inning. Theisen reached first on an error in the sixth. They were the only Arlington men to reach first as Thrush struck out 12.

Paul Theisen walked one, fanned 11, and gave up four hits for the Motors, thus protecting his undefeated record in Legion play this season. He chalked up 11 wins and the tie game.

Green Cabs finished second with one defeat, that to Medick Fords.

In a double header at the Columbus State School Sunday the School split a double header winning the first game 2 to 0 and losing the second to Beasley Grove 6 to 1. In the first game against Courtright A. C. Mark Stephens, Jr., hurled a no-hitter, fanning 15 men. Only three reached first via the base on balls route. Starling Huti was the catcher. The game went nine innings.

Keeping Up With The Times

Today's 48-page edition of The Hilltop Record announces the opening of the new Record Building with offices at 2465 W. Broad-st. In modesty we believe it is as fine and modern a weekly newspaper plant as there is in the State of Ohio.

We of the Record staff are justifiably proud of our new working quarters. The modern glass front, the spacious newly furnished offices, corrugated glass and fluorescent lights are a bit confusing to all of us yet but already the improvement in working conditions is being noticed on every hand.

It is a big job to move a printing plant as Publisher Hartley and some of the boys who did the heavy work can testify but now that it's done we're sure it will lighten the load in many ways.

Much as we may gain personal satisfaction from having a more presentable and more convenient place in which to work, the greatest satisfaction comes in knowing that the Record will be in a better position to provide for the needs of a growing Hilltop. Few business firms find it practicable to remain at status quo over a period of years. The average firm finds it necessary to modernize or expand every 10 or 15 years in order to keep pace with changes and improvements in the trade. If these changes are not made there is danger of lagging behind the times and as a consequence losing business to a competitor who has more to offer in the way of service to his trade.

The Record has met the needs of dozens of Hilltop and West Side clubs and organizations by providing a vehicle for keeping their own members and the public at large informed on what they are doing. In so doing, it has proved an interesting source of information that thousands of persons look forward to receiving each Thursday morning. We're proud to have a part in making this possible because it's the thing we most enjoy doing.

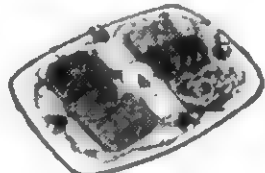

We extend a cordial invitation to one and all to come in and see the new offices and plant in which your Hilltop Record is produced. Come on Friday or Saturday of this week if you can. If that is not possible stop in any time and ask to see the new facilities.

May we take this opportunity to pledge our fullest cooperation to the community and every resident who lives herein. We'll make every effort to provide a "friendly" newspaper service to a growing "friendly" section of Columbus.

Greenfield Times Also In Modern Plant

Above is the office of The Daily Times at Greenfield, Ohio, sister paper of The Hilltop Record, published by C. Carlton Hartley. The paper is managed by E. F. Hartley, father of the Times and Record publisher, who learned the newspaper business under his son while the latter was located in Greenfield from 1932 to 1935.

Aquila Aerie of Eagles Had Start In 1936; Lodge Now Near 800 Members

The following history of the Fraternal Order of Eagles, 2354 W. Broad-st., was prepared for The Hilltop Record by Harold L. Walster, secretary of the organization.

Aquila Aerie No. 2209 of the Fraternal Order of Eagles, sometimes known as the "Hilltop Eagles," was formally instituted on Jan. 12, 1936, with Charles Snyder as its first past worthy president and Charles Hughes, Sr., as worthy president. When the charter was closed on the day of the institution of the Aerie, 149 West Side and Hilltop men were accepted as the charter members, many of whom are still active in the fraternity.

One of the first problems of this newly organized fraternity was to secure a proper meeting hall. The first meetings were held in the basement of Brother Snyder's home and when this proved to be inadequate, meetings were held in the rear of Pat's Barber Shop. Finally, after much effort, accompanied by financial successes, sufficient funds were raised to secure a home large enough to accommodate the fast growing membership of this fraternity, and in 1938 the old Powell homestead on W. Broad-st. at Powell-av. became the first permanent home of the Aerie.

In the ensuing years the Aerie continued to grow and in 1940 it was necessary to expand into larger quarters, with the result that the Aerie Home was moved to 2356 W. Broad-st., where the Aerie now possesses one of the finest meeting halls on this side of Columbus town.

Since its inception, Aquila Aerie has been outstanding in its fraternal work not only in its own 12th District, but has received recognition on a national scale, and in 1945 under the leadership of the then worthy president, William F. Jones, it was the winner of the district membership trophy and was voted one of the 10 outstanding Aeries in the national activity.

In addition, Aquila boasts the Class B Aerie in the state of Ohio, and are frequently called upon to exemplify the ritual in other Aeries throughout the jurisdiction.

In the past 10 years Aquila Aerie has produced many prominent leaders who in their span of activity did much to bring the Aerie to its present position, and we regret that there is not sufficient space to mention even a few of them in this brief history.

At this writing, Brother Virgil Conrad is the worthy president, charge.

and the membership is fast approaching the 800 mark. Possessing a fine meeting hall, just newly decorated, a growing membership, and in a sound financial position, this fraternity should continue to grow and add its bit to the success of the community with which it proudly identifies itself—"Hilltop, Ohio."

Baptismal Service Held At Camo
By Dorthea Lorhin
On July 25 at 6 o'clock in the evening on camp Ya-Hio picnic grounds, 17 of Brown Road Church people were fully baptized by immersion in the creek. The speaker will be Rev. Raymond Bailey of First Baptist Church. In case of rain, the service will be held at Hillcrest Church.

Six couples of man and wife were baptized. They were: Mr. and Mrs. Charles Fennell, Mr. and Mrs. Winifred Pennington, Mr. and Mrs. DeWitt Pennington, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Lorhin, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph McNichols, Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Kytle.

Others were Donna Spanable, Vivian Wells, Sylvia McNichols, Billie Watson and Mr. Bryant. It was a most sacred hour and the setting for the scene was perfect. The singing and prayers going out over the waters as nature, dia her best to make Heaven seem nearer with a few clouds floating far above, and the sun sinking low in the west, cast her rays through the branches of the towering trees in the background as white robed candidates waded their way slowly and solemnly out far into the water, then suddenly down under and up again drenched from head to toe.

As they step slowly back to shore the tall stately trees extend their long willowy arms like loving arms reaching out to receive them, saying, "Come home," and the airplanes above going so and fro like large birds of prey seeking their food as the fast moving current far out in the stream goes hurrying on to spread the good news.

God must have been pleased.

Kent's Modern Market

Sullivant at Hague Ave. RA. 0818

There's a lot of things you can do in this world, and maybe want to do, but they're not right. It's a mighty good idea to pass these up and stick to the right things. The whole history of the human race teaches this—that it pays to do right, and that you pay a penalty when you do wrong.

A lot of people do wrong things, and seem to get by with it for a while; but sooner or later they find that it's done them a lot of harm. People who stick to right things win the respect and confidence of others, and better still, they have a fine, clean conscience.

You know, son, your mom and I believe in a supreme being who runs this whole universe—God. And you'll always find God on the side of right. That's why we are bringing you up in the Church and Sunday School, so you'll get to know God better and value the right things.

We're hoping you'll turn out to be a fine, strong man, who thinks right and lives right and has the courage to stand for right principles.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend and support the church of his choice. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church on Sunday.

RECORD 'OPEN HOUSE' FRIDAY, SATURDAY

MANAGER

Joe Agee

Joe Agee, Rt. 1, Powell, Ohio, (formerly of 262 S. Harris-av) has been with the Record as manager since May of 1944. He got his first experience on the paper as a linotype operator in 1936 and 1937, later working in Greenfield and Lancaster. He is one of the charter members of the Hilltop Kiwanis Club.

Agee was employed at the Remington Arms Co. near Cincinnati during the early part of the war. He was in the standards engineering department of the small arms division. Just prior to coming to the Record he was on the staff of the Cincinnati Times Star.

PUBLISHER

C. Carlton Hartley

C. Carlton Hartley, 124 S. Brinker-av, publisher of the Hilltop Record since 1936, has been associated with the paper in varying capacities for the past 20 years.

He started in as a reporter on a part time basis while a student at Ohio State University in 1926, getting his first taste for his service in the paper. He bought the Greenfield Times, a weekly newspaper, and was in Greenfield most of the time until 1936. During that time he changed it into a daily.

In January of 1936 he bought the Record and has been actively engaged in its management since that time except for two years spent in the Navy during the war.

This is the second time he has seen the paper expand into larger quarters during the past 20 years.

EDITOR

Paul Wichterman

Paul Wichterman, 1640 Weaver-av, returned to the Record as editor in January of this year. He formerly spent six years in the paper before taking over the Fayette Times in Washington, C. H. During the war he worked as a writer and editor in the Technical Data Section of the Air Service Command at Wright Field.

Wichterman graduated from the School of Journalism, West Virginia University, in 1932. Prior to returning to the Record, he was a technical writer in the service engineering department of Surface Combustion Corp., 400 Dublin-av. In that capacity he wrote service manuals on aircraft heaters and the company's line of gas-fired heating equipment.

Public Invited To Inspect New Building and Plant

Founder Of Record Is Still Active

S. J. Westlake, founder of The Hilltop Record in April, 1917, told a Record reporter on the occasion of his retirement from the printing business after 60 years that, "It isn't easy to leave a life's work."

Little did he realize the full import of that statement, for after less than a year in retirement he returned to his trade and has added five more years to his record in the trade. Today, he's looking forward to putting in 70 years before he hangs up his "stick."

Mr. Westlake will start his eightieth year of life on Saturday, Aug. 24. He will celebrate his 79th birthday by paying a visit to the new Hilltop Record building during the formal opening.

At his present job with the Columbus Pharmacy Co. he works every day hard setting, for the most part, six point type (considerably smaller type than the face in which this story is printed). He started in the trade as a boy back in 1881, years before such a thing as a typesetting machine was ever heard of.

With initial capital of $10, he got out the first edition of The Hilltop Record on Apr. 27, 1917. A four-column, four-page affair, it was printed on the fourth floor of the Wesley Block, 101 N. High-st. At that time there were seven printing firms in the building.

On June 1 of that year Westlake moved his shop to 2354 1/2 W. Broad-st, over what was then Prior's Hardware Store (now the rooms occupied by the Eagles Lodge). The paper was printed on a 10 by 15 inch Chandler-Price printing press which printed only one page at a time. It was thus necessary to hand fold and run the paper through the press four times to get a complete edition.

A little later a 14 by 20 inch press was purchased and the paper enlarged to six columns. This still required four press runs per page however, so finally a Babcock cylinder press was purchased, which printed two pages at a time, thus cutting down the press work by one-half.

After dissolving the partnership with R. D. Hastings in 1928, he continued to operate his own print shop in the rear of 2354 1/2 W. Broad-st, until he attempted to retire in 1940.

"That loafing is not for me," he reflects, in looking back on that one year he spent trying to retire from active work.

Mr. Westlake lives at 1111 Kelton-av.

Friday and Saturday of this week have been set as "Open House" days at the Hilltop Record at which time the public is invited to inspect the new Record building and see the complete Record print shop.

Record employees will be on hand to greet all visitors any time from 9 a. m. until 5 p. m. Friday and again from 7 to 9 p. m. Friday. Visitors are also welcome on Saturday from 9 a. m. until 3 p. m. The office will not be open Saturday night.

Business firms, members of the Hilltop Business Men's Association, the Hilltop Kiwanis Club and a list of special guests will be issued invitations to visit the new building and see the shop in operation on next Wednesday afternoon, Aug. 28 from 3 to 6 p. m.

Increased Floor Space
Anyone who has had occasion to visit the Hilltop Record in recent years could see the need of much larger quarters for the operation of the paper. Today the Record quarters have been increased to more than double the former space which should facilitate operations in many ways.

A complete new composing room has been added and much enlarged quarters have been provided for the job printing department as well as the stereotyping department.

Office space, once at a premium, has been enlarged to more than five times the previous space and complete new office equipment has been added.

Several new pieces of printing equipment are on order but have not been received as yet.

Work on the new Record building was started in January of this year. George Stegmiller is architect for the job and the general contract was let to Henry Justus.

The building, two stories high and with full basement, is one of the most modern business buildings in the city. Four apartments upstairs have been rented since announcement of the building program was made last November.

The attractive glass front on the Record office and that on the Hilltop Sporting Goods Co., next door in the same building, is among the most modern in the city.

Plenty of light, a very modern customer counter, acoustical tile ceiling that reduces the noise, tile floors, glass partitions and a glass enclosed office as well as individual office spaces feature the new Record office.

Classified Ads Tell Pulling Power Of The Hilltop Record

One of the best ways to judge the pulling power of a newspaper is to survey its classified advertising section. If it has a large list of want ads in this department you can depend upon it that the paper really has pulling power.

This year the Record enjoys the largest classified section it has ever contained. Each week nearly two full pages of more than 350 individual want ads are carried.

In recent years more and more local residents have taken advantage of the service offered in this department. This is especially true since classified ads are taken over the phone.

Deadline for receipt of ad copy is 9 a. m. on Wednesdays.

Special contract rates are available to advertisers who will use the paper each week in the year. Such rates may be had on application at the Record office.

Record Lauded In Annual Ohio Newspaper Show

Excerpts from the review made by one of the judges of the Hooper Newspaper Show sponsored by the Ohio Newspaper Association are quite complimentary to The Hilltop Record.

Said the judge: "The Columbus Hilltop Record is a good example of what an excellent 'neighbor' a well-edited, community-conscious 'neighborhood' newspaper can be."

"All through this interesting and attractive paper, there is evidence that the welfare of the area it serves is uppermost in the minds of the editor and publisher and for this reason it must enjoy considerable confidence on the part of its readers."

The Record, although not a winner in the show held last February, received honorable mention for its advertising typography and layout.

In 1936 The Hilltop Record Historical Edition was awarded first prize in the state in the special edition class.

Program Planned

The new Hilltop Record building was foreseen back at the time of the purchase of the lot on which it is built. This was in 1935. The 25th anniversary edition of the Record contained a story about the proposed plans for expansion at that time. The program was delayed due to the war.

editorial page of this Special Edition of The Record and you'll read these words:

"Where there is no vision, the people perish."

"Herein is the keynote of the new Record. The Record offers the Hilltop."

Today The Times extends the handclasp of greeting across some 54 miles of Ohio terrain to the Hilltop Record. A lot of newspaper has rolled through the presses since that October afternoon back in 1933. May it keep on rolling, with the ink ever flowing smoothly and evenly.

Henry Justus Contractor For Building

Henry Justus

General contractor on the new Record Building was Henry A. Justus, 4048 E. Livingston-av.

Other construction projects he has handled in central Ohio include the Grandview Library Addition, Columbus Depot Dispensary, Gabeaux Fire Station, Lockbourne Air Base Station and the Marion Ordnance Plant.

Justus gained considerable experience while working on a job at the St. Charles Academy.

The completion of the Hilltop Record building has been made much more complicated because of the scarcity of the modern materials adaptable to commercial construction.

Not the least of his many jobs required constant effort toward expediting of these materials and the type of labor needed to make installation.

Member Press Association

As a paid circulation newspaper, The Hilltop Record is a member of the Ohio Newspaper Association, the Buckeye Press Association and the National Editorial Association.

Mayor Rhodes Sends His Greetings

City of Columbus, Ohio
June 21, 1946
Office of the Mayor

Mr. Carlton Hartley
The Hilltop Record
2463 West Broad Street
Columbus, Ohio

Dear Carlton:
Congratulations on the 30th Anniversary of The Hilltop Record. Under your able leadership the paper has made remarkable strides and is an effective voice in the community in which it operates. The news articles, the number of pictures, the editorial policy, and the general makeup of your paper tend to make Columbus a better place to live.

As you move into your new building may the expanded facilities provide you with greater opportunities to render greater public service.

May you continue to enjoy the success that has heretofore marked your entrance into the newspaper field.

Sincerely yours,
James A. Rhodes, Mayor
City of Columbus, Ohio

Record Mailed All Over Globe To Boys During Big War

During the war The Hilltop Record had a very wide distribution all over the world. Hundreds of local families subscribed to the paper to be mailed to their sons and daughters in the service. Today the service mail has dwindled to less than 100 of the original number due to return of men to their homes. Many local people who have gone into military service, saying it is the best possible weekly letter from home.

UNION SHOP

The Hilltop Record is the only printing plant west of the Scioto River offering the union label. The Record is represented by both the Typographical and the pressmen's unions and has been operated as a union shop for more than 15 years.

Architect Stegmiller Supervisor

George J. Stegmiller

That the services of a registered architect employed as supervisor of a building program are well worth the fee paid can be attested by C. C. Hartley, publisher of The Hilltop Record.

George J. Stegmiller, registered architect, was employed by Hartley to draw plans for the new home of the Record, back before the war. When war time restrictions made further building impossible the program was halted and was later revived in the late fall of 1945 when Hartley returned from the navy and Stegmiller finished his services with the government at the Marion Ordnance Plant.

A few details in the original plans were changed in December and bids were sought. Stegmiller quickly completed detailed plans for the contractor and the building was under way in January.

R. D. Hastings Contributed To Record Growth

The man who contributed much to the development of The Hilltop Record in the days when the Hilltop was undergoing its most rapid growth, is R. D. Hastings, 88 S. Ogden-av.

Hastings was first a partner with S. J. Westlake, founder of the paper, and later owner of the firm, buying out the other interest in 1926. Several years later he joined the Columbus Dispatch where he worked as a linotype operator until his association with Westlake on the Record. At present he works regularly at the Dispatch.

MANAGER

Joe Agee

Joe Agee, Rt. 1, Powell, Ohio, (formerly of 262 S. Harris-av) has been with the Record as manager since May of 1944. He got his first experience on the paper as a linotype operator in 1936 and 1937, later working in Greenfield and Lancaster. He is one of the charter members of the Hilltop Kiwanis Club.

Agee was employed at the Remington Arms Co. near Cincinnati during the early part of the war. He was in the standards engineering department of the small arms division. Just prior to coming to the Record he was on the staff of the Cincinnati Times Star.

PUBLISHER

C. Carlton Hartley

C. Carlton Hartley, 124 S. Brinker-av, publisher of the Hilltop Record since 1936, has been associated with the paper in varying capacities for the past 20 years.

He started in as a reporter on a part time basis while a student at Ohio State University in 1926, getting 25¢ a week for his services. In 1928 he bought the Greenfield Times, a weekly newspaper, and was in Greenfield most of the time until 1936.

In January of 1936 he bought the Record and has been actively engaged in its management since that time except for two years spent in the Navy during the war.

This is the second time he has seen the paper expand into larger quarters during the past 20 years.

EDITOR

Paul Wichterman

Paul Wichterman, 1640 Reaver-av, returned to the Record as editor in January of this year. He formerly spent six years in the paper before taking over the Fayette Times in Washington C. H. During the war he worked as a writer and editor in the Technical Data Section of the Air Service Command at Wright Field.

Wichterman graduated from the School of Journalism, West Virginia University, in 1932. Prior to returning to the Record, he was a technical writer in the service engineering department of Surface Combustion Corp., 400 Dublin-av. In that capacity he wrote service manuals on aircraft heaters and the company's line of gas-fired heating equipment.

Public Invited To Inspect New Building and Plant

Founder Of Record Is Still Active

S. J. Westlake, founder of The Hilltop Record in April, 1917, told a Record reporter on the occasion of his retirement from the printing business after 60 years that, "It isn't easy to leave a life's work."

Little did he realize the full import of that statement, for after less than a year in retirement he returned to his trade and has added five more years to his record in the trade. Today, he's looking forward to putting in 70 years before he hangs up his "stick."

Mr. Westlake will start his eightieth year of life on Saturday, Aug. 24. He will celebrate his 75th birthday by paying a visit to the new Hilltop Record building during the formal opening.

At his present job with the Columbus Chemical Co. he works every day hand setting, for the most part, six point type (considerably smaller type than the face in which this story is printed). He started in the trade as a boy back in 1881, years before such a thing as a typesetting machine was ever heard of.

With initial capital of $10, he got out the first edition of The Hilltop Record on Apr. 27, 1917. A four-column, four-page affair, it was printed on the fourth floor of the Wesley Block, 101 N. High-st. At that time there were seven printing firms in the building.

On June 1 of that year Westlake moved his shop to 2354 1/2 W. Broad-st, over what was then Prior's Hardware Store (now the rooms occupied by the Eagles Lodge). The paper was printed on a 10 by 15 inch Chandler-Price printing press which printed only one page at a time. It was thus necessary to hand fold and run the paper through the press four times to get a complete edition.

A little later a 14 by 20 inch press was purchased and the paper enlarged to six columns. This still required four press runs per page however, so finally a Babcock cylinder press was purchased, which printed two pages at a time, thus cutting down the press work by one-half.

After dissolving the partnership with R. D. Hastings in 1926, he continued to operate his own print shop in the rear of 2354 1/2 W. Broad-st, until he attempted to retire in 1940.

"That loafing is not for me," he reflects, in looking back on that one year he spent trying to retire from active work.

Mr. Westlake lives at 1111 Kelton-av.

Friday and Saturday of this week have been set as "Open House" days at the Hilltop Record at which time the public is invited to inspect the new Record building and see the complete Record print shop.

Record employees will be on hand to greet all visitors any time from 9 a. m. until 5 p. m. Friday and again from 7 to 9 p. m. Friday. Visitors are also welcome on Saturday from 9 a. m. until 3 p. m. The office will not be open Saturday night.

Business firms, members of the Hilltop Business Men's Association, the Hilltop Kiwanis Club and a list of special guests will be issued invitations to visit the new building and see the shop in operation on Monday Wednesday afternoon, Aug. 28 from 3 to 6 p. m.

Increased Floor Space
Anyone who has had occasion to visit the Hilltop Record in recent years could see the need of much larger quarters for the operation of the paper. Today the Record quarters have been increased to more than double the former space which should facilitate operations in many ways.

A complete new composing room has been added and much enlarged quarters have been provided for the job printing department as well as the stereotyping department.

Office space, once at a premium, has been enlarged to more than five times the previous space and complete new office equipment has been added.

Several new pieces of printing equipment are on order but have not been received as yet.

Work on the new Record building was started in January of this year. George Stegmiller is architect for the job and the general contract was let to Henry Justus.

The building, two stories high and with full basement, is one of the most modern business buildings in the city. Four apartments upstairs have been rented since announcement of the building program was made last November.

The attractive glass front on the Record office and that on the Hilltop Sporting Goods Co., next door in the same building, is among the most modern in the city.

Plenty of light, a very modern customer counter, acoustical tile ceiling that reduces the noise, tile floors, glass partitions and a glass enclosed office as well as individual office space feature the new Record office.

Classified Ads Tell Pulling Power Of The Hilltop Record

One of the best ways to judge the pulling power of a newspaper is to survey its classified advertising section. If it has a large list of want ads in this department you can depend upon it that the paper really has pulling power.

This year the Record enjoys the largest classified section it has ever contained. Each week nearly two full pages of more than 350 individual want ads are carried.

In recent years more and more local residents have taken advantage of the service offered in this department. This is especially true since classified ads are taken over the phone.

Deadline for receipt of ad copy is 9 a. m. on Wednesdays.

Special contract rates are available to advertisers who will use the paper each week in the year. Such rates may be had on application at the Record office.

Record Lauded In Annual Ohio Newspaper Show

Excerpts from the review made by one of the judges of the Hooper Newspaper Show sponsored by the Ohio Newspaper Show are quite complimentary to the Hilltop Record.

Said the judge: "The Columbus Hilltop Record is a good example of what an excellent 'neighbor' a well-edited, community-conscious 'neighborhood' newspaper can be."

"All through this interesting and attractive paper, there is evidence that the welfare of the area it serves is uppermost in the minds of the editor and publisher and for this reason it must enjoy considerable confidence on the part of its readers."

The Record, although not a winner in the show held last February, received honorable mention for its advertising typography and layout.

In 1936 The Hilltop Record Historical Edition was awarded first prize in the state in the special edition class.

Program Planned

The new Hilltop Record building was foreseen back at the time of the purchase of the lot on which it is built. This was in 1935. The 25th anniversary edition of the Record contained a story about the proposed plans for expansion at that time. The program was delayed due to the war.

editorial page of this Special Edition of The Record and you'll read these words:

"Where there is no vision, the people perish."
Herein is the keynote of the Record. The Record offers the Hilltop.

As today The Times extends the handclasp of greeting across some 54 miles of Ohio terrain to the Hilltop Record. A lot of reprint has rolled through the presses since that October afternoon back in 1933. May it keep on rolling, with the ink ever flowing smoothly and evenly.

Henry Justus Contractor For Building

Henry Justus

General contractor on the new Record Building was Henry A. Justus, 4048 E. Livingston-av.

Other construction projects he has handled in central Ohio include the Grandview Library Addition, Columbus Depot Dispensary, Gahanna Fire Station, Lockbourne Air Base Warehouses and the Fire Station at the Marion Ordnance Plant.

Justus gained considerable experience while working on a job at the St. Charles Academy.

The completion of the Hilltop Record building has been made much more complicated because of the scarcity of the modern materials adaptable to commercial construction.

Not the least of his many jobs required constant effort toward expediting of these materials and the type of labor needed to make installation.

Member Press Association

As a paid circulation newspaper, The Hilltop Record is a member of the Ohio Newspaper Association, the Buckeye Press Association and the National Editorial Association.

As you move into your new building may the expanded facilities provide you with greater opportunities to render greater public service.

May you continue to enjoy the success that has heretofore marked your entrance into the newspaper field.

Record Mailed All Over Globe To Boys During Big War

During the war The Hilltop Record had a very wide distribution all over the world. Hundreds of local families subscribed to the paper to be mailed to their sons and daughters in the service. Today the service mail has dwindled to less than 100 of the original number due to return of men to their homes. Today numerous local people mail the Record to their sons who have gone into military service, saying it is the best possible weekly letter from home.

UNION SHOP

The Hilltop Record is the only printing plant west of the Scioto River offering the union label.

The Record is represented by both the Typographical and the pressmen's unions and has been operated as a union shop for more than 15 years.

Architect Stegmiller Supervisor

George J. Stegmiller

That the services of a registered architect employed as supervisor of a building program are well worth the fee paid can be attested by C. C. Hartley, publisher of The Hilltop Record.

George J. Stegmiller, registered architect, was employed by Hartley to draw plans for the new home of the Record back before the war. When war time restrictions made further building impossible the program was halted and was later revived in the late fall of 1945 when Hartley returned from the navy and Stegmiller finished his services with the government at the Marion Ordnance Plant.

A few details in the original plans were changed in December and bids were sought. Stegmiller quickly completed detailed plans for the contractor and the building was under way in January.

Stegmiller was graduated from Central High School and from Ohio State University College of Engineering in 1936 where he was a member of Tau Sigma Delta, honorary fraternity, and Alpha Rho Chi, social fraternity.

He opened his office for the practice of architecture in 1937. He closed his office in April, 1942.

Good Neighbors

The Record takes this opportunity to express its sincere thanks to our good neighbors for their kindnesses during the construction of our new building. We are especially grateful to John Burkett, owner of the building housing Todd's Drug Store and Machine Shop Store, and to Shank & Saunders, first door east. Both were very cooperative.

At 14 S. Oakley-av. The brick building was erected by M. W. Westlake, deceased. The business was moved there in 1926.

That same year the right-page Duplex press was installed, eliminating thousands of impressions each week over the former Babcock press that printed only two pages at a time.

WITH THE UNION LABEL

When you see a piece of printed matter which uses the union label you may not realize the significance of the little emblem... but there is a great significance attached.

It means that this printed article has been entirely composed by men who are tops in their trade, who have spent a minimum of six years in learning to do their job in a fast and accurate way which means fast, quality printing at the lowest possible cost for the purchaser.

When you pick up your daily or weekly newspaper you should find the union label prominently displayed... this means that union personnel has made it possible to hold the cost of your favorite newspaper to a negligible figure.

Whether you are buying a newspaper, magazine or printed supplies always look for the union label... it is your protection.

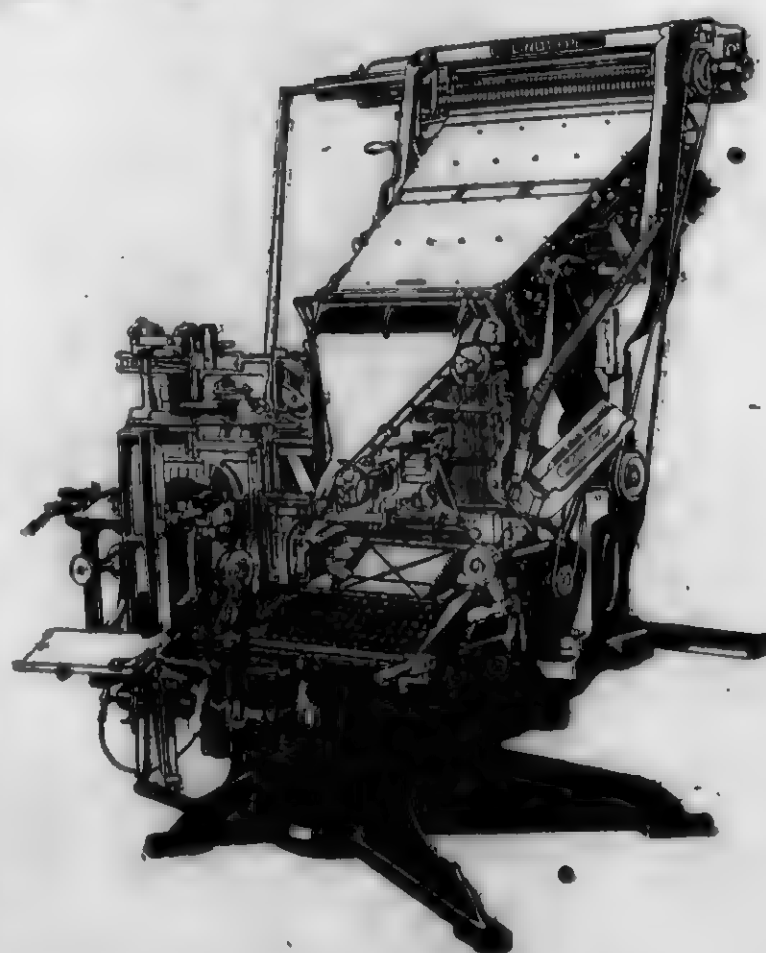

CONGRATULATIONS TO THE RECORD

The Columbus Typographical Union is happy to see The Hilltop Record in its new offices. We feel that this is a fine example of management and union personnel getting together on a friendly basis to work out their combined production prices as well as wages and working conditions. This fine community newspaper has our best wishes for a successful future.

They Help Make Record Wheels Go Round

Lee Koonitz

Lee Koonitz, 354 S. Richardson-av., Record stereotyper, is better known in entertainment circles as Jackie Lee. Under that name he has been serving as master of ceremonies, entertainer and producer of shows for more than 15 years. He joined the Record four years ago.

Henry Jones

Oldest member of the Record family, both from the standpoint of years and service, is Henry Jones, 80 Powhatan-av., pressman. He started working for the paper in 1928, shortly after the Duplex newspaper press was installed at 14 S. Oakley-av.

Richard Gormany, left, 348 S. Richardson-av., is the newest member of the Record family. A junior at West High School, he started working as a handy-man a month ago.

Richard Ardle, right, 185 S. Huron-av., a 12A student at West High School, has been working full time during the summer. He previously worked on a part time basis, evenings after school and on Saturday.

She Handles Record Accounts

Mrs. Mildred Maus

The Record bookkeeper since November of 1945 has been Mrs. Mildred Maus, 70 N. Westgate-av. She and her husband, Charles P. Maus, are active in the affairs of the Teen Age Canteen and the Hilltop Community Council.

Circulation Is Her Job

Mrs. Ellen Rose

Mrs. Ellen Rose, 236 Minne-hiwa, circulation manager of the Record, is shown at the curved counter in the new Record office. A graduate of West High School, she came to the paper in July, 1944.

Route Managers Have Part Time Jobs All Year

Eight to 10 route managers are employed by The Hilltop Record to collect renewal subscriptions and solicit new customers. These jobs are filled by boys and girls who are in school and who handle the work as a part time job, working evenings after school and on Saturdays.

Route managers operate as independent business people getting a commission on every renewal collected or new order written. They are the exclusive representative in their territory and get credit for all business done in that area.

Territories are outlined in sufficient size to keep each person busy most of his spare time and as far as possible are near the home of the route manager so that he will not have to travel too far to get into his territory.

Contests offering special cash or merchandise prizes are held at various times throughout the year.

An added incentive to make extra money. During the summer of 1946 a total of $350 was paid out in cash as prize money in addition to commissions earned by salesmen.

Any boy or girl interested in these part-time jobs is invited to come to the Record office and apply. At present there are two vacancies in the route manager setup. Applicants are asked to inquire in person rather than call on the phone.

A fountain brush for use in marking stencils has been patented. Controlled ink flow marks 500 address stencils before refilling is necessary, it is claimed. One stencil can be marked in three seconds.

Iowa State College has established a research center in Guatemala for study of crops important to mid-western agriculture. Initial efforts of the center will be on corn.

Skating Rink Planned; New Factory Built In Hilltop Building Program

Hilltop Building

By Joe Agos

The building business is very much like the last Louis-Conn fight. It isn't what it is cracked up to be. This we have gathered by talks with several Hilltop contractors.

At a time when building is needed more than any other time in history the boys who have the equipment and the know-how are usually discouraging such projects... but they have good reasons.

Residential building is the most critical, and the contractors did make an effort to push it. But material required for dwellings got so tough to find that they just naturally switched to commercial projects, upon which substitutes could be more easily used.

Available at a Price

They also found that the OPA ceiling on materials was the biggest reason for shortages and that a truck dispatched to lumber mills, along with a filled wallet could produce the goods... this could not be done to any great extent on residential projects but could more easily be absorbed in a commercial manner.

Then along came the government order limiting all building, with commercial projects needing an OK from the CPA and dwellings coming under the FHA, all of which resulted in many planned and some started projects being KO'd for the present time.

The CPA has tight rein on business buildings and the FHA is pushing 80% of the available material into GI houses or houses being built for GIs. This material is purchased only under a priority number, but this number does not bring about something that just isn't there, and again comes the same old dilemma.

Prices Hit Vets

Although the government is trying to restrict things so that the GI can have a break on his housing situation, the price of building has increased to such an extent that when a new house is being purchased through a GI loan its appraisal is so much lower than the actual cost that the loan is not applicable. Very seldom do government appraisers miss past the 60% figure on new housing sale prices... so it looks as if the GI, unless he has the dough to plunk down and forget the GI Loan, will have to be supplied rental property, which again goes back to the brave soul who is willing to take a chance on a long-term investment.

With all these hazards to be hurdled the Hilltop has fared pretty well in comparison to other parts of the country.

There has been a marked number of people who have some money to spend and who are willing to take a chance on the inflated price of real estate who have the gumption to go ahead and try to provide homes as well as business places.

Likewise the Hilltop is blessed with a group of general contractors who really get out and beat the bushes after material and labor.

Al Tontl recently finished his W. Broad-st arcade building which was a prime example of expediting materials.

Jim McLees of the McLees Construction Co. has been mostly in the repair business but is now branching more into residential building... Kent Bros. have had their headquarters in the Columbus Stationery-Westgate Hardware building out at Westgate and Broad-st... the Tontl and Tibbles houses in Westgate are being finished under extreme difficulties... not to mention several other projects in varied stages of completion.

Should Get Better

However, had the picture looks now, there is a definite feeling that "things will get better before they get worse."

Common labor is becoming plentiful, according to reports, and the skilled jobs are being filled slowly. Also, there is an expected relief due on materials with the easing of OPA price ceilings and the "back-to-the-woods movement of lumberjacks."

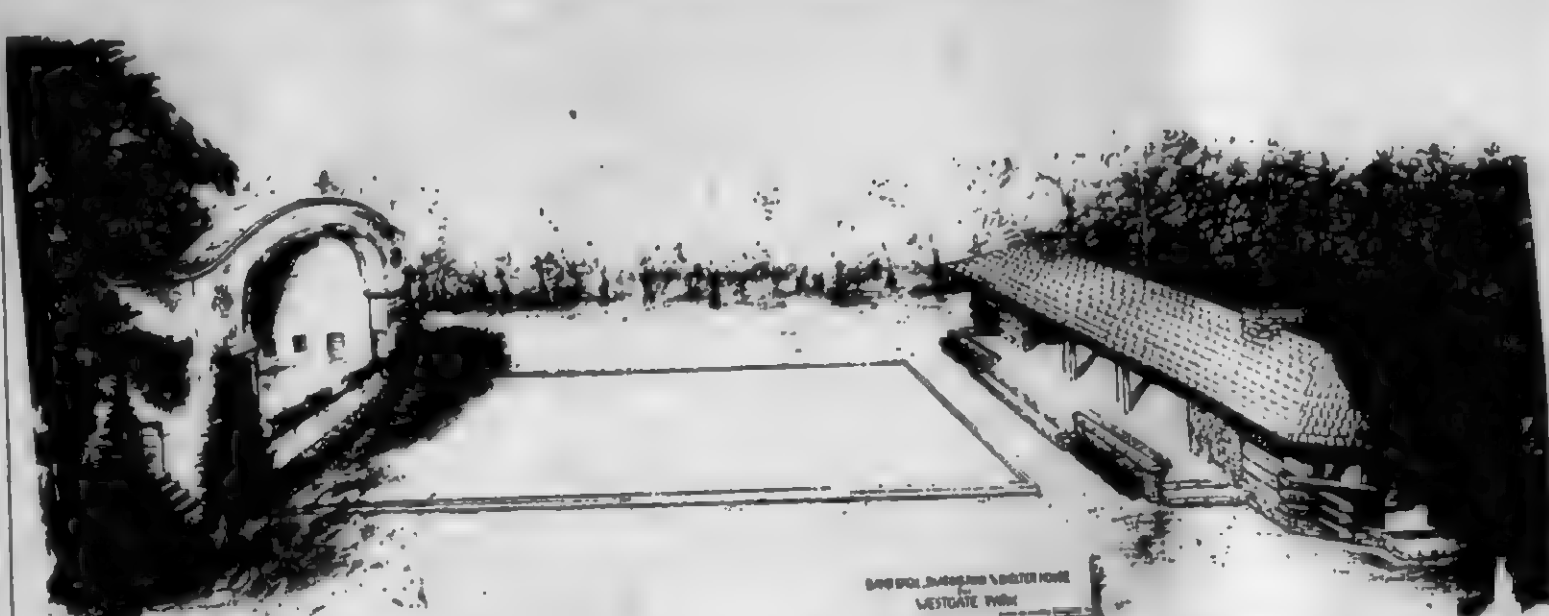

When the building game gets back to normal and the biggest worry a house planner has is getting a house designed as he pictures it, the man who went ahead with his projects in order to relieve the housing shortage during 1945-46-47 will be remembered as the man to give a break!

HILLTOP DUE FOR BIG BUILDING PROGRAM

Five Churches Plan To Build Worship Centers On Hilltop

At least five Hilltop church congregations have made plans for expanding their buildings or constructing new ones. Work has already commenced on at least one.

Contractors have completed the foundation of the Westgate Methodist Church on Brinker and Algonquin-avs, at Wicklow-rd, and the walls are beginning to go up. If the construction of the building, to be of white Columbus limestone, continues, the members will be meeting for services in the basement by late fall. At present the congregation meets in the auditorium of West High School.

Held Up by CPA

Plans have been completed for the expansion of the Hilltop Lutheran Church, at Terrace-av and W. Broad-st. However, the Washington office of the Civilian Production Administration has refused to give the go-ahead on the work until the housing shortage is eased.

Work, which was expected to have started early this spring on the first phase of the building program, is expected to cost between $80,000 and $100,000 when completed.

The initial expansion program will be the erection of a basement which will take in the entire lot back of the church. The walls will be constructed of glass and brick with a mastic tile floor.

Nazarenes To Build

The erection of a new building for the Nazarene will start some time in the near future. The structure, which will cost more than $100,000, will be of stone and will cover the space now occupied by the present parsonage and church building at the corner of S. Warren-av and Whitehead-rd. The new building will seat at least 1,000, with additional facilities for Sunday School.

Studying Plans

A committee of members of the Hoge Memorial Church, on S. Eureka-av, is studying architectural plans for a new church building which will be built on W. Broad-st, just west of Roys-av, across from the Masonic Temple.

The committee is now visiting other churches in the state, studying their structure. Sketches of the Gothic-styled building were completed last month. The approximate capacity of the building will be 700.

A financial campaign, to raise money for the new building, will start around the first of November. The church has raised nearly $30,000, $16,000 of which was spent for the site.

New Church and Rectory

As soon as building material and labor are available, work will start on a new church and rectory for the St. Mary Magdalene parish. The church building to be erected at a cost estimated at between $200,000 and $250,000 will be built on the grounds adjacent to the present church and school building.

While plans for the building, which will accommodate 800 worshippers, have not been completed, an architect has been engaged for the project. The rectory will house four priests and two visitors.

Future plans for the parish include development of a recreation center with playgrounds and a shelter house on the grounds between Roys-av and Powell-av. (Continued on Page 2D)

Second Telephone Exchange Added For Hilltoppers

Keeping pace with a growing community, the Ohio Bell Telephone Company opened a second exchange to serve Hilltop customers late in January of this year. The new Jordan exchange is housed in the Telephone Building at Ogden-av and Broad-st, along with the Randolph exchange, and at last reports was serving in the neighborhood of 1,000 customers.

The Randolph serves more than 8,800 subscribers.

On May 16 and 17 the company held open house so that the public would have an opportunity to see the working of the $1,000,000 worth of equipment installed in the local exchange building. More than 1,800 persons visited the building during the two days.

Hilltop To Get 4th City Park

A fourth city park for the Hilltop area may become a reality in the future. Early this spring City Council purchased a tract of waste land between Columbus and Woodbury-avs with the idea of converting it into playground and park facilities after needed fill-in is completed.

The ground, unsuitable for residential buildings because of the marshy nature of the land, has been idle ever since that section of the city was developed. It has been growing up in weeds and brush and offered a natural breeding place for mosquitoes and a place for dumping rubbish.

The tract includes 5.66 acres and is south of Sullivant, extending for more than a block. Soon after purchase of the land the city began filling in the swamp land as dirt and cinders became available. It will be necessary to fill in almost the entire area.

Sold For Taxes

The land was purchased at a delinquent tax sale and was bid in for the city by Mary Bentz, 2020 Sullivant-av, after council had instructed her to do so in its behalf. Miss Bentz, member of the West Mound P.T. A. group and The Hilltop Record played an important part in interesting the city in acquisition of the land. Its use as a park or playground will fill a long-time need for playground facilities for children of that area since it is a considerable distance either to Sunshine Park or Glenwood Park.

G. and W. Motors Is New Agency

G. and W. Motors, a Hudson sales and parts agency, located at 3192 W. Broad-st, is the newest and one of the most complete automobile firms on the Hilltop.

The business is owned by Fred A. Williams, 53 Powhatan-av, and Robert Gibbon, 46 N. Ogden-av.

George Guisinger is service manager, and Ed Farris is office manager of the agency. Howard Mayfield is in charge of the parts department.

New Church for Nazarenes

This is an architect's sketch of the new Warren Avenue Church of the Nazarenes to be built in the near future at a cost of more than $100,000. It will be built on the site of the present church building and parsonage.

The church already has a substantial part of the estimated cost in the bank and is at present in the midst of raising an additional $25,000 that would bring the fund above the three-quarter mark.

West Boosters Is New Group

One of the newest organizations on the Hilltop is the West High Boosters Club, formed in January of this year.

Feeling the need for a group to develop a more widespread interest in athletics at the school, a group of former students got together to discuss the idea. The first meeting was held at the home of John Kuhn, 26 N. Roys-av. Soon after that an election of officers was held and the plans and purposes of the club were outlined.

Named to head the organization for the first year was Richard Francis, an active alumnus of West High. Other officers included Charles Weigand, vice-president; Eugene Buckingham, second vice-president; George Hardy, secretary; and John Kuhn, treasurer.

The board of directors included Leroy S. Weigand, Dr. C. E. Brady, M. W. Seiler, W. E. Ferguson, Glenn Thrush, Charles Dolby, Sanford L. Kaufman, Leonard Echols and Phil Stout.

The aims of the organization are "to promote and advance interest in athletics at West High School." Already the group has sponsored several projects directed toward the fulfillment of these aims.

Meeting Held

During the winter a mass meeting of sports fans was held at the high school with football pictures and a speaker as the main attractions. Following the completion of the basketball season, the boosters honored the players and coaches of West High with a banquet held at Hoge Memorial Church. Harold Wise, a former football coach at West, was the speaker.

In the early days of the organization it was decided that the group should have a part in equipping Magly Field with lights for night athletic contests. Since the athletic department of the school was already making plans for the installation of lights for the playing field, the boosters decided to be responsible for the erection of an electric scoreboard suitable for use for baseball or football.

On June 23 members of the club conducted a paper drive that netted approximately $300. The money will be used to apply on the cost of getting the scoreboard when the lights are installed.

Hilltop To Get Fire House

The Hilltop will have the protection of a second fire house at some time in the future but the exact location and the time when this will become a reality are not known at this time.

Provision for the new house was made in the bond issue passed at the last general election. The site first proposed by Fire Chief Edward Welch was on the north side of Westgate Park near the intersection of Algonquin and Brinker-avs with Wicklow-rd. However, City Council did not approve that site as being suitable and a further study as to location was asked. At present no definite location has been found.

Several Hilltop groups went on record as opposing the park site for the fire house.

Chief Welch said that it would be some time before the house could be gotten under construction because of material and manpower shortages and due to the planned program of spreading out the work over a period of time. Several other fire houses will be erected in various sections of the city.

Supplied Food
During the war years, California supplied more than 11 per cent of the nation's food.

Industrial, Business, Church, Residential Projects Planned

The Hilltop will be the center of commercial and residential construction for years to come when materials and an adequate supply of labor are available, a survey of commercial and residential projects already contemplated reveals. Undoubtedly numerous other developments will follow those already in various stages of planning.

The new building program involves manufacturing concerns, retail establishments, church and school buildings, as well as residential construction.

Library Will Be Built On West Broad

A project of interest to every civic-minded Hilltopper is a permanent home for the Hilltop Branch Library, to be located on two lots immediately west of the Masonic Temple on W. Broad-st.

A building 40 by 60 feet will be erected to accommodate the many volumes and to provide reading space for the customers. At present the library is in rented quarters at 21 N. Hague-av.

Library officials pointed out that this is the first permanent building to be built for a branch library in the city. The Hilltop site was selected because of the large volume of business done at the local library. As many as 10,000 persons use the library in a single month.

Miss Mildred Phalar is the librarian.

Skating Rink Is Project Of Local Council

Plans for a skating rink and band shell were approved by the Hilltop Community Council several weeks ago for erection in Westgate Park. The outdoor rink would make provision for roller skating in the summer time and ice skating during the winter months.

As drawn, the rink would be 80 by 125 feet, providing a concrete surface for roller skating. A concrete lip of varying heights would surround the main floor of the rink to hold water when it was to be flooded for ice skating. A concrete apron at each end of the rink has a removable gate to retain or drain water as desired.

The estimated cost of building the rink alone was set at $2615 at the time it was drawn. The skating rink, when completed, will become the property of the city and will be under the supervision of the park supervisor at all times.

A long range planning program for added improvement calls for the erection of a band shell at the east end of the rink and a second shelter house at the western end.

F. Kenneth Dickerson headed the committee from the council responsible for drawing up the plans. The drawing was made by Wesley Campbell and was presented to the council by Ray Dietz, city parks commissioner.

Finneran Is Grand Knight Of Council

Robert J. Finneran, 198 N. Oakley-av, was elected grand knight of the Knights of Columbus, Santa Maria Council No. 2898, at the annual election of officers held in June.

The group meets at 3080 W. Broad-st.

A story covering proposed church expansion appears in column 2 on this page.

Largest single industrial plant known of at this time is the Fisher Body Company's factory on the 3000-3000s, to be operated by the Ternstedt Division for the manufacture of hardware for General Motors automobiles. The plant is already in the early stages of completion and will employ an estimated 5,000 persons when in full operation.

Plastics Firms
The Columbus Plastics Company, now located at 519 Dublin-av, will occupy a new factory being built at 1815 W. Mound-st. This firm regularly employs 130 persons and may be expanded somewhat in the new location.

Another firm engaged in the manufacture of plastic products is the John R. Haines and Associates, recently moved into the old Voss Building at 2506 W. Broad-st. This concern normally employs from 30 to 35 persons in the production of plastic items.

The Nippert Electric Co., formerly at 327 E. Broad-st, recently moved into a new factory building just west of the Gulf Bulk Plant at 1799 W. Mound-st. The firm manufactures commutators for electric motors and has been in business since 1936. Paul Nippert, 263 S. Roys-av, is owner of the company. The general manager is John Nippert, 226 N. Powell-av.

Harley Sapp will build a restaurant on the southwest corner of Florence-av and W. Broad-st, just west of the city limits, as soon as materials are available, he announced several weeks ago. Sapp, who lives at 311 S. Roys-av, retired from the grocery business several months ago when he sold his Broad-Warren Market.

The new restaurant will feature a fine dining room with provision for catering to parties and large dinners as well as a quick lunch counter. The building will be 45 by 90 feet on a one floor plan with terrace floor and modern design throughout.

Housing Project
The largest single housing project announced thus far is one to be built by Carl Turner near the new General Motors plant on Georgesville-rd. According to recently announced plans, 1136 housing units are contemplated. Eight hundred single houses will be built along the west side of Georgesville-rd as soon as the material shortage is alleviated, Turner said. An additional 350 apartments, erected in units of 12, will be built in a triangular section of land bounded by the Georgesville-rd, Sullivant-av extension and the railroad tracks.

The development of Eureka Park Addition, an extension of Eureka-av south of Eakin-rd, will be gotten under way as soon as building materials seem to be available in quantity, John Davis, owner of the Hilltop Riding (Continued on Page 2D)

Westgate Completes 1st Year

The Westgate Furniture Co. held its first anniversary celebration on the Hilltop. The store has two large display rooms on the first and second floors. Pat Ryan and Earl Patton are co-owners of the firm.

Golf Course Is Historic Site

The Beacon Light Golf Course on Norton-rd, just west of the city near New Roma, is not only a golf course—it is also a historic site.

In a cemetery, near the center of the nine-hole course, according to Jack Kidwell, manager, "pro" and owner with his mother and father, there are graves dating back to 1796. There are 263 people lying in this small patch of land. Two of these are Indians, who formerly roamed the area with their tribe, and two are Civil War soldiers. Most of the occupants are members of the Postle family. The family has lived in the vicinity for several years, and at one time it was their private graveyard.

Jack grew up on these fairways, which cover 68 acres of fine, rolling land. When he was nine he started caddying at Beacon Light, the first year that Fred and Carl Postle opened the course. The Kidwells bought the course eight years ago. The course was built in 1928.

State Champion While attending Central High School, Jack was State High Individual Champion in 1937, and City High Individual Champion in 1940. He enlisted in the army in 1942 and served about three and a half years, 11 months of which were spent in the Philippines.

During the time he was in the islands, Jack and three other Americans policed an island with 600,000 native residents. The peaceful and well-educated Filipinos caused the small group little trouble. The principal of the high school on the island had received his master's degree at Ohio State University and afterwards had worked here in the city.

In spite of the fact that the community was well developed, the residents had not yet heard of golf, and Jack wasn't there long enough to educate them along that line.

An average of 500 golfers frequent the fairways at Beacon Light during the six months season.

Hilltop Is Due

(Continued from Page 1D) Academy, told the Hilltop Record several weeks ago. Sites for approximately 238 dwellings have already been mapped with provision for considerable expansion when needed.

The lots will be large enough to accommodate one floor plans in almost all cases, Davis said. Restrictions will be set on the type of building permitted when the lots are offered for sale, he stated.

One of the largest single business developments planned for the future is the modern bowling center with 16 to 24 lanes to be built on the north side of Broad-st between Brinker and Westgate-ave. Parsons financially interested in the venture would not permit the use of their names but it was known that plans are already being drawn for the recreation center. Work is expected to start as soon as the material shortage lets up.

Ford-Ferguson Bldg. A Ford-Ferguson sales and service building is to be built on a 15-acre tract of land in the 4100 block of W. Broad-st, near the new GM plant. John Falter, one of the persons interested in the project, said that a building 65 by 165 feet would be put up. The Murphy Tractor Sales, Inc. will operate the business, it was revealed.

The Sun Oil Company will spend approximately $100,000 in the erection of a new office building on the company's bulk plant location just west of the viaduct on W. Broad-st, E. M. Landry, district manager for the company, said that 18 central Ohio counties will be serviced from the local plant.

Five Churches

Other churches plan expansion of building facilities at some unannounced time in the future in line with a growing need in the community. Burgess Avenue United Brethren Church launched a building fund program on anniversary day, June 23, for future enlargement of the church property. No definite plans have been made as to the time or extent of the building program.

Lawn Food

Grass is a heavy feeder, particularly under lawn conditions where it is mowed and watered frequently. The best grass seed in the world can't do well unless there is a supply of plant food available. Most soils are deficient in plant food, so by all means provide proper nourishment. Four pounds (two quarts) of complete balanced plant food per 100 square feet of lawn area will do wonders for a half-starved lawn.

Material For Purses Made Here

John R. Haines inspects a lady's pocketbook made from plastic coils manufactured at the Hilltop plant.

Increased Use Of Plastics Is Predicted By John R. Haines

John R. Haines, owner of the John R. Haines and Associates plastic firm which recently occupied the old Voss Building, 2506 W. Broad-st, sees an increased demand for plastic products on the retail counters and by industry generally.

The many uses made of plastics in World War II have proved their superiority over other materials for certain uses, he pointed out.

The local company manufactures a number of custom made products with the bulk of production going into coiled materials for use over telephone cords and for the manufacture of ladies' pocketbooks. No finished products are made by the Haines concern.

Before entering the manufacturing field almost four years ago Mr. Haines was director of research for the Detroit Macoid Corp. in Detroit. He has a background of 25 years experience in the development and application of plastic materials.

He first located his factory at 2527 N. High-st, where he made numerous items used by the armed forces and for large firms doing work on war contracts, including aircraft manufacturers. The company outgrew the available space there and in April of this year a lease was negotiated for the Voss Building, where it is now located. The present building provides 15,000 square feet of floor space on two floors. Most of that space is already in use either for production or storage.

Because of the nature of work done the company designs and builds most of its own automatic equipment for producing plastic items. At present five new machines are in the process of construction. One such machine was completed and put into production within the past month.

Six persons are employed in the plant at present but it is anticipated that twice that number will be needed in the near future when more materials are available. At the present time most of the products used in the manufacturing of plastics is allocated to the various firms.

Much of the coiled plastic materials used in the fabrication of ladies' pocketbooks is sold through the Robert Crane and Associates firm with offices in the Voss Building.

A Million Children Have Ear Defects

Aid Can Be Given Half of Cases, Says Authority.

CHICAGO.—One million children exclusive of the totally deaf are suffering from some form of hearing deficiency, it was reported.

About 80 per cent of impaired hearing cases in children can be improved, according to Bonna M. Bequette's article in the April issue of Hygiene, health magazine of the American Medical association.

The hard-of-hearing child is not on a par with other children in the classroom, she pointed out, because he receives only partial benefits of oral instruction.

"A doctor should be consulted to determine if the hearing impairment is caused by a physical defect or disease which can be corrected or cured, such as tonsils, adenoids or sinusitis," she wrote.

Miss Bequette suggested that children whose hearing impairment occurred at birth or in infancy will usually profit from special classes in lip reading.

She advised a special hearing aid for those mature enough to care for it, especially those whose hearing losses are nearer 40 than 20 per cent.

"Since hearing impairment is a defect affecting the language processes, the child should be encouraged to take an active interest in language activities," she said.

"He should be watched so that he does not withdraw from groups or undergo a personality change as the direct result of his impaired hearing."

"Favorable results are obtained if the special considerations that are shown the hearing impaired child are done without calling attention to the defect."

Kiwanis

Deems and Edgar Planck, 3984 Crescent-dr, recently attended the Kiwanis convention held at Atlantic City.

Yes, plastics will play a major part

Martin Now Has Complete Grocery

What started out to be a small confectionery just a year and a half ago has been converted into what would be termed a complete grocery store.

Martin Martin purchased the building at 2669-71 Sullivant-av from Eugene Elright in September of 1944, the deal being handled through the Claggett Realty Co. Martin then opened one side as a confectionery and leas-

The Columbus Plastic Products,
Inc., the largest and oldest firm of its kind in the city, will move to the Hilltop in September, G. W.
Keny, 2070 Wilson-rd, president of the company, said last week. A new factory building is under construction at 1625 W. Mound-st which will provide 50,000 square feet of floor space.

At the present location, 595
Dublin-av, the plastics company employs approximately 180 persons. G. W. Kelly, 3292 Wicklowrd, is superintendent of the factory. Other officers are W. J.
Bralley, 2371 Bexley Park-dr, secretary and treasurer, and D. S.
Poulton, 1665 Northwest-blvd, sales manager.

Columbus Plastic Products,
Inc., was organized in October, 1938, and is engaged in the molding, fabricating and assembling of plastics. The firm does both custom molding and the molding and assembly of its own completed products for merchandise organization. The company has made more than 300 different items. Some of the varied custom molded parts are tool handles, display boxes, knobs, insulator parts, refrigerator parts, cosmetic containers, etc.

The company also makes complete a variety of houseware items and a complete line of bathroom fixtures for sale through its own sales organization.

The new factory is located on a seven-acre wooded tract of land adjacent to the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad. The office part of the building will be of brick with a semi-circular driveway leading back to the plant from Mound-st. A. F. Tynan is the architect and George Sheaf is the general contractor on the job.

Modern Salesroom For Old Florist Firm

Showroom and office of Stephens Flowers is located at 612 Harrisburg-pk. The plant greenhouse is situated at 704 Brown-rd. The firm was started in 1883. Walter Stephens, 1388 W. Mound-st. is owner of the business.

Pack Shoe Repair In Second Year

The D. L. Pack Shoe Repair Shop at 2394 W. Broad-st observed its first anniversary at that location Jan. 1 of this year.

Pack, who has been in the shoe repair business for some 20 years, purchased the shop, then known as the Wright Shoe Repair, and added hat-cleaning equipment.

Original Stephens Firm Was Organized 63 Years Ago

Back in 1883, 63 years ago, Sherman F. Stephens bought a small greenhouse and a patch of land from his brother, John, and established what is known today as Stephens Flowers, located at 612 Harrisburg-pk.

When Sherman started his business at 704 Brown-rd, he handled mostly cemetery work, the decorating of graves at Greenlawn Cemetery. All deliveries were then made by horse and wagon, and the first telephone came in 1900.

Then, in 1914, after he had graduated from Ohio State University, with bachelor and master degrees in chemistry, and had taught chemistry at the State University of Iowa, Sherman's son, Walter, decided he preferred raising flowers to making acids, and came to work with his father.

Went To Work

The firm then came to be known as S. F. Stephens and Son, and the next year they got their first truck. But, Walter was just getting his feet wet in the business, when along came the World War and in 1918 he went into the army to serve a year and a half. A year of that time was spent in France and Germany.

By the summer of 1919 Walter was back at work growing plants and helped his father until the elder Stephens died in 1927. The job of running the business was then all his.

Third Generation

In 1940, Stephens felt it was time to expand, so he built a new showroom at 612 Harrisburg-pk at Mound and Central. However, he kept the greenhouses on Brown-rd for the cemetery work.

When the second World War came and he was old enough, Walter, Jr., 20, did as his father had done, and went into the service. In 1944 young Stephens joined the navy and for nearly a year served with the amphibious forces at Camp Bradford, Va.

Now Walter, Jr., is attending Ohio State where he is majoring in floriculture. When not attending classes he helps his father and learns the practical end of the business. His sister, Ada Jean, 16, who helps with the bookkeeping, and a brother, Sherman Brentnall, 17, who works at the greenhouse, and their mother, Julia, all help run the firm.

All Ardent Gardeners

The present generation of Stephens' come from a long line of ardent gardeners. The grandfather of Walter, Sr., Adam Stephens was, from 1867 to 1903, when he died, the superintendent of Greenlawn Cemetery. He and his English wife, Sarah Jane Brentnall, were fond lovers of flowers and plants and did much to beautify the cemetery.

It was Sarah Jane Stephens who passed on her knowledge and love of flowers to her sons, for all three of them took it up. One son, Loren, took over as superintendent at Greenlawn after his father died, and remained until he passed away in 1914.

Mother in Business

Then there was John, who originally started Stephens Flowers in 1881 and in two years sold it to his brother, Sherman. John later took charge of a cemetery in Indianapolis.

Walter's mother, Augusta, was always active in the business of raising and selling flowers with her husband. From 1890 to 1937, when she died, she operated a little flower store in front of their home at 1191 Greenlawn-av, while her husband ran the greenhouse.

Walter and his family live at 1334 W. Mound-st.

He is a member of the Hilltop Business Men's Association, the Lion's Club, at Grove City; the Florist's Telegraph Delivery Association, the Ohio State Florists' Association, the Society of American Florists, and the Columbus Allied Florists' Association.

Nippert Elect. In New Home On Hilltop

The Nippert Electric Products recently completed moving into its new plant at 1788 W. Mound-st.

This firm, during the war, manufactured more than a quarter of a million precision-built commutators for aircraft motors and generators, chiefly for use in army and navy air force planes.

Reconversion Program
It is now continuing the manufacture of commutators that are used in experimental or prototype electric motors and generators for the Army Air Corps at Wright Field.

The company's reconversion program is now largely completed. The changing over involved the introduction of new processes and tooling to manufacture the sizes of commutators used in vacuum cleaners, fans, drills, electric lawnmowers and other fractional horsepower motors.

Now a Corporation

At about the same time the firm moved into its new building—the first part of July—it became a corporation. Paul W. Nippert, who resides at 2863 S. Roys-av, is president of the organization. John E. Nippert, 652 S. Roys-av, is vice-president and treasurer, and L. A. Brickner, 405 Glenmont-av, is secretary.

Besides the stock owned by the officers of the corporation, a high percentage of the employees of the firm own shares. Previous to the formation of the corporation the firm was owned solely by Paul Nippert.

The company was located at 327 E. Broad-st from 1943 until it moved to the new plant. Prior to that time it was at 298 E. Long-st. The organization employs 48 persons at the present time. Eleven of these live on the West Side and Hilltop.

54 Homes Are Being Built On Butler-av.

Fifty-four homes will be built on Butler-av. between W. Mound-st. and Springmont-av. by the Westmoor Building Co. Several of these homes are now under construction. Five of them are nearly completed.

In addition to the construction of the houses on both sides of the avenue, the company is building a $20,000 street under the supervision of the city. According to engineers of the Fletcher and Phillips Co., which is doing the work, the cement and black top road is to be completed in August.

64 Student-Pilots
Sixty-four pilots are enrolled at Jones' field under the G. I. Bill of Rights. Ten of these have already received pilot licenses. In addition, four veterans are taking a two-year on-the-job mechanical training course, under government sponsorship.

Jones guarantees that after 30 hours of flying time with instruction twice a week, a student will receive a private pilot's certificate, or his money will be refunded.

Conclusive Proof

An alibi is the most conclusive proof of innocence that can be given. If substantiated. Contrary to popular usage, an alibi is not simply an excuse, but is a claim that the suspect was so far distant at the time from the place where the crime was committed that he could not have been guilty.

College for Deaf

The United States is the only country with a college of accepted standard for the deaf. Gallaudet college, established in Washington, D. C. in 1864, awards the usual bachelors' and masters' degrees in art and science.

These homes, which will sell for about $8000, will be sold to veterans only. The one and a half floor houses are built of brick, with a one-car garage. According to George Moor, Jr., vice-president of the building company, the shortage of materials may cause a slow-up in the work. He expects it will take a year to complete the buildings.

Houses Not For Sale

If a veteran's present salary is a third or more of the cost of the house, he is not required to make a down payment. The monthly payments will be approximately $48 per month.

George Moor, Sr., 1498 W. 7th-st., who has been in the construction business for 26 years, is president of the company. Another son, Elvin, who resides at 1330 W. 7th-st., is treasurer, and Gene Herbert, 1498 W. 7th-st., a step-son is secretary of the company. George, Jr., resides at 1457 Ashland-av.

All three sons are veterans and each of them will buy one of the homes they are building. At present the company is using the first building it has completed, at 692 Butler-av. for its office. Herter has reserved this house for his home.

According to E. L. Barlow, city building inspector, "this is one of the best home building projects on the Hilltop."

LOS ANGELES — The Japs intercepted and broke U. S. weather codes, but failed to take full advantage of the information, Col. Theodore R. Gillenwaters, General MacArthur's top weatherman, said recently.
Gillenwaters, home on terminal leave, said the Japs got all the meteorological data they wanted, despite censorship rules against mentioning weather.

A program of store expansion and modernization is being carried out by Seiller's Department Store, 2404-12 W. Broad-st., this summer, Jack Merriman, 2520 Sutton-av., general manager, said.

Office space has been enlarged about three times, warehouse facilities and the receiving department have been expanded to provide for a growing volume of trade and a new Lamson tube carrier system has been installed to speed up customer service.

This year's improvements are only a phase of a continual expansion program started in the store more than 10 years ago, Merriman pointed out.

M. W. Seiller, 29 Eldon-av., is president of the company which bears his name, and Paul Leigheimer, 37 N. Chase-av., is the secretary.

New Offices

The new office space is built over the new addition at the rear of the store. It provides a private office for the three executives of the firm and enlarged bookkeeping and credit space. The new addition on the ground floor gives added space to the receiving department and extra space for carpeting and floor covering. The Lamson tube carrier system connects each sales counter with the cashier's office and makes possible a rapid change-making service to all departments.

An enlarged vault provides space for storing papers and office records to insure their safety in case of fire. Another added service to be in use in the near future is a modern pressing department to help speed up the alterations department. New steam irons and a steam press are now on order and are expected for installation in a short while.

Five-Acre Farm Drops Clean Out of Sight

BRAZIL, IND. — A five-acre lake on a farm near here qualified for the here-today-gone-tomorrow class.

The lake was there the other day, but not even a mirage remained—just mud.

Coal mining engineers said the lake probably had broken through the deep-shaft workings.

Fire house in Westgate Park. The group also worked with the City Recreation Department in getting improvements made at city parks and went on record as approving the location of the Veterans' Memorial Hall west of the Scioto River.

Kissing was a part of nearly all the dances of France and Italy during the 17th and 18th centuries.

Magly Field To Be Equipped With Modern Flood Lights

Plans for a lighting installation for Magly Field have been completed and it is expected that contracts will be let in the near future, Irvin Young, West High School principal, announced recently.

The battery of 84 lights mounted on six 90-foot towers was previously expected to have been installed by this fall. However, a shortage of material makes this look unlikely at this time. The lights are likely to be up by the following autumn.

Cost $9400

The lights, which cost approximately $9400, will provide sufficient illumination for the present stadium on the west side of the athletic field, and bleachers to be built on the east side.

Three towers would be built back of the stadium and three along the east side of the track. The installation of the lights would not interfere with the grid-iron, ball diamond or track.

By placing the lights high it is believed that sufficient light can be provided without interfering with either the ball diamond or the football field.

Biggest Structure

The largest masonry structure ever erected by man is the Grand Coulee dam on the Columbia river. The dam is seven times as big as the Cheops pyramid in Egypt. Its spillway can form a waterfall five times the average flow of Niagara and three times as high.

New Grocery Location

Scheduled for completion on Aug. 1, the above one-floor store room building at 2230 W. Broad-st. corner of Sylvan-av. is being built for Charles R. Stump by the McLoon Construction Co., 2283 W. Broad-st.

Covering 14,000 square feet, the store is of brick and glass block with a plate glass front. The building will house a grocery store to be operated by Stump.

Teen-age Canteen Is Work Of Hilltop Community Council

The Teen-age Canteen for youth of the community has been one of the outstanding accomplishments of the Hilltop Community Council. This group was organized during the war to coordinate the activities of various civic and religious groups. Today the program of the HCC has taken on a series of regular civic projects in addition to working for the better things of the community.

Through the efforts of the HCC and its president, Charles P. Maus, arrangements were made with the Socony-Vacuum Oil Co. to use the old Weber mansion, corner of Burgess and W. Broad-st., as a youth center until such time as the company might be ready to go ahead with development of the site. Under the direction of a few adults a group of hard working boys and girls have cleaned up the house, painted and decorated, cut weeds and a dozen other chores necessary to put the property in a presentable condition.

On June 8 the center was officially opened for social and recreational activities of the younger set. Adult attendants are always present while the house is being used during the afternoons and evenings. Dances are held frequently to help defray the expenses of buying materials for the decorating and upkeep on the property. A juke box is always available for dancing.

Other recreational facilities are also there for the use of participating members. In addition to nominal application fee a certain number of hours must be put in at working around the house in order to be eligible for membership.

Another recent project worked out by the HCC and expected to become a reality in the near future is a skating rink complete with band shell and shelter house for year around use.

Members of the council recently supervised the official opening of the city and school playgrounds for the summer. Through their efforts prizes were awarded in contests and appropriate ceremonies were held in connection with the openings.

Fitting memorial services were conducted in front of the Hilltop Honor Roll on May 30 for the second consecutive year. On Easter Monday, an egg hunt was put on at Glenwood Park for the enjoyment of hundreds of kids.

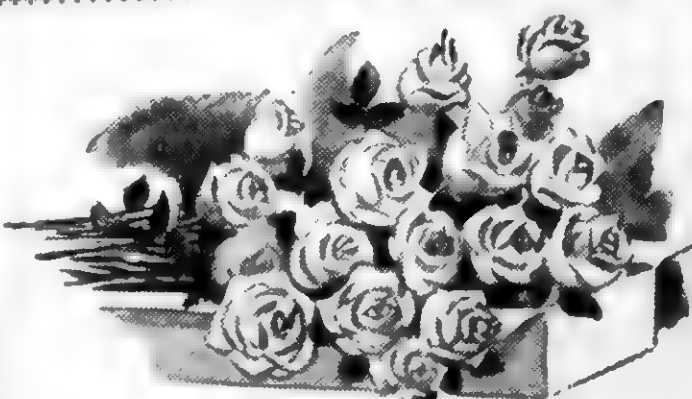

A Halloween party attended by over 4,000 youngsters was held last fall at West High School.

The council took an active part in opposing location of the new

New Restaurant To Open Soon

A new restaurant to be known as "The Hilltopper" is expected to be open and ready for business at 2500 W. Broad-st within the next month. Lack of materials has held up the remodeling of the building, according to Ned Lilly, 1477 Harrisburg-pk, owner.

It is not yet known what type of business will be in the other side of the building, 2112 W. Broad-st.

The building, which is being completely reconstructed, will have a rebuilt brick front, with glass brick and glass panel windows.

Lilly was formerly in the restaurant business on N. High-st.

Electric Brooder

The electric brooder is a potential danger spot unless it is kept in proper condition. All its electrical connections should be clean and in good repair so there won't be a short circuit or an overload of current. The inside of the brooder should be kept thoroughly clean to prevent dust and down from collecting on the heating units and some day bursting into flame. The pilot light should be high enough to be out of the way of the baby chicks.

Record Bar Features Display

The Record Bar in the Better Home Center, 2112 W. Broad-st., recently featured an attractive display of RCA Victor records in a tie-up with songs sung in the movie "Two Sisters From Boston." Ed Witherspoon is owner of the Better Home Center.

Special Vote May Be Called

Several residents of the area just west of Columbus have been trying since April to incorporate the territory into a village to be known as Camp Chase. Residents of the area have submitted petitions requesting the incorporation to the Franklin Township trustees.

The trustees, after accepting the petitions, referred the matter to county authorities in preparation for a special election.

According to Ed Lantz, 325 Derr-rd, one of the sponsors of the move to incorporate, said the boundaries of the proposed village would run 1500 feet south of Sullivan, west to the Franklin Township line north to the Pennsylvania Railroad tracks, east to Wilson-rd, and south to Wilson-rd and Derr-rd to Sullivan-rd.

School Repairs Are Being Made This Summer

Hilltop schools are undergoing general clean-up and repair work this summer, according to Stanley Gingery, assistant superintendent of Columbus schools.

Plasterers are working at John Burroughs Elementary School on Sullivan-av; painters are busy at West High School, and due to the danger of the smokestack at West Broad Street Elementary School, it is being removed this summer," Gingery stated. Minor repairs are being made at Highland Avenue Elementary School also.

Action from residents of the N. Hague-av sector who were not provided for in the proposal. Within a matter of days petitions had been submitted to City Council requesting that the Hague-av bus service be continued.

Officials of the Columbus and Southern Ohio Electric Co. assured The Hilltop Record that they did not contemplate disturbing transportation facilities now in existence on Hague-av.

Running Amok

The homicidal mania known in Malaya as "running amok" is now believed to be a type of suicide rather than a sudden attack of insanity. Circumstances such as domestic jealousy or gambling losses may result in the typical "amok" during which the Malay rushes into the street slashing and cutting at everybody he meets until he is killed.

Floor Coverings

Floor coverings receive constant use and accordingly should be given constant care. Keep your rugs clean with daily cleaning or frequently traveled areas with a suction cleaner. Pile wears off if dirt is allowed to be ground into it. Remove wet litter with a soft bristled broom, always brushing the nap with the lay of the pile so that it will all incline in the same direction.

Bus Service And Parking Are Projects

Efforts to improve parking and transportation conditions on the Hilltop during recent months seem to have gained little headway to date. Two major projects have been sought by the civic committee of the Hilltop Business Men's Association.

The number one project would involve a revision in parking restrictions on side streets intersecting Broad-st and Sullivan-av. At the present time parking is prohibited from the thoroughfare to the first alley, both north and south along the major part of these two streets on the Hilltop.

Business men and Hilltop customers for many months have been protesting this inconvenience for shoppers, maintaining that part of the restricted area could be opened up for limited parking without creating a bottleneck for fire and other emergency equipment entering these streets.

Late in the winter the civic committee talked to a spokesman in the office of Safety Director C. C. Cole and was told that there would seem to be a good possibility that state laws governing parking near an intersection could be instituted on the Hilltop side streets. However, a written request to that effect was turned down by the Traffic Commission.

Second Conference
A second conference, this time with the safety director himself, revealed that the safety department considered the present parking restrictions necessary to insure the free access to side streets by fire and other emergency equipment. However, he did promise to carry back to the commission the request that Hilltop business people were still interested in having the change made. At this time the prospects for a revision in the parking restrictions do not look like a possibility.

The second project has to do with the creation of a double transportation loop on the Hilltop.

As outlined by the civic committee of the HBMA, the present Hague-av bus line would be discontinued and in its place a new line would provide bus service west on Broad-st to Sullivan-av, south on Hague-av to Sullivan-av, west on Sullivan-av to Binns-blvd, north to Wicklow-rd, west to Powhatan-av, north to Broad-st, east to Hague-av, south to Sullivan-av, east to Whitethorne-av, and north to Broad-st.

This proposal was submitted to the Metropolitan Transportation Committee for consideration early in June but has not gained too much prominence in the city's transportation study.

SEILLER'S
Department Store

2404-12 W. Broad St.

The largest suburban department store in Columbus is proud of the largest suburban newspaper in Columbus.

Since The Hilltop Record was started nearly 30 years ago Seiller's has been advertising in its columns and millions of dollars worth of merchandise have been sold as a result of this advertising.

We have been proud to keep our good friends of the Hilltop and West Side informed of our outstanding merchandising values through our ads in the Record.

Seiller's Department Store is seven years older than the Record. We too started back when the Hilltop was a corn field. We have grown with the community and today at the time of the Hilltop's greatest expansion you'll find Seiller's, too, stepping out in front with an expansion program that will give this community a real metropolitan store.

In recent months we have made numerous changes inside our store to speed up our service and facilitate the handling of an increased number of customers. Coming months will find still further expansion, including an enlarged basement store, an enlarged men's wear department, an up to the minute housewares store and new departments will be added to meet the demand of our customers.

Just recently our office was enlarged and re-modeled for quicker and more efficient service for our customers. The credit department has been expanded and more Lamson money-changing stations have been situated throughout the store, for your convenience.

So, as in the past, you'll find you'll really "Do Better at Seiller's After All."

West Side Board of Trade Upholds Business Traditions of Long Standing

The West Side

By Paul Wichterman

Home of 5000 Families
Bounded roughly by Mound-st on the south, Central-av on the west, and the Scioto River on the north and east, lies the large section of Columbus known as the West Side. Approximately 5,000 families live in this area with close to 500 business places, both large and small.

The West Side is rich in historical background having been the site of the Village of Franklinton that preceded the City of Columbus by several years. There at the confluence of the Scioto and Olentangy Rivers, Lucas Sullivant settled down to found a city. Little did he dream at the turn of the 18th century that anything like a city the size of Columbus would result.

Those who have attended Franklinton and other West Side Schools have learned something about the background of this early pioneer settlement and most of those who have been reared in the neighborhood have a fond attachment for the community and what it stands for. Hundreds of them annually go back to the scenes of their school days to hold a reunion and talk over old times.

Flood Dealt Severe Blow
In 1913 the West Side underwent one of the most severe floods ever experienced in this part of the country when the flood walls gave way and the raging Scioto River flooded the entire community, leaving death and devastation in its wake. Business houses were completely destroyed and hundreds of residences were demolished or severely damaged. Many people thought the effects of the flood would leave an irreparable mark on that part of the city. Some families did move to the Hilltop and other sections of Columbus but by far the largest percentage of them remained and set about cleaning up the mud and debris.

There is justifiable pride in the minds of many of the old timers who went through the flood at the way in which the people bravely overcame the staggering blow the elements dealt when the river went on a rampage. Thousands were left homeless for days, many of them with no more than the clothes on their backs.

Most of the business places on the West Side bear the marks of stability, many of them having been in continuous operation for almost half a century. The tradition of "like father, like son" has held true in many cases where the second generation has continued in the business founded by parents many years ago.

Improvements To Come
Three recent and pending developments will affect the West Side in years to come. One, already in operation, is the location of the Veterans Administration in the old Goddard Factory west of Central High School.

A second project, several years in the process of development and soon to be realized, is the Sandusky Bridge improvement. As soon as materials and labor are available in sufficient quantity the city and county will start work on a new bridge across the Scioto River. The project will involve a clover-leaf drive to eliminate bottlenecks that continually develop at the Sandusky-st railroad crossing. A new boulevard coming down McKimley-av will follow the river bank around to W. Broad-st with several of the railroad tracks, scheduled for re-routing.

This improvement will be a big help to a bad traffic situation and will offer another thoroughfare west out of the city.

The third improvement is the Memorial Hall to be located on W. Broad-st just west of the Scioto River. A few months ago the Franklin County Planning Commission decided to build the $4,500,000 memorial auditorium on an 11-acre site just north of Broad-st. Architects are already working on the plans for this big building project which will be launched at some future date when materials can be obtained. Several business locations and considerable railroad property will need to be purchased to make way for the large auditorium, planned to seat 10,000 to 11,000 persons.

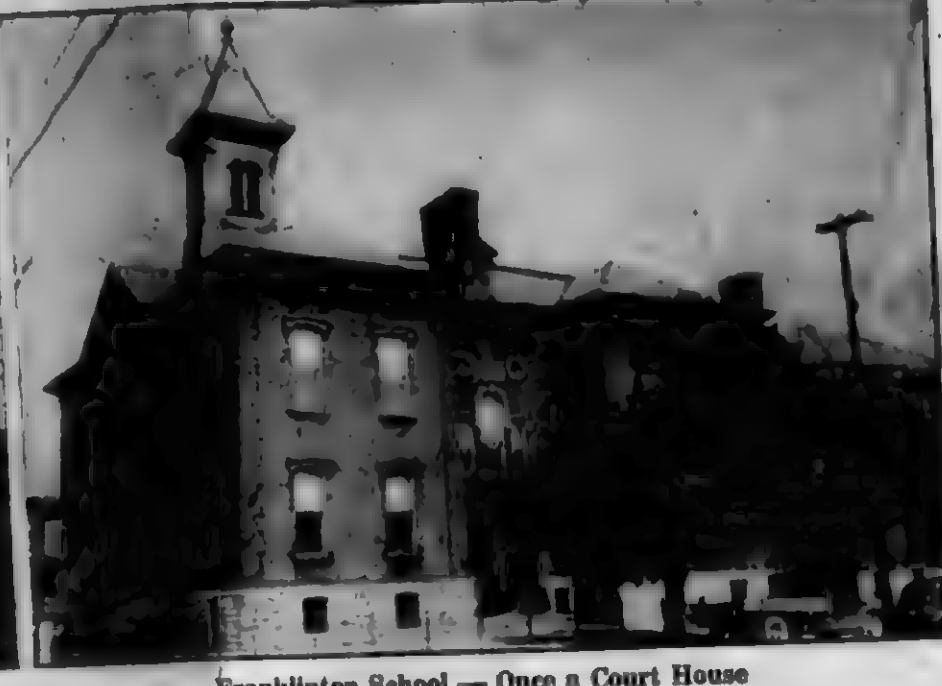

All of these projects will bring thousands of additional people to the West Side daily.

NEAR WEST SIDE IS HISTORIC COMMUNITY

West Side Board of Trade Is Oldest Civic Group In City

The West Side Board of Trade, organized in 1904, is probably the oldest active civic organization in the city.

During the 42 years of existence, the Board of Trade has been greatly interested in the betterment of this community, and has sponsored several important projects which have brought about needed improvements.

The first job among these, which the organization undertook about 30 years ago, was their action which resulted in having the state legislature pass W. Broad-st. Flood, the Board of Trade was very active in procuring new and better flood protection for the district.

About 15 years ago the Board of Trade erected a monument at Franklinton Cemetery in dedication to the early settlers of that area. Continuously throughout the years, the Board of Trade has maintained close contact with the City Council.

Its secretary for more than 20 years, John G. Thomas has been especially instrumental in getting council to improve conditions on the West Side. He is consistently reporting to the safety director, streets in the area that need repairing. It was through Thomas' efforts that the city finally took the job out of W. Town-st at S. Gift-st.

This old civic organization was also instrumental in obtaining the elimination of the grade crossings of the B. & O. and the old T. & O. C. railroad tracks on W. Broad-st. For years they have insisted that the Sandusky-st grade crossings be removed, and according to Thomas, "this is expected to start soon."

Only a few of nearly 60 charter members are still living. Among these are Dr. Howard Whitehead, 2339 W. Broad-st; F. Kerr, formerly of Carlisle and Kerr Furniture Store, where White's Furniture Store is now located, and E. D. Lewis, a retired hardware man, who now lives on Harbursburg-pk; Dr. J. E. Berry, 808 W. Broad-st; F. A. Clover and L. H. Harrison, 38 Dakota-av, who is a former member of the West Side Plumbing Co., 1011 W. Broad-st.

Present Officers
The present officers of the Board of Trade are Harold E. Cramer, president; Stanley P. Smith, first vice-president; John Endres, second vice-president; John G. Thomas, secretary, and William R. Ewald, treasurer.

The board of directors of the organization include John Bollinghouse, William G. Zenker, J. A. Ridgeway, George A. Nebel, Charles Russell, William Mawhinter, Ray J. Eyerman, John Mulholland, William G. Moler, G. Arlowe Bryant and Leroy Kaler.

Starling Pupils Are Prolific News Writers

Pupils at the Starling Junior High School are prolific writers. Last winter arrangements were made with the Hilltop Record to have weekly contributions from the school for publication in the paper. The pupils took the job seriously and literally flooded the office with interesting copy about school happenings.

The pupils enjoyed seeing the activities of their school in print and at the same time gained the experience of news writing.

Franklinton Cemetery Is Oldest Here

Back in 1811 the Franklinton Cemetery, located on McKimley-av, near Sandusky-av, was known as the churchyard of the First Presbyterian Church. The land on which this church, the first to be built in this community, stood, was presented to the congregation by Lucas Sullivant, an early Central Ohio pioneer.

When Sullivant died he was buried in the land which had been his gift to the church. He was laid under with many other sturdy settlers, such as "Jacob Swain, son of Catherine and Lewis Biele, born Jan. 31, 1810, died Sept. 29, 1832," and "William Brown, born in Antrim County, Ireland in 1774, died Sept. 27, 1830."

However, after the church had been removed from the land, Sullivant was moved to Green Lawn Cemetery, where his remains still rest.

Apostolic Church Has Large Bible School

One of the pioneer Bible schools in Franklin County is the one sponsored each summer by the West Broad Street Apostolic Gospel Church. Each year during vacation time 300 or more children of school age are given an interesting Bible study course together with singing, handicraft work and memory work.

Rev. W. T. Witherspoon is the pastor of the church. Through a daily religious radio program over WHKC, the ministry of Rev. Witherspoon has been carried in to thousands of central Ohio homes. His 15-minute program is broadcast at 6:45 a. m.

Riverside Homes, Sullivant Gardens, Provide 586 Homes

Two West Side housing projects provide living quarters for 586 families with a total population of well over 2000 individuals. The Riverside Homes project at the corner of McDowell and Rich-st houses 182 families while the Sullivant Gardens, 590 Van Buren-av, contains 334 units ranging in size from three to six room.

Both projects are units of the Columbus Metropolitan Housing Authority with offices at 425 W. Rich-st. Erected in the early '40's, the projects were ready for occupancy by the time World War II got under way and they helped provide housing for war workers at a time when they were badly needed.

Needless to say there has never been a problem of finding tenants for either of these projects. At the present time there are about 1000 eligible applicants waiting for a chance to get into the Columbus housing units.

Riverside Homes, was completed in 1942 with the first families moving in during March when the project was about 90 percent complete. It contains 180 three-room, 116 four-room and 16 five-room apartments. The last time a count was made there were 348 children living in the settlement children of working mothers but Above is an artist's drawing of the proposed Gladden Community House to be built sometime in the future for a social center on the West Side.

Al Gahn Has Long Pugilistic Career

From 1928 to 1937 the State Lightweight Champion, Al Gahn, fought several boxers who were considered among the best in the country.

During his pugilistic career he entered the ring 789 times and came out the loser on nine of those times. Forty-nine of those 139 bouts were fought here in the city and lost one of these when his second jumped into the ring.

Several years ago Al gave up the fight game as a profession and began hanging wall paper. Some 17 years he has followed this occupation and for four years he has operated his own wall paper shop at 1026 W. Broad-st.

Gahn offers large selection of patterns at his store, the only paper shop on the West Side, and when available, will provide a complete stock of paints.

He has six assistants, and his wife, Betty, is the office manager. They live at 360 S. Yale-av and have two children.

Traffic fatalities in the United States were 17 percent higher in 1945 than they were in 1944. Responsible authorities believe that rusty drivers were to blame for much of the increase.

West Side Day Nursery Offers Home for Children

Home to many children between the hours of 6 a. m. and 6 p. m. is the West Side Day Nursery at 40 N. Grubb-st, where a place is provided for care of children one to 10 years of age.

Although the nursery was established in 1927 at the present location, the original Oak Street Day Nursery, of which it is an outgrowth, had its inception in 1887 in the old W. E. and I. U. Building. Later it was moved to the corner of Fourth and Oak-st. At one time it was merged with the Y. W. C. A. and was located at 286 Oak-st.

When the Columbus Board of Education took over its present quarters and the school was moved away, the community became almost childless and it was felt that a come suitable site should be found for the work.

Mrs. W. A. Miller, deceased, agreed to buy the land and construct the building on the West Side. The present modern nursery building is the result of her generosity and thousands of children have been given proper care and supervision since its erection.

Besides the general public it serves students of eight schools. These are: Dana-av elementary, Chicago-av elementary, Bellows-av elementary, Avondale-av elementary, Franklin Elementary, Starling Junior High, Central High, and Holy Family.

Today the West Side Day Nursery is a part of the West Side and

Gladden Is Popular Social Center

The Gladden Community House, 623 W. Town-st, founded by Dr. Washington Gladden, has been serving the people of the West Side as a place to meet and to participate in neighborhood activities for more than 40 years.

In 1905, when Dr. Gladden, then pastor of the First Congregational Church, founded the house, it was known as the West Side Social Center. It was through his efforts, cooperation of members of his church, and the generous gift of $12,000 by Mrs. Joseph A. Jeffrey that it was made a realization.

During 1913, the year of the flood, the house situated at May-av and Broad-st served as a first aid station. In 1917, after the death of the founder, the house was given the name it has by today.

The year 1923 brought about the purchase of a camp site by Charles S. Plumb, at the time president of the Board of Trustees. The following year the house moved to larger quarters, deeper in the neighborhood, at the present location.

Bogart Joins Staff
A few years before the purchase of the larger quarters, in July, 1921, Carl Bogart, his wife and six-week-old baby came to Gladden Community House as head worker and has remained through the years.

Bogart, who was born in Dayton, worked on a farm for 18 years. In 1916 he graduated from Miami University. He had intended to go into the educational field but, instead, went to the Ohio State Board of Charities as a field representative. Then in September, 1917, Bogart joined Franklinton School, one of the few remaining landmarks of the "old days" on the West Side, will one day soon be razed and thus will be erased another page in the history of the Village of Franklinton, predecessor to the City of Columbus.

But although the school building will be torn down to make way for a more modern educational plant the memory of days spent there will long remain in the hearts and minds of those who went to school during the past century and more. The Hilltop and West Side has hundreds of former pupils of the school, and most of them have carried away an interest in the school, both historical and sentimental. The Franklinton reunion was for many years unique in the interest and attendance of former pupils of the historic old school.

Founder of the village of Franklinton and responsible for the erection of most of the old buildings that stood for years in that sector was Lucas Sullivant, a deputy surveyor sent from Virginia to mark out the Virginia Military Tract of which a portion of Ohio was still part. (Sullivant Avenue still bears his name.) Since the northern part of this tract had been set aside for him as payment for his work, he explored it with great care.

Having completed his work, young Sullivant settled down near the spot where the Scioto and Olentangy Rivers come together, to build the first rude cabins before the turn of the 19th century. Soon other pioneers followed and settled at the spot which was part of the main water route between Lake Erie and the Ohio River.

Gave Away Lots
Gift Street, said to be the only street that bears its original name, was so called because Sullivant gave away lots along this street to encourage pioneer travelers to settle there.

Robert Harper, editor of the Ohio State Journal and author of the book, "Trumpet in the Wilderness," tells of visits to Franklinton by John Chapman, better known as Johnny Appleseed. Johnny came to the pioneer settlement at a time when President Madison and Congress had decided that they would have to be waged against the British. It was the rustic pioneer preacher, Bible in hand, who said, "The spirit of the Lord is upon me and has anointed me to blow the trumpet in the wilderness and sound an alarm. Go forth, my brethren, and fight fire with fire. Teach the heathen that God's right is might."

As a result of his efforts and the efforts of others that old Company A was recruited and given some semblance of training on the bottoms along the river prior to the march west to fight the British and the Indians.

Built House In 1801
In 1801 Lucas Sullivant built his brick house on the southwest corner of what is now Sandusky and Broad-st. It was there that he and his wife Sarah reared their children and built Franklinton, later playing an important part in bringing the state capital to what later became the City of Columbus.

In 1803 Franklin County was formed and Sullivant was named to be the first county clerk. Only officers elected or appointed

Seely's Celebrate 50th Anniversary

Seely's Hardware, 1188 W. Broad-st., is this year celebrating a half century in business on the West Side with a wider range of hardware and home appliances than ever before in its history.

Founded in 1868 by Ira Seely, deceased, husband of Mrs. Anna Seely and father of Russell Seely, partners in the hardware store, the business has grown through the years until it is one of the most modern stores of its kind in the city. In 1937 the store space was more than doubled in area and a modern glass front was installed.

In the appliance department the firm handles Westinghouse refrigerators, deep freeze units for home use, radios, automatic washers, electric ranges, hot water heaters and small appliances. Three models of Maytag washers, gas ranges and deep freeze units are handled as well as Easy and ABC washers, Philco advanced design refrigerators with deep freeze units.

Also in the line of radios are Philco, Zenith, RCA, Emerson, General Electric and Wilson-Racordos. Premier and General sweepers are handled.

Service Dept.
A department added in recent years is that of complete service for gasoline stoves, burners, lanterns and heaters including American Gas Machine Products kitchen-cook and camp-cook units and Coleman fuel oil circulating heaters, gasoline appliances as well as hot water heaters for farm use.

Florence and Detroit White Star gas ranges in all models have been in the Seely line for a number of years.

A standby with the store through its 50 years is a complete line of Hannas Green Seal paints. Also in the paint line are the Dutch Boy and DuPont products.

A special service is maintained for the person who has odd plumbing jobs around the home. Facilities are on hand for threading any length of pipe for installation on the job.

Personnel of the store includes Mrs. Seely, a partner in the business who lives at 33 Wisconsin-av., Emmett Seely, 33 21 N. Burgess-av., an employee for 35 years, and Grant Ray, 407 Catherine-st.

Russel Seely, the other partner, has been manager of the store for a number of years. He lives on a farm near Hilliards.

Bermans Open Store In 1912 On West Side

The oldest clothing store on the West Side is Berman's, 1204 W. Broad-st., started by Ben Berman one year before the big 1913 flood.

It was a discouraging experience when Mr. and Mrs. Berman saw their small stock of dry goods washed down on the floor and covered with mud less than a year after their first venture in business was started. They did not let it get the best of them, however, for they immediately began to wash out the muddy clothing, salvaging as much of the merchandise as they could.

With the small amount of money they were able to raise from the remnants of their business, the Bermans re-opened their business at its original location, Dakota-av. and Broad-st. They remained at that location for another year and then moved to the present location.

When they opened the present store there was only merchandise enough to fill about 10 feet of the front part of the store. Gradually their business increased and the stock of clothing was enlarged until today they sell a complete line of ready-to-wear articles in a wide range of styles

50 Years Ago and Today

What a difference 50 years can make. The two views shown above are Seely's Hardware, 1188 W. Broad-st., 50 years ago and today. The lower photo shows the modern store front installed a few years ago.

Above, the old store back in the pre-flood days of the West Side when horse collars and harness took the place of electric refrigerators and other modern appliances now widely displayed in the store.

Gladden Community House

The present location of Gladden Community House is shown in the above picture. It is located at 823 W. Rich-st. It will give way for a modern social center (shown on Page 1E) at some future date.

Hard-To-Get Items

A visit to the store today will reveal more hard-to-get clothing items than are found in many of the much larger stores in the city. The store specializes in men's, women's and children's clothing at moderate prices.

All through the years Sam has operated a friendly family type store. He and Mrs. Berman personally know a large percentage of their customers. Some of them have been patronizing the store from the very beginning and now the second generation trades at the same spot. During the years a good farm trade has been built up from the surrounding area.

The Bermans live at 947 Ohio-av., but for 30 years they were residents of the West Side. Their three daughters, Miriam, Annabelle and Dorothy, were all born and raised on the West Side and attended West Side and West High Schools.

Chemical Co. Makes Over 200 Products

The G. Frederick Smith Chemical Co., 867 McKinley-av., which has been located on the West Side more than 20 years, manufactures 200 different chemical products, and ships many of them all over the world.

During the war this local concern aided in the effort by making products for several implements of chemical warfare. One of its chief jobs was to manufacture strontium perchlorate and barium perchlorate, which was used by the Kilgore Co. in Westerville, in the making of flares.

Now their products are helping in the reconversion task. The analytic chemicals which they manufacture are used in control tests on steel, concrete, fertilizer and other essential products.

Chemical Costs $1250
One product made by the chemical firm, which has been nicknamed "Orphan Annie" because of its long technical term, is sold at $1250 per pound. This expensive material is used mostly by wine, soap and paper companies in determining the neutral point of a solution.

Prof. G. Frederick Smith, who is president and founder of the company, is a research chemist at Illinois College. His brothers and sister operate the local firm. They are A. H. Smith, secretary and treasurer of the company, who lives at 781 Wiltshire-rd.; E. E. Smith, 435 Columbian-av.; Stanley F. Smith, 180 Dakota-av., vice-president of the West Side Board of Trade, and Marguerite Smith, 855 Woodbury-av., bookkeeper.

West Side Day

Ohio Avenue Day Nurseries Association. It is an agency of the Community Fund.

Governed By Board
The nursery is governed by an executive board, an associate board, a junior board and a board of trustees. The first of the group is the governing body, establishing policy, drawing up of the budget, and maintaining contact with the Community Fund. The other boards are supplementary to the governing group.

President of the governing board is Mrs. Frank L. Barnes, 3975 Onondaga-dr. Mrs. Robert H. Wolfe, 914 E. Broad-st., is the first vice-president; Mrs. Spencer S. Elwood, 2825 Bryden-rd., is recording secretary; Mrs. Frank Young, 1008 Bryden-rd., is the corresponding secretary; and Mrs. Arthur W. Raymond, 45 S. Cassidy-av., is the treasurer.

Mrs. L. S. Wolfe, 5305 Westerville-rd., is president of the associate board and Mrs. Richard Argo, 878 N. Cassidy-av., is president of the junior board. The members of the board of trustees are Joseph Eagleston, James Clippins and Judge Dana Reynolds. Mrs. A. S. Brogenhardt, 1935 Fairmont-av., has been the welfare worker for the past 23 years. The matron is Mrs. Della Hartley and Miss Pearl Nulty is the nurse.

Health Is Stressed
Health and education are the cardinal rules that govern work at the nursery. A rigid physical checkup is required before a child can be admitted, and monthly examinations are made by the nurse of all children. The State Welfare Department licenses the institution for the care of "well" children only. According to state regulations not more than 70 can be cared for at any time.

Children of school age are sent to the nearby Franklin School. Those under school age are instructed at the child center. The area served by this nursery is bounded on the north by Goodale-av., on the south by Livingston, and east and west indefinitely.

Only children from families where the mother is forced to work to supplement the family income are accepted for care. Applications are taken at the West Side Day Nursery and the name is then cleared through the Social Service Exchange with offices in conjunction with the Community Fund at 12 S. Third-st. Accurate case histories are made and very thorough records are kept on every family represented. Many Hilltop and West Side children are regularly cared for.

During the war the nursery refused no one because of the urgent need for women in war work. At present the regular rules are in effect and still a near capacity registration is maintained. According to Mrs. Brogenhardt the lack of adjustment in many homes still makes it imperative for the mother to work to support the family.

Mothers of the children have organized a mothers' club to meet and discuss the work of the center. In 1934 another building was added to the original layout providing adequate room for entertainment and social activities.

A girl doesn't have to worry very much about her family tree if she has the right kind of limbs.

Saeger Buick Offers Rapid Car Service

The only Buick agency on the West Side is the Saeger Buick Co., 1390 W. Broad-st. President and general manager of the firm is James L. Saeger, 1938 Collingwood-rd. formerly a district manager of the Buick Motor Company, a division of General Motors.

Robert Stanford, 86 S. Hague-av., has been in charge of the service department since the opening of the firm. He has had 25 years of experience with Buick cars and has developed a staff of specialized service men for all types of service.

Fred Whitaker joined the firm as sales manager some time after the business was started. The service department has dual facilities for lubricating cars so that two jobs can be handled at a time, thus speeding up the service offered to the customer. New Bear aligning equipment was recently put in operation for that type of work. The alignment facilities and other equipment in use make possible service not obtainable in the average small garage.

A complete parts department with genuine Buick parts is operated in connection with the service work.

Recently the used car lot adjoining the building was paved to provide a better place for displaying used cars.

By the time college boys accumulate coonakin, pigskin and sheepskin, father hasn't much hide left, either.

White's Largest On West Side

White's Furniture Store, located at 635 W. Broad-st. is the largest and one of the most complete furniture markets on the West Side. Harold Schiffman has been manager of the store for the past year and a half.

You really get a trimming when you get a haircut nowadays.

Ewald Firm Oldest of Kind On West Side

Three generations have kept Ewald Cleaners, the oldest cleaning establishment on the West Side, in business for more than 41 years.

In 1905 George Ewald opened a tailor shop in the vicinity of 875 W. Broad-st. Several years later, after the flood of 1913 ruined the original store, Ewald started in at the present site at 937 W. Broad-st.

When commercial cleaning of clothes became the fashion, the Ewald concern was among the first to do that type of work. Now, besides cleaning and pressing wearing apparel, the firm does a little tailor work, except alterations.

William started in the business with his father in 1910. Then, in 1936, while he was still in school, William, Jr. came into the business to learn the trade.

Mr. and Mrs. Ewald live at 3005 Wicklow-rd. and his son and daughter-in-law reside at 1514 Sullivant-av.

the navy and served for 14 months. After he was discharged he went back to the Board of Charities, then known as the Department of Welfare. Later Bogart went to Youngstown as a member of the Children's Service Bureau.

Upon his termination of duties there he joined the staff of the Gladden House. At that time he and his wife and a housekeeper were the only members of the staff. Since then the staff has grown with the number of people who attend the activities of the House.

Back in those days about 10,000 children and adults visited the House every year; now more than 50,000 participate yearly in the goings-on sponsored by Bogart and his staff.

Many Activities

Things are always going on at this West Side neighborhood house. People in the community are interested and enjoy taking part in their activities.

An open house was recently a featured event on Gladden's calendar. On the program were exhibits by the Boy Scout troop, cooking classes, and handicraft shops. Dances, parties and hikes are always popular with Gladdenites.

One of the important projects sponsored by Bogart and his assistants was the day nursery for war workers' children. As a charity measure, the Gladden House, during the depression, provided food for needy families, and hot mid-day lunches for children attending school.

The Gladden House, which is a Community Chest agency, for many years promoted a neighborhood library. Finally, Bogart was instrumental in getting the city to open a branch library close by.

In turn, the Gladden House gave their entire library, intact, over to the Neighborhood House, at 971 Leonard-av.

The members of First Congregational Church were of great help in getting the House started. And through the years their interest has continued. Just recently, members of a Sunday School class at that church held a picnic for several members of Gladden Community House.

Summer Camp

This summer, as for 23 years, Gladden will sponsor a camp for children from the West Side. The camp will open June 24 and will run until Aug. 17. During that time 350 children will be able to attend.

Bogart, who has a daughter in Rochester, Minn., and a son in the army, stationed at Ft. Benjamin Harrison, Ind., is also director of the camp and during the summer splits his time between running the House and the camp.

In the future lies the erection of an Administration Building for housing clubs, classes, and staff living quarters; a gymnasium and a Little Theatre. The approximate cost of making this Gladden Community House project a realization would be nearly $95,000. At present the Building Construction Fund amounts to about $28,000.

Baseball Fans Know This Familiar Ball Park

Red Bird Stadium Association's Best

Favorite recreation spot for thousands of Columbus and central Ohio fans is the Red Bird Stadium down on Mound-st., where the Red Birds play all their home games. Built in 1932, it is recognized as the finest ball park in the American Association and among the most modern baseball plants in the entire country.

President of the Columbus Baseball Club since 1939 is Al Bannister, who succeeded Don Beach as head of the St. Louis Cardinals Columbus baseball operation. Bannister came to Columbus in 1938.

Known to many Hilltop and West Side fans is Frank McIllyar, business manager of the club since 1943. He came to Columbus in 1940 in charge of maintenance and concessions, after having served as business manager of the Portsmouth Cardinals.

Skipper of the club is the veteran Charlie Root, former National League pitcher, with more than 200 wins to his credit during his 18 year stay with the Chicago Cubs. Root came to the Red Birds as manager last year, succeeding Wick Culp. Root has been an active player since 1921, when he left the Middletown, Ohio, sandlots for a trial with the St. Louis Browns. He holds many individual and league records as a player.

Charles Wareham is the assistant business manager and Charles Root, Jr., is office assistant. In addition to the office and management personnel the club employs 14 people on the ground crew. On game days the concessions department employs 25 people while 50 others are kept busy selling tickets and serving as ushers. Seven persons are needed to operate the parking lot just adjacent to the stadium.

Seats 14,500 People
Red Bird Stadium provides accommodations for 14,500 persons. There are 12,000 grandstand and 2500 bleacher seats.

The first game was played in the new park on June 3, 1932.

Previous to that time all home games were played at the old Neil Park up on Cleveland-av. Work on the light installation was started on June 7, 1932, and the first night game was played on June 17.

The lighting system was designed by General Electric, while the towers were supplied by International-Stacy Corp. There is an actual wattage of 365,000 but allowing for over-voltage, this total reaches 420,000. There are 38 open units of 3,000 watt size and 102 closed units, two of 1500 watt size and 100 of 1000 watt size. Of the eight towers, six are 100 feet in height and two 115 feet.

Constructed of steel and concrete, all office buildings, club houses and rest rooms are separate fireproof buildings, not connected with the main stands. There are nine such buildings included in the Red Bird plant.

The club houses and dugouts are connected by tunnels below the water level, water being kept out by electric pumps. The playing field was constructed by laying nine inches of specially selected dirt over an equal depth of cinders. The turf was grown from a special mixture of Kentucky Blue Grass, New Zealand Fescue, Red Top, and Italian Rye.

Birds Have Good Record
That baseball at the local plant is the best in the American Association is well borne out by the following figures, compiled since 1932. The Red Birds have led the association in games won and lost over the 13 year span, and when post-season games are considered, they have set a record that may take years to approach.

For the 13-season period the Flock has won 1067 games, losing 913 for a percentage of .544. Second to the Birds is Minneapolis with .538.

Near West Side

to fill county offices included John Blair, Benjamin Sells and Arthur O'Hara, commissioners; Jacob Grubb, treasurer; Benjamin White, county collector; Joseph Vance, surveyor; Willis

Siliman, judge of common pleas court; Reuben Bowan, prosecuting attorney, named in 1805; Benjamin White, sheriff (later succeeded by Adam Hosack); and Joseph Dixon, named in 1805 to be the first coroner.

According to best information available today, Sullivan built the first school house about 1808. It was a log structure 15 or 16 feet square. The first church, probably built in 1811, was erected on the ground now occupied by the Franklin Brewing Co. The old cemetery can still be seen on the south bank of the Scioto River just back of the site.

The first jail was built about 1804 at a total cost of $80. The first post office was established in front of the house still standing at 73 Gift-st.

When the second war was started with the British, the Indians, up until that time friendly with the settlers, started to go on the war path and it was necessary to post sentries about the settlement. The old court house, built in 1806 on the present site of Franklinton School, became a fortress for the entire community.

Army Supply Base

In 1812-13, General William Henry Harrison had headquarters at 770 W. Broad-st and Franklinton became a main base of army supplies being transferred to the western front. Business boomed for the early business men of the settlement and, according to old records, they were not averse to making a profit out of war by boosting prices to what the traffic would bear.

Joseph Foss, later a colonel in the army, prospered from operating a ferry across the river and operating a tavern in Franklinton. The liquor business became so thriving that John Sells started a distillery near Dublin to supply the spirits for the early settlement.

Religion first came to Franklinton when James Hoge, an itinerant Presbyterian missionary, was sent to Ohio from his home in Virginia. He and his wife, Jane Hoge, organized the first Presbyterian church in this section of the country when they united a group of 13 persons in a church fellowship. Included in this original 13 was Sarah Sullivan. Hoge Memorial Presbyterian Church gets its name from this pioneer preacher.

Jane Hoge, although mother of 11 children, was instrumental in promoting religious work in the early settlement. She and her husband held the first Sunday School in the Hoge home and in 1853 she became the first president of the Female Benevolent Society, a group organized to help care for those left destitute as a result of the plague which took more than one third of the inhabitants of Franklinton.

Court House Moved In 1824

The Franklin County court house remained at the corner of Broad and Sandusky-st until 1824 when it was moved to Columbus, just across the river. The original building is believed to have stood until 1873 when it was torn down and Franklinton School erected. Dr. J. U. Barnhall in his history of the early schools says that the present building was not built until 1880.

In 1939 a big celebration was held and a plaque was dedicated to the memory of the man who pioneered the West Side. The affair was sponsored by the Lucas Sullivan Chapter of the Daughters of 1812. Several of the Sullivan descendants were present for the dedication. Mrs. David Pittenger was then president of the organization. The plaque was accepted by Steve Mavis, acting on behalf of Mayor Myron Gessaman.

The body of Lucas Sullivan lies buried in Green Lawn Cemetery within sight of the community he founded and although he has been gone these many years history students in the Franklinton School still write essays on the life and work of this pioneer. For several years the Daughters of 1812 annually struck off medals for the best papers submitted by history students in each graduating class. Wartime restrictions seem to have interfered with this practice, however, for no awards have been made during the last three years.

But as long as a remnant of old Franklinton still remains the name of Lucas Sullivan will be remembered by those who were born and reared on the West Side.

Earl L. Sarver, president and general manager of Earl Sarver, Inc., DeSoto and Plymouth Sales and Service, located at 550 W. Broad-st., has been in the automobile business in Columbus since 1923.

To fill county offices included John Blair, Benjamin Sells and Arthur O'Hara, commissioners; Jacob Grubb, treasurer; Benjamin White, county collector; Joseph Vance, surveyor; Willis

Siliman, judge of common pleas court; Reuben Bowman, prosecuting attorney, named in 1805; Benjamin White, sheriff (later succeeded by Adam Hosack); and Joseph Dixon, named in 1806 to be the first coroner.

According to best information available today, Sullivan built the first school house about 1806. It was a log structure 15 or 16 feet square. The first church, probably built in 1811, was erected on the ground now occupied by the Franklin Brewing Co. The old cemetery can still be seen on the south bank of the Scioto River just back of the site.

The first jail was built about 1804 at a total cost of $80. The first post office was established in front of the house still standing at 72 Gift-st.

When the second war was started with the British, the Indians, up until that time friendly with the settlers, started to go on the war path and it was necessary to post sentries about the settlement. The old court house, built in 1806 on the present site of Franklinton School, became a fortress for the entire community.

Army Supply Base

In 1812-13, General William Henry Harrison had headquarters at 770 W. Broad-st and Franklinton became a main base of army supplies being transferred to the western front. Business boomed for the early business men of the settlement and, according to old records, they were not averse to making a profit out of war by boosting prices to what the traffic would bear.

Joseph Foss, later a colonel in the army, prospered from operating a ferry across the river and operating a tavern in Franklinton. The liquor business became so thriving that John Sells started a distillery near Dublin to supply the spirits for the early settlement.

Religion first came to Franklinton when James Hoge, an itinerant Presbyterian missionary, was sent to Ohio from his home in Virginia. He and his wife, Jane Hoge, organized the first Presbyterian church in this section of the country when they united a group of 13 persons in a church fellowship. Included in this original 13 was Sarah Sullivan. Hoge Memorial Presbyterian Church gets its name from this pioneer preacher.

Jane Hoge, although mother of 11 children, was instrumental in promoting religious work in the early settlement. She and her husband held the first Sunday School in the Hoge home and in 1853 she became the first president of the Female Benevolent Society, a group organized to help care for those left destitute as a result of the plague which took more than one third of the inhabitants of Franklinton.

Court House Moved In 1824

The Franklin County court house remained at the corner of Broad and Sandusky-st until 1824 when it was moved to Columbus, just across the river. The original building is believed to have stood until 1873 when it was torn down and Franklinton School erected. Dr. J. U. Barnhill in his history of the early schools says that the present building was not built until 1880. In 1939 a big celebration was held and a plaque was dedicated to the memory of the man who pioneered the West Side. The affair was sponsored by the Lucas Sullivan Chapter of the Daughters of 1812. Several of the Sullivan descendants were present for the dedication. Mrs. David Pittenger was then president of the organization. The plaque was accepted by Seve Mavis, acting on behalf of Mayor Myron

The body of Lucas Sullivan lies buried in Green Lawn Cemetery within sight of the community he founded and although he has been gone these many years history students in the Franklinton School still write essays on the life and work of this pioneer. For several years the Daughters of 1812 annually struck off medals for the best papers submitted by history students in each graduating class. Wartime restrictions seem to have interfered with this practice, however, for no awards have been made during the last three years.

But as long as a remnant of old Franklinton still remains the name of Lucas Sullivan will be remembered by those who were born and reared on the West Side.

Earl L. Sarver, president and general manager of Earl Sarver, Inc., DeSoto and Plymouth Sales and Service, located at 550 W. Broad-st, has been in the automobile business in Columbus since 1923.

In October, 1944, Sarver opened this new sales agency, which has the newest and most complete garage in the city, with machinery and tools valued at $12,000. The latest Bear System for wheel alignment and frame straightening is among this expensive equipment.

The offices, showroom, garage and paint shop, which are being remodeled, cover an area of 100 feet by 115 feet. The firm employs 20 people.

Just recently Sarver was appointed distributor for Reo Trucks in Central Ohio.

Red Bird Stadium Association's Best

Favorite recreation spot for thousands of Columbus and central Ohio fans is the Red Bird Stadium down on Mound-st, where the Red Birds play all their home games. Built in 1932, it is recognized as the finest ball park in the American Association and among the most modern baseball plants in the entire country.

President of the Columbus Baseball Club since 1939 is Al Bannister, who succeeded Don Beach as head of the St. Louis Cardinals Columbus baseball operation. Bannister came to Columbus in 1938.

Known to many Hilltop and West Side fans is Frank McIllyar, business manager of the club since 1943. He came to Columbus in 1940 in charge of maintenance and concessions, after having served as business manager of the Portsmouth Cardinals.

Skipper of the club is the veteran Charlie Root, former National League pitcher, with more than 200 wins to his credit during his 18 year stay with the Chicago Cubs. Root came to the Red Birds as manager last year, succeeding Wick Culp. Root has been an active player since 1921, when he left the Middletown, Ohio, sandlots for a trial with the St. Louis Browns. He holds many individual and league records as a player.

Charles Wareham is the assistant business manager and Charles Root, Jr., is office assistant. In addition to the office and management personnel the club employs 14 people on the ground crew. On game days the concessions department employs 25 people while 50 others are kept busy selling tickets and serving as ushers. Seven persons are needed to operate the parking lot just adjacent to the stadium.

Seats 14,500 People

Red Bird Stadium provides accommodations for 14,500 persons. There are 12,000 grandstand and 2,500 bleacher seats.

The first game was played in the new park on June 3, 1932.

Previous to that time all home games were played at the old Nell Park up on Cleveland-av. Work on the light installation was started on June 7, 1932, and the first night game was played on June 17.

The lighting system was designed by General Electric, while the towers were supplied by International-Stacy Corp. There is an actual wattage of 365,000 but allowing for over-voltage, this total reaches 420,000. There are 88 open units of 3,000 watt size and 102 closed units, two of 1500 watt size and 100 of 1000 watt size. Of the eight towers, six are 100 feet in height and two 115 feet.

Constructed of steel and concrete, all office buildings, club houses and rest rooms are separate fireproof buildings, not connected with the main stands. There are nine such buildings included in the Red Bird plant.

The club houses and dugouts are connected by tunnels below the water level, water being kept out by electric pumps. The playing field was constructed by laying nine inches of specially selected dirt over an equal depth of cinders. The turf was grown from a special mixture of Kentucky Blue Grass, New Zealand Fescue, Red Top and Italian Rye.

Birds Have Good Record

That baseball at the local plant is the best in the American Association is well borne out by the following figures, compiled since 1932. The Red Birds won the association in 13 years span, and lost over the 13 year span, and when post-season games are considered, they have set a record that may take years to approach.

For the 13-season period the Flock has won 1087 games, losing 913 for a percentage of .544. Second to the Birds is Minneapolis with .538.

Busy West Side Corner

One of the busiest corners on the West Side is Cramer's Pharmacy, corner of W. Broad-st. and Sandusky-st. pictured above. The store is operated by one of the busiest pharmacists on the West Side.

He is Harold Cramer, 570 Wiltshire-rd., president of the West Side Board of Trade and president of, or active in, several pharmacy organizations in the city.

Two other registered pharmacists, William E. McCullough and S. C. Spangler, are associated with Cramer's Pharmacy.

Oldest West Of River

Ewald Cleaners, 937 W. Broad-st. is the oldest dry cleaning firm west of the Scioto River. Three generations of Ewald's have maintained the business for over 41 years. William Ewald and his son, William, Jr., are operating the business.

Rawls Offers Quality Recap For Motoists

One of the most modern and up-to-date recapping shops in central Ohio is the Rawls Hi-Speed Recap Tire Service located at 400 W. Broad-st. During the war years and continuing at the present time this firm kept thousands of autos on the highways when there would not have been enough new tires to go around. As many as 30,000 tires were recapped in a single year.

The company is owned by the Rawls Brothers of Lima, manufacturers of the Rawls system of recapping. The Rawls molds insure an even, heavy tread which provides safety in all types of driving. Cooler treads result from this method of recapping which means additional mileage.

The firm offers complete battery service as well as numerous other items for keeping the car in first class condition. Such products as quality cleaning fluids, waxes, radiator cleaning fluids and miscellaneous items for improved operation of the car.

This Tires Dangerous
Officials of the company point out that summer driving is the most hazardous of any period of the year. Thin tires driven at high speeds often lead to blow-outs resulting in serious accidents. Many of these well worn tires can be made safe by a quality recap job such as Hi-Speed can do.

Free tire inspection is offered to fleet owners and motorists alike in the interest of getting more mileage out of their present tires. By catching some tire defects in time a perfectly good casing can be protected which otherwise would end in failure in a short while.

They Head Motor Firm

Edgar Planck

A busy Dodge and Plymouth agency is operated on the West Side by the West Side Motors, 1350 W. Broad-st. Edgar Planck, 2984 Crescent-dr., and Charles W. Althen, 3255 W. Broad-st., operate the business started in 1925. Plymouth cars, Dodge cars and trucks, accessories, complete service and a body and fender shop make up the business of West Side Motors. The body and fender shop was opened at 330 N. Central-av in September of 1945. Recently the building was modernized and enlarged. The firm had its beginning at 1354 Sullivan-av when Pontiac cars were sold. In 1930 the business was moved to the W. Broad-st. location. Since the first of the year Ed Jones has been serving as sales manager of the auto firm. He has been connected with the auto business since 1911, having sold highway.

Charles Althen

one of the first model Dodges ever built, back in 1915. He was with the Ohio Auto Sales Co. for 10 years. Planck and Jones served together in the 83rd Division back in World War I. Althen, too, is a veteran of the first big war, having been with the 32nd Division. Althen had a Dodge agency in Piquette before coming to Columbus. He was with the Hutchins Motor Sales Co. for more than eight years before joining the West Side firm. AND HERE IS A FACT: THE WORLD MUST FACE: NOBODY WINS AN ARMAMENT RACE. Spring speeds up the sap in the trees—and the sap on the business since 1911, having sold highway.

Shroyer Has 2 Locations

One of the busiest undertaking firms in the city is that of Wylie S. Shroyer with funeral parlors at 1278 W. Broad-st and 2553 W. Broad-st. Six funeral cars and limousines are operated at the two locations. Seven people are employed by Shroyer's. Mr. Shroyer and son Lowell, are both embalmers, with William M. Richardson working as an apprentice. William E. Daley is a funeral director while Miss Eunice Smith is in charge of the West Side office. Harry Estep and Calvin Nash are the other two employees. Several years ago when funerals were coming faster than they could be handled in one building, the Hilltop location was selected and today both places are kept busy most of the time. Wylie S. Shroyer was born and raised in Logan County. He started in the undertaking business at Bellefontaine after attending embalming school in 1918. Coming to Columbus in 1924, after 17 years in that city, he established the West Side business in 1927. He is a member of the Westgate Masonic Lodge, the Westwood K of P, Woodmen of America, and the Order of Odd Fellows. Lowell is an active member of the Hilltop Kiwanis Club in addition to other organizations.

Miller Glass Executive

John H. Apel, 41 Powhatan-av, is vice-president and general manager of the Miller Glass Engineering Co.

Giant Lathe In Operation

William Berry operates a 40-inch diameter large engine lathe at the Miller Glass Engineering Co. He is cutting down a cast iron die for a heater that weighs 2295 pounds.

Miller Glass Eng. Co. Started 1937

Designing, developing and building of special machinery together with custom repairing of broken equipment is the business of Miller Glass Engineering Co., 148 S. Glenwood-av. Started in 1937 as glass equipment builders, the firm later branched out into various types of machinery construction and repairs. Officers of the company are F. F. Ergler, 622 Carpenter-st., president; John Apel, 41 Powhatan-av, vice-president and general manager; W. S. Williams, 1929 Harrison-av, treasurer and chief engineer, and Paul J. Knospe, 216 Brehl-av, secretary and auditor. Mr. Ergler has been in the machine shop business for 30 years. Mr. Apel previously spent 16 years with the Jaeger Machine Co., designing and developing road paving machinery. Overhaul Machinery The company has a full line of machine tools and the engineering know how to design and develop glass making machinery or any other automatic processing machinery. Due to the size of the equipment installed in the plant, the firm can repair and machine some parts larger than those handled in the ordinary machine shop. Complete overhauling of machinery is a substantial part of the business. During recent years subcontract work has been done for such firms as Ralston Steel Car Co., Anchor Hocking Glass, Federal Glass, Owens Fiber Glass, Armstrong Furnace Co., Seagraves Corp., Bukeye Steel Casting, Cooper-Bessmer, Delco-Remy, Rochester, N. Y., and the John R. Haines Plastics Co. One of the unusual items made by the company was the machining of the turntables used by the Seagraves Corp. to mount the 65 and 85 foot ladders on late model fire fighting equipment. During the war Miller Glass Engineering Co. worked 24 hours a day machining parts for war equipment. A machine was designed and manufactured for machining 1000-pound bomb nose sections for the Blaw-Knox Company's Columbus factory. Later a machine was built for production of the five-inch rocket. Other war work included subcontracting of machine parts for diesel engines for the Cooper-Bessmer Co. and dies for bomb forgings for Ralston Steel Car Co. Work was also done for Jaegers and Dennison Engineering Co. At present the company employs 30 machinists. John Apel, the manager, has lived on the West Side since coming to Columbus in 1912. He moved to the Hilltop in 1926. He attended the College of Engineering at Ohio State University.

Hattie Smith In Business For 53 Years

Mrs. Hattie L. Smith operates the oldest business establishment on the West Side. Fifty-three years ago Mrs. Smith and her husband, opened the Smith Hat Shop in a storeroom at W. Broad-st near Sandusky-av. Five years after they opened the shop, the late J. W. Meek, for many years a harness maker on the West Side, who was their landlord, decided to build them a new room across the street. In 1898 the Smiths moved into the new storeroom at 628 W. Broad-st, where the shop is now located. At the same time, the late C. F. Lentz moved his drug store next door, where Mone's Pharmacy is now located. Mr. Smith died about 39 years ago, but before he passed away he made a fine milliner of his wife. She was experienced enough in the hat business by the time of his death to carry on the trade, and she has done it well. Hattie, whose hats are all imported from New York and Chicago, sold her first millinery creation to the mother of Miss Vess Sperry, a school teacher at West Broad Street School. Most of Mrs. Smith's hats are not particularly expensive, but rather are moderately priced. On occasion she makes hats to meet her customers' individual tastes. Her clients—long established—come from all over Columbus. Mrs. Smith has a daughter,

Henry P. Mone Has Drug Store On West Side

Henry Mone

Henry P. Mone, operator of Mone's Drug Store, at 622 W. Broad-st, has been in the pharmaceutical business on the West Side for 21 years. After graduating from Ohio State University's College of Pharmacy, Mone lived at 2736 York-rd. Mrs. Smith resides at 61 S. Gift-st. Miss Mabel Sulzer, who assists Mrs. Smith at the shop, lives at 49 N. Gift-st. When you have a chance to embrace an opportunity, give it a good hug.

Pharmacy, Mone went to work for Liggett's Drug Store on N. High-st, as assistant manager. He was employed by that firm for three years, until he bought a drug store at 1225 W. Broad-st, in 1925. He operated this store for 16 years. Then, in the fall of 1940, Mone, after selling his first store at West Park and Broad, opened a new store at Whitehouse and Broad and operated this pharmacy for four years. About two years ago Henry sold the Hilltop store and started at his present location. Oldest Pharmacy About 50 years ago a drug store was opened at the same site where Mone's is now operating. This is probably the oldest pharmacy in continuous operation in Columbus. Mone is married and lives at 235 Binns-blvd. He has two sons, Henry, Jr., who is serving in the Marine Corps at Quantico, Va., and Robert Paul, who is still in school. Mone's father came to Columbus from Italy when he was 11 years old. For many years he was in the wholesale and retail fruit and vegetable business in this city. He became a naturalized citizen when he was 21. A pioneer in Columbus, he was the second oldest Italian in the city when he died at the age of 85.

Four Play Centers Available For West Side Residents

Recreation on the West Side is centered in four city-sponsored parks and recreation places in addition to the school playgrounds.

Largest of the group is Sunshine Park, located at the southeast corner of Sullivan and Sandusky-st. This park was acquired in 1921 from funds raised by popular subscription in the "sunshine drive" conducted on a city-wide basis. The park was named after the title of the drive.

For many years it provided the best ball diamonds in the city with bleacher facilities but constant weathering and inadequate funds to keep up repairs have seen these bleachers fall by the wayside. However, approximately 10 years later a modern shelterhouse was built on the grounds and a year-round program of sports and playground activities is maintained. At present Paul Schlosier is in charge of the park with Dorothy Lightner and Martha Smith as assistants.

The building provides a meeting place for public gatherings of many kinds as well as a play center for children of all ages.

Sullivan Gardens

Most recently established of the recreation centers is the Sullivan Gardens, a part of the Metropolitan Housing project at Rich and McDowell-av. It provides a building with limited facilities for indoor play and a small outdoor playground. Richard Stock is supervisor of the center.

The oldest athletic center on the West Side is the West Market Hall on Gift-st. Basketball is the main winter sport but facilities are also available for other types of indoor play. A supervisor is on duty during the winter months. He has charge of the basketball floor, and has some boxing, ping pong and basketball shooting.

The building was formerly used as a market place but was abandoned more than 20 years ago. The City Recreation Department took it over in 1922 or 1923 and it has been one of the principal basketball centers ever since, being in almost constant use evenings and Saturdays.

McKinley Park offers softball diamonds and some playground equipment. It is located at the corner of Central and McKinley-av. A part-time supervisor is on duty to oversee playground and softball activity. Several of the softball leagues play their games there.

Looking Ahead

By O. H. Craft

Editor's Note: The following article was written by O. H. Craft, a licensed real estate dealer on the Hilltop during the past 18 years.

The last Progress Edition of the Hilltop Record was issued in September 1939. We were just emerging from a long depression period and beginning to hit our stride in building new homes, when war broke out in Europe. Within a space of two years we found our own country involved, bringing to a standstill all building activity. As a consequence, we entered into the war period with a housing shortage.

Building houses and commercial buildings is not like building automobiles, refrigerators and washers, and neither is it as flexible a commodity. It takes time to bring into play the ponderous forces, that once combined and brought into an operating whole, create a production force that brings into being sometimes a surplus, where there had seemed a shortage only a short while before. When such a ponderous force is brought into play, it acquires such a momentum, it cannot be stopped just short of its needs. Because this is so, no one with limited means should dabble speculatively in real estate.

Real estate is the soundest investment in the world, and if held for the long swing, will always pay off. I like to think of real estate in terms of the home minded. They don't need to worry about quickies and quirkies of the market, for it has values that cannot be computed upon vagaries of the market. Under today's stress of house shortage the percentage of home owners in the United States has risen approximately 50% and in our own community it is evidently much higher than the national average. However there is an indication that under stress of the times many people who are not naturally home owners are buying. Some of these will let their holdings go, when they can have their choice of renting units and some will become new members of that ever growing list of home owners. In my own limited sphere, I am not trying to force a speculative turnover of real estate. I think it is bad business, and not good for the profession. I think it will catch up with some or most of those who are engaged in the orgy. Very few profit takers are shrewd or lucky enough to escape getting caught in the saturation of over-supply and shortages.

Real estate men and women who have adopted the profession as their career, affect the lives and fortunes of a great many people in the period of their active lifetime, and the cardinal principle of their profession should be "If it is a good deal."

THE HILLTOP

In September 1939, we figured our Hilltop population at 30,000 and predicted at that time that the Hilltop section would have a population of 50,000 by the year 1964, pointing out the business and social needs along the way in the process of almost doubling our population. In retrospect and again glancing a glimpse into the future, we now think that our estimate was low, or in other words will be brought into being sooner than anticipated. Prophecy is dangerous business, and not always profitable, and I don't particularly like that word retrospect. It's profitable in some degree, but not always reliable. Memories may be sweet or sour and interesting to dwell upon, but it seems that people do change in their outlook, their needs, their desires, and it is difficult to define all of the forces of the universe that act to bring these changes into being. By the same token we should not attempt to live too far in the future, except as we may have an ideal goal, but we live in a practical world, and must find our happiness within a limited range of the average lifetime. History has proven that it is just as disastrous to live too far in advance of one's time, as it is to try to live in the past.

I hope you haven't lost track of me. We are still building houses, and will always be doing so, and we are talking about the Hilltop section and perhaps will always be doing so. To outsiders it sometimes appears to be a disease, but it is a grand place to live and don't forget it. We are now close to 35,000 souls and the salt of the earth.

Taking on "Big Time" Our community is taking on the character of "big time," and our future is graphically told in the events that are unfolding before our very eyes. Even under the difficulties of

4197 Hilltoppers Served In Some Branch of the Service

By Paul Wichterman

A total of 4197 men and women from the community have served or are now serving in some branch of the armed services, it was revealed by Lt. Col. W. P. Averill executive officer at State Selective Service Headquarters.

This figure represents those inducted or enlisted at Local Boards 11, 12 and 13 through June 30, 1946. Of this total 1829 have been discharged with the remainder still in active service or on a reserve status. One hundred fifty-seven of the total are Negroes.

Local Board 11 handled the largest number of inductions and enlistments accounting for 2072 men or approximately half of the local persons in service. 1-C inductions amounted to 262, 1-C enlistments 110, with 1407 discharged. The board received credit for 293 non-registrants.

Board 12 had a total of 918 men as of June 30. This included 131 1-C inductions, 69 1-C enlistments and 546 discharged. Credit was allowed for 172 non-registrants.

Board 13 has 1207 men and 110 were 1-C inductions, 88 1-C enlistments, 946 discharged and 123 non-registrants. A check of board personnel shows that by far the majority of the men have served faithfully since the Selective Service System was set up in 1941. These men have served without pay, doing a thankless job that at many times took hours of time from their regular business. In so doing they often subjected themselves to unfair and unwarranted criticism by families who were directly affected by the decisions they had to make in the fulfillment of their duty. Their only reward comes in the satisfaction that they did their duty as they were called upon to do it.

Serving as chairman of Board 11, 56 S. Highland-av, is Police Inspector Thomas A. Scully who has been with the board for more than five years. Vice Chairman is Joseph P. Boyhan, 108 S. Highland-av. Other members are Dr. L. B. Turner, secretary, Walter J. Stephens, and the Rev. F. R. E. Schwartz, deceased. All members have served five years or longer. The vacancy caused by the death of Rev. Schwartz was never filled.

Amvets Have Chapter Here

Last month a group of Hilltop veterans organized a chapter of the Amvets, a national veterans organization. At their first meeting, Fred Milligan, state Amvet commander, presented the group with its charter.

Charter members of the chapter were Joe Hogue, 44 Binnshld; Franklin D. Sparks, 108 S. Roys-av; William C. Ferguson, 33 S. Highland-av; Roland J. Eckard, 527 Hilltop-av; William Francis, 35 S. Wheatland-av; Harold L. Stinson, 43 S. Highland-av; Arthur Currier, 591 Crescent-av; Leo J. Oddi, 645 S. Oakley-av, and Joseph B. DeFennish, Brigadiale.

The Amvets was started in October, 1945, in Chicago. There are two chapters in Columbus. They are Post No. 9, downtown, and Post No. 22, in the North End.

Hilltop Banks Expand To Meet Needs

Continued growth of the Hilltop, and surrounding territory during recent years is reflected in the expanded banking and loan facilities now available at the Hilltop office of the Ohio National Bank and the Hilltop office of the First Federal Savings and Loan Assn.

Curtis G. Wilcox, 2097 Palmetto-av, manager of the bank, said that during the past 15 years personnel at his bank had increased three times and that deposits had increased eight times. At present five teller's windows are open through the week, providing bank accommodations for as many as 2500 persons during the three hours the bank is open on Saturday. A sixth teller will likely be needed in the near future.

Two more persons were added to the staff of the First Federal Savings and Loan recently. E. G. Deems, 32 N. Westmoor-av, secretary of the association and in charge of the Hilltop office, said. Expansion of the office space can be carried out as increased business makes this necessary.

Deems declined to give figures to emphasize business conditions but did say that "business has been very good during the first six months of this year."

The Ohio National Bank has customers within a radius of 10 miles of the office, with some customers in foreign lands who still maintain their bank accounts here.

The bank is in a position to perform all duties of a downtown bank and offers complete banking services specializing in various types of loans, including first mortgage, auto purchase and home repair loans, Wilcox said. He has been with the local office 22 years. Elmer Hegenberger has been at the local office 17 years.

ROUTE 40 TO BE WIDENED

Work of widening Route 40 from the city limits to the new GM plant is expected to get under way this fall. State highway engineers have been studying the situation for several months. Opening of the plant is expected to cause a difficult traffic problem during the rush hours.

Bean Dinner Time But No Beans

Plans for reviving the Hilltop Bean Dinner this summer were given up several weeks ago and for a very good reason. No beans.

Yes sir, the lowly bean has long since hit the hard-to-get list and rates almost in the same category as nylon hose and many other more publicized items.

Time was when the Hilltop Bean Dinner, sponsored annually for four years by the Hilltop Business Men's Association, was the biggest single gathering in the community. Crowds estimated at upwards of 40,000 persons jammed Westgate Park to consume hundreds of pounds of beans, crackers and gallons

This Is How GM Plant Will Look

Here's an architect's drawing of the new Columbus plant of the Fisher Body Ternstedt Division of General Motors. The new plant will be devoted to the manufacture of hardware and fittings for Fisher Bodies on General Motors cars and is expected to be in operation in September.

Arch Rodgers Second Mayor Of Valleyview

Archibald Rodgers, 2678 Valleyview-dr, is mayor of the village of Valleyview, population approximately 500.

The village, incorporated since August, 1939, "is progressing well and is in a good financial status," according to Rodgers.

Rodgers is the second mayor and is serving his second term in that office. Previous to being elected the first man of Valleyview, Rodgers was the first president of the village council. The late Lafayette Wareham was the first mayor.

Joseph Ohnsman is serving as president pro tem of the village council. Other members of the council are George Halliday, Charles Ringer, Frank Seiple, Edward Keleman and Henry Whipple.

L. M. Blum is the village marshal and John Laner is his assistant. Thelma Turner holds the office of village clerk and Mrs. Alma Turner serves as the village treasurer.

Hilltop Is A Community Of Home Owners, Survey Shows

Local Eagles Club Has 774 Members

The 774 members of the Aquila Fraternal Order of Eagles, whose clubhouse is located at 2358 W. Broad-st, will be host to 1800 Aeries of Eagles at their national convention to be held in Columbus, Aug. 22 to 25.

The Neil House will be headquarters for this gathering. The Hilltop post will share the duties of host with five other city groups of Eagles.

The officers of the local Eagle organization are: Virgil Conrad, 142 N. Wayne-av, worthy president; G. W. White, 2527 Sullivant-av, secretary; Lee Clark, N. Oakley-av, treasurer; F. E. Mahoney, 2735 Ridge-av, worthy chaplain; C. M. Hindall, 601 S. Wayne-av; George Neuffer, 1011 W. State-st; Robert Gibson, S. Powell-av, trustees.

The club sponsors a "family get-together" every Saturday night.

The Hilltop is predominantly a community of home owners and leads all other sections of the city in the percentage of occupancy, past city-wide surveys have revealed. Although there has been no census taken since 1940 it is a well established fact that the percentage of home owners has increased steadily since that time.

The present housing shortage which first began to be felt in the early days of the war has caused many persons to buy rather than run the risk of being without a house even though real estate prices have continued to mount. So while there are no figures definitely to establish the fact, real estate men are convinced that more persons own their own homes on the Hilltop than at any previous time.

The coming of the General Motors hardware plant and other business developments west are expected to see an unprecedented number of homes built on the Hilltop and adjacent areas in the next half dozen years. At the present time plans have been made for 1136 housing units on the Turner farm near the new factory. Other major residential

O. H. Craft

Guest editor of the column Looking Ahead (column 1, page 1F) is O. H. Craft, a real estate dealer on the Hilltop during the past 18 years. Craft has already seen some of his earlier predictions concerning the growth of the community come true.

22 Carriers Needed Here

Addition of two more carriers on the Hilltop on June 16 reflects the continued growth of the community. The Hilltop Branch of the Post Office now has 22 carriers and a rural route whereas in 1935 there were only 13 carriers.

Local carrier routes average about 450 stops although some have more and some less, depending on the volume of mail to be distributed. This means roughly that each time 450 to 500 new homes go up in the community an additional carrier is needed, John Raymond, superintendent of the local office, explained.

In 1930 Raymond and Vernon Stout came to the Hilltop office. At that time there were no carriers working from the Hilltop station. Carriers worked from Station 17D on the West Side. In 1935, 13 carriers were moved out to the local office after it had been enlarged.

Again in 1940 it was necessary to double the floor space of the office and mail rooms. Present facilities will allow for addition of eight more carriers, Raymond said. Two clerks have been added since 1935 in addition to the extra carriers.

At the time the last two carriers were added some additional territory was added. The village of Valleyview was taken from the mounted route and made a foot delivery route and Letchworth and Demorest-avs were put on a regular two-trip delivery after having been mounted routes.

"Completion of the General Motors Plant is expected to increase the volume of mail handled through the local office," Raymond said, "but it is difficult to predict to what extent this might run."

Erection of 1136 housing units near the plant, as proposed, would mean a substantial increase in the volume of home delivered mail coming through the office.

Despite setbacks caused by material shortages construction of the new Columbus plant of the Fisher Body-Ternstedt Division of General Motors, is moving along as rapidly as possible and machinery at present is scheduled to be moved into the new structure by early fall.

Fisher Body officials disclosed here that although the plant is expected to begin operations almost as soon as the machinery is placed, construction work on the new administration building is not expected to be completed for several weeks after the plant opens.

Meanwhile, the temporary Fisher Body-Ternstedt Division offices in the Hartman Building, 79 East State-st, Columbus, is accepting applications from prospective employees.

Officials said that the ultimate peak employment at the plant will reach the 5,000 mark. This figure will be attained as the new unit moves into full production.

To Manufacture Hardware

The new Columbus plant will be devoted to the manufacture of automobile body hardware and fittings for Fisher Bodies on all General Motors cars. The Fisher Body-Ternstedt Division is recognized as the world's largest producer of auto body hardware and fittings and the Columbus plant is one of three operated by the division with the main plant in Detroit and another unit at Trenton, N. J.

James L. Conlon, who headed the division aircraft instrument project during the war when thousands of delicate instruments regarded as the "eyes of a plane" were produced, will be resident manager of the Columbus plant.

The Fisher Body executive and his family arrived in Columbus early in July. They took up residence at 2235 Oxford-rd, in Upper Arlington. Mr. and Mrs. Conlon have two daughters, Carol and Mary Jane, and three sons, Don, Jack and Ray.

A native of Fort Lambton, Ontario, Conlon attended Loyola College in Montreal and the University of Detroit. He joined Ternstedt in 1925, working as an experimental mechanic and draftsman until November, 1933, when he was named chief draftsman.

Conlon was assigned to the standards engineering department in April, 1934, and three months later was named assistant to the engineer in charge of Fisher Body's mechanical parts engineering department. He returned to Ternstedt as chief engineer in July, 1938. Two years later he became works manager, supervising the aircraft instrument program. Last February he was appointed plant manager of the Ternstedt Detroit plant. He is a World War I veteran having served as a field artillery officer.

Paul Jones, executive assistant to the general plant superintendent of Fisher Body Ternstedt Division in Detroit, will be works manager, and John Broder, industrial relations director of Ternstedt in Detroit, will be general factory superintendent of the Columbus plant. Both have been associated with Ternstedt for more than 20 years.

Hilltop Man of the Year Selection Is To Be Revived This Year, Legion States

Selection of the Hilltop "Man of the Year" is expected to be resumed again this year after having been passed up during the past year. It was revealed by members of the Camp Chase Post No. 26, American Legion.

The award has been made at various intervals since 1936 with seven persons having been so honored. The selection is made by a committee composed of two members of the American Legion Post and one representative from the Hilltop Business Men's Association.

First to be chosen in 1936 was Rev. R. Talmage Magann, at that time pastor of the Hillcrest Baptist Church. He was selected because of his interest in community betterment. (His photograph was not available at this writing.)

In 1937 Ray Hays, deceased, was the selection in recognition of his work as a member of the Columbus Board of Education and for his part in helping organize the move to get a stadium for West High School.

Bateman Named
Dr. J. F. Bateman, superintendent of the Columbus State Hospital, was honored in 1938. He had taken over that institution one year earlier and had conducted an energetic program of activities for the betterment of the patients. In 1939 C. Carlton Hartley,

Dr. J. F. Bateman

C. H. Campbell

publisher of The Hilltop Record, was given the title for his efforts along the line of community betterment as a publisher and as president of the HBMA.

C. H. (Doc) Campbell, Hilltop pharmacist and civic leader, was the "Man of the Year" in 1940 as

Ray Hays

$1,500,000 worth of war bonds. Cooper moved from the Hilltop shortly after that time but his work of bond selling continued until he had reached better than the $10,000,000 mark.

Robert M. Draper

Robert M. Draper, Hilltop attorney and member of the Columbus Board of Education, was the selection in 1944.

C. Carlton Hartley

Mose M. Williams, a member of the committee named to study the selection this year, said that a meeting to discuss possible candidates for the honor would be held early this fall and that a selection would probably be announced at the past commanders dinner in the early winter.

Williams pointed out that the recognition is for work done during the year previous to the selection and not an accumulation of activities over a period of years.

The award is represented by a certificate appropriately framed. It reads in part:

"This certifies that (recipient) has been awarded this certificate in recognition of his outstanding leadership, loyalty and service to our community and has been declared the HILLTOP MAN OF THE YEAR."

Claggett Has 1st Anniversary In Real Estate

First anniversary of Claggett Realty is being celebrated this week, announces Mr. M. Claggett. The firm has offices at 2830 W. Broad-st., at Ogden-av.

"The future of Hilltop real estate is the best in the city", Mr. Claggett stated this week, in looking back over the events of the past year.

"It is true that real estate values may be high today but at the same time all the value of property in this community cannot be based upon what it will bring as an investment. Most properties being sold here today are for homes and not investments."

He bases his belief in the future of this community on the fact that home owners of the Hilltop are in the steady income bracket, the middle classes. He also believes present price trends will be maintained for some time yet.

"We are not the oldest realty firm in the city but I'm certainly proud of the job we have done in the past year," he stated.

Plans in the near future call for complete remodeling of the Claggett Building at Ogden-av and Broad-st so as to accommodate several offices and small shops.

Associated with Claggett as salesmen in the firm are Messrs. Schaaf, Gearhart, Bigelow, Chakera, Herron, Jones, Wine and Snyder.

obtaining materials, there will be completed this year in the Hilltop section upwards of 150 living units. 1947 should see that figure at least doubled, and 1948 will triple the 1946 figure. This does not take into account the special building project that is being planned west of Georgesville-rd. of approximately 1000 units, presumably to house employees of General Motors who are building a new plant in the vicinity. By that time we will have no place to go, building speaking. It isn't as easy to go out and open up a subdivision as it used to be, and have the city or the county put in the improvements and let the subdividers charge the improvements to the new lot owners. There has been too much written off in the past in such procedure. The principal fault of subdividing in the past was that it was too often brought into being too far in advance of its need and as a consequence the original purchasers usually lost, because they were either unable or unwilling to hold on, but now we do need a new subdivision properly laid out and protected. Such a place is not definitely in the planning at the moment, but will be in evidence, before urgently needed. In a belated realization of this situation there is a scramble on for good residence lots.

The new plant that is being erected directly west of our community that is expected to employ upwards of 7500 people at its peak employment, will bring a new throb to our community life. It will also bring with it, new needs for additional business ventures to supply the needs of a growing community. Many new ventures are being planned and are in the immediate offing. Some things perhaps that we have never had before. In our growing pains, we should not overlook the needs of healthy youth. We need specifically an additional bowling alley. That is planned and will be brought into being, when materials are available. We ought to have another swimming pool located near Westgate Park, and have it arranged so it may be used as an ice skating rink in the winter. We need a roller skating rink and a nice place to dance and dine that is, of course, all well managed, which might be combined with a residential hotel idea. These are all commercial and profitable ventures waiting to be tapped by those with the capital and the courage to act. All of these are quite wholesome, and better than too much movieitis which many are now getting at an impressionable age.

Laboratory Needed

We need for the immediate future a clinical laboratory, and limited hospital facilities, and we anticipate this is on the agenda. We need a day nursery and we need a loop transportation service that connects Sullivan-av and Broad-st.

There are some things coming up, that cannot be discussed at the moment, for obvious reasons, but we are on the march, and each and everyone of us have a part to play. While we are expanding materially, we have another side to think about, and we have a good background for that also. To be generous to a fault, tolerant, and careful in our judgments that we may continue to have the approbation and good will of our neighbors and friends far and near, that we may be known as a community "WORKING TOGETHER IN HARMONY" so look up and live today, keep both feet on the ground, and we will check up on the next issue of the Progress Edition.

Great is he who enjoys his earthenware as if it were plate, and not less great is the man to whom all his plate is no more than earthenware. —Leighton.

Story In Business 18 Years

Clarence B. Story, 308 W. Terrace-av, owner of Story Dry Cleaners, 2420 W. Broad-st, has been in the dry cleaning business on the Hilltop for 18 years.

Story is first vice-president of the Hilltop Business Men's Association.

Pictured above is the present location of his store. He has operated a dry cleaning business within 50 feet of the room for the past 14 years.

Happiness consists, not in possessing much, but in being content with what we possess. He who wants little always has enough. —Zimmermann.

Hilltop Pool Is Popular Place In Hot Weather

The average attendance at the Hilltop Swimming Pool is 9,000 on a typically hot summer week, according to Robert Case, 87 N. Westmoor-av, manager of the pool.

These thousands are quickly refreshed for the water comes from a well and enters the pool at 44 degrees. The sun warms the crystal-clear water to around 55 degrees.

On hand to maintain safety at the pool are four young, well-trained life guards. They are, Jody Gram, 3048 Steele-av, James Remington, 123 N. Ogden-av, Bill Sapp, 164 S. Harris-av, and Don Anderson, of Southampton-rd.

Swimming Classes Nearly 200 bathers were enrolled in Red Cross swimming classes at the pool in the middle of the swimming season. After 15 lessons, under the instruction of Gram and James Seagle, 881 S. Ogden-av, most of these people were considered good swimmers.

Seagle is a city fireman and teaches during his spare time. Seventy-five others were taking tests for junior and senior life saving awards at the Hilltop pool. These tests took about six weeks to complete. Swimmers under 16 years of age are in the junior classification, those over 16 are in the senior group.

Village Of New Rome Incorporated In '41 Has Population of 65; Property Values High

New Rome, an incorporated village since September, 1941, has a population of approximately 65. Last fall the village citizens elected their third mayor, Lawrence Karnes, of 5354 W. Broad-st. In that election Karnes was a candidate against his wife, who was the incumbent. He took office in January, 1946.

But, the results of the election didn't leave Mrs. Karnes without a job. She just took over a post on the Board of Public Affairs, which her husband had held during her term as mayor.

Riebel First Mayor
Otto G. Riebel, a retired grocery store and lumber yard owner, was the first mayor of the village. He took over the reins in September, 1941, and served until he retired, due to ill health, in May, 1944. Mrs. Karnes succeeded Riebel. Mr. Karnes served as the first president of the village council under Riebel.

Karnes, owner of the Sohio Service Station at Rome and the supervisor of a Standard Oil Co. route served as the first president of the village council under Riebel.

Members of the council include R. C. Woda, E. W. Busick, Thomas Long, Elam Carter, Arthur Simon, and Walter Stauch.

On the Board of Public Affairs are: Elma Riebel, wife of the first mayor, president; Mrs. Karnes, clerk, and Ruth Lane. Fred Michel, an employee of the Bell Telephone Co., has served as village clerk since the village was incorporated. His wife, Lottie, is the village treasurer.

Village council meets the first Tuesday of the month in the Prairie Township School in New Rome.

Village Boundaries
Only houses on both sides of Broad-st for one block are within the corporation limits. Homes on roads running north and south from Broad-st are in the area, which for years has been known as Rome. This territory, including Rome Manors, a new addition, is not incorporated.

Real estate values according to sources in the business, are much higher by comparison than they are on the Hilltop. Some houses that were built in that district to sell for around $4000, are now being sold for nearly twice the amount. One home built just before the war to sell for $3500 was sold recently at $7800, it was reported.

Property values have been inflated due to the influence of the General Motors Plant, which is located nearby. Buyers apparently believe values will go even higher when the plant has started production it has been said.

Considerable Building
A grocery store and six houses are now under construction in the Rome area. Probably more would be in process of being built if materials were available.

Ralph Clement, for many years a builder, is erecting a new, modern, self-serve grocery at 5279-83 W. Broad-st. The store, which has a floor space of 28 feet by 80 feet, will feature a soda fountain, patent medicines, appliances, in addition to groceries and meats.

Clement, for 15 years a resident of Rome lives at 163 Lawrence-av.

Heavy Drinkers
A chicken drinks a pound of water for each pound of feed eaten.

Camp Chase Membership Now At 500

The Camp Chase Post, No. 92, American Legion, this year attained the membership peak it had in 1933, with 500 members. Over half of these are veterans of the second World War, according to Larry G. Scales, 803 S. Eureka-av, post commander.

The most important project of the organization is the present time is the planning of a memorial building to serve as quarters for the post. The site for the building, which has been secured, is located between Westmoor and Westgate-aves, on the north side of Broad-st.

To date, the post, with the co-operation of other groups and individuals, has received $13,000 in contributions, which will go towards the construction of the building. An estimated cost of the building has not been announced.

Building Committee
Edgar G. Planck is chairman of the memorial building committee. Commander Scales is secretary, and Chester W. Wagner is treasurer of the group. Other members of the committee are: Ray McVay, Sr., E. H. Brown, Frank Morgan, and Mike Austin.

Officers of the post, serving with Commander Scales, are: William L. Davies, first vice commander; George A. Ward, second vice commander; Ray F. McVay, chaplain; John F. Shafer, historian; Harry M. Burns, sergeant-at-arms; Robert C. Hitchcock, personnel adjutant; Michael H. Austin, past commander; Robert Jones, finance officer, and John E. Martindale, adjutant.

The executive committee includes: Ernest H. Brown, Edgar G. Planck, J. C. V. Richardson, Francis Sheridan, Robert C. Hitchcock, and William D. Ferguson.

The home trustees are: Jay G. Bowser, Harold C. Gourley, and Dewey A. Stout.

Another financial drive will take place as soon as building materials are available. No certain date has been set for the campaign.

Hilltop Is A Community Of

developments have been mentioned as possibilities for the near future.

Many New Homes
The W. Mound-st sector in the vicinity of Whitethorne-av is seeing a considerable building boom at present. The Westmoor Building Co. is erecting 54 homes on Butler-av, all of which will be sold to veterans only. Several of these houses are already completed. They will be in the $2000 class.

One hundred new homes are to be built in the Hardesty Tract on Mound-st between Highland and Wayne-aves. These houses are being built for veterans by Alfred E. Tonti. They are to be of brick and frame and stone and frame construction and will sell at $7500 to $8500.

Eureka Park Addition, when developed, will provide building sites for upward of 250 homes. This tract of land is owned by John Davis, owner of the Hilltop Riding Academy, and will be opened up as soon as material permits building on a large scale.

The year 1946 is believed by many persons to have seen the largest number of new homes built in the community since 1929. The following year was likewise a boom year for home construction but the outbreak of war put a definite limit on the building of new homes.

The wholesome atmosphere and surroundings of the Hilltop have influenced people working in all parts of the city to take up residence in this community. Prevailing winds from the southwest keep the air clearer of smoke than many other sections of the city.

A natural pride that comes with home ownership causes many families to give more concern to the appearance of their homes than is often the case in areas where rental properties predominate.

9500 Homes On Hilltop
A city-wide distributing agency estimates that there are approximately 9500 homes and apartments in the area bounded by Central-av on the east and including everything to the city limits south, west and north. Estimating that there are 4.25 persons per residence, this would mean that 39,375 persons live on the Hilltop. (The 4.25 figure was the average for this section in 1940 but is quite evidently low at this time in view of the number of homes where two or more families are doubled up due to lack of houses.)

Add to these figures the hundreds of homes in Valleyview, New Rome and other communities within two or three miles of the city limits, and the figure will exceed 50,000 persons residing in the trading area of Hilltop stores.

Hilltop's Biggest

beans. The object was for customers to see who could come the closest to guessing the actual number of beans in each jar or container.

First Held In 1938
The first Hilltop Bean Dinner was held on July 27, 1938, with an estimated crowd of 35,000. Approximately 2600 pounds of boiled beans were disposed of in record time and it was decided then and there that more beans was a "must" for future affairs. As a consequence close to 4000 pounds of beans were prepared and served each year thereafter in spite of rain on at least two occasions.

George Painter, local real estate salesman (at that time owner of Painter's Market No. 3), was chairman of the first picnic. The West High School band furnished music.

The next year with E. O. Melvin (retired hardware merchant) as chairman, the affair took on other aspects of attraction. In addition to a band concert, there was a greased pig contest, a bathing beauty contest, jitterbug contest and other special attractions. In addition to games and contests for young and old. Another record crowd turned out to see Ella Marie Hulls take top honors in the beauty contest.

The third annual affair, held on July 31, 1940, was dedicated to the Franklin Sparks family who had just recently won the Columbus typical family title. Sparks is at present owner of the Hauntz Ultra Modern Market and Bakery. Charlie Kent, another ex-grocer now on the retired list, headed the committee responsible for staging the bean dinner. The afternoon started with a parade to the park with hundreds of boys and girls participating. Bonnie Lear won the bathing beauty contest.

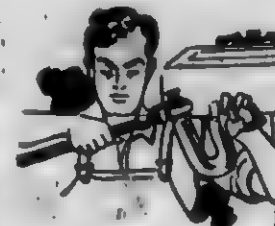

Final Dinner In 1941
The fourth and final edition of the bean dinner was held on July 30, 1941, with Mr. Melvin serving a second time as chairman of the event. Rain interfered that year and it was necessary to hold many of the features of the afternoon on the next evening. Rain did not dampen the appetites of those who did attend during the afternoon for approximately 4,000 pounds of boiled beans were dished out before rain put a stop to the affair.

The second night saw equally bad weather with rain breaking up the event at an early hour but not before Rye Price had been

THE HILLTOP RECORD

You Can If You Must

Have you ever noticed that the more you do, the more you are able to accomplish. The world's leaders have proven this beyond dispute. They advanced from one peak to another—each just a little higher than the last.

It took courage, and faith and immense patience, but all leaders have these. Possibly that is why they lead. Perhaps you have heard the bedtime story of the turtle that was pursued by a dog or something of other, and Father, telling the story, said the turtle escaped by climbing a tree.

Junior (objecting)—But, turtles can't climb trees.

Father (admitting)—Yes, that's so, but you see this turtle had to climb a tree.

Contentment is natural wealth, luxury is artificial poverty. —Socrates.

Sale Of Tax Stamps Averages $3000 Per Week

The sale of sales tax stamps on the Hilltop reflects in a measure the trend in retail sales volume but cannot be used as direct index due to the fact that the stamps can be purchased at other sales agencies in the city.

Koonz Drugs 2461 Sullivant, av. has the agency for sales tax stamps on the Hilltop. Starting in 1942 the first week's total business amounted to only $52. At present the tax stamp sales average about $3,000 per week. The stamp business is not a seasonal item, Henry Koonz, owner of the store, says. The volume runs fairly constant winter and summer. However, the type of merchandise available on the market does have a bearing on the denomination of the stamps most in demand.

For instance with the return of new automobiles, refrigerators and other more expensive items there has been more of a demand for the $15 stamp. Some lumber dealers and house contractors also buy this stamp, the largest denomination issued.

1c Stamps In Demand
The 1c variety is by far the most in demand Koonz said. From 35,000 to 50,000 of the 1c stamps are sold each week. The 2c and 3c denominations follow in that order with others ranging up to the $15 stamp.

Individual sales run anywhere from 50c to as much as $900. They are sold to retail establishments and to vendors who sell from house to house. One lady who sells artificial flowers regularly buys 50c worth of 1c stamps for her house-to-house trade.

Westgate Sector As Seen From The Air

The western area of the Hilltop is seen in this recent aerial photo snapped by Record Photographer Bill Gibbon. The view is looking east and illustrates graphically the number of homes which have been constructed in the Westgate area in recent years and the limited number of building sites still remaining.

Hilltop Male Chorus Now 15 Years Old, Active Again

The Hilltop Male Chorus will complete 15 years of an organization on Oct. 26, 1946, making it the oldest musical group on the Hilltop with the possible exception of church choirs.

Organized following one of the early Hilltop Minstrels, the group has had an interesting and successful record in concert and competitive singing. The following brief resume of the early days of the chorus are taken from a running account of the club's activities from the time of its inception, as reported by C. H. Campbell, first secretary.

On Monday evening, Oct. 26, 1931, eight men interested in singing met in the studio of the Hilltop School of Music to consider organization of a male chorus.

Sponsored by HBMA
The Hilltop Business Men's Association at a previous meeting had voted to sponsor such an organization and had allotted the sum of $50 to be used in purchasing music and for other necessary expenses.

The group formed an organization to be known as the Hilltop Business Men's Association Male Chorus (This was later shortened to Hilltop Male Chorus). with C. J. Kohn, president, C. H. Campbell, secretary-treasurer, W. Haydn Jones, director, and J. Howard Young, chairman of the music committee. This committee was authorized to receive names of prospective members, conduct try-outs and converse with the director in selecting music.

Miss Ethel Greiser was engaged as accompanist and the time of rehearsal was set for each Monday evening.

Rehearsals were held regularly until shortly before Christmas when a holiday vacation was declared. On Sunday, Dec. 27, the chorus made its first public appearance, a 15-minute program in the Little Theatre of the Columbus Art Gallery. This program was intended to be broadcast over Station WAIU but due to an overlapping of the previous numbers, only part of the first number reached the ears of the radio audience.

The program favorably impressed Mr. Furniss, station manager of WAIU, and he promised to give the chorus a full program at some future time. This promise was fulfilled a few weeks later when the chorus presented a half hour program from the studios of Station WAIU.

On Feb. 23, 43 members of the chorus, accompanied by the wives of several members making a total of 66, journeyed to Marion by bus where they competed in the Central Ohio Elstieddoff. Five male choruses were entered in the competition, singing "Land Sighting" by Edward Grieg. These choruses were from Lima, Marion, Fostoria and Ohio Northern University. The Hilltop chorus was shaded slightly by the more experienced Lima chorus.

The chorus was featured in The Hilltop Minstrel presented at the West High School Auditorium on Feb. 25 and 26.

First Concert Netted $6.70
First money earned by the group for its services was $6.70 for a concert sponsored by the John Burroughs Parent-Teacher Association.

One of the high spots in the history of the chorus came on Nov. 4, 1935, little more than a year from the first meeting, when the group won first place in the Southern Ohio Elstieddoff at Jackson. A photostatic copy of the prize check for $300 was framed and is in the possession of the director, W. Haydn Jones.

On Apr. 20, 1934, the Hilltoppers tied for first place with the Jackson Male Chorus in the Southern Ohio Elstieddoff and received half of the $250 prize. On Nov. 13, 1936, the Hilltop group took second honors in the Jackson song fest, receiving $100 for their performance. Again it was Lima who took top honors.

On May 26, 1939, the chorus held an elstieddoff at the Hillcrest Baptist Church with more than five hours of competition. Feb. 22, 1940, the chorus competed in an elstieddoff at Lima and again lost out to the Lima chorus.

The second Hilltop Elstieddoff was held at West High School on May 24 with the local male chorus taking top honors. On Feb. 22, 1941, a mixed chorus made up of the Hilltop Male Chorus and ladies from the community won first prize in an elstieddoff held at Memorial Hall. That was the last competition entered by the local singers.

War Limited Activities

The advent of the war greatly limited the activities of the group. Up until the present time the chorus has been gotten together for the minstrel show each year but little more than that has been attempted. With the present officers, headed by E. R. Graham as president, it is planned to start out on a regular program of concerts and other appearances after the group starts work in the fall.

All through the years since its organization many activities in addition to competitive work have been engaged in by the men. Almost every year a family picnic has been held during the summer. Numerous concerts have been put on by the group all over Columbus and central Ohio. The work of the club has gained recognition all over the state.

W. Haydn Jones, the original director, has continued in that capacity most of the time since the start. Prof. Dale V. Gilliland, from Ohio State University, held the position for about three years but Jones has again taken over direction of the chorus.

Thanks, Kindly
Last Friday was a red letter day at the Record... On the occasion of the formal opening of our new building we received 25 baskets of flowers and beauties they were.

To all who so graciously extended their greetings we say thanks again.
And a great big "Thank you" to the Hilltop mail man who did that bang job of delivering our 48 page paper last Thursday morning. Ten extra carriers were sent out to assist on the job.

All in all, we were most pleased with our mail. If you were unable to visit us last week or this, just remember you are always welcome to stop in and look over our complete plant.

Open House Reflections: First to visit our new plant on Friday morning were Mr. and Mrs. Will Hennick and Mrs. W. R. Wray, and bearing a gallon jug of their very good sweet cider as a gift they have it for sale too.

Norman Lee Spradley and Janice Lee Carper complain because they had given in their hair... Edith Salce would like to have a copy of last week's Pathfinder Magazine to see the story of the 10th anniversary of the old home (turn) Jack Stark advises that since we used their old phone number in last week's special edition we must have to print the entire edition over if we'll just tell you people to dial RA. 8493.

And another old phone number was used: Hilltop Bowling Alley, should be RA. 0128.

Miss N. Furka-av. reports she has dahlias measuring 12 inches across... Told that Lucille Burkett will receive her Master's degree in education Friday.

Business men, Kiwanis, etc., were visitors at the Record on Wednesday afternoon to see this week's issue come off the press.

Herb Davis back from the lake and looking chipper... Quite a number of Hilltoppers went to Beulah Park Sunday for the annual Charity News picnic.

Mose and Mildred Williams flying to Washington this week... Carl and Luanne Hartley going back to Indiana this week in time to get back into school again.

Death Takes Father Of Local Attorney

Funeral services were held yesterday afternoon for Frederick G. Smith, 69, one of the founders of the American Education Press, Inc., at 400 S. Front-st. He is the father of Donald F. Smith, local attorney, with offices at 2408 1/2 W. Broad-st.

Mr. Smith had been ill only a short while. He passed away at the residence, 3383 Hard-rd. Also surviving are his wife, Mrs. Mary Grace Smith; a stepson, 1st Lt. Robert G. Barker, U. S. Army, in Shanghai; two daughters, Miss Maude J. Smith and Mrs. Helen R. Livingston, both at the home, and a brother.

Mr. Smith, a native of Pittsfield, Mass., had lived here 25 years. He was formerly secretary of the publishing firm and was chairman of the board of directors at the time of his death.

It's Congratulations Both Ways

An exchange of congratulations was in order as the above Record photo was snapped Saturday. S. J. Westlake (left), founder of The Hilltop Record almost 30 years ago, congratulates C. Carlton Hartley, the present publisher, on the opening of the new Record Building as he stopped in to pay his respects. In turn, Hartley extends his congratulations to Mr. Westlake on his 78th birthday anniversary.

Despite his 78 years, more than 55 of them spent at the printing trade, Westlake works every day. He went back to work five years ago after attempting to retire in 1940. "I'm just like an old car. I've traveled a long way but have lots of good miles left yet," he remarked on his visit to the Record Saturday.

Westlake recalls that when he first started the Record he could look out of his shop window on Broad-st. and watch the Sullivan-av. cars all the way out to where they turned on Hagav-av. Quite a contrast with the more than 10,000 homes that now make up the Hilltop.

Trustees To Meet Next Tuesday Eve

Threatened action to file a mandamus suit against the Franklin Township Trustees to force them to set a date for a special election in setting a date for a special election requested in a petition submitted several weeks ago. The petition seeks to determine the will of the voters in that area on the matter of incorporating Camp Chase Village.

On Aug. 18 Prosecution Ralph J. Bartlett ruled that the trustees were within their jurisdiction in setting a date for a special election requested in a petition submitted several weeks ago. The petition seeks to determine the will of the voters in that area on the matter of incorporating Camp Chase Village.

One of the trustees contacted would give no indication of what action, if any, they would take when they meet on Tuesday. Legal counsel for the sponsors of the incorporation movement have accused the trustees of stalling. The township officials have maintained that because both platted and unplatted territory is included in the area proposed for incorporation, the matter should have gone to the Franklin County Commissioners.

The area to be incorporated includes a large area of farm land to the south of the city and the property of the Fisher Body-Ternstedt Division of General Motors. It is understood that legal counsel for the GM interests, railroad property involved and farmers interested in the area are prepared to fight any move to incorporate the territory running to the western edge of Franklin Township.

Mary Martin Hurt In Fall From Cliff

Mary Jane Martin, 18, of 706 S. Richardson-av. suffered a fracture of the spine and bruises about her face when she accidentally fell off a cliff late Saturday evening at Hayden Falls, near Dublin.

On Tuesday morning Miss Martin underwent a spinal operation and was reported in fair condition a few hours later. She was immediately placed in a cast, in which she is expected to remain for about three months.

Miss Martin told sheriff's deputies that she had been on a winter roast with 37 other West Side couples and that she and her escort, Jack Bates, 18, of 650 S. Terrace-av. were looking for firewood when she stepped behind a bush and slipped off the cliff. Her escort took her to University Hospital.

School To Start Here On Tuesday

Summer Vacation To End For Many

School bells will ring (figuratively speaking) for thousands of West Side and Hilltop boys and girls next Tuesday as the doors open for the start of the fall term.

The weatherman has been in step with the occasion as a succession of cool, autumn-like days reached this area more than a week ago. It has been a good foretaste of what lies ahead for the next couple of months when World

Registration Now On Principals of local high and elementary schools are at the buildings Wednesday, Thursday and Friday of this week to register new students in the community. The schools are open from 9 to 12 noon.

Series baseball games and weekend football clashes will be much in the mind of nearly every Columbusite. There is no way of determining the number that will be enrolled in local schools but it is a foregone conclusion that the upward trend in school attendance figures will continue since housing vacancies are non-existent. Many local homes house two or more family units because there is no place for them to live otherwise.

It is expected that more than a thousand students will be enrolled at West Junior High School and West Senior High School. Public elementary schools are likewise looking forward to growing attendance figures.

Kindergarten work will be introduced into two local elementary schools for the first time in several years. John Burroughs and West Broad Street schools will each have two classes in popular expected at each school.

Two new school principals will take over administrative positions in the elementary schools. They are Mylin Ross, who will head up the Highland Avenue School staff, and W. Berlow, who goes to Dana Avenue School.

Ross replaces Miss Marjorie Elliot and Barlow takes the place of Miss Dorothy King, both recently resigned. Several changes in teaching assignments have been made. It is expected that a complete list of teachers will be released in time for next week's Hilltop Record.

Applications For Ternstedt Firm Taken At Plant

One of the news stories in last week's 48-page special edition of the Hilltop Record was a few days behind the times as a result of delays in publication of the paper.

The Fisher Body-Ternstedt Division offices, formerly in the Hartman Building, has been moved to the new Columbus industrial park at Broad-st. and Georgesville-rd. Application for work with this new Columbus industry are invited to apply at the newly moved offices.

300 Attend K. of C. Family Picnic Sun.

More than 300 members of the Hilltop Council, K. of C., and their families were present at the family picnic held Aug. 25 at St. Joseph's Camp. Bill Finerman, program chairman, which were enjoyed by young and old alike.

Mrs. Betty DeJohn was the lucky winner of the nylon hose given as a prize in a bean guessing contest. Frank Strapp's "Old Timers" walloped Bill Gunning's "New Comers" in the softball game and will retain possession of the "cup."

Don (Chubby) Howard and his team were dunked in the swimming pool by George "Long" Leann and "Hunk" Kegelmeyer's skinhead boys, who showed too much pull for the "Heavies."

Moving pictures were shown in the evening by Orlan Mackey. Dancing ended the activities for the day.

Teaching Changes Are Announced

The start of school this fall will see several new faces on the faculty and the return of several others who have been on leave of absence in the service. In some cases the teaching staffs are still not complete due to last minute changes in teaching assignments.

At West High School Principal Irvin F. Young announced several changes on his staff. Fred Heischman replaces Coach Dale Rose in the physical education department. He will also serve as assistant to Coach Mack Pemberton in football and Coach George Williams in basketball.

In the mathematics department Theodore Mayer, a returned veteran, takes the place of Mrs. Margaret Flynn, who is retiring after 37 years on the staff; Miss Pauline Sparrow, a former member of the Spar, is replacing Miss Maude Davis, retired because of illness, and Sam Morrison, recently returned from service, takes up his work in the Junior High.

Lucille Gant will be the new vocal music teacher, replacing Mrs. Edith White. Dave Randall replaces the place of Eugene McPherson; resigned; Mrs. Evaline Hall will teach dramatics, replacing Roy Bowen, who goes to Ohio State University to teach and work on his doctor's degree.

Otto France, one of the last of the 21 teachers to return from service, will take up his position in commercial work filled during his absence by Mrs. Edith Dixon; a substitute teacher will take over the history teaching assignment of Edna Harrison, who is leaving.

In other changes in personnel, John Thompson, a former service man, will teach English in the senior High School, and Mrs. Margaret Harold will teach Spanish in Junior High School, taking the place of Mrs. Caroline Thompson.

The staff of teachers at St. Mary Magdalene School was announced in last week's Hilltop Record. School will start at that school on Thursday, Sept. 3.

West Broad Street Elementary At West Broad Street School Miss Matilda Stuart, principal, reports the following changes in teaching personnel.

Mrs. Anna Lewis Pieratt will teach the two classes in kindergarten work being offered this year.

Mothers of children who have signed up for kindergarten work at West Broad Street School have been invited to attend the organization meeting to be held at the school building at 2 o'clock this morning.

Any woman wishing information about the meeting or the work to be offered may call Mrs. O. W. Mens, 2725 Sutton-av. RA. 4580.

Stirling Staff Not Complete Principal L. W. Huber announced that his teaching staff at Stirling Junior High for this year was not complete at this time. He expects to make an announcement of all changes next week.

At John Burroughs School, Principal E. B. Graham has five new teachers this year. They are Miss Rita Holland, Mrs. Pauline Zink, kindergarten, Miss Betty Jank, fourth grade, Mrs. Mary Jank, fifth grade, and Mrs. Roberta Christman.

The Concordia Parish School, with grades one to six, will open its doors to children on Tuesday, Sept. 3, at 9 a. m. Those still wishing to enroll are asked to get in touch with the principal, Arthur Witt, before Saturday. The school is at 45 S. Brinker-av.

Highland Avenue School Mr. H. Ross, new principal at Highland, reports two changes on the teaching staff of that school. Mrs. Josephine K. Clark takes the fifth grade, replacing Mrs. Mildred Eichinger, a substitute teacher. Mrs. Olive M. Miller will be the second grade teacher, replacing Mrs. Jane Rose.

St. Aloysius School announces the following staff of teachers for the fall term which begins Wednesday, Sept. 4.

Williams has been in the central office since the fall of 1934. He started in the Columbus school system as a teacher at Highland Avenue when it was a junior high school in 1927. In 1930 he moved to the new West Junior High and was there until 1934.

In selecting heating equipment for the home, it should be remembered that there are two costs—original and operating—to be considered. The cheapest heating system from the standpoint of original first cost is very likely to be the most expensive to operate. The few dollars difference between dependable, well-made equipment, and something which will have to be replaced in a few years is very small when compared with the present expense.

When Eddie Was A Boy

When Eddie Rickenbacker (center) was 14, he was employed by Albert Zenker (second from right) as an apprentice. While working for the firm he designed and cut a monument for his father's grave. Last April, while in Columbus for his mother's funeral, Rickenbacker ordered a monument from Zenker Bros. for her grave, which is identical to his father's.

Zenker Brothers Observe Fiftieth Anniversary

A story of how a German immigrant boy came to America and through hard work and a determination to succeed built a successful business is the story of Albert Zenker, deceased, founder of the Zenker Monument Co., with a plant at 1126 W. Mound-st. and offices and display room at 238 E. Mound-st. This year the firm celebrates its 50th anniversary with members of the family still carrying on in the traditional Zenker manner.

Albert Zenker came to America in 1880 at the age of 17 because he hated the tyranny which he saw in his native Germany. He was impressed with the democratic life in this country and opportunities it seemed to offer to those who were willing to work. His first job was that of a common laborer but he soon determined that he needed further education.

After taking out his citizenship papers he returned to Germany to borrow money against his inheritance (his father was a wealthy German brewer). After obtaining some funds he went to Austria to attend a stone carving school, hoping to become a stone building contractor when he came back to this country. Having learned the trade he returned to America in 1883 and was engaged in the building business for several years.

Panic In 1893
In 1893 the financial panic brought building to a standstill and young Zenker started making grave markers for those people who could afford them. In 1896 he decided to go into the monument business. Up until that time he still intended to go back into the building field. His first plant was opened at the corner of Martin and W. Mound-st. In 1892 he had built a home for himself at 880 W. Mound-st.

An enlarged plant was located at Glenwood and W. Mound-st. (the present plant location) in 1904. The great 1913 flood practically destroyed the building and ruined most of the stock in the Zenker Monument plant. The establishment looked as if a bomb had been dropped in the midst of it, so complete was the destruction. But, like many another hardy West Sider, the Zenkers cleaned up the debris and rebuilt a plant on the old foundation. Mound-st., however, was so badly damaged that it was abandoned as a thoroughfare since neither the city nor the county wanted to take over the job of repairing it. The firm was thus handicapped by location until a display room was built at the present location, 238 E. Mound-st. in 1925. That same year the firm celebrated its 25th anniversary.

Retired After 25 Years
On the 25th anniversary Albert Zenker retired from active participation in the firm and sons William and Edwin took charge of the West Side plant while Rudolph and Herbert ran the office and display rooms. The oldest son, William, started to work for his father in 1912. Rudolph started in 1915 but the war interrupted his work and he returned to the firm in 1919. Herbert became affiliated with the business in 1924. Edwin in 1921, and Laura, a daughter, in 1928. In 1932 Rudolph died as a result of a war disability suffered in France from gas. At that time Edwin came to the store and William, Jr., a third generation Zenker, started to work at the plant.

During the depression years the company entered the industrial sand blasting field as a source of supplementary business, sand blasting metal, wood and putting the finishing effect on glass. This has continued to be a side line with the firm ever since.

In War Work
Days preceding the war found Zenkers manufacturing bomb cradles to be attached to scout planes being converted into bombers in the Philippine Islands. Bomb shells and detonators as well as hydraulic machines were built all through World War II after the factory had been extensively remodeled and re-tooled for this type of production. William, Jr., a capable mechanic, had complete charge of the war production while Herbert served as an airplane draftsman at Dayton for the duration.

Much of the precision machinery and equipment installed for war work has been converted into peacetime factory machinery. Mrs. Anna J. Zenker, wife of the founder, took an active part in the operation of the firm in addition to rearing her family. At various times she was a partner and manager of the company and at the start she even worked in the shop. She is still living, and resides at 332 S. Fifth-st., at the age of 78. Her daughter, Miss Laura Zenker, the firm's bookkeeper, lives with her. The elder Mr. Zenker passed away in 1941 at the age of 77.

The famous Capt. Eddie Rickenbacker once worked for the Zenkers when he wanted to buy a monument for his father's grave. Being without funds to buy the marker he worked long enough to pay for it. This past April Rickenbacker purchased a similar stone to mark the grave of his recently deceased mother. The August, 1945, edition of Cosmopolitan Magazine tells of Eddie's employment in the monument factory.

William Zenker is a resident of the Hilltop, residing at 224 Binnabld. Edwin lives at 240 E. Mound-st. Herbert resides at 2188 N. High-st. and William, Jr., lives at 242 E. Mound-st. Edwin has been active in Boy Scout work

Community Chest Goals To Be Set

For the first time in the 25-year history of Community Chest campaigns in Franklin County, the goal for the coming drive will be set at a public budget hearing. Financial needs of the 65 local agencies which comprise the 1947 chest will be presented at the September meeting of the board of trustees at 2 p. m. Wednesday, Sept. 4, in the council room of the city hall. The public is invited to attend.

Allen Gundersheimer, president of the Fashion, is president of the Community Chest, and Robert Weller, 2424 Bexley Park-rd., is chairman of the budget committee.

Trustees of the Community Chest are elected at open meetings, and heretofore they alone have heard the budget committee's report of its detailed study and its recommendations as to its goal. This year's campaign will be held the last two weeks in October.

Safety Is Needed
On Vacation Trip

Conservation Commissioner H. A. Rider, in a statement directed to the vacationing public, pointed out that the Ohio Division of Conservation maintains the state's recreational waters and parks primarily for the enjoyment of the general public and not these same recreational facilities which furnish immeasurable pleasure each year bring sudden death and misery to many families through vacation accidents and drownings. With but few exceptions they happen when people get so busy enjoying themselves they toss care and precaution to the four winds.

Principal causes of most drownings in public waters can be laid to overloading rowboats, swimming pranks, and a general careless attitude for precaution.

A large number of vacation resort victims are children and in most cases simply because parents fail to use those same common little rules for safety used so faithfully at home. Many a mother who will not allow her youngster to play near a tub of water in the home thinks nothing of letting the little tot enjoy himself at the water's edge unattended at a swimming resort.

Boats Capsize

Scores of boats capsize each year from overloading in spite of persistent warnings and prohibitions by conservation officers. A good sized rowboat will safely carry a number of passengers on calm waters. But most of Ohio's public water areas are shallow and a light breeze will whip up dangerous white caps in a matter of minutes, endangering any boat that has little "freeboard" above the water line. Carl W. Miller, chief of the Inland Lakes and Parks Section, points out that it's not so much the weight of the load that makes overloading unsafe but the number of hazardous shifting weights when too many passengers try to ride. Three or four persons in a boat for a joy ride while two persons should be the limit if both persons intend to fish.

Children passengers should always wear life preserver vests, an inexpensive item available at most hardware stores. If a vest is not handy, hitch the little fellow to a rope. If he slips overboard or if the boat capsizes, you'll at least be able to find him.

One life preserver or inflated tire inner tube will keep several persons afloat for an indefinite time and keeping one handy is a safety precaution that takes little time and trouble.

Recreational waters need not be a threat of uncertainty and death if a little common sense is mixed with your vacation.

Marie LaVerne Hoar
Is Recent Bride

Miss Marie LaVerne Hoar, 72 N. Wayne-av. and Mr. Hugh O. Outman, 464 Linwood-av. were united in marriage Saturday Aug. 10, at the home of the bride's sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Howard B. Balzer, 212 N. Terrace-av. The ceremony was read by Rev. Joseph B. Shellhaas, pastor of the Glenwood Methodist Church.

Mrs. Outman is head bookkeeper at the Southern Hotel and Mr. Outman is associated with the Battelle Institute.

For her marriage the bride selected a lovely early autumn costume of pale blue crepe with black accessories. Her corsage was of white orchids. Mrs. Florence Graecy, the matron of honor, wore dusty rose and carried roses. The best man was Mr. William Butler.

After Oct. 1 Mr. and Mrs. Outman will be at home to their friends at 464 Linwood-av.

Is Married On Aug. 16

Miss Jane Mahone, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. K. Mahone of Mt. Vernon and Mr. Robert E. Lamb, son of Mr. and Mrs. L. C. Lamb, 188 S. Harris-av. were married Aug. 16, at 3:30 p. m. by the Rev. J. B. Shellhaas at the parsonage of the Glenwood Methodist Church.

The couple was attended by Mr. and Mrs. Paul M. Churton.

The bride is a graduate of Mt. Vernon High School and is associated with the Ohio Farmers Insurance Co.

Ex-combat Photographer Escapes Serious Injury In Bike-truck Mishap

A veteran who served five years as a combat photographer without injury narrowly escaped being seriously hurt last week as he was on his way to photograph a doll show at Westgate Park.

Ray F. Gaugler, operator of the Lorre Photo Studio, 338 Hyatt-av., was painfully but not seriously hurt Friday when a coal truck caught the front wheel of his bicycle on Sullivan-av. He was on his way to cover an assignment for The Hilltop Record when the accident occurred.

Suffering considerably from a blow caused when the handlebar of his bike struck him in the side, he called the Record to report that he would be unable to get the picture of the Doll Show even before he had been attended by a physician.

Instinctively he grabbed on to his new Speed Graphic camera as the bike was going over and prevented it from being damaged. Ray and his camera are as inseparable as a "boy and his dog," he never leaves the house without it even to go to the corner grocery.

"You can never tell when a good subject for a picture will turn up," the veteran photographer says. "So, I'm always prepared."

Before entering the service he had been a commercial photographer in Akron, where he operated his own studio for eight years. Some of his assignments at that time included getting pictures from the top of an auto traveling at 67 to 70 miles per hour, but at no time had he been hurt in that hazardous line of work.

Gaugler opened his studios on the Hilltop three months ago after getting his discharge from the service last November.

University Seeks Vacated Rooms

Does your son or daughter go to college outside of Columbus? If so, you are just the family the Ohio State University Housing Office is seeking for help in its current citywide housing campaign to find rooms for 5,000 students.

J. W. Brown, OSU housing coordinator, today made a special appeal to parents whose children are attending college away from home to turn over their extra bedrooms to Ohio State veterans.

"I feel that parents whose children may be experiencing the same struggles to get their educational opportunities elsewhere will be especially sensitive to the tremendous need which exists here," Brown said.

Persons who have a spare bedroom, a cellar recreation room which could be converted into living space or any other spare living quarters formerly used by their own sons and daughters are urged to turn these over to an Ohio State student. The rooms can be registered any time with the OSU housing bureau, which is open daily until 9 p. m.

A total of 20,000 students—over 11,000 of them veterans—are expected to converge on Columbus before the fall quarter opens on October 1.

With major University temporary housing projects slowed down by material shortages and all available dormitories and special facilities crowded to overflowing with long waiting lists, the problem of sheltering 5,000 OSU students—4,000 of them ex-service-men—lands squarely in the laps of Columbus citizens, officials say.

Activities Near Close In Local Parks; Big Doll Show Is Planned

Playground and park activities are rapidly drawing to a close for the year as tournaments in several sports are being held in local parks.

The start of school next week will find practically all of them out of the way.

Monday and Tuesday a city-wide horseshoe tournament was held at Sunshine Park. The results of this contest will be released later.

The second annual foul shooting contest was held yesterday at Sunshine Park for all West Side playgrounds.

As a final and special event for the city playgrounds, a doll show will be held in Lazarus assembly center, starting today and lasting through Saturday.

There are seven classifications into which the dolls are separated. They are: the prettiest, best dressed, largest, smallest, oldest, the doll with the prettiest hair and the most unusual doll. Each playground sends a winner for each of these classifications, which means that there will be 182 entries as there are 26 playgrounds participating.

All of the dolls will be displayed in locked glass cases in the assembly center. In addition to the city recreation's exhibit, there will be at least two exhibits of private collections of famous dolls.

Doll Collections Planned

One of these collections is of foreign dolls, the other is of dolls which are dressed to represent all of the presidents' wives' clothes. Some of these clothes are even made from parts of these first ladies' clothing.

The tennis tournament was held at Franklin Park courts Saturday, Aug. 24. Winners from the West Side are as follows: In the singles for boys, Pat Tonti, 3336 Wicklow-rd. representing Westgate Park; doubles, Jim Slager, 3122 Wicklow-rd. and Pat Tonti, 3336 Wicklow-rd., both from Westgate, were the winners. In the doubles for girls, Jean-

There were eight classifications in the doll show judging at Westgate Park Friday afternoon. Results were as follows:

Most life-like doll—Judy Reeb, first; Elsie Martin, second; and Susan and Judy Grady, third.

Prettiest doll—Sharon Jo Thompson, first; Nancy Turner, second; Barbara Hart, third.

Best dressed doll—Donna Marie Krivda, first; Norma Jean Newman, second; Barbara Hart, third.

Largest doll—Marilyn Strapp, first; Elsie Martin, second; Marion Holley, third.

Smallest doll—Carolyn McDevitt, first; Elsie Martin, second; Beverly Hays, third.

Oldest doll—Nina Jo Bates, first; Marilyn Strapp, second; Judy Reeb, third.

Facsimile To Serve Many General Uses

Facsimile transmission holds great promise of serving a wide variety of purposes, and its general application seems to be near at hand. It was used by the armed forces during the war.

Similar to wire photo transmission, material for facsimile broadcasting is fastened to a revolving cylinder. An electric eye records the light waves reflected for different shades of black, and then converts them into sound signals. The receiving set picks up the signals, reconverts them to electrical impulses. Chemically treated paper develops the impressions made as the photo reacts from light waves.

Not only can exact copies of newspapers and magazines reach the radio public in this manner, but other significant material can be transmitted. Police messages, fingerprints, pictures for identifying suspects, railroad dispatches and ship to shore weather reports are among the possibilities. Bills of lading, invoices, whole pages from ledger books, authenticated signatures on checks, transmission of languages unsuited to teleprinter keyboards are also feasible.

Another potential use—multiplex—would enable facsimile and sound to be transmitted and received simultaneously. Technicians are now figuring it out. This could open up new fields in education, home making, baby care, beauty aids, and many more where printed matter can be supplemented with oral instructions—or vice versa.

Facsimile transmission was invented several years ago and more patents have been issued recently on improved methods. No standards have as yet been adopted for facsimile transmission, but it is understood that the facsimile industry is preparing recommendations for consideration by the Federal Communications Commission. Several FM stations have been authorized by the FCC to conduct experimental facsimile broadcasts, and successful demonstrations of newspaper transmission have already been made.

Part-time Jobs Will Be Scarce, OSU Leaders Say

There probably will not be enough part-time jobs for all the Ohio State University students who need them next fall and the OSU Student Employment Office is facing an "appallingly difficult year," according to the annual report of Dr. Founta D. Greene, acting director of the office.

"During 1946-47, I anticipate the application of about 6,000 students in need of work. This, considering also a continued decrease in part-time openings, will mean that the Student Employment Office is faced with a tremendous task," Mrs. Greene declared.

The report showed that progressively through the past year part-time employment offerings have decreased with "the gradual change in employment from a war-time peak to a post-war period of adjustment."

"More time and money will need to be spent on promotion. More interviews will be conducted in order to make each placement. More checking, telephoning, and mailings will be needed for each student applicant," Mrs. Greene asserted.

More than 10,000 interviews were conducted this year, as compared with 5,500 the year before—indicative of the nearly doubled load carried by the office since the influx of thousands of students and their wives to the campus.

A total of 4,500 persons applied for jobs this year, compared with 3,250 last year. Ten thousand referrals were made to employers, a jump of more than 4,000 over the 5,900 referrals of the year before.

SIX TONS OF DISHES WASHED IN AVERAGE HOME ANNUALLY

Accelerated Salvaging of Household Fat Makes Possible Present Supplies of Soap for This and Other Household Chores

It has been calculated that every American housewife washes six tons of dishes every year! Add up the accumulation from 365 breakfasts, lunches, dinners and in-between snacks and the total would fill six trucks, experts say. Staggering as the task of washing six tons of dishes sounds, imagine how much more impossible the job would be without soap! The prospect of a soapless life is not on the horizon, however, as long as housewives keep up their present rate of salvaging fat. Department of Agriculture authorities point out that if it had not been for salvaged fat in 1945, housewives would have had 13 per cent less soap. Even so there are not enough industrial fats and oils available to meet the demand for soaps and other goods the public wants. Help Yourself Every time you turn in a pound of fat to your meat dealer you are actually helping yourself and your neighbors by relieving the shortage not only of soap but also of scarce items like table linen, draperies, floor coverings, even possibly some more nylons. Food experts too are urging fat conservation! Use and reuse every drop and ounce of beef, bacon and even lamb fat when you're cooking, they say. Then, when you've had all the food value of your fat, turn in the drippings and scrapings for salvage. The 800,000,000 people starving in Europe and Asia are scavenging in garbage cans for grease that many an American family washes down the drain. Fats are scarce everywhere. We, as a nation, must be careful not to waste material, which if properly used would save human lives in some other country.

One Pound Helps Sixteen tablespoons of used fat makes a pound. One pound of used cooking fat turned over to a meat dealer helps relieve the shortage of industrial fats and freeze enough soap fats to help make a box of packaged laundry soap, or six bars of laundry soap, or five bars of toilet soap. The lady engineer and general manager of such a household therefore can save and salvage enough used, cooking fat to take care of her dishwashing needs. Remember that in addition to dishes, literally tons of clothes need washing every year—miles of woodwork and linoleum must be scrubbed and it takes mountains of soap. Sit down and figure out the amount of soap... and the amount of fat... required to keep your household clean. Supplies Never Lower Supplies of edible and inedible fats and oils all over the world have never been as low as they are today. Fats and oils imports to the U. S. are still only a shadow of their pre-war tonnage. The only tangible way to get more raw materials for soap making and other uses is by turning in more used cooking fat. Continued conservation of ever-dropping used cooking fat will prevent shorter supplies of soap. Accelerated fat salvage—the skinning of stumps, scraping of pans, rendering of raw and cooked fat means improvement in soap supply and a slight easement in the household burden of six tons of dishes every year.

long, cold winters or high fuel the annual income. prices and the annual tax rate. is as high as 3 1/2 per cent, you can afford to buy a home costing only 90 (instead of 100) times your budget for housing. On the other hand, in the same kind of climate as mentioned, but where the tax rate is only 1 1/2 per cent, you can use a factor as high as 104.3. By the same reasoning in a climate having mild winters or inexpensive heating fuels, the factor runs from 96 for 3 1/2 per cent tax rate communities to 114.5 where the tax rate is 1 1/2 per cent.

Of course, all rental housing is probably due for a price increase when OPA ceilings are lifted, as they probably will be ultimately to compensate owners for increased taxes and operating and maintenance costs. Also the cost of the new house you are buying now reflects increases in wages and cost of construction materials approved by the National Wage Stabilization Board and the OPA during the past year.

Therefore, you will probably be justified to push the dollar amount set aside budgetwise for housing up a peg—conservatively from 5 to 15 per cent over what was per-war. Your "average" buy may therefore be 100 times 1 1/10 X (where X is your pre-war monthly rent budget). Therefore, your $75 increases to 75 plus 7.5 or $82.5 and your average purchase limit becomes $8,250 instead of $7,500.

Now check the above with the figures used by many economists as the proportion of family income which should be spent for housing. These figures vary with the family income and run from 20 to 25 per cent. Thus for a family earning $5,000 a year, the rent will run between $1,000 and $1,250 per year. Reduced to monthly payments this becomes $83 to $104. Therefore, by the "Rule of 100"—the family would be justified in buying a house costing between $8,250 and $10,400 which is 1 2/3 to 2 times

Grass that grows 16 inches a day would be difficult to keep mowed. That's how fast bamboo grows and bamboo technically belongs to the grass family. Certain species of this grass may grow as high as a 15-story building, measuring 120 feet.

Family Can Pay 100 Times Monthly Rent For Home

Housing experts and those who have specialized in the sale of individual homes generally agree that the average family can afford to buy a house (including the lot) which costs approximately 100 times what it can afford to pay monthly for rent (including heat, but not gas or electricity for lighting, etc.). Therefore, if your budget sets aside $75 a month for rent you could afford a $7,500 investment in a home, if $100, a $10,000 home. Put it the other way 'round, you can figure that you are buying shelter whose monthly rental value is equivalent to about 1 per cent of the home investment. Thus the equivalent rent you'd probably have to pay (providing rental price controls remain in effect awhile) for your $10,000 house and lot would be $100 per month. Naturally a rule of this kind is merely an over-all average, and just a few families are strictly "average," so the rule must be interpreted in the light of various circumstances. Two Important Factors Two factors enter as important "circumstances": local heating costs and local tax rates. Thus if you plan to buy in an area with

Back To School

All too soon the time has rolled around when the door will swing open for another term of school.

This year as always there will be scores of small children going to school for the first time. They will be nervous and excited for the first few days and apt to be less cautious than usual in crossing the streets. For that reason they may constitute a hazard to motorists as they go to and from school.

The work of the school patrols and the city police have in the past made a wonderful contribution to safety. It is impossible to estimate the number of children throughout the city who owe their lives to the alertness and patience of those who guard the street crossings during the rush hours at the schools. The work of local patrols has been especially commendable. In rain, cold and sleet the boys are on the job every day.

This fall every motorist should make himself a committee of one to see that this good record is not marred. COOPERATE with the school patrols when they are on duty, helping them to prevent accidents. DRIVE carefully when passing school property and OBEY stop signs when school buses are loading or unloading. The state law requires that motorists slow down to 20 miles per hour when passing school houses. If this law is observed there will be few accidents near schools.

Let's ALL cooperate to help keep this a safe school year.

KNOWLEDGE
How sad and how strange
That all I remember of you
Is yellow honeysuckle climbing over a porch
Lost in the lamplight of a summer evening.

I have forgotten your voice
And your eyes and the warm sense of your presence.
All that recurs when people say your name
Is a muted fragrance.

And I know, really,
(I wish I did not know)
That it is not you at all I remember.
Yellow honeysuckle is only a substance of my youth
Lost about that time.

You were merely present at the passing

GOD'S MASTERPIECE
God made the mountain and the sea,
And He alone can make a tree.

The twinkling stars, the moon and sun,
God, our Father, made each one;
His are the rainbow and the shower,
The fleecy cloud and lovely flower.

He gave us the birds' sweet song of delight
And the glorious sunset that brings the night;
But of all His wondrous plan,
God's great masterpiece is man!

25 New Lakes To Be Created

The Ohio Division of Conservation and Natural Resources will continue to acquire sites for 20 to 25 new headwater lakes in its program to give Ohio more public fishing waters in addition to aiding soil erosion control and to harness the state's water resources, according to the policy officially adopted at the August meeting of the Ohio Conservation Commission in Columbus.

Complete plans for all construction work on the acquired areas will be made but the policy calls for postponing the beginning of any actual construction on any new sites until material and labor becomes more available and at more reasonable prices.

This action was taken for the dual purpose of easing, insofar as possible, the demand for materials and labor most needed for housing and other vital construction in the state, according to Emory Beetham, Cleveland, chairman of the commission, and to secure more for the sportsmen's dollars spent in the whole headwater lake program.

Where construction is already in progress at such lakes sites as in Madison, Adams, Perry, and Hocking counties, work will proceed without interruption. Paul

What To Do About Polio

What can we do to prevent infantile paralysis?
The answer is: Practically nothing!

Very little is known about the disease. We know the cause—a virus—but not the cure. We know it is communicable that many persons may harbor the virus without presenting any clinical symptoms of the disease. Certain precautions however, are recommended by the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis.

If polio strikes, the Foundation urges, continue with normal activities. Schools, theaters and other places of congregation remain open at the discretion of the health authorities, but unnecessary mingling with crowds should be avoided.

Extreme fatigue, sudden and prolonged chilling make the individual an easier victim. Swimming in polluted waters and removal of tonsils during epidemics should be avoided. Flies and other insects should be kept away from food. Sanitation is a "must."

The first symptoms of poliomyelitis may be some minor discomfort: headache, unexplained fever, a cold, even an upset stomach. If any of these appear, a physician should be called immediately. Expert medical care may prevent crippling deformities.

Above all, the Foundation adds, don't worry about expense. Foundation chapters are pledged to see that no victim of infantile paralysis goes without care and treatment for lack of funds, regardless of age, care, creed or color.

When a case appears, be sure that the nearest Foundation chapter is notified.

Runkle, chief engineer of the Fish Management Section, stated that work on the Madison County Lake is almost completed.

Cannibalism Whys!
Cannibalism is sometimes practiced as a respectable way to dispose of the aged and sick. A cultivated taste for human flesh, performance of the requirements of mystic rituals, and satisfaction of hunger in time of famine are among the many other types of cannibalism observed among primitive peoples.

HAS TWO USES

ALL FOR THE CHURCH
THE CHURCH FOR ALL...

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend and support the church of his choice. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of material support. Plan to go to church on Sunday.

Forward this to
W. E. Adams, Harrison, Virginia

Everyone knows that a hammer is used to drive nails. And anyone whose carpentry is never quite perfect knows that a hammer has another use. It removes the nails that were imperfectly driven

Man would be a sorry victim of his own mistakes if he did not have tools to correct his errors as well as to achieve his aims. We need erasers as well as pencils, turpentine as well as paint, medicines as well as food.

Man's spiritual needs are in this respect no different than his physical needs. We need an inspiring, compelling, driving Power to achieve that which is right. We need a sympathetic, forgiving, correcting Power to remove from our lives that which is wrong.

The Church offers men both. Through its worship, its teaching, its activities it inspires men to faith in God. Through its prayers, its preaching, its Communion it helps men to seek and to find the forgiveness God has so generously promised.

Green Cabs, Columbus' senior Knot Hole champs, will represent Columbus in the first "Knothole World Series" being played at Louisville Wednesday and Thursday of this week.

Returning to Columbus on Friday morning they will go to Dayton the following morning to play in the semi-pro baseball tourney for players under 18 years of age.

The team, made up largely of Hilltop boys, is coached by Mark Stephens. Three additional pitchers are being added to the roster for this week. They are Jonny Hayes, Earl Davis and Mark Stephens, Jr.

Duke Simpson starred for the Cabs in the game in which they defeated Koon Realtors 5-3 in the championship game played at Bird Stadium last Thursday. He allowed only six hits and struck out nine batters.

A triple steal by the Cabs in the third inning scored Simpson with the second run for the winners and helped set up the deciding rally.

Six Months of Daylight

The polar areas include all the lands of the midnight sun. At latitude 66 1/2 degrees, on midsummer day, the sun does not set, but is continuously above the horizon for almost 72 hours. As the latitude increases the period of continuous sunlight increases; at 70 degrees it is two months, at 80 degrees four months, and at 90 degrees six months. Correspondingly, about midwinter, continuous lack of sunlight endures for similar periods.

New Conservation Movies Available

The public Relations Section of the Ohio Division of Conservation announced today that four copies of the movie, "A Heritage We Guard," released by the U. S. Department of Agriculture through the Ohio Soil Conservation Service, have been added to the film library of the division and will be available beginning Sept. 1 to organizations upon request along with the many other fine conservation films of the lending library.

The film, according to Oliver Hartley, director of public relations, is a 30 minute sound picture showing the important role played by wildlife resources in the early development of the United States and how fur traders and trappers formed the vanguard of western expansion.

Later farm practices that depleted the soil also disseminated wildlife and the film shows how measures that save the soil also increase game and other species of wildlife.

Scrimmages Are Started For West 11

The 1946 West High football squad will get in some real scrimmage work today and tomorrow after more than a week of conditioning and fundamental drill under the tutelage of Mack Pemberton and Fred Heischman.

Two practice sessions have been held each day with the more experienced boys working out from 10 to 12 o'clock in the morning and the newer candidates working from 8 to 10 a. m. Further work with the backfield men and ends is continued in the afternoon.

A practice game has been scheduled with Newark on the afternoon of Sept. 7. It will afford Pemberton an opportunity to see what his boys look like against first rate opposition.

Additional boys were putting in their appearances all through last week with a total of 138 on the roster by Monday. By mid-week approximately 40 boys will be cut from the squad. An additional 20 or more will be dropped the following week in preparation for the pre-season game with Newark.

The first regular game will be played under the lights at Springfield on Sept. 13. To date there have been five navy men out for football. Of this group, Hostler looks like a good bet to hold down one of the tackle positions.

Thelsen Wins 11 As Team Captures Championship

The 40 at 8 American Legion Junior baseball team, co-sponsored by Arlington Motors, won the second-round championship of the North-West League. Paul Thelsen, star hurler for the team, won 11 and was tied once during the entire season.

Several Hilltoppers On Bright's Service Championship Team

A galaxy of Hilltop ball players has been largely responsible for the success of Bright's Service Station club which won the first round title in the Saturday Afternoon Baseball League by defeating Fabric Club by 17 to 4 last Saturday. Bright's won both ends of a double header, taking the nightcap by a score of 12 to 8.

Featured in the lineup Saturday were Meloney, Whitstone, Jake Richards, Schloesser and Woody Owens. Another Hilltopper in the lineup was Westall, who attended Central High.

Local Woman To Join Husband In Fulda, Germany

A Briggdale woman and her two-year-old daughter left last week to join her husband who is stationed at Fulda, Germany, near Frankfurt.

She is Mrs. Martha C. Reddington, wife of Maj. Thomas C. Reddington, adjutant of the military colony in Fulda. Together with their daughter, Martha, they left for the east coast by auto. She was to drive to Fort Hamilton, N. Y., where the car will be driven aboard ship. She plans to remain there for an 18-months stay.

Mrs. Reddington last saw her husband at Christmas when he was home on leave. He formerly served with the Third Army and went overseas in May, 1944, having entered the service in June, 1938.

Work Goes Ahead On New Building

Work is progressing on the new K. and D. building at 3108 W. Broad-st. as concrete was poured to make the second story floor. The building is expected to be ready for occupancy by the last of October, according to plans of Kent Brothers Co., general contractors.

The basement of the building will house the Columbus Stationery Co., a firm operated by Karl Kruckeberg, William Deubner and Fred Deubner. Due to an oversight, a news story in last week's Hilltop Record had omitted the name of William Deubner.

The Westgate Hardware will occupy the first floor of the building while the second floor will have five apartments.

Experiences Of 37th Buckeye Division Told By Gen. Beightler At Kiwanis Meet

Some of his experiences as commander of the famed 37th Buckeye Division in World War I were related by Maj. Gen. Robert S. Beightler as he addressed the Thursday luncheon meeting of the Hilltop Kiwanis Club last week.

The battle ground of the next world war may well be some of the industrial cities of our own country, Gen. Beightler stated in reviewing some of the recent developments with the atomic bomb, rocket projectiles, long range aircraft, etc.

The fiercest fighting of the war was as far as the 37th was concerned took place in the battle for Manila, he said, in reviewing informally the activities of the Buckeye Division. Much of the city had to be taken by direct assault and the American casualties ran high but did not compare with that of the Japanese. Between Feb. 3 and Mar. 4, 1945, the 37th Division alone killed 14,865 Japs of a total of 27,000 estimated to have been in that sector.

Concerning General of the Air-

my Douglas MacArthur, Gen. Beightler had only the highest praise as a military strategist. He admitted that he was "probably" the most hated man in the Pacific but that as a commander he was unqualified.

"I served under him in two wars," the General said, "and I had to serve again and had a choice I would want to serve under him again. I still think he is the greatest strategist that this country has ever produced."

Gen. Beightler reviewed the history of the 37th Division, telling of its start with 19,200 men from Ohio who were sent to Camp Shelby for training in October, 1940. During the war nearly 40,000 men were in the division at various times and of that number 21,000 were from Ohio.

He told of the lack of training facilities during the early years of preceding the war. Some pipes were used to represent mortars and trucks were used as tanks in field operations in the South.

"We were the first division to be alerted," the General recalled.

"We were at first slated to go and relieve General MacArthur at Corregidor but when it was found impossible to get there in time we were next scheduled to go to Ireland."

Went To Fiji

Part of the outfit was sent across the Atlantic but the 37th was later sent to the Fiji Islands where they were thoroughly trained in jungle life. He explained that this knowledge was of great benefit to his men in later phases of the campaign.

He told how his men did the "mopping up" on Guadalcanal, how they took and held the Munda Airfield on New Georgia Island.

"The Jap was a vicious fighter," he said, "but the American soldier outsmarted him at almost every turn. He was well trained, alert and smarter than the Jap."

During the early phases of the war the commander of the 37th Division said the only prisoners they were able to take were those who were too seriously wounded to take their own lives before being captured. They were amazed at the kindly treatment they received at American hands.

The General told his audience how the breaking of the Japanese secret code accounted for the death of Admiral Yamamoto. Detailed information on his movements was relayed to the headquarters of the 37th Division from Washington, permitting General Beightler's men to lay the trap that resulted in the death of the infamous Jap war leader.

During the battle at Bougainville the Buckeye Division lost only 181 men while they buried 8600 Japs, most of them from the crack 6th Jap Division, said to have been the toughest fighters the enemy had.

"The Japs always attacked at night," Gen. Beightler recalled. "In all my experiences in Pacific warfare I do not recall a single daylight attack launched by them."

Gen. Beightler had the complete attention of every man in his audience throughout the time he talked and could have held that interest for a considerably greater length of time.

Please Don't Hurt My Little Girl

Dear Friend

Today my little girl started to school as usual. She wore a pink dress, pink hat and black shoes. Her teacher, whose name is "Sue", sat on the front porch and waved her waving hand in the full of education as she waved goodbye and started off to the halls of learning.

Tonight we talked about school. She told me about the girl who sits in front of her, the girl with yellow curls—and the boy across the aisle who makes funny faces. She told me about her teacher who has eyes in the back of her head and about the trees in the school yard. And about the big girl who doesn't have a Santa Claus. We talked about a lot of things—tremendously vital, unimportant things; then we studied spelling, reading and arithmetic and then to bed.

She's back there now, back on the misery, sound asleep with "Princess Elizabeth" (that's a doll, not a princess) in her nightgown. You see, I'm her Daddy. When her doll is broken or her finger is cut or her head gets jammed I can fix it. But when she's at school, I have to walk across the street, then she's in your hands.

She's a nice kid. She can run like a deer and darts about like a chipmunk. She likes to swim and hike with me on Sunday afternoons. But I can't be with her all the time. I have to work to pay for her clothes and her education. So please help me look out for her. Please drive carefully, please drive slowly past her school, please remember that children run from behind parked cars.

Please! DON'T HURT MY LITTLE GIRL!

"The above item is not original with this column. We clipped it from an exchange. But it should be attended by all who drive. Let's keep the Hilltop a safe place for our children."

A small inconspicuous want ad in last week's Hilltop Record was credited with selling $470 worth of carpet and floor covering at Seiler's, 2404 W. Broad-st., in a single day.

According to Frank Prince, 2525 Westwood-dr., in charge of the floor covering department at Seiler's, the merchandise was not advertised in any other way and sales made were as a direct result of the classified ad.

Vandals broke a plate glass window early Thursday morning to gain entrance to Koontz Drugs, 2461 Sullivan-av. Some money was taken from a pinball machine and the cash register was ransacked but contained no money at the time.

While some merchandise was disturbed there was little evidence that the thieves were after anything but the money.

A heavy stone was used to knock a hole in the glass on the Eureka-av. side at the front of the building. The job was done only a short distance from a street light at that intersection.

Missing Since V-J Day Lt. Harrison Reported Killed in Action

V-J Day, a time of rejoicing for millions of Americans, will ever be remembered with sadness by one Hilltop couple for it was on that day, shortly after the "cease fire" order had gone out, that their son was shot down by Japanese fighters.

Navy Lt. Howard M. Harrison, the only son of Mr. and Mrs. H. Harrison, 3077 Parkside-dr., missing since Aug. 15, 1945, is now presumed to be dead, a navy communication informed the local couple last week. He is believed to be the last Columbus man killed in combat in World War II.

Besides his parents he is survived by wife, Mrs. Ruth Harrison, a son, Ronald, three, and a daughter, Marilyn Beth, 1½ years. They reside in Sutton, W. Va.

A graduate of West High School, he was city wrestling champion in 1938 and all-high football end in 1937, when West won the city championship. In 1940 and 1941 he played right end on the Ohio University varsity. He entered the navy early in '42.

Township Trustees Reject Camp Chase Petition, Map

The Franklin Township Trustees in regular session Tuesday night rejected the petition and map requesting that the matter of incorporation of the proposed Camp Chase Village be brought to a vote in a special election. Inaccuracies in the description of the land to be incorporated and the map had been withdrawn by the sponsors of the move and some changes made in the territory to be included in the proposed incorporation.

James M. Linton, prominent Columbus attorney representing Judge Edward Turner, a large land owner in the area in question, pointed out to the trustees that it would be impossible to follow out the description given with the map because of inaccuracies.

Mandamus Suit Threatened

Law firm of Draper, Lombardo and Morgan said a mandamus suit to force the trustees to call the election as sought on the petition would be filed "probably" this week. A suit by Prosecuting Attorney Ralph J. Bartlett had earlier stated that the trustees were within their jurisdiction in calling for the election.

Neither legal counsel nor the sponsors of the petition were present at the Tuesday meeting. Sponsors of the move are Ed Lantz, 325 Dwyer rd., and Dennis McDaniel, 419 Derr-rd. The petition was signed by 42 residents of the area.

To make any change in the description accompanying the map would require resigning of another petitioner. It was said.

In other business coming before the township officials they were called upon to intervene in three separate line fence disputes in various parts of the township.

A notice of election from the County Board of Elections was received and read. In effect it approved a resolution that the matter of an extra one mill levy be included on the township ballot to be voted in the November election. The revenue from this added tax levy would be used to pay expenses of maintaining fire protection for residents of the township.

The levy would run for five years.

Matrimony At Broad and High Is Plan Of Local "Wonder Boy"

When Chuck Marland, dubbed by many of his friends as the "Wonder Boy" of Sullivan-av., does things they are done up in grand style. His forthcoming wedding to Marion Conrad, of 1520 Walsh-av., is to be no exception.

On Oct. 6 the couple plans to be married in the middle of Broad and Highways in a jeep. An open house at the home of the bride-to-be that night is open to "all the West Side."

"So many couples get married in the customary fashion that I thought we might as well make our wedding a little different," he told The Hilltop Record. "That

Today's luncheon meeting of the club will be devoted largely to singing and reports of various committees. There will be no speaker.

Junior HCC To Meet Tonight

The Junior Hilltop Community Council will meet this evening at 7 o'clock at the Hilltop Teen Canteen, 2385 W. Broad-st.

The election of officers, including a new board of directors, committee reports and plans for the coming fall season, will constitute the evening's business.

Last Saturday evening's formal reception was so successful that another is being planned for the Christmas holiday season.

During the past week the interior of the building was redecorated and new furnishings for the library and ping pong room will be installed shortly. The Hilltop Business Men's Association, Hilltop Kiwanis Club and Camp Chase Post No. 96, American Legion, are making a concerted effort to secure this much needed equipment—ping pong tables, lamps, carpets, chairs, books and games.

Small Want Ad Sells $470 Worth Of Carpeting Here

A small inconspicuous want ad in last week's Hilltop Record was credited with selling $470 worth of carpet and floor covering at Seiler's, 2404 W. Broad-st., in a single day.

According to Frank Prince, 2525 Westwood-dr., in charge of the floor covering department at Seiler's, the merchandise was not advertised in any other way and sales made were as a direct result of the classified ad.

Several customers remarked that they had not known that they read the classifieds. Call RA 1125 before 9 a. m. Wednesday to place copy for this week's paper.

Property Owners To Meet

The Property Owners Association of Franklin County will open its fall session Friday night at the Neil House at 8 o'clock. The public is invited to attend.

Plate Glass Is Broken At Koontz Pharmacy Thurs.

Vandals broke a plate glass window early Thursday morning to gain entrance to Koontz Drugs, 2461 Sullivan-av. Some money was taken from a pinball machine and the cash register was ransacked but contained no money at the time.

While some merchandise was disturbed there was little evidence that the thieves were after anything but the money.

A heavy stone was used to knock a hole in the glass on the Eureka-av. side at the front of the building. The job was done only a short distance from a street light at that intersection.

Rome Woman Dies In Crash

A 75-year-old New Rome woman was killed and several local people were hurt in traffic accidents during the past week.

She was Mrs. Ella B. Conrad, a truck driver as she was crossing Route 40 at the Rome-Hilltop rd. The driver of the truck which struck her was Daniel B. Rer, 30, West Liberty, state highway patrolman reported.

Mrs. Conrad suffered a broken neck and multiple fractures as a result of a crash at Hilltop in a car owned by her son, Mr. Conrad. Funeral services for Mrs. Conrad were conducted at Spears Parlors Tuesday with interment at Dayton.

She is survived by a son, Howard, a niece, Ruth Dolezal, nephew, Samuel Strassberg, and a brother, Samuel Stockstill. She was a member of the Methodist Church at New Rome.

Lewis Harris, 40, 261 N. Algonquin-av., was seriously hurt in a crash at McCoy and Reed-rd. last Wednesday which involved a truck, an auto and a tractor. He was taken to University Hospital following the accident in which four persons were hurt.

Maj. Nolan Given Permanent Rank

Maj. James L. Nolan, 440 S. Ross-av., was one of 99 officers approved last week by President Truman to fill vacancies in the regular army.

He was given the rank of a permanent captain in the judge advocate general's department.

E. M. Tharp, vice president and general manager of the Ohio Fuel Gas Co., is scheduled to address the Tuesday evening meeting of the Hilltop Business Men's Association to be held at Schmeltzer's Restaurant, 3155 W. Broad-st.

His talk is to be the opening phase of a contest for customers of the company, being launched by the HBMA on the Hilltop. The October, November and December meetings will be a continuation of a comprehensive program to be explained to members next Tuesday evening. The cooperation of sales people of every member will be enlisted in the CCC campaign which is planned to promote business relations with local business firms.

A complete plan of publicity, including window stickers, posters, newspaper and radio, will be used to "sell" the idea to the public.

Missing Since V-J Day Lt. Harrison Reported Killed in Action

V-J Day, a time of rejoicing for millions of Americans, will ever be remembered with sadness by one Hilltop couple for it was on that day, shortly after the "cease fire" order had gone out, that their son was shot down by Japanese fighters.

Navy Lt. Howard M. Harrison, the only son of Mr. and Mrs. H. Harrison, 3077 Parkside-dr., missing since Aug. 15, 1945, is now presumed to be dead, a navy communication informed the local couple last week. He is believed to be the last Columbus man killed in combat in World War II.

Besides his parents he is survived by wife, Mrs. Ruth Harrison, a son, Ronald, three, and a daughter, Marilyn Beth, 1½ years. They reside in Sutton, W. Va.

A graduate of West High School, he was city wrestling champion in 1938 and all-high football end in 1937, when West won the city championship. In 1940 and 1941 he played right end on the Ohio University varsity. He entered the navy early in '42.

Township Trustees Reject Camp Chase Petition, Map

The Franklin Township Trustees in regular session Tuesday night rejected the petition and map requesting that the matter of incorporation of the proposed Camp Chase Village be brought to a vote in a special election. Inaccuracies in the description of the land to be incorporated and the map had been withdrawn by the sponsors of the move and some changes made in the territory to be included in the proposed incorporation.

James M. Linton, prominent Columbus attorney representing Judge Edward Turner, a large land owner in the area in question, pointed out to the trustees that it would be impossible to follow out the description given with the map because of inaccuracies.

Mandamus Suit Threatened

Law firm of Draper, Lombardo and Morgan said a mandamus suit to force the trustees to call the election as sought on the petition would be filed "probably" this week. A suit by Prosecuting Attorney Ralph J. Bartlett had earlier stated that the trustees were within their jurisdiction in calling for the election.

Neither legal counsel nor the sponsors of the petition were present at the Tuesday meeting. Sponsors of the move are Ed Lantz, 325 Dwyer rd., and Dennis McDaniel, 419 Derr-rd. The petition was signed by 42 residents of the area.

To make any change in the description accompanying the map would require resigning of another petitioner. It was said.

In other business coming before the township officials they were called upon to intervene in three separate line fence disputes in various parts of the township.

A notice of election from the County Board of Elections was received and read. In effect it approved a resolution that the matter of an extra one mill levy be included on the township ballot to be voted in the November election. The revenue from this added tax levy would be used to pay expenses of maintaining fire protection for residents of the township.

The levy would run for five years.

Matrimony At Broad and High Is Plan Of Local "Wonder Boy"

When Chuck Marland, dubbed by many of his friends as the "Wonder Boy" of Sullivan-av., does things they are done up in grand style. His forthcoming wedding to Marion Conrad, of 1520 Walsh-av., is to be no exception.

On Oct. 6 the couple plans to be married in the middle of Broad and Highways in a jeep. An open house at the home of the bride-to-be that night is open to "all the West Side."

"So many couples get married in the customary fashion that I thought we might as well make our wedding a little different," he told The Hilltop Record. "That

Lutherans To Have Leagues
Formation of a recreational body to handle athletic competition of 28 Lutheran Churches in Franklin County seemed a possibility as representatives of 13 Lutheran Churches got together last week to lay the ground work for such an organization.

A meeting of representatives of all Lutheran Churches in the county has been called for Monday night at the Lutheran Center, State and Gift-sts. at which time officers will be elected.

William Stok, 22, 6559 Sullivant-av., is interested in the new Lutheran Athletic Council. In all probability the county will be divided into five sections with a playoff series between sections at the end of each season.

Lutheran laymen will direct the program with Lutheran pastors having a voice, but no vote, in policy making. The program will embrace churches of the United Lutheran, American Lutheran and Missouri Synod, and will include some 3000 players in baseball, volleyball, dart ball and horseshoes.

Miss Ett Is Elected By Luther League
Miss Phyllis Ett, Worthington, Route 1, president of the senior Luther League of Hilltop Lutheran Church, was elected secretary of the Ohio Luther League at the annual state convention held last week-end at the Desher-Wallick Hotel.

T. C. Weir Visits Record Office On 86th Birthday

One of the many visitors to the new Hilltop Record offices last week was T. C. Weir, 86 N. Oakley-av. On Thursday of last week he celebrated his 86th birthday. Still active and abreast of the times, he spends an average of three days per week traveling for a building hardware firm, a position he has held for more than 35 years. He covers most of Ohio and small sections of adjoining states. Mr. Weir has been a teacher of the young men's Sunday School class at Hoge Memorial Church for about 19 years.

Born in 1860, he can remember when his uncle, Samuel Weir, returned home following the Civil War.

K. of C. Outing Is To Be Sunday

The second annual stag outing sponsored by Santa Maria Council of the Knights of Columbus will be held next Sunday at Oak Park. Members and friends are invited to take part in the day's activities, which start at 2 p. m. A baseball game, horseshoe pitching and other events are planned. Cliff Ruff, general chairman, has arranged food and refreshments for an even larger crowd than last year.

Oak Park is located on the Sunbury-rd., four miles north of Fifth-av. Further information can be obtained from any of the members.

Youth for Christ Rally To Be Held Saturday

An exceptionally fine musical program is planned for the Sept. 7 Youth for Christ rally at Central High School. Opening the rally at 8 p. m. will be the group singing led by Roy Stevens. Also on the program are numbers by the Salvation Army brass quartet; songs by David Skipper, tenor soloist, and by the King's Daughters, girls' trio from the Bible Meditation League.

Bringing the message of the evening will be Whitcomb Harding of Barnesville. Mr. Harding has served as speaker in Youth for Christ rallies all over the Great Lakes district and comes to Columbus with a message that is both timely and especially

Governmental Agencies vs. Lobby Groups

There comes to our desk a folder, news release and a copy of the official publication of the National Home and Property Owners Foundation, an organization with national headquarters in Washington and with state offices in many of the 48 states. We have only the material, prepared in handout form, submitted to us as a basis for evaluating the merits of this organization and will therefore make no attempt to endorse or condemn it. The significant thing to us as we perused the content of this group's objectives was this statement of purpose outlined in their advertising folder:

"The foundation has been established to weld the millions of property owners into an individual group to protect their common interests; to safeguard their homes and real property and oppose plans and practices which threaten the stability and integrity of private property ownership."

Read in the light of other similar statements contained in the folder, that sentence could mean only one thing: that is to protect the interest of the property owner against governmental meddling and interference. Or to say it another way, "To establish a powerful lobby to promote the interests of the property owner in a more effective way."

Unfortunately national and state legislation today reflects to too large a degree the effects of lobbying interests. The ugly scars of strip mining mar the scenic beauty of a considerable area of our state because the mining interests maintain a powerful lobby in the state capitol. If the truth were known most of the laws that are passed in our national capitol reflect the strength of particular groups to have their way rather than a sane analysis of the interests of the public at large.

We are living in a world of power politics, from the international picture on down. More and more the man who is without the backing of a strong organization is at the mercy of the more powerful group.

One unfortunate aspect of this condition is the fact that so many of the present lobby groups came into being because of governmental restrictions and regulations. No doubt most of them were needed at one time or another but today many of them have outlived their usefulness and should be abolished. With the fighting phase of World War II more than a year in the past, most business concerns find themselves just as badly entangled in bureaucratic red tape as at any time during the war.

The interests of the public at large can never be protected so long as industries find it necessary for them to organize in the protection of their own interests. All too often such groups enjoy the prestige they acquire, once they are under way, and while many worthwhile things can be done by national organizations of this kind, there is always the danger of them perpetuating themselves as a power block to look after their own selfish interests.

MY FATHER'S ORCHARD
Just half-a-score of years ago
These trees were planted, row on row.

By one defiant, who knew that he Himself would never live to see
His orchard bear. Today they stand

No less defiant than the hand
Which coiled so long and lovingly
To best prepare each seedling
For future yields. The waiting ground

Received its gifts; in each fresh mound
Of earth, a tree; Donation to posterity.

I HAVE SEEN THEM COME
So many springs! They come—
Yet at Summer's hem
No crocus bud is left
To testify for them.
They come—still man's unrest

The young feel Spring too soon,
The old too late.

Local Couple Gets Wedding Ring
In Hollywood Publicity Stunt

Ordinarily Hollywood publicity stunts aimed at making the public more flicker conscious don't make much of a stir on the Hilltop. But last week a Hilltop couple with matrimony in mind was the recipient of a beautiful wedding ring as the result of one.

It all happened when Marjorie Walker, 19, of 331 S. Roys-av. and Paul Haughn, 31, of 389 S. Harris-av., put in their appearance at the Franklin County marriage license bureau Saturday morning. After answering the usual questions, the couple was served pieces of cake from a large wedding cake at the bureau. In the piece eaten by Miss Walker was the ring.

The cake and ring were the gifts of Susan Hayward, star of the motion picture "Canyon Passage." In addition to the ring the couple will have their license fee refunded, again the gift of Miss Hayward.

Oh, yes. The flicker opens at the RKO Palace Thursday, Sept. 12.

The Rev. R. H. Schroeder, pastor of Mt. Calvary Lutheran Church, Cleveland, and president of the Children's Aid Society there, will speak at the 8 o'clock evening services next Sunday at Concordia Lutheran Church, 45 S. Brinker-av.

Newark Saturday; Masdea Stars Return Game To Be Played At

Coach Mack Pemberton, new football mentor at West High School, got a look at his 1946 grid material in action Saturday afternoon and liked much of what he saw.

In a pre-season game with Newark at Magly Field a crowd of close to 500 persons watched the Cowboys play the visitors to a 20-20 tie in an exhibition that brought out some of the good as well as some of the bad points of the team.

Bruno Masdea, flashy West halfback, scampered 60 yards for one of the three touchdowns scored. Reverting to a habit that cropped out several times last year, the Cowboys twice fumbled near the goal line where six-pointers should have been scored.

Hostler Hurt
Carl Hostler, letterman returned from the navy, received a cut on the nose, from a cleat, early in the first quarter and was taken from the game for the remainder of the contest.

Considering the caliber of opposition they faced Saturday, there might be room for optimism on the part of Cowboy fans but at this early date the strength of the visitors is yet to be determined, and Pemberton is not taking anything for granted.

A return engagement is scheduled for the Newark grid-iron Saturday afternoon at 2 p. m. This game, might throw a little more light on the 1946 West prospects. Pemberton feels that by giving his boys some actual game experience before the opener with Springfield on Sept. 13 they will have overcome some of the early season nervousness to effect action in an inexperienced eleven. The Cowboys have only six lettermen to use at any time.

The starting lineup Saturday is apt to look something like this:

Borror and Anderson at the ends; Hostler and Smith at the tackles; Cleveland and Westerman at guard; Ralph Watts at center; either Jim Slager or Jack Thrush at quarter; Jerry Chinn and Masdea at the halves; and Starling Huit at full.

Twenty-four of the 1946 Cowboy gridriders will be sporting new pants and jerseys in the opening game against Springfield on Sept. 13. Included in the new equipment purchased are five dozen practice shirts.

The Cowboy squad was whittled down to working size last week by Coaches Pemberton and Heischman with the result that 32 boys now remain on the squad.

A look at the squad reveals only six lettermen to start the season with. Five returned service men are on the roster. The make-up of the squad at present is as follows:

Ends
Don Anderson, Don Borror (letter man), Bill Buckingham, Don Compton, Kenny Evans, Paul Hegenberger (service man), Bob Roy Jaynes, Jim Saunders (service man), Don Speakman and Ronald Stout!

Tackles
Herb Carroll, Marshall Hamon, Carl Hostler (service man and letter man), Joe Hostler, Bob Schlegel, Fred Smith, Fred Warden, Chuck Weeks and Bob Wolfe.

Guards
Louis Capretta, John Cleveland, Bob Hertz, Roger Hurry, Bob Reed, Dolph Smith (service man), Ed Sparks (service man), Curt Westerman and Ed Van Allen.

Centers
Al Andrews, Norris Booth, Bob Pusecker, Ralph Watts (letter man) and Chuck Watts.

Quarterbacks
Dave Hamilton, Glen Schroeder, Jim Slager, Paul Theisen and Jack Thrush (letter man).

Fullbacks
Jerry Chinn (letter man), Bob Ford, Fred Harper, Dick Hershberger, Dick Lanigan, Bruno Masdea (letter man), Don Miles, Carl Naumoff and Ed Sahr.

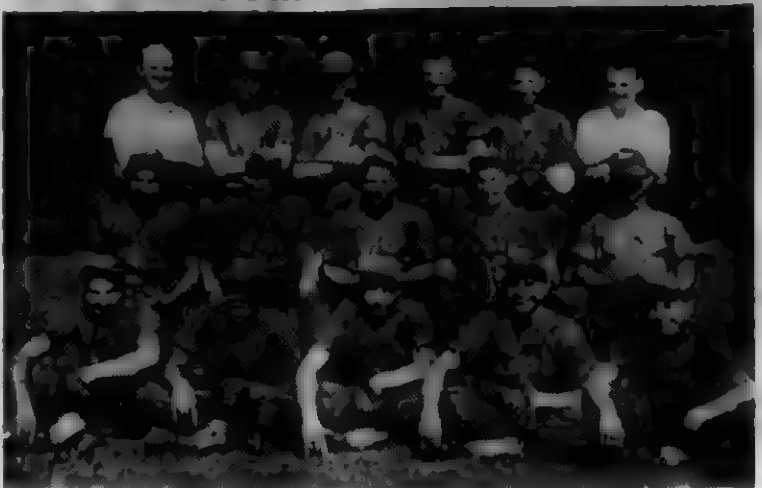

Team managers for the season were named by Coach Pemberton. They are Harold Cline, Dick Holsycom, Dick Much and Bruce Langdon.

A full schedule of reserve games will be played this year in connection with the city team to be met. The reserve game will be played on the Thursday following the regular game on the opposite field.

Green Cabs Lose In Series At Louisville

The Green Cabs, senior Knott-hole League champs, lost out in the first "Knott-hole World Series" played against the Junior Colonels of Louisville in the Colonels' park Wednesday and Thursday.

In the first game, played on Wednesday night, the Cabs lost out by a 5 to 1 count with Nate Emerich on the mound. Each team garnered seven hits. The Colonels bunched four of their tallies in the third inning of the seven-inning game. The Cabs executed one double play going Thrush to Delaney to Cline. Emerich struck out four batters.

On Thursday night the two teams played to a 3-3 deadlock in seven frames with the game called because of the regular Bird-Colonel game that followed. Duke Simpson was on the mound for Cabs, giving up only six hits while his teammates were gathering five tangles off two Junior Colonel hurlers. Watts, Simpson and E. Smith accounted for all of the Cabs hits. Watts and Simpson got two each. Two double plays were pulled going Delaney to Thrush and Cline to Thrush. Simpson struck out six.

Green Cabs had planned to play in the national semi-pro play-offs at Dayton last week-end but were denied a place in the schedule because the eligibility list was received too late.

THEY'RE OFF TO SCHOOL

This little boy and girl are stepping out into the great wide world outside of home. They are off to school. Most of their early knowledge was acquired within the family circle and from intimate friends. Now they are beginning to learn what the great world outside has to teach.

It is the beginning of a long and difficult trail, beset by the myriad vicissitudes of human life. They will encounter the good and the bad, the false and the true. There will be the thrill of new experiences and the hard grind of the daily struggle for achievement.

It is a momentous day in the lives of these children. And much depends on what they have learned and will still learn from their home environment. Their ideals and mental attitudes and their reactions to people and things will reflect the spirit and character of the home.

That is why the home is so important in human life, and is the bulwark of the State and civilization. That is why every parent should feel a sacred obligation to teach his children truth and justice and righteousness. And that is why every home needs God and religion and the spiritual influence of the Church.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL... ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend and support the church of his choice. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church on Sunday.

"Fight Ideas With Ideas," Sharp Says

Courtesy Campaign Explained to HBMA

The "Courtesy to Customer Campaign" to be launched by members of the Hilltop Business Men's Association was carefully outlined to members at a meeting of that group at Schmelzer's Restaurant Tuesday night. It was the first of a series of four that will be devoted to the 3-C program.

Keynoting the start of the campaign was E. M. Sharp, vice-president and general manager of the Ohio Fuel Gas Co. for the past 15 years. He heartily recommended and endorsed the program by saying, "It is your job to get behind this thing as a vehicle for improving your business position in the community."

He took business men to task generally, charging that too many of them have adopted a "complacent" attitude and are unwilling to put forth the energy and the initiative needed.

"This thing (the courtesy campaign) is bigger in possibility than courtesy alone... It has at the core good public relations. Good public relations is not window trimming—it's how you act every day."

Sharp bitterly criticized the infiltration of foreign ideas, saying that would destroy or hinder the American principle of free enterprise.

"We must fight ideas with ideas," he asserted. "We have the money, the food. Why trade them for some cockeyed ideas from abroad?"

The speaker lashed out at a recent statement made by Murray D. Lincoln, head of the Farm Bureau Cooperative, in which he said that the profit system was out of date and must be replaced.

"We've got to do something about fellows who talk like that," Sharp said.

The Gas Co. executive told his audience that communism operation is the most effective barrier against communism.

E. H. Brown, marketing contractor at 239 N. Burgess-av., was voted membership in the organization.

The following nominations were made for the various officers for the year 1947: commander, Vernon C. Ficus; first vice-commander, John E. Martin; second vice-commander, Jack A. Linder; finance officer, Robert Jones; chaplain, William Bright; sergeant-at-arms, Harry Burns; member of permanent home committee, Ray McVay, Sr.; executive committee, William Booth, Wilbur Dellbaugh, Harold McClure, Don Novak, Joe Thompson, James Goudy, Carol Baol, Ernest Brown, Jack Wolfe and Mike Austin.

The election will be held Friday, Sept. 20. Polls will open at 7 p. m. and close at 9 p. m.

Westway Post Will Have Dance Next Wednesday

Westway Post No. 3441, VFW, will hold a dance at the club house, 2393 1/2 W. Broad-st., on Wednesday night, Sept. 18. All service men, regardless of whether or not they are members, and their families are invited to attend free of charge.

Norman Diehl will act as master of ceremonies for the evening. Bill Rodgers' Orchestra will provide music for dancing. There will be a $5 prize given for the best jitterbug couple. An intermission performance will be put on by a magician.

Sidesinger Opens Lunch Room Here

R. W. Sidesinger, 2392 Sullivant-av., announces the opening of the Home Lunch at that address. Until recently he was the owner and operator of Cottonwood Beach, on Lake St. Mary's, Celina. Previous to that time he was connected with the S. S. Kresge Co. as merchandise coordinator, which position he held for 11 years. This branch of the company was discontinued during the war.

Mr. Sidesinger, who has been a resident of the Hilltop for a number of years, is married and is the proud father of one boy, Tommy, and a girl, Ann, who is a pupil at St. Mary Magdalene School.

Cowboys Open 1946 Football Season At Springfield On Friday, The 13th

The players, coaches and managers will leave Columbus by bus in the late afternoon, followed by scores of local football fans. The 10-piece marching band, under the direction of Charles Bennett, will go to Springfield for the first appearance of the year. A large block letter 'S' and then the familiar 'W' will be done by the bandmen as well as the 'H' formation with the shuttle cross-bar.

The band will be led by John Glass, drum major, Phyllis Ward, majorette, and three baton twirlers, Mary Jo Deiby, Joy Gibson and Betty Grueser. Thirty of the members will be appearing for the first time.

Watch Your Step For It's Friday, 13th

If you have no urgent business that must be cared for tomorrow, better stay home all day. If you're superstitious that is.

For tomorrow is Friday, the 13th. According to legend you should never start on a journey on that day. If a black cat crosses your path, turn around and go home for that's the surest way of inviting misfortune. Walking under ladders, breaking mirrors, etc.—they all predict trouble.

West High School officials threw caution to the winds by booking the opening game of the 1946 football season on that day. The Cowboys go to Springfield for the opener under the lights. It will be the first game with Coach A. M. (Mac) Pemberton at the helm for West. Needless to say Mac isn't disturbed by this odd superstition.

Tomorrow is the first Friday, the 13th, this year but it won't be the last. It occurs again in December.

11 More Men Get Discharges

Eleven more West Side and Hilltop veterans have been discharged during the past week.

They are: Seaman E. Joseph E. Powers, 190 N. Ogden-av.; Seaman E. William A. Watts, 208 Demorest-av.; Seaman E. Carroll C. Trubee, 2644 Elliott-av.; Pharmacist's Mate E. Gordon H. Minner, 87 Midland-av.; Seaman E. Chester R. Carter, 542 Woodbury-av.; Storekeeper E. Helen Kathryn Henderson, 208 N. Ogden-av.; Lt. J. E. Davis, 171 E. Broad-av.; Robert C. Herold, 1141 Sullivant-av.

Pfc. Joseph B. Chesney, 256 S. Hague-av.; Seaman E. Hayden Woolton, 446 S. Powell-av.; Seaman E. Earl W. Greer, 454 Prospect-av.

Five Hilltoppers Enlist In Army

Five Hilltop men, recent graduates of West High School, were among a group of central Ohioans who enlisted in the army.

The group included Clyde Meekins, 859 S. Ross-av.; Donald Young, 219 Elison-av.; Donald Bernard, 218 N. Wayne-av.; Frank Deyo, 183 Guernsey-av.; and Richard Ammon, 281 N. Wayne-av.

HCC To Meet At Canteen This Evening

The Hilltop Community Council will hold its first fall meeting this evening at the Teen-Canteen, 2585 W. Broad-st., at 8 o'clock.

A report on the Teen-Canteen's successful summer season will be given, along with the fall program being planned.

P. Kenneth Dickerson, chairman of the special events committee, will outline plans for the second annual Halloween Carnival and window decorating. These plans will probably follow last season's program.

Many other items of interest to the Hilltop will be discussed, among them the need of additional traffic lights on W. Broad-st. Jr. H. C. G. Elmer, new officer.

Council Sets Hearing On Cleaning Charges

The proposed ordinance fixing charges for street cleaning in sections where a hand policeman is kept on duty will be aired at some time during the meeting which opens at 7:30 p. m.

Meanwhile what-if any—refusal will be given on payments made on 1945 assessments still remained the "sixty-four dollar" question at City Hall. Council President Joseph Jones had earlier given assurance that adjustments would be made where charges for 1945 were out of line with the provisions of the '44 ordinance. In many cases these increases were as much as 500 percent over the 1944 rates charged for the same service.

Ordinance To Fix Rates Will Be Aired

City Clerk Agnes Cain estimated that at least 125 protests had been made to her office as a result of the increased charges. The deadline for payment of 1945 assessments without penalty was Aug. 1. She said that 83 formal protests in writing were on file, plus 25 to 30 telephone calls voicing protests over the charges.

At Monday Night's Meeting Of Council, The First Since The Summer Recession, The Service Director Will Give Approval For The Improvement Of A Stretch Of Road Through The Park On The West Side Of The Scioto River. This Road Has Been In A Bad Condition For Months. Several Reports Had Been Made Of Damage To Cars As A Result Of It.

Proceeds from the sale of paper will be used to pay expenses of taking motion pictures of the West High football games. Boy Scouts of the Hilltop will also help with the paper collection and share in the proceeds.

The Indianapolis Paper Co. is planning to furnish six trucks to help collect the paper. Business firms on the Hilltop are expected to make three or four other large trucks available.

Council Sets Hearing On Cleaning Charges

Heads Drive

Robert Case, 87 N. Westmoor-av., was busy this week lining up details of the West High Boosters Club paper drive to be conducted Sunday, Sept. 23.

Memberships are now being received at the canteen for the fall season, to extend to Dec. 31, 1946.

An extensive program for the fall season is now being planned, and will be announced, shortly.

The weekly Saturday night dances are to be continued, with a well known Hilltop Band scheduled for this week.

Meat Will Be Scarce On Local Tables

Meat will be a scarce item on the dinner table of most Hilltoppers this week, a survey of local meat counters revealed.

Most grocers and meat dealers contacted were extremely pessimistic over the outlook for this week and weeks to come under new OPA ceiling now being re-instituted.

Said one meat man: "I've been in the meat business 20 years and this is by far the worst condition I've ever seen."

Meanwhile poultry, fish, cheese and other meat substitutes will likely be more in demand. A quick survey of local conditions at a number of stores revealed the following conditions:

Chubby Distelhorst Market, W. Broad and Eureka-av.—"My meat counter looks like old Mother Hubbard's cupboard. We were cleared out last week. The situation looks bad."

Jerry Watson's Market, 3117 W. Broad-st.—"We haven't found out yet for this week. We have nothing at present. They even cleaned out all of our lunch meats. We have a little cheese, chickens and fish left. That's all."

Fox Food Shop, 3422 W. Broad-st.—"The outlook is not very good. We have some small orders promised but it will not be adequate to take care of our trade. It looks like it will be a couple of weeks before we get merchandise again and then it will be scarce."

Boetcher & Gokenour, 1038 Harrison-pk.—"We don't have much to sell. We will try to take care of our regular customers this week but that's about all we can do."

Herbert's Food Market, 2575 W. Broad-st.—"It looks pretty tough. We carried a little beef over from last week but it will soon be gone. I don't see anything coming this week."

Holloways Red & White, 2552 Stettin-av.—"We now have a sign on our meat counter that reads 'Cheese Department—No Meat.' It doesn't look good."

Tiny's Market, 2756 Sullivant-av.—"We have nothing but luncheon meats. We don't know what we will have this week-end."

6526 Pupils Are Enrolled In Schools

Public and parochial school enrollment on the Hilltop stood at 6,526 at the start of this week as official registration figures were sent in to the central school office. This figure did not include 118 kindergarten pupils disseminated in two of the public schools.

In most cases enrollment figures were little or no higher than those for last year. At John Burroughs School 104 beginners had been enrolled, showing a considerable increase over other years. Attendance at most schools for the first week was reported as "good."

Two Catholic schools, St. Mary Magdalene and St. Aloysius, opened last week with a total enrollment of 686 pupils.

Enrollment figures for the local schools were reported as follows:

West High School	1132
West Junior High	1000
Starling Junior High	1025
West Broad Street	934
John Burroughs 7B's	928
Highland Avenue	490
West Mount Street	487
Dana Avenue	528
St. Aloysius	265
St. Mary Magdalene	371

On the West Side Martin W. Hennick, 1188 W. Broad-st., has the agency and in New Rome the licenses may be purchased at 5348 W. Broad-st. from Leo J. Meyer.

During the past year $16,479 drivers' licenses were sold in various parts of the state from which the state realized $2,802.

Bill Maxwell Is Shell Sta. Owner

Bill Maxwell, 1772 Kenny-rd., is the new operator of the Shell Service Station, 2784 Sullivant-av. (formerly D & M Shell Service).

Bill is a veteran with five years' service, part of which was spent in Panama as motor maintenance officer. He graduated from East High School with the class of '29 and later attended Franklin University.

He formerly lived at 428 Columbus-av. He is married and has a son, John, who attends Ohio State University.

Dr. George T. Mathews, physician with offices at 2760 1/2 W. Broad-st., underwent an operation at Grant Hospital last Saturday. He is improving nicely, according to his family and should be home before too long.

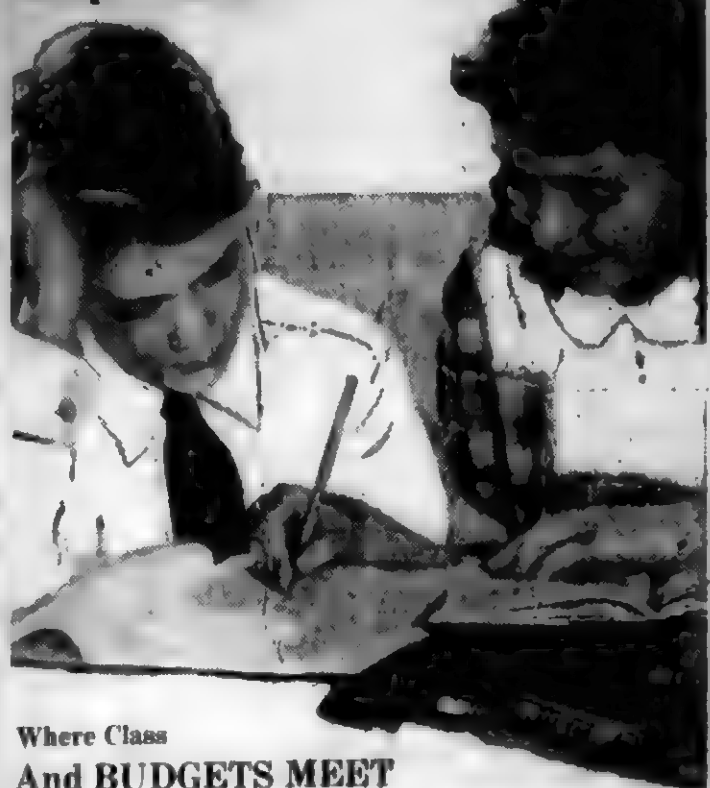

Women's Day Will Be Observed At Hoge

Presbyterian Women's Day will be observed at Hoge Memorial Presbyterian Church Monday, Sept. 16, at 1 o'clock. Guest speaker for the occasion will be Miss Rachel Benfer, nationally known speaker from the Presbyterian Board.

Their Wedding Solemnized At Hillcrest

Mr. and Mrs. Burton Cutting

Tall vases of pastel gladioli, banked with fern and two seven branch candelabra, decorated the altar of Hillcrest Baptist Church for the wedding of Miss Martha Epps, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert B. King of Bakersfield, Mo., and Mr. Burton G. Cutting, son of Mrs. Susie A. Cutting of White River Junction, Vermont.

The double ring ceremony was read by the Rev. J. Herbert Goewey, at 7:30 p. m. Saturday evening, Aug. 17. Preceding the ceremony there was a half hour of organ music and solos.

Escorted by her brother, Mr. Bob King, Jr., of Bakersfield, Mo., the bride approached the altar in a dress of sky blue crepe, fashioned with a soft lace yoke and a sweetheart neckline. She carried a small white Bible topped with an orchid corsage, from which fell white satin ribbons tied with tiny pink sweetheart rosebuds. At her throat was a single strand of pearls, gift of the bridegroom. The bride had Miss Helen Cutting of White River Junction, Vt., sister of the groom, as maid of honor. Miss Cutting wore a soft pink crepe dress, fashioned with a high neckline, and a coronet of pale blue and white camellias in her hair.

Bridesmaids were Mrs. Floyd A. Steffe and Mrs. Henry F. Hiler, of Missouri, sisters of the bride, and Miss Dorothy Borror of Columbus. They were each attired in soft pastel crepe dresses, with matching accessories and corsages of rosebuds and white gardenias.

Police Check Leads After Local Holdup

Columbus police were busy this week checking clues that might possibly lead to the apprehension of two armed bandits who held up the Albers Super Market, 2791 W. Broad-st., Friday night. The robbery was similar in many respects to the method employed when the manager of the Big Bear Hilltop Store, was forced to turn over the cash to two armed men in a recent holdup.

The more recent Streamline Market robbery in the downtown area likewise is being considered as the possible work of the same men.

The Albers firm did not disclose the amount of money involved in cash and checks taken by the men in the daring robbery pulled just a few minutes before employees of the store would have left for home. They gained entrance to the store when an employee, Robert Brown, 153 S. Ogden-av. was re-entering the building after he had carried some rubbish out the rear door.

Forced To Open Safe
George Gardner, 585 Woodbury-av., manager of the local store, was forced at the point of a gun to open the safe and hand over the receipts for the day while another gunman forced other employees to lie down on the floor in a rear stockroom.

It is believed that a third man remained in the car parked near the rear entrance and gave instruction to the pair who manacled employees. All details of the job point to the fact that the holdup was the work of experienced men.

Other store employees manacled in the Friday holdup were Mrs. Gail Gardner, 585 Woodbury-av., wife of the manager; Virginia Glassburn, 2534 E. Dibble-av.; Dollie Maser, 240 S. Hague-av.; James Vicker, 2930 Sullivant-av.; Francis Watson, 614 S. Oakley-av.; and Charles Eppert, 2721 Elliott-av.

Friday, 13th

 stion is ascribed to projects or journeys undertaken on Friday 13 is traceable to the fact that it originally regarded as sacred to a goddess whose honor was held to be disregarded by all who, instead of participating in her festive worship, followed their own pursuits. On such, Friday, the northern goddess of beauty, was supposed to bring ill fortune.

The superstition has remained after the explanation has been forgotten. It is known in all parts of the world. It is said that less than two percent of the marriages in the midland district of England are celebrated on Friday. In Scotland nine-tenths of the marriages are held on Friday.

 Joyce Reed, 82 S. Ogden-av. circulation manager; and Mary Jane Olpp, 293 S. Wayne-av. business manager.

Car, Horses, Are Recovered In Busy Week-end

Police were much in the news on the Hilltop this week on a variety of assignments.

They recovered the stolen car belonging to George Painter, 1641
 Sullivan-av., and had the car thief locked up several hours before George had discovered his loss.

When he called police Friday morning to report that his car had been stolen during the night,
 George was told that it was already on the police lot and a suspect was in jail. Cruisemen Ed Mundy and Ernest Moss had picked up the car at Barthman-av.
 and High-st.

The night before police were called by Mrs. Betty Canlon, 818
 S. Richards-av., when she saw prowlers outside her house.

Cruisemen responded, only to discover that the p-owlers were three horses that had broken out of the Hilltop Riding Academy, 2547 Eakin-ri. John Davis, the owner, was notified and the animals were returned to the barns.

To celebrate the occasion, the

Veteran Eleven To Be Encountered As Cowboys Launch 1946 Season

The West High School football season for 1946 will be officially opened when the Cowboys trek to Springfield tomorrow night to meet a veteran-studded Springfield eleven.

Just how good the opposition will be is anyone's guess but preliminary reports indicate that the lineup will contain the names of several returned veterans who have proved their worth in other years.

The Cowboys are fresh from a 10 to 7 victory over Newark last year's state champions, in the final game of the season. On Aug. 31 the two teams played to a 20-20 tie at Magly Field in a non-regulation game. Last Saturday's game was played according to all the rules. Carl Hosler, West tackle, became a pre-season hero in the hearts of West fans. The navy veteran, with less than a minute remaining in the game, kicked a 35-yard field goal to enable West to turn back the defending state champions 10 to 7.

Accompanying the West graders to Springfield Friday night will be a host of West enthusiasts and the entire West High School marching band under the direction of Charles Bennett. Members of the Hilltop Kiwanis Club are providing cars to transport band members to and from the game. It will be the first out-of-town game attended by the band in several years.

The degree of interest in football at Springfield is indicated by the fact that Coach Jim MacDonald has four assistants helping him whip the 1946 team into shape. Always a strong opponent for West this year's game is expected to pack plenty of action.

Smith Ineligible
Coach Mack Pemberton last week lost the services of Fred Smith, counted on as a regular starter at one of the tackle spots, by ineligibility. The position is a wide open race, with Schlager, Weeks and Hostetter all on a pretty even basis. Carl Hosler will be at the other tackle position.

The game Saturday was played in a mid-summer temperature with the thermometer in the 90's with the heat making frequent replacements necessary.

The Cowboys were outmanned throughout the game but gained ground rapidly at strategic moments via the aerial route. A pass, Thrush to Borror, accounted for the West touchdown with Thrush making good the extra point.

Newark took the ball at the beginning of the third quarter and on a sustained drive of 80 yards hit pay dirt. The kick was good and the third quarter ended 7 to 7.

Both teams battled evenly until, with less than five minutes remaining, Thrush intercepted a Newark pass and raved back to the 50-yard line. Jim Schlager, brother of Dick Schlager, last year's quarterback, then threw a 40-yard pass to Jerry Chian, who raced to the five. On two plays West failed to gain but was penalized 15 yards for unnecessary roughness. Hosler was then sent in to try a field goal, with third down and 28. The center was low and the line didn't hold so they lost seven yards on the play. With fourth down and 37, the center was good, the line held, and the kick was right between the goal posts, making it West 10, Newark 7.

Not In Condition
The intense heat Saturday showed that some of the boys were not in top condition. One advantage held by West was the fact that they were able to throw

Simpson Is Now Owned By Giants

The signing of Duke Simpson by the New York Giants recently brings to light several Hilltop boys who have gone into organized baseball since their return from service.

Duke will finish the season with the Minneapolis Millers, recently and Frank Kauffman, Thursday evening, at the Grandview Inn. Mark Stephens, Sr., in charge of the three teams, is arranging the program.

purchased by the Giants. The Millers finished in fourth place in the American Association Sunday and will thus qualify for the play-offs. It is not known what kind of a deal the Giants offered the local ball player but it is understood that he turned down an offer from the New York Yankees a couple of months ago.

Another Hilltopper, Dick Hoover, erstwhile pitcher at West High School a few seasons ago, was recalled by the Giants recently to finish out the season. He has been playing with Jersey City in the International League. Previously he had won 14 and lost one in the Appalachian League.

Don Gilmore, another West pitcher, has been playing with Albany, Ga., in the Florida-Georgia League, this season. He signed with the Columbus Red Birds. Bill Richards, who recently was hitting 341 in the Kitty League, is winding up the season with Owensboro, Ky. His brother, Jake, a pitcher, has been working for the Bright's Service Station nine this summer and is reported to be heading back to Miami University this fall. Jake has had recent offers from the Pittsburgh Pirates and the Cleveland Indians.

Several members of the 1946 Hilliard High nine have been playing pro ball this season.

Pitcher Tommy Crosby has been playing for Carruthersville, Mo., a Cardinal outfit. He was the only player selected at the Red Bird tryouts last spring from a field of 300 boys. Hamilton started out with Middletown, was shipped to a Canada team and then to a North Carolina team. Wilder, a first baseman, has been playing with Batavia, N. Y., in the Pony League.

Buck Howell — Walter Krueger

It was good enough for Pop but--

The telephone construction truck in the framed picture looks like a museum piece, but it was the last word in equipment in 1921, the year our present company was founded.

In sharp contrast is the streamlined, four-cab truck of today.

This contrast is a measure of telephone progress in the past quarter of a century. Our fleet not only has increased tremendously in efficiency and appearance, but has grown 10 times in size until today we operate more than 1,800 motor vehicles throughout the state. Improvements in other types of telephone apparatus and the efficiency of the men and women who use it have been equally impressive. For example, in the early 1920's, your telephone was out of order on an average of once in every 15 months and it took about five hours to clear the trouble when it was reported. Now your telephone averages 30 months without being out of order and when trouble does occur, it is cleared in less than two hours. Now 94% of all cases of trouble are repaired the same day they are reported, no matter what time of the day we receive your call.

These strides in telephone performance have been made possible by constant research in developing better equipment and new and more efficient methods of doing our job.

In the future this same alertness to change and diligence on the job will mean more and better telephone service for you and the thousands of others who use telephones.

A welcome was given by the tiny tots. The main event was a miniature wedding. The bride was very handsome and nervous, and typically had trouble finding the ring. Mrs. Underhill was assisted by Mrs. C. Mickelson and Mrs. H. Ventola.

Apostolic Church Adds New Section

The continuous growth of the Apostolic Church has necessitated the building of an addition on the front of the tabernacle at 1074 W. Broad-st. This addition gives the building a very handsome appearance, being of brick with a large tile sign and the latest in steel sash windows.

The new structure is two story and will house offices for the pastor, his two assistants, a reading room, and nursery on the first floor, with Sunday School rooms and church offices on the second floor.

The church expects to celebrate its 30th anniversary late in the fall and at the same time will dedicate the new addition. There are five branch churches, West Jefferson, London, Springfield, Dayton and Ironton. The pastor and founder of the church, Rev. W. T. Witherspoon, is also assistant general superintendent of the United Pentecostal Church, Inc., an organization of some 2,000 ministers with headquarters in St. Louis. Some of the organization work is done in the local office.

IN SONG and STORY

No one can estimate the influence which thousands of Sunday Schools, scattered throughout the land, have exercised on American life. In little classrooms, like the one pictured above, devoted teachers have taught their pupils the simple story of God's dealings with men.

Some of this teaching may have been crude, much of it was excellent, but on the whole it served to make the great characters of the Bible stand out in bold relief in the memories of millions of Americans.

The thrill-packed narratives of Abraham and Jacob and Moses, and of those great New Testament characters, the disciples and Paul and Stephen, and many others, have stamped themselves indelibly upon the life and character of this country.

The Sunday School, even more than most homes, has been the channel through which the Bible story has passed from generation to generation. Uncounted millions of eager little faces have strained to catch the drama fit unfolded in story and song.

The faithful and conscientious Sunday School teacher has been one of the most effective forces for good in the life of America. The Nation owes them a debt that can never be paid.

Hilltop Memorial Hall Project Should Be Revived

Back at the time of the dedication of the Hilltop Honor Roll in July of 1943 The Hilltop Record came out in favor of a concentrated drive in the community to raise funds for a lasting memorial to the service men of the Hilltop and West Side... a memorial that these returning veterans might have an opportunity to use.

Such a suggestion came as the result of the fine response to the appeal for funds for the Hilltop Honor Roll. Well do we remember how the dollar bills and larger money came over the counter as contributions for that project. People of the community were more than willing to buy a share in this worthy project.

It was shortly after the dedication of the Honor Roll that Camp Chase Post of the American Legion took the initiative in organizing the drive for funds for what was to be a lasting memorial of such proportions as we had outlined.

The early response was encouraging. We believe something like $13,000 has been collected or pledged in that drive.

Members of Camp Chase Post of the American Legion are to be highly lauded for their efforts in putting across a drive of such proportions. They shouldered an immense task and one that took hundreds of hours of voluntary work to collect this money. They were interested in striking while the iron was hot, to remember the boys in the service by building a memorial to them that they in turn could use when they came home.

It appears however, that the drive has hit an snag and that perhaps the Legion has been conducting their campaign the hard way. All the way through the drive it was labeled as a Camp Chase Home project. The post has since purchased a lot at Westmoor and Broad Streets and erected a sign on it designating the spot as the future home of Camp Chase Post.

We give full credit to the members of Camp Chase Post of the American Legion. The community should be grateful that they started the campaign rather than let the idea die.

However, we are of the opinion that the men and women of this community who served in the armed forces are almost unanimously agreed that the hall should be put back in action and the game started up again.

It is our belief that the Hilltop and West Side will support a program along the following lines:

1. Organize a non-profit group made up of representatives of ALL organizations of the community for the purpose of raising funds and building a suitable hall in the community to include such things as a large meeting hall, dining room, lounges, swimming pool, bowling alleys, skating rink, etc.
 2. Start such a campaign immediately after the details can be worked out and announced to the public, with a fully developed plan for the use of the building or various rooms thereof for meetings and gatherings of the various groups in the community.
 3. Such an organization to take over the work started by Camp Chase Post and if at all possible have such funds that have already been subscribed and paid into the Legion turned over to this community organization and to be used in the building of such a community war memorial, with the assurance to the Legion post that it shall at all times have a voice in the governing of the project and a permanent meeting place, and the cooperation of the Legion toward carrying out such a successful program be solicited.
- We are well acquainted with the fact that an immediate building program is not feasible. However the wheels should be set in motion today toward making plans for such a program so that it may be given proper attention when the time is ripe in a period of a year or more.

Likewise we believe this is the best time this community will ever have to raise the necessary funds for such a community project. We believe the community will back such a well founded program to the limit. Numerous large contributions are awaiting a solicitor from such a group.

Listed here are the bare outlines of a plan that we feel would be beneficial to the entire community. We believe such a plan will meet with the approval of the recently discharged service men. We welcome the opportunity to go into the matter in further details with the American Legion.

The Record has no desire to head up such a campaign but we would like to have expressions from those in the community who are interested in this plan and sincerely hope that by the time another week rolls around we will be in a position to report that interested individuals will be brought together to discuss that matter to determine if such a plan has any merit.

Mrs. A. E. Wagner, At 86 Still Proud That She Makes Her Own Clothes

Mrs. A. E. Wagner, 2293 W. Broad-st., who celebrated her 86th birthday on May 7, has lived in Columbus 63 years, the last 33 of which she has spent on the Hilltop.

Mrs. Wagner sews and crochets. All her life she has made her own clothes and strangers have often asked her to make their clothes, which she gladly did. The first occasion of this sort was when the first wife of Columbus. Her grocer's wife saw her apron, which was trimmed in beautiful hand-made lace, and asked Mrs. Wagner to make her several. Ever since that time she has been swamped with orders for her wares, which include making all types of dresses, aprons, baby hoods, socks, booties and shoes, pot-holders and crocheted pieces.

An insight into Mrs. Wagner's ancestry shows that her ancestors in England were lords and knights. Her mother and father, Mr. and Mrs. Armstrong, were both pure English. The name Armstrong is derived from the word army, implying that the family is descended from warriors. One of Mrs. Wagner's aunts married into the Custer family, related to General Custer, and two other aunts married Grands, related to President Grant.

The Wagner family has moved several times since coming to Columbus, each time westward. The last move was necessitated when the 1913 flood ruined their home. Mrs. Wagner has six surviving children: out of a family of 11, all living on the Hilltop. They are Mrs. Archie Skinner, 143 N. Burgess-av.; Mrs. Withrow, 449 Prospect-st.; Chester Wagner, 667 Wilshire-rd.; Miss Elizabeth Wagner, 1704 Highland-av.; Mrs. Mary Brown and George Wagner, both of whom live at home. She is the grandmother of 11 children and the great-grandmother of nine children.

Columbus Club Takes Top Honors

At the recent National Convention of Supervisory Personnel, held in the new $8,000,000 Kiel Auditorium at St. Louis, The Foreman's Club of Columbus was awarded the Achievement Plaque for the past year as well as the Zone Award for the 'Top' Club of America. This was a repeat performance for Columbus as they had first attained this position in 1941-42 and again in 1945-46.

The Convention was attended by approximately 60 Columbus representatives from some 19 local industries. Among those in attendance were Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Richardson, Mr. Robert E. Frickler, 149 N. Hague-av.; Mr. Robert H. Devo, 311 S. Princeton-av.; Mr. Frank McDowell, 281 S. Roys-av.; and Mr. Charles E. Smith, 2424 W. Broad-st. Mr. Row is the President of the Foreman's Club of Columbus for the year 1946-47 and Mr. Smith has recently assumed the duties of Coordinator of The Columbus Clubs.

In addition to club honors, Columbus was also fortunate in the election of Bernard A. Hodapp, president of the Peerless Saw Co., and a past president of the local club, as president of the National Association of Foremen. Mr. Hodapp, well known in local managerial circles, had been executive vice president of the national association for the past two years.

Camp Chase Post To Honor Local Hilltop Booster

Camp Chase Post No. 98, American Legion, is planning to revive the selection of a 'Hilltop Man of the Year.' The honor will be conferred upon some local man at a special dinner to be given by the Legion in October. The date has not yet been announced.

Heading the committee for the Legion is Moss Williams, 2581 Steele-av. Other members are E. B. Graham, principal of John Burroughs School, and Dr. R. J. Miller, 2493 W. Broad-st., representing the Hilltop Business Men's Association. The HBMA co-operated with the Legion in making the selection.

This award is made to the man, who in the opinion of the committee, has rendered the most outstanding service to the Hilltop during the past year.

Suggestions are welcomed from the public. It is requested that the suggestions be made in writing and the services rendered by the individual being recommended outlined briefly. The committee especially requests that suggestions not be sent in on a friendship basis alone but that they be based on some worthwhile service to the community as a whole.

When the Hilltop Man of the Year is announced on Oct. 9 a banquet in his honor will be given by Camp Chase Post of the American Legion at Ft. Hayes Hotel.

Accommodations will be made for 200 persons for the banquet and reservations may be made with John Martindale, Larry Scales or Chet Wagner. Special entertainment will be provided and at present one act is scheduled to be given by Susie Johnson, local singer.

Broad-st.; and John Glass, 593 Wilshire-rd., the drum major.

He served as Chief Public Welfare Officer with the First Army throughout the European operations, with the rank of Lieut. Colonel. He dealt with displaced persons, refugees and evacuees and was in charge of prison camps. During World War I he served as a pilot.

On Thursday of next week the local Kiwanis Club will hold a round table discussion on juvenile delinquency with Dr. C. O. Cramer and C. C. Hartley as discussion leaders and Dr. R. J. Miller as moderator. Judge Clayton Rose will be a guest.

Machinery Arriving At G. M. Plant

Outside construction work on the new Fisher Body Plant, Division of General Motors, at 907 1/2 complete it was announced this week as loads of new machinery for the plant began to arrive.

It is expected that limited production will get under way at the new plant by late winter. The only unfinished outside project is the powerhouse.

Officials stated this week that a few positions are open at the new plant and applications are now being taken for these openings. When the plant is in full operation about 5000 will be employed.

Equipment now arriving is being trucked in from Detroit.

Main office of the plant faces on the Georgesville-rd., about a quarter of a mile south of the intersection on W. Broad-st. A new boulevard has been constructed southward from Broad-st. on what was the old Georgesville-rd. It was only recently opened to traffic.

It extends southward to the New York Central Railroad tracks. This railroad bisects the plant site.

Toilet Paper -- 3 Rolls For 25c! Hold It -- That Was In 1918 Folks

Prices were also rather high back in September 1918 according to an old copy of the Hilltop Record brought to the office this week.

Lard, the scarce item of the day, was selling at 32c per pound but apparently there was lard even though there was no OPA because stores were advertising it in that issue.

And believe it or not, there was no shortage of toilet paper in those days. It was advertised in J. W. Lower's ad at 3 rolls for 25c. Millikin Bros. Cash Grocery was advertising potatoes at 60c per peck.

Economy Variety Store was advertising china and glassware and canning supplies.

Other present day Hilltop firms represented in that issue of the Record, as they are today included: Davis Grocery (now Herbert's Market) Hilltop Transfer, West Side Lumber Co., and Seiler's.

A front page ad listed Grafonolas at $1 down and $1 per week at the Gain & Gupp Co. on W. Long-st.

This particular copy of the Record was brought in by J. S. Carey, 388 Josephine-av., who found it when he was cleaning around his home this week. That same issue contained a letter from William Anderson, Carey's half brother, then in France, stating "there is no use of me telling you what we did in the German for you can see it in the papers..."

West Opens Season With 25-13 Win Over Springfield On "Lucky" Friday, 13th

Cowboy Chatter

By Jean Gossell

Things seen and heard around West High School:

Jean Henderson patiently standing in lunch line... Bob Glasgow counting his business advertising points... Ann Farcasin typing out journalism copy... Bill Smith presiding at the 12A class meeting... Lolly Henery and Glenna Huston locked in the library... A "mella" picture in Helen Chesher's locker... Ann Hoyt's continuous giggling at C.A.A. meetings... Beverly Thurell busy taking care of the sales tax stamps in Balcony C... Mary Davis looking at the boys in fifth period study... Paul Ricketts loudly singing in senior music... Jerry Bates sleeping through fourth study... Ray Brooks and Betty Vogt talking across the court the ninth period... Rose Schoemberger and Bob Curtis, always together... The advanced choir making a recording of "The Lost Chord" the fourth period... Helen Boyer always in the gym office... Ken Dickerson and Glen Clark busy headlining for the Occident... Pat Sturdevant, Jo Ann Buhl, Martha Ailes, and Jim Gardener telling the seventh period P.O.D. class about juvenile delinquency.

The War Department is going to lay off some of its civilian employees. Maybe it would be wiser to cut down in some department that might not have to go into action some time soon again.

Cowboys Meet Arlington Golden Bears On West Field Friday

An alert West High eleven scrapped all superstitions about Friday, the 13th, by outsmarting a heavier but slower Springfield team on the Springfield gridiron, emerging the victor by a 25-13 score. Outweighed more than 10 pounds per man, the Cowboys played a "heads up" brand of ball that capitalized on the breaks of the game at every turn and kept the crowd of nearly 2000 West fans in the crowd of nearly 10,000 on the edge of their seats throughout the evening.

Coach Mack Pemberton was busy this week stressing defense against the single wing formation in preparation for Friday's game with Arlington scheduled to get under way at 3:15 p. m. at Magly Field.

Fresh from a 42 to 6 win over South last week, the Golden Bears are expected to rate among the toughest teams on the Cowboy schedule this season. Coach Pemberton said the West passing attack would come in for a good share of attention this week. The same 11 men that started against Springfield last week are expected to make up the starting lineup Friday.

With the score standing at 13 to 12 (Tiger's favor) early in the fourth quarter Bruno Masdea grabbed a Roberts pass on the Springfield 48-yard line and raced over for a touchdown. Masdea's speed plus some good blocking left Tiger players sprawled all the way from the 50 to the goal line as the flashy Cowboy back ran away from one defense man to score. Thrush's try for point was no good.

A few minutes later Englefield recovered a West fumble on the West 27 and it looked as if the Tigers were on their way for a third touchdown when Jack Thrush baited and then caught a long Springfield pass on the 5 and ran the length of the field to score the fourth West touchdown. Hostler's kick was good and the score then stood West 25, Springfield 13.

There was little fight left in the Springfield eleven from that point on.

West scored first in the first quarter of the game after a Hostler punt from his own 34 was fumbled and recovered by Anderson on the Springfield 3. On the first play Slager's fumble was recovered by Hale but both sides were off sides. Slager then skirted his own right end to score for the Cowboys. Thrush's try for point was low.

The second quarter had barely opened before House, the hard-running Springfield fullback, went around his own right end to score on a 34-yard run. Geuth's kick was good and the score stood 7 to 6 in favor of the Tigers. There was no further scoring in the first half.

At the halftime Springfield had piled up six first downs to two for West. The Cowboy aerial attack was not impressive. Only three passes completed during the game and none of them for any great distance. However, one pass, Slager to Borrer, in the third period resulted in the second West touchdown after Masdea had made it first down on the Springfield 10. Jack Thrush's try for point was low.

Springfield's second touchdown followed a few minutes later after Hostler had kicked off to the Springfield 20 where two or three West tacklers failed to bring House down. Shaking loose he advanced to the 40. Halfback Powers then made it first down on the West 48. House broke loose again and carried the ball to the 22 where he was stopped by Sahr. Powers picked up 2 and on the next play House went through the line for a touchdown.

Wright's kick for point was good but the play was called back and Springfield was penalized back to the 25. A second try from that point was no good.

At this point in the game the West cause was beginning to look bad. On five plays the Tigers had moved 80 yards in machine-like fashion to score and it looked as if the weight advantage was beginning to tell on the lighter Cowboy eleven. But Pemberton-coached West team had other ideas and the pass interceptions soon turned the tide of the battle in favor of the Cowboys.

All the way through it was a team victory. The line played well from end to end. The West coach can be thankful that Hostler got out of service to fill one of the tackle spots. His kicking was also a factor in setting up one of the Cowboy touchdowns. Bob Schlegel showed up well at the other tackle position. Starling Hutt looked good in the few minutes he was in the backfield.

By the end of the contest, West had accumulated six first downs against nine for Springfield.

The lineup:
West: Schlegel, LF, Springfield; Borrer, LT, Hale; Westerman, LG, Ronemus; Watts, C, Gueth; Cleveland, RG, Campbell; Hostler, RT, Haemerley; Anderson, RF, Englefield; Slager, OR, Wright; Chinn, LH, Snyder; Masdea, RH, Powers; Thrush, F, House.
Substitutes—Springfield: McKenzie, Phillips, Jaemerley, Fox, Davis, Calhoun, Rush, Dunfee, Thomas; West: Smith, Hestenberg, Buckingham, Sparks, Sahr, Hutt, Weeks, Hostetter.

Finishes Season

Bill Richards

Bill Richards, ex-West High baseball star, recently completed the current season playing third base for the Owensboro Oilers in the Kitty League. After being out of the lineup for a short while because of illness he completed the season with a batting average of .280. Earlier in the summer he had spotted a .341.

The Oilers finished well out in front for the 1946 season. Sammy Cooper, a brother of Mort and Walt Cooper, pitched for the club.

During the season Bill hit eight home runs, six three-base hits, and 20 two-base drives.

His parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Richards, live at 378 S. Terrace-av.

The musty odor often noticed in the contents of bureau drawers in the summer is a forerunner of midwest. Leave drawers ajar on dry days to provide ventilation. Close in moist weather.

Sidelights On the Springfield-West Grid Game

Approximately 10,000 persons watched the West Cowboys defeat the Springfield Tigers 25 to 13 last Friday night at the Springfield stadium. Officials of the school said it was one of the largest crowds ever to attend a game in that city.

H. L. Zulauf estimated that between 1500 and 2000 West rooters were in the stands by the time the game started. As the score mounted, more than 800 student tickets were sold at West.

A football was dropped from an airplane that flew over the field a few seconds before the start of the game. The ball fell in to a low the tops of the light stands.

The West High Band of 80 pieces put on a snappy performance before the game and during the half. The double-time used in the coming out of the field made a big hit with fans on both sides of the field and the way the band literally "flowed" into the large W formation made the spectators sit up and take notice.

After Thrush's 95-yard run on an intercepted pass, it's said K. M. (Slim) Elder did a few acrobatics of his own out on the grass strip back of the cinder track.

Bruno Masdea was tackled hard near the start of the game but it didn't seem to slow him down when he showed his heels to a would-be Tiger tackle as he galloped 48 yards for a touchdown on an intercepted pass.

Dick Slager was a nervous spectator as he watched brother Jim run the team from the quarterback spot he himself held down last year.

Principal Irvin F. Young had difficulty seeing some of the plays in the fourth quarter when all of the excitement took place because of the crowd milling around the edge of the playing field.

Even Coach Fred Heischman, a quiet individual, got a little excited during the fourth quarter.

Ray Sapp Purchases Old Grocery Spot

Ray Sapp, 221 Lechner-av, is again in business as the owner of Ray's Market, corner of Lechner and Doran-avs. Ray founded the store nearly 10 years ago and operated it until recently, when he sold out. The urge to serve his former customers was too much, and when he had a chance to buy the store last week he decided to get back in business. Meat shortage or not, Ray will welcome an opportunity to serve his friends, old or new.

It's marvelous how a new paint job on the old bus satisfies the longing for a new car.

News of Rome

By Mrs. C. C. Sheets

Mr. and Mrs. L. W. Lewis announce the marriage Aug. 28th, of their daughter, Leslie, to Mr. Phil Hoag, Jennings, La. The ceremony was performed in their home, 4328 W. Broad-st., by Rev. E. S. Matheny, pastor of the Central Community Church. After a short wedding trip in the South, the new Mr. and Mrs. Phil Hoag will reside temporarily at 4328 W. Broad-st.

Mrs. Ernest Kidwell of Beacon Golf Course who has been in White Cross Hospital for several weeks, is getting along very well.

Mrs. T. M. Patterson, Maple-dr., is home from White Cross Hospital for a short stay.

Mrs. Roy Suver is on the sick list with a case of heart trouble, which means she must be quiet. We will miss her very much, from the social organizations she usually attends.

The Women's Missionary Society of the Lutheran Church will hold their regular monthly meeting, which will be a pot-luck affair, at their church.

The Rome Study Club held its first meeting at the home of Mrs. Albert Carr, Maple-dr., Monday evening the ninth. It was Great Men of Ohio evening. The members of the club answered to roll call by giving the name of an important man of Ohio and why. Mrs. O. G. Riebel, Mrs. I. A. Thompson and Miss Florence Weber gave very interesting talks on the men they had selected.

At the Sunday School Class meeting which was held at the home of Mrs. Ball, the ladies enjoyed moving pictures furnished by Mrs. George Terry, taken while on their vacation in Northern Michigan.

The W.S.C.S. of Columbia Heights Church will hold their regular monthly meeting, which will be pot-luck, Sept. 18th. As this is their first meeting, after the summer months, they hope for a good attendance, as there will be business of importance to consider.

Mr. and Mrs. L. W. Lewis spent a very pleasant vacation in Washington, D. C. They covered all points of interest, Mt. Vernon, etc. Mrs. Lewis was especially interested while visiting the Smithsonian Institute, where she could see the dresses of the President's wives. Owing to the fact that Mrs. Lewis has compiled a scrap book, for her own pleasure, regarding the wives of presidents, she was inclined to place certain dresses on certain wives, in her imagination.

Several ladies gave Rev. Rose and wife a surprise, when they answered their door Saturday night. It was their first wedding anniversary and many useful and beautiful gifts were offered in honor of the event. Delicious refreshments were served by the hostess, which were certainly enjoyed in addition to being quite a surprise to the guests.

The regular meeting of the Rome P.T.A. will be held in the Potable, Thursday night, Sept. 19, at 8. This is the first meeting and the group hopes a good attendance will be on hand to enjoy the moving pictures on Boy Scouts by Gil Bolin, who is a well known Scout leader. Mrs. Lamb has charge of the music for the evening.

The cafeteria of the Rome School will be opened Monday. Wholesome food will be served the children at small charge.

Dave Gilbert, 128 Brehl-av., pilot of the plane, and Paul Lappe, formerly of Rome, now of S. Roys-av., flew to Baltimore recently to spend the week-end with Ann Feustal, formerly of the Hilltop, now of Baltimore, Md.

Dick Lappe and wife are stationed at the Roring Army Air Field, Porto Rico.

Patrolmen said Garrett was driving the truck, with Hannigan as a passenger.

Leroy Kellin, 38, of 844 Chestnut-rd., suffered a broken right leg and left arm last night when his auto apparently went out of control and struck a tree in the 200 block of N. Eureka-av., police said.

Boy Injured In Fall Through Window

Two veterans who are members of the congregation, Dr. H. E. Wilkinson and Carl Alsberg, are the speakers. Dr. Wilkinson served five years as a medical officer and is a graduate of the medical school of Ohio State. Alsberg is a graduate of Otterbein College and is a teacher and coach at Grove City. The Hilltop Record

Dear Mr. Hartley:

It was a pleasure to receive and have the opportunity of perusing the special 48-page edition of your newspaper on the occasion of entering your new, modern building. I understand that arrangements for sending me the edition was started by my favorite uncle, Harold E. LeRoy, who did some of the floor-finishing work on your building.

As a former newspaper man, I can well understand and appreciate the tremendous amount of effort expended by you and your staff in getting the special edition "to bed." It has often been said that there is no news colder than yesterday's, but I feel confident that much of the information contained in that edition will remain fresh in the minds of your subscribers and advertisers for a long time to come.

You merit commendation for improving the working area and atmosphere in behalf of your employees. Your expansion program will undoubtedly be reflected in ever better service to the community you serve. Your policy of getting names into your newspaper is sound and should be maintained. Too many local newspapers have forgotten this sage policy in their anxiety to enter the field of national and international news.

Your new physical plant is a definite milestone in your progress. I wish you the continued success that far-sighted management warrants.

Sincerely,
Harry J. Williams

Gentlemen:

One of the most successful events in recent years is now on—the horse show conducted by the Fire Department American Legion Post.

As commander, I wish to express to you the appreciation of our entire post membership for the splendid cooperation you gave us. Your publicity aided very materially in making the show the success it was and I am sure was the cause of more than six thousand persons being in attendance when the show opened.

I know you will be pleased to learn that the public liked the show, as was evidenced by the fact that 70 percent stayed until the completion of the last event at 8 p. m. This convinced us that they were very pleased with the show and the beautiful animals that took part.

Again I wish to say "thanks" for the wonderful support given us in your publications.

Sincerely yours,
E. F. Welch, Commander

Stone Mason Is Killed In Fall Here

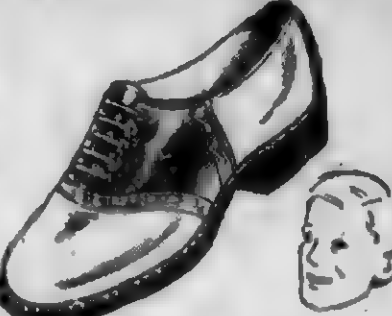

Ben F. Bolin, foreman in charge of a crew erecting walls of the new C. & S. Dime Store building at 1-24 Sullivant-av., was killed Thursday when he pitched head first over a wall of the new building. The 68-year old stone mason who lived at 9940 Harrisburg-av., Darby, was dead upon arrival at Mt. Carmel Hospital where he was taken by the fire department emergency squad.

The accident occurred when he apparently lost his balance and fell from a scaffold on which he was working. His head struck the edge of a building block.

Red Cross Opens Home Economics Course Today

Every housewife today is concerned with the high prices of foods which are available and with the scarcity of certain foods necessary to the health of her family. To stretch the family budget to meet rising food costs is a daily problem in every household and often calls for expert help and training.

Substitutes for hard-to-get foods, what to use instead of meat to give equivalent food value and flavor, buying for economy, and grade labeling, are only a few of the informative discussions to be taken up in the "Foods Round Up" course to be given by the Red Cross. Demonstrations of the latest cooking methods will be made.

The new short 6-lesson course will start Thursday, September 19. Classes will be held for a 2-hour period, 1:30 to 3:30 p. m. in Room 210 of the Ohio Fuel Gas Co., 99 W. Front-st. Reservations for the class may be made by calling Red Cross Headquarters, MA. 6841. Miss Jeanne Montgomery, home economist, will teach the class. There is no charge.

In meal planning it is important that all essential food nutrients be included and that every bit of food value be kept in the foods that cost so much now. Short cuts in planning meals will be discussed.

Women completing the course will be given Red Cross nutrition certificates and may use what they have learned for their family's benefit only or they may become a nutrition aide and give community service through Red Cross.

A nutrition aide is entitled to wear a uniform and a pin and help with Red Cross food demonstrations, exhibits, class recruiting and other duties of Red Cross Nutrition Service. Nutrition aides bring to the local Red Cross a new activity for volunteers.

CLOSE-UP OF A NERVE ?

No. It's just a rope . . . at the breaking point. But, frankly, it's a good illustration of how a man feels when his nerves are "worn to a frazzle."

The Church has never claimed that religion is a cure for frazzled nerves. But a man's Christian faith does this for him:

It shows him a Purpose in life more important than mere existence. It shows him a Power more effective than his own strength. It shows him a Future more rewarding than the sheer force of his human will.

With these spiritual resources, founded in the certainty that God understands and helps, a man never reaches "the breaking point." For when his human reserve is exhausted . . . he has only begun to tap the vast reservoir of Divine Strength.

THE CHURCH OF YOUR CHOICE CAN SHOW YOU THE WAY!

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend and support the church of his choice. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church on Sunday.

15 Years Ago Today
The increase in the number of students in Hilltop schools continued this week as more students enrolled for the fall term. Last week it was estimated that there tologists Association held in the William Penn Hotel at Pittsburgh.

Wayne P. Potter has opened a display room and service department for the sale of Chrysler and Plymouth cars at 2506 W. Broad-st., the location formerly occupied by Voss Brothers.

For less wear and tear on tablecloths when ironing, fold them hem to hem occasionally, instead of lengthwise. They will last longer. Creasing at the same point tends to increase wear at that point.

West Is Outclassed By Golden Bears In 13-0 Attraction Before 4500

Coach Mac Pemberton's West High football squad will make their first try at defending their 1946 football championship when they face Aquinas Friday afternoon at Magly Field in their third game of the '46 season.

The Cowboys were completely outclassed last Friday as Arlington's Golden Bears thumped out a 13-0 victory. Bruno Masdes, West's only "scat" back this year, was on the bench with an injured shoulder. Another blow to the Hilltoppers was the injury sustained by Fullback Jack Thrush early in the game. Thrush received a hip injury while blocking on a pass play. Both are expected to be ready to go against Aquinas Friday, although probably not at top form.

West Center Ralph Watts, captain for the day, lost the toss at the start of the game, with Arlington electing to receive. Carl Hosler, West tackle, kicked off to Arlington's Capt. Bob Meeder on the Arlington 25, Meeder being downed by Slager on the Arlington 37.

Fumbles Are Featured
Then started a see-saw first quarter which was featured by fumbles on the part of both teams, with Arlington recovering practically all miscues. The quarter ended with Arlington in possession of the ball on the West four-yard stripe, after a series of powerful running plays featuring Meeder and Miller and a long punt return by Gerwin.

On the first play of the second quarter Meeder romped around end for the opening tally. Fullback Miller place-kicked the extra point for a 7-0 lead. Hutt, Sahr and Thrush were getting a West march under way when Thrush was injured, then Quarterback Jim Slager took to the air, but just couldn't seem to hit anybody except Arlington's Snike Gerwin who intercepted four of the West serials during the afternoon.

Gerwin also stopped a West bid for a score when he grabbed a West fumble on his own 8-yard line and raced the entire length of the field for what looked like another Golden Bear score, but the ball was ruled dead at the scrimmage line. However, the rambling Arlingtonites started to work to move the ball out the hard way, bringing it to mid-field where Miller bottled up the Hilltoppers with his long punts, forcing Carl Hosler, West kicker, to boot his way out of trouble time and again.

Arlington Scores
Arlington put the game on ice mid-way of the third quarter when Halfback Don Corn went around end to the West 25, where Miller braved his way over to make it 13-0. His try for extra point was blocked when the middle of the West forward wall broke through. That stopped Miller's string of consecutive point after touchdowns at seven.

The rest of the game saw West trying to come from behind by the aerial route, and resulted in the discovery of a fleet halfback in Hicks. However, the loss of two regulars and the inability to hit their passes crippled the Cowboys to a point where they couldn't be a real threat.

It was Arlington's first win in three tries against the Cowboys. Last year they were defeated 14-0 on their home field and 32-20 at Masly Field in '45.

Cowboy Chatter

By Jean Gosnell

It seems that graduates of West High just can't stay away from the old school. Among those recently seen around the halls are Shirley Urdil and Dave Tingley.

Did you know Baileen Gary's seat was changed in fourth period study? Could it have anything to do with certain O. S.?

Two more West High boys left recently for the service. They are Herb Parliament, to the navy and Dave Dupler, to the army.

"I just don't have time for home work," says Ruthann Richmanbacher. She claims it takes all her time to write those daily letters to "Eddie."

Could Jeri Ellifris have an interest at Rollerland? Or should we say interests?

What's this about Gene Grassel's interest turning to Jackson? Tell us more, Gene.

Jerry Chinn seemed to have a one-girl cheering squad, all his own, made up of Billie Lombard at the Upper Arlington game.

What attraction does the Circleville football team have for Donna Thompson?

"Popcorn, potato chips, candy bars!" cried Shirley Kappel, Marianne Evans and Jenie Lombard at the Upper Arlington game.

And now, we close, with hopes for a winning game with Aquinas tomorrow night.

Sidelights Of The Game

Last year's West coach, Dale Rose, took time off from his coaching duties at Capital University to attend the West-Arlington scrap last Friday. His before-game nervousness was reminiscent of the '45-'46 seasons when his teams were battling out close games in the city league championship race. Mrs. Rose and sons, Dee and Jerry, also witnessed the game.

H. L. Zulauf, West business manager, estimated the crowd at 4500. He stated that next week's Aquinas fray should show a drop in attendance, but will be back at the top figure for the North game here on Oct. 4.

One of the interesting side-line comments was that the only comparison between Jim and Dick Slager was the name and number. Jim is wearing the famous "44" which big-brother Dick sported during his three years at varsity football here. He's now in the quarterbacking department at Ohio State.

The high-stepping West band put on its usual good show at the half. A group of West girls in the stands put on a bit of impromptu singing to help fill in the half-time rest period. Included was the exploding of a fire cracker by two students who left the scene with previously prepared tattered T-shirts.

Officials working the game made the assertion that they had never seen a team which was more on its toes on the defense than Arlington, especially on passes. The Cowboys were showing a good defense, too, but couldn't compare with their offensives.

While the Cowboys were battling to save a defeat, directly across Powell-av a group of gardeners could be seen working equally as hard to save their late crop of vegetables as an excavation for a new building was under way.

Carl Hosler, veteran of West teams in '43 and '44, was a standout again Friday as he led the defense and handled the kicking and some of the passing. He now weighs 190 pounds and plays a bruising game. That guy conditioning must have been what the doctor ordered.

Frank Colley, Citizen sports scribe, watching from the sidelines but not working. One of the youngsters wanted to cover the game, so Frank just watched and helped spot a few plays.

More Servicemen Are Discharged

The following service men have been discharged from the armed forces during the week, as announced by the separation centers.

Baker 3c Norman L. Moore, 211 W. Park-av; Yeoman 3c Vernon L. Ziegler, 70 N. Yale-av; Lt. John R. Rawn, 871 S. Burgess-av; Seaman 2c Robert W. Thom, 2622 Eakin-rd; Seaman 1c Richard W. Jones, 2170 Wicklow-rd.

Mrs. H. C. Hutchison of Delaware, O., was a guest at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Jones, 60 Powhatan-av, this week and while in the city attended the Presbyterian Women's Day at Hoge Memorial.

Columbus board of education. In addition, he will co-ordinate the itineraries of all the state Democratic candidates, Knisley said.

Remember when the
LONG-DISTANCE OPERATOR ALWAYS SAID:

"Thank you,
the Operator will call you"

Remember when Mother and Dad hung up the receiver on every long distance call . . . then waited for the operator to call back when the connection was completed . . . waited sometimes long enough for Dad to wander away from the telephone, or for Mother to become involved in baking a three-layer cake?

That was the picture of long distance service just a generation ago, when our present company was formed in 1921. Since then new methods of operating and more and better equipment have increased the speed of service so rapidly that today 87% of all long distance calls are connected while the caller "holds the line." We are now handling six times as many long distance calls as in 1921 with three times the speed.

Progress of long distance service never stands still. As we look forward to the next 25 years, plans already are underway to increase further the speed and range of intercity service. New apparatus to enable operators to dial calls between cities, more wires and cables to carry calls and an expanding force of operators will bring you more and faster long distance service in the future.

It takes planning to achieve a goal

Some young men know what they want and plan for it. Others are still looking for their niche. The new Regular Army can help both.

Perhaps you want to go to college but can't afford it. If you enlist in the Army, you'll get your chance. Honorably discharged after a three-year enlistment, you are eligible for 48 months of education at any college, trade, or business school for which you can qualify. The Government will pay your tuition, laboratory fees, etc., up to $500 per ordinary school year, plus $65 a month living allowance—$590 a month if you have dependents.

If you haven't found your spot, an Army enlistment offers you training in any of 200 trades and skills. You leave the service eligible for further training at the best civilian schools.

You can assure yourself of the benefits of the GI Bill of Rights if you enter the Army on or before October 5, 1946. See your nearest Army Recruiting Station for details.

HIGHLIGHTS OF REGULAR ARMY ENLISTMENT

1. Enlistments for 1½, 2 or 3 years. (1-year enlistments permitted for men now in the Army with 5 or more months of service.)
2. Enlistment age from 18 to 34 years inclusive (17 with parental consent) except for men now in Army, who may enlist at any age, and former service men depending on length of service.
3. A readjustment bonus of $50 for each year of active service since such bonus was last paid, or since last entry into service, provided enlistment is within 3 months after last honorable discharge.
4. A furlough for men who reenlist within 30 days. Full details of other furlough privileges can be obtained from Recruiting Officers.
5. Mustering-out pay (based upon length of service) to all men who are discharged to enlist or reenlist.
6. Option to retire at half pay for the rest of your life after 20 years' service—increasing to three-quarters pay after 30 years' service. All previous active federal military service counts toward retirement.
7. Choice of branch of service and overseas theater (if those still open) on 3-year enlistments.

Boys Town Choir Here On Oct. 14

Music enthusiasts are in for a new experience on Monday evening, Oct. 14, 8:30 o'clock, at Memorial Hall, when the 40-voice choir of Boys Town comes to Columbus on its national concert tour, East and West.

This unique artistic group is composed of formerly homeless boys who were "adopted" by Monsignor Edward J. Flanagan into his Boys Town near Omaha, Neb. They are boys who thoroughly enjoy singing, have special musical talents and are trained by the choir's musical director, Father Francis Schmitt.
Ranging in age from 12 to 18, the choir's artistry is projected in programs which range from liturgical chants through hymns, to infectious folk tunes like "The Arkansas Traveler." The beautiful voices of the sopranos and the vibrant bass sound together in perfect harmonies to delight all who hear them.

IS YOUR CITY SAFE?

Since we have seen pictures of Hiroshima and Nagasaki, we haven't been sure. What would an atomic bomb do to New York or Chicago—or your own home town? Would this towering skyline collapse like a house of cards? The very question makes us so nervous that we are already talking about building our homes and factories in great caves.

But the atomic bomb is not the most dangerous threat to your city. "Except the Lord keep the city, the watchman waketh but in vain." No tree can stand long after its heart has rotted. No city is safe if its people forget God.

Is your city safe? How strong and faithful are its churches? How enduring are its marriages? How disciplined and trustworthy are its people? How free are its youth from delinquency?

Does that sound hopeless? It isn't. For long ago, concerning a city notorious for its evil, God said, "If I find in Sodom fifty righteous within the city, then I will spare all the place for their sake."

Are you one of the "fifty" who make your city safe?

Pfc. Carter

At a rigid inspection conducted Saturday, Sept. 14, by the commanding officer and staff at Fort Lawton, Seattle, Wash., Pfc. John E. Carter was selected as a "model soldier" from his outfit, the 362nd Army Band.

In recognition, Pfc. Carter was awarded a three-day pass. He graduated from West High School first person to give a sensible answer. So I asked him the question for the week, "What has impressed you most so far about Starling?"

Imagine my amazement when he said, "The girls." A short time later I found a boy whom I thought would be perfect to interview.

He was a tall, lanky boy who looked as if he hadn't an ambitious bone in his body. I asked him, "What has impressed you most about Starling?"

To my utter astonishment he said, "The teachers. You know I honestly like all of them." All of this goes to show that you can't judge a book by its cover.

More "Nuisance" Taxes???

When the present Auditor reappraised property values, he INCREASED them BY TAXING FENCES, DRIVEWAYS and WATER-WELLS. Maybe this has been done to you.

If not, how soon will this practice be extended to include you? Your YARD FENCES, FARM FENCES, DRIVEWAYS, DRINKING WELLS AND FARM WELLS would be TAXED in such an extension.

LIVEable LOVEable ENJOYable FALL!

It's Fall, LIVEABLE Fall, when nature takes a moderate view of life. Gone are the extremes of summer; the brilliant, hot, straight-down sun is retiring southward for the winter . . . we can live comfortably and work. It's Fall, LOVEABLE Fall, and nature starts to change her dress from the bright greens of summer to the soft, gay shades of autumn red, brown, yellow — a changing spectacle of beauty enticing us outdoors . . . to return with loads of boughs and leaves and filled with fresh Fall air. It's Fall, ENJOYABLE Fall, time to abandon that vacation attitude and to begin to work with energy on problems of Fall and cold weather soon to come. It's fun to buckle down to work again, to tackle our jobs with renewed energy after a summer of fun.

It's Fall, BUYABLE Fall, for to the stores a host of new things have come. There are new fashions, American fashions, to thrill, delight and flatter smart women. There are new things for the home, things to add comfort and beauty for the indoors season. And there are many other things, goods and services needed for Fall and winter living. It's Fall, BUYABLE Fall, and RECORD ads are ready to guide you in your Fall buying.

National Newspaper Week
This week throughout the nation it is fitting that National Newspaper Week be observed with the slogan, "A Free Press—Voice of Freedom, Guardian of Liberty."

It is our hope that the coming year will find our opportunities to be of service that here on the Hilltop multiplied many times and that we may have the strength and courage to do a worthwhile job that will contribute to the welfare of our community.

We are proud of the opportunity to publish this community newspaper. In doing so we are dealing with the news and views of the people down in the grass roots. And today the great responsibility for the maintenance of our national freedom must come from the grass roots communities.

It must be you, our readers, who demand that our system of free enterprise be preserved. We, the home owners, the parents, all residents of such a community as this, must see to it that our freedom and our liberty are protected and preserved. There is a real job ahead for "A Free Press—Voice of Freedom, Guardian of Liberty."

Sugar Shortage

One of the mystifying things in this mystifying government managed economy is that of the sugar shortage. Housewives are complaining of the inability to get sugar yet from authentic sources it is learned that warehouses over the country are crisscrossed with sugar.

Reports have it that more than eight million 100-pound bags of sugar are in western sugar warehouses along the addition we are importing 12 billion pounds this year from Cuba.

Such things don't seem reasonable or make sense. The sugar shortage, along with the meat shortage and other shortages, is the result of "planned economy." Housewives over the country are certainly fed up with it. But have you housewives of this community made up your minds what you are going to DO about it?

Greetings To Mr. Leach

Congratulations are in order to O. D. Leach, managing trustee of the Sunset Cemetery and Crematory, 6959 W. Broad-st., who will celebrate his 86th birthday on Friday, Oct. 4. Mr. Leach, who started his present successful business at the age of 64, is a fine example of how a man can get along in this country.

October Brings Bus Strike And Cool Weather

October arrived in Columbus Tuesday with a touch of definitely fall weather that sent residents scurrying to their basements to start fires in their furnaces and started many of them off to work Tuesday morning on foot. The bus and street car strike was on. Traffic on Broad-st. during the morning rush hours was comparable to the morning of a major Ohio State football game or the State Fair. And all day the downtown area was crowded with hundreds of cars which ordinarily were parked at home in the garage. Filling stations reported business was better than usual as every available auto was pressed into service to get workers to and from their jobs.

For the most part Hilltoppers seemed to be taking the inconvenience in good spirits. Many cars were loaded to capacity. Few persons were seen stranded along the curb and many drivers even looked for passengers but could not find enough to fill their cars. Most persons who had depended on bus service must have made provision for rides the night before the strike started, for few seemed to be without transportation. By Wednesday morning one wondered who rode the buses anyway as Hilltoppers seemed to have solved most of their transportation problems at least during daylight hours.

Much Work and Much Play Necessary To Prepare Band Formations At West

"All work and no play may make Jack a dull boy," according to the old adage but it takes much work and much play to develop the West High band to the state of perfection you will see when it marches out on Magly Field at the West-North football game tomorrow afternoon.

Talk to any one of the 70 band members or the director, Charles W. Bennett, and they will tell you that it means work and lots of it. Take the series of formations planned for tomorrow's important game with North. The band will come out on the field 15 minutes before the start of the contest. Following the playing of "The Star Spangled Banner" while the flag is being raised the band will go into the letters "USA," followed by the words "HILLTOP NORTH."

At the half time the band will be presented by a large block "M," then will appear a large "MAC," in honor of West High's new head coach, Mack Pemberton. This will be followed by the block letters "WEST" and then the huge "W" with the revolving wings.

All this will be presented in a matter of minutes but the rehearsal of the formations in detail required a total of 22 hours to prepare. That does not include four one and one-half hour rehearsals and other time incident to the preparation of the show.

Rough Sketch First
Mr. Bennett's job begins by preparing a rough sketch of the formations to be presented. This must take into consideration the number of musicians necessary to form the required lines. Following this comes the detailed sketch of each letter and formation and that's the job that requires the work.

Each bandman is assigned a number at the beginning of the season. This number he retains throughout the season. It identifies him and his position in a formation. In laying out a formation, each musician must be given his position. He must be shown how to get to that position from his place in the marching formation and how to get into the next formation on schedule.

On Monday morning the band starts to work on the new formations. The first day is spent walking through the various formations without instrument. After each person has learned his position and how to get to and from it, the movement is carefully taught. Once the formation takes shape smoothly the time

'Turtle's' Arrival First Known Here By 2 Hilltoppers

When the "Turtle," the U. S. Navy's Lockheed P-2V twin engine bomber, landed at Port Columbus from Perth, Australia, on Tuesday, it was no surprise to two Hilltoppers—Cy Burch of 224 S. Hague-av. and Joe Buehler, 233 S. Eureka-av. While testing on their radio they were contacted by a radio operator from California who was urgently calling Columbus, asking someone to get in touch with the radio operator. It Was A Bad Week-end For The Economy

It wasn't Friday the 13th last week-end but from the bad luck that happened at the Economy Drug Store, 2870 W. Broad-st., Manager Ray Vermilya might well have thought so.

On Saturday night Vermilya and his wife were in the store when a car, with a 500-pound safe and all its contents, the value of the contents of the safe was not revealed but Vermilya said that among other things, it contained some narcotics.

On Sunday night Miss Louise Lauer, 201 N. Hague-av., was painfully cut about the face and both knees when she was knocked through a plate glass window in the front of the store.

The freak accident occurred when an 11-year-old boy started a car. He was parked in the customer parking lot directly in front of the store. The car went out of control and ran up over the sidewalk striking Miss Lauer and throwing her through the window. She was taken to Mt. Carmel Hospital in a Spens ambulance.

Police said the boy was Jack Simon, 5355 W. Broad-st., Bernard Brenot, 24 1/2 N. Eureka-av., a city motorcycle policeman, suffered an injured left arm when his cycle was struck by a car driven by Harley Tabler, 459 E. Mound-st., Friday night. The accident happened at Mound and Third-st. Brenot was treated at St. Francis Hospital and released.

In another accident which took place Friday afternoon, James Calvert, seven, 215 S. Hague-av., suffered minor injuries when he was struck by a car driven, police reported, by Margaret Case, 441 S. Chase-av. The accident took place as the boy was crossing the Hague-av. near his home. He was taken to Mt. Carmel Hospital in a Spens ambulance, where he was treated and discharged.

Mrs. Rosa Bologne, 31, 331 W. Gay-st., suffered bruises and cuts to her left shin and knee when she was struck by an auto driven by John W. Halpin, 234 S. Eureka-av., as she crossed Broad-st. at Davis-av. Monday night, police said. Halpin took her to Mt. Carmel Hospital.

School Building Is Issue On Nov. 5 Prairie Ballot

The Prairie Local Board of Education has agreed to place on the ballot at the Nov. 5 election, the issue for its patrons to secure a new school building to relieve overcrowded conditions, and at the same time modernize its school.

After several open meetings held last spring at which times overwhelming sentiment favored central location for New Rome, Alton and Galloway communities, the board secured John Quincy Adams, architect, to assist with plans.

The State Tax Commission has agreed for the board to vote on $231,000 for a modern, fireproof building. Bonds are to run 24 years.

The board hopes to achieve favorable action and sell the bonds at the prevailing low rate of interest. Members of the board are: Frank Wilcox, president; Julius I. Rausch, vice-president; Lawrence Karna, clerk; Harold Hyland and Floyd Armstrong.

Campaign Is Topic Of Col. Town Meeting

"What Are the Real Issues of This Campaign?" will be the topic for Columbus Town Meeting at 1 p. m. Sunday over WBNS. The meeting will be broadcast from the council chambers of City Hall. A warm-up session will be held for the studio audience beginning a half-hour before the broadcast. Telephone questions are accepted at MA. 2211.

Furnace Checkup Is Recommended By Fire Officials

By Carl John E. Jordan, Chief Bureau of Fire Prevention

With the cool days of fall just around the corner, attention should be directed to the furnace and other heating devices in the home. Any defects in any of the heating appliances should be corrected before they are placed into service for the winter. If any smoke was detected coming from the hot air pipes during last year's burning, it is an indication that there is a crack in one of the furnace castings, and may be the cause of a serious fire if not repaired. Accumulated dust should be removed from the hot air pipes to avoid the possibility of a fire in the pipes in case the furnace should become overheated.

The smoke pipe leading from the furnace to the chimney is another danger spot. Many such pipes which appeared to be in good condition last year may now be in an unsafe condition. The condition of the smoke pipe cannot be judged entirely by outside appearance. Usually the danger is inside the pipe and cannot be detected in a visual inspection. The pipe should be felt firmly with the hands, or tapped lightly with a hammer. If there is any indication of weakness in the metal, it should be replaced without delay. Light rust spots sometimes appear on the outside of the pipe. This indicates that sulphur contained in the soot has absorbed moisture and is attacking the pipe from the inside. Chimneys should also be inspected and if they appear to be defective, a competent repairman should give them the necessary attention. Use only iron pipe in connecting gas stoves for winter use. The Fire Department does not recommend the use of rubber hose or other flexible tubing for gas stove connections.

TB Survey Shows West In Healthy Condition

Results of the TB X-ray survey made last spring, under the sponsorship of the Columbus Board of Education, among 2000 pupils and teachers here, revealed a healthy condition in the West High faculty and student body, Dr. Walton, school physician, said last week.

The purpose of such a mass survey is to discover any abnormal chest condition.

The X-ray machine was loaned to the board by the Anti-Tuberculosis Society.

Fifty-nine films were blurred or too light to give a reading. Letters were mailed to the home of these pupils informing them of the damaged film and suggesting that they have a second film made.

20 films showed some condition which warrants follow-up. The school nurse made home visits on these cases to inform the parents of the findings and recommendations. There were no active cases of tuberculosis. All other X-rays were negative; in other words they showed normal chest findings.

Slager Pass To Anderson Accounts For Only Score; 3 On Injured List

The West High Cowboys finally succeeded in eking out a 6 to 0 victory over Aquinas in the fourth quarter at Magly Field last Friday in a game played under a boiling sun reminiscent of midsummer. It was West's second win of the season and first City League grid victory.

This week Coach Mack Pemberton was busy developing an offense to cope with a heavier North team which invades the local gridiron Friday at 3:15 p. m. The Polar Bears defeated Central 14 to 0 under the lights, while Linden McKinley romped over South 32 to 0 in the other City League games played.

The West score came on the third play of the fourth quarter. As the period began West had possession of the ball, third down and two to go, on the Aquinas 20. A pass, Chinn to Anderson, was dropped in the end zone. Chinn then made it first down on the 17. On the next play, Slager dropped back and heaved a pass into the waiting arms of Anderson, who stepped over the goal line for the winning touchdown. Hoser's try for point was wide.

Triple Pass Works
A triple pass, perfectly executed by the Cowboys in the second period, took the ball to the Aquinas five-yard marker. The pass went Slager to Chinn to Borrer, who then threw it forward approximately 50 yards to Anderson on the five. The Terrier line held on three successive tries and West tried a field goal with Hoser doing the kicking. The kick was short and Aquinas took over.

Blanchard, McQuade and Sweeney kept ripping holes in the West

Aquinas went to the West 24 in the third period but lost the ball on a fumble. Again, shortly following the Cowboy score, it looked as if the Terriers were "on their way" after Sweeney on a series of plays took the ball to the West 11. However, the Cowboys were determined to protect their lead and the line held on fourth down, Aquinas losing the ball.

Regulars Out
The halftime found Coach Pemberton without the services of three of his regulars. Thrush re-injured his hip after a few plays and had to be helped from the field. Westerman was suffering from a side injury and Bob Schlegel was done in from the intense heat.

Several shifts were made in the lineup at the start of the half to take the place of the regulars. Thrush seems definitely out of the lineup against North tomorrow with only a slight chance of Westerman seeing any action.

The Cowboys demonstrated a better passing attack, completing three out of five attempts, while the Terriers connected on only one out of seven tries. First downs were evenly matched with West having a slight edge, getting 10 to Aquinas nine.

Harry Zulauf estimated the crowd at about 3800.

The starting lineups:

News of Rome

By Mrs. C. C. Sheets

Mr. and Mrs. Robert D. Hines Pious, announce the birth of a daughter. They have named her Constance Jean. Mrs. Hines is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Garretson, Maple-dr., with whom she lived, while her husband was in service four and one-half years.

A double surprise was on hand for the M. A. Howells, 243 Pasadena-av., last Tuesday, when their son, Bill, drove in with his bride from North Hollywood, Cal. They expect to live for the present with Bill's parents, as he is entering O. S. U., which university he attended before entering the service. They also had with them Mr. and Mrs. L. M. Howell of Hinkley, Calif., who are the grandparents of Bill and formerly lived on S. Ogden-av. They expect to be here at least a month. L. M. Howell meets many of his old friends when he stops on the Hilltop. They went to California 23 years ago and this is their first visit.

After being in the general store and grocery business 25 years at the corner of Maple-dr. and W. Broad, the Riebel's have sold their business block to Russ Harrison of Columbus. Mr. and Mrs. Riebel are both natives of Grove City, and we are glad to know they will remain in their present living quarters, and as soon as building conditions become normal, they expect to build a new residence and make their permanent home in Rome.

The Rome community, as well as Rev. Moenchhofer, regrets very much that it was necessary for the Moenchhofer family to move to 250 N. Harris-av. We hope he will soon be able to come back to his church community to work among his own people.

More than 40 men were present at the first meeting of the Men's Community Forum, which was held in the basement of the Columbia Heights M. E. Church Saturday night. The supper was furnished by the ladies of the church, and was heartily enjoyed by the men, judging by the way they help increase our building fund with their silver offerings.

Mr. and Mrs. Kent Richey and daughter are located in the Denno-Oldfield property on Pasadena-av. They are formerly of London, where they have been living with the Sesslers, parents of Mrs. Sessler.

Columbia Heights Church was well represented at the district meeting of the W. S. C. S. officers, held in Worthington last Miss Penny Lucas, 2950 Valley-dr., niece of Mrs. William Thurston, was visiting in the community Saturday evening. Miss Lucas has re-enlisted in the W. A. C. She served two years in the Air Corps. She was stationed in San Francisco, her former rank being that of corporal. She is leaving for the Pacific this week.

Mrs. Eric Scott won the Presto Cooker Saturday night at the community social.

Several of the men of the community worked on the new hall Sunday. A picnic dinner was served to the men by the ladies of the community.

Tuesday, Oct. 1, was the regular meeting of the Rea-Bow Improvement Association. This was the last of the "Street Nights." Mrs. Norman Brinkamp baked the cake for the lucky resident on Vadi-st.

Ernest B. Kidd, 1950 Hunt-av., has started in the concrete block business.

Are You The Serious Type?

Nature has made some people frivolous and some sincere — and it's the sincere folks whom others depend upon to get things done right.

People engaged in the serious endeavor of daily life need relaxation from the strain of the modern world — and we offer good living at its best — with good food, good beverages and good music. An evening here won't involve worry over the check, for our prices are moderate.

Paul Linder, with his wife and baby daughter, is residing at the Kessler residence on Maple-dr. Mr. Linder is from Berkeley. He is assistant coach of football and an instructor in mathematics in Hilliard High School. We are happy to welcome them to this community. He served four and one-half years in the army.

The Ladies Class of the Columbia Heights Church met at the home of Mrs. Howard Breckenridge, Maple-dr., Thursday night. Twenty-five answered to roll call. Constructive Bible games were played and delicious refreshments were served by the hostess. The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Russell Brooks, Maple-dr.

Mrs. Floyd Armstrong, president of the Rome P. T. A., and Mrs. Malcolm Pennell, vice-president, attended the full session of the State P. T. A. held in Columbus, 24th and 25th. It was during the banquet at the Desler-Wallick, when they were listening to the address of Ralph Sockman, that gave them new ambition for their own organization.

YOU CAN DO SOMETHING ABOUT THIS:

Who Said Home Owners Pay Less After Re-Appraisal???

Look At Your Tax Bill!!!

Taxes are paid with DOLLARS, not with RATES. What good is a lower TAX rate when TAX values are INCREASED? Comparing local rates with those of other cities proves nothing. We PAY taxes HERE. It is the DOLLARS we PAY HERE that COUNT.

After INCREASING TAX values the present Auditor issued a statement to Columbus taxpayers. He said he had increased large down-town and industrial properties by $22,000,000; that this caused a lower tax rate. The inference was that there was thus a tax saving.

The Auditor NEGLECTED TO ANNOUNCE that: HOME TAX values were INCREASED $38,000,000 (your bill tells that story); HOME TAX values were INCREASED FOUR TIMES as much as PUBLIC UTILITY TAX values; DOWNTOWN PROPERTY (in the Auditor's family name) was REDUCED $38,500.00;

Lower tax rates in Columbus (from $1.40 to $1.68) were due entirely to expiration of tax levies voted by the people. YOU WERE ENTITLED TO THIS REDUCTION WITHOUT INCREASING TAX VALUES.

Isn't it time, now, to get proper, REASONABLE TAX TREATMENT with your votes for

N. A. THATCHER for County Auditor

Mark your ballots FROM THE BOTTOM UP!!!
